UAW founder-chief, 5 others killed in fiery airplane crash

By AMM MOORE

President George Meany, 78, who headed the AFL-CIO for 21 years, was killed when his twin-engine plane crashed near Kent, Wash., and four others were also killed.

Meany, a driving force in the organized labor movement, had just returned from a film premiere in Canada and was en route to a meeting with union leaders in Portland, Ore., when his plane crashed.

In a move that will draw international attention, the United States military said that it will not send additional troops to Vietnam, but will instead use existing capacity to increase the flow of supplies to South Vietnam.

The decision was made in response to the recent escalation of hostilities in the region, with the United States and its allies seeking to contain the spread of communism.

The United States has been providing large amounts of military aid to South Vietnam, and the decision to maintain current levels of assistance is seen as a significant departure from previous policy.

Radicalization of 'U' makes strike possible

The gap between the strikers demands here and the University's position on the issue is so large that a new mediator may be needed to resolve the standoff.

The university administration has so far refused to negotiate with the strikers, who have occupied the administration building for several days, demanding greater autonomy for the University of Michigan's campus.

The demands of the strikers include the creation of a union shop, an end to the use of strikebreakers, and greater input into the decision-making process at the university.

Volunteers for war by '71?

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. forces in South Vietnam may be reduced for good enough by summer 1971, to start sending only elderly veterans, Pentagon sources said.

It has been calculated that American strength in Vietnam would be sustained by volunteers in the 35-40 age range, and would drop 200,000 to 250,000.

President Nixon Friday night took a figure of 200,000 in opening at his news conference about the number of Americans who he said would be in Vietnam a year from now.

This is 44,000 below the level that would be reached under the administration's recently announced plan to cut the Vietnam commitment by another 150,000 men before next May 1.

 Asked whether, he was announcing a larger withdrawal, Nixon said Friday: "I was announcing a step, but don't get the impression that we might be announcing a policy to pull out."

While Nixon denied this statement, with negotiations of Defense Secretary R. Laird has held out hope that the current operations against the South Vietnamese will be substantially reduced this year, it also means that major military commitments to Vietnam will go on as they are now.

The key problem for U.S. military planners in the war will be how to handle the Vietnamese forces that will fill the gap left by the American combat force. There will be uglier clashes and no fewer协同越南军力量的外部势力。

Students unite to oppose strike

President Wharton decided that the issue of a teach-in was a serious one and asked Professor Folsom's student group to get the attention of the students, to represent the students better, and to express the opinions of the students involved. He also said that the striking of Kent in United University would be the result of a mutual understanding between the students and the university.

On Monday, the second day of the strike, the students continued to strike in various locations. The academic departments continued to work, but the administration was not yet ready to resume operations.

"U" honors Nobel alumnus

BY DIANNE PETRYK

State News Staff Writer

MSU continued to honor Alfred Day Hershey, its first alumnus to receive the Nobel Prize, with a convocation and banquet Friday held outside by striking students.

Approximately 50 students who said they had nothing to gain from the current strike of about 350 students gathered at Kellogg Center to present a "bunch of outsideers" to the campus. "Nothing is going on in the world," predicted the Friday night banquet at Kellogg Center, President Winters, Dean of Colleges, and three other MSU deans were among the 150 guests who attended the dinner.

State Sen. Thomas F. Schweigert, D-Petoskey, told the gathering that the alumnus's duty is to protect serious students from the damage of a strike.

Schweigert said money has always been "too sunk" for basic research such as Hershey's, because it is difficult to convince the public that funds for any specific purpose that would otherwise be unfunded by the University would be the best investment.

"You have to demonstrate again and again that your needs are valid," he said.

"Unfortunately, for the serious student and the serious scholar, campus millions have required some as necessary of the enjoyment and the stimulation they demand," the acting Lieutenant Governor and MSU alumnus said.

"The University in its role as a major research organization, is in the position of protecting the position of a research professor at home, at the University of Illinois," he added.

President Kellogg.

Outside, picketing continued at two places near Kellogg Center.

Jackie Hansh, Ch. C-Psych major, criticized Hershey for accepting an honorary degree from MSU at the same time he was being picked on campus.

"This is a student we would be protecting," Hansh said. "When you shook down a University, you shake it down," Hansh said, "All of it. That is what the administration buildings is part of the University.

"We're too close to those demands to the people in power," Hansh said, Ch. C-Psych major, said, "I'm a student, I can't be bothered.

Hershey's alumnus, a 1926 graduate, named Hershey with a resolution passed by the Michigan Legislature as the University's first graduate.

He said the value of basic research is often not well understood by laymen, especially those who hold the largest financial support of the University. "The value of Dr. Hershey's research, his understanding of the problem of genetics," he said. "His own work for the present was that he had to his colleagues, Dr. Luntz and Dr. Delbruck, have done to phase together the exceedingly complex and intricate puzzle of living things, both the bacteria and the viruses, that makes life possible."

"We owe Dr. Hershey a profound debt of gratitude," he said. "We owe him for the present we have been able to ordain and to those who have helped him."

"We have an opportunity to recognize Dr. Hershey's contribution to science and to the University of Michigan," he said. "We have an opportunity to recognize the University of Michigan's contributions to science and to the University of Michigan."

Fine acting, costumes fail to overcome dull 'Volpone.'

The Performing Arts Company's spring Repertory is a failure. The company begins with a play that no one seems to start with. Only splendid on an evening.

The two main performers, both brilliantly played by John Castillo and Raphael I. are the real attractions. The latter's acting is masterful, while the former's is dulled by the general characters. The direction is adequate, but the dialogue is weak. The play is a mixture of fine acting and poor direction.

Volpone's plot is about a merchant who is about to sell a valuable ring to a customer. The merchant is portrayed by John Castillo, and his character is a mix of good and evil.

The other characters are also well portrayed, but the play is not as good as it could be. The dialogue is poorly written, and the acting is mixed.

Overall, the play is a disappointment. The characters are well portrayed, but the plot is weak and the dialogue is poorly written. The direction is adequate, but the play is not as good as it could be.
Despite a loss, Spartan batsmen break even with Hoosiers

By ROBERT GREGG

State News Sports Writer

The Michigan baseball team split its series with Indiana this weekend. The two teams split the series last year and as a result,没有人was named Big Ten Player of the Year.

Spartan batters have had a difficult time thus far this season. In fact, the team has only scored two runs in the last two games.

The Hoosiers, on the other hand, have scored six runs in the last two games.

The series started off with a 7-3 win for the Hoosiers on Saturday. The Spartans had 10 hits in the game, but only managed to score three runs. The Hoosiers had 15 hits and scored seven runs.

On Sunday, the Spartans won 10-7. They had 13 hits in the game, but only managed to score 10 runs. The Hoosiers had 17 hits and scored seven runs.

The series ended with a 3-3 tie on Monday. The Spartans had 13 hits in the game, but only managed to score three runs. The Hoosiers had 16 hits and scored three runs.

The Spartans are currently in fourth place in the Big Ten Conference. They have a record of 7-14 overall and 4-12 in the conference. The Hoosiers are currently in second place with a record of 12-8 overall and 8-8 in the conference.

Despite the split series, the Spartans have shown improvements in their batting and pitching. They have scored more runs in recent games and have allowed fewer runs as well.

The team is still working on refining their pitching and improving their defense. They will have to continue to work hard to improve their overall performance.

The next series for the Spartans is against the University of Michigan, which is currently in first place with a record of 16-6 overall and 12-4 in the conference. The series will take place at home and is sure to be a tough challenge for the Spartans.

Spartan fans are hopeful that their team will continue to improve and make a strong showing in the remaining games of the season.

Netters dump Purdue, Illinois

BY JOHN VETTER

Jim Fixx's No. 1 men's doubles pair defeated Purdue's fourth doubles team Saturday to help Michigan post a 7-0 victory over the Boilermakers at the Midwestern University Club in Evanston, Ill.

The win improved the netters' record to 8-3 and left them in third place in the conference, five points behind Ohio State and one behind Indiana.

Coach Don Davis moved Fixx from his No. 3 position to the No. 1 slot, while putting Bob Mitchell at No. 2, and the move has paid off.

"He's been playing well the last couple of weeks," said Davis. "I just thought he would do a little better there.""...

The three singles and one doubles loss over the weekend are not considered important, said Davis, as he felt the team was adequately prepared for the match against Purdue.

The matches were decided in the first set, andFixx won in two sets, 6-3, 6-4, for his second win over the season. Mike Haverkate and the other doubles team were defeated, 7-5, 6-2.

U' strike position

closed must consider the following consequences:
- the school year would have to be extended beyond June 1 to make up for those days
- normal services would be unavailable
- students would have to be housed somewhere
- the University would not be able to operate
- student and faculty morale would be damaged

He said it is "impossible" to prepare the university for a strike and a demonstrating campus police will prevent another Kent State situation. He said the firing of police at the university has led to an increased outside police activity.

The university has attempted to meet the arbitrary and "arbitrary decisions" without any "arbitrary decisions" or setting the precedent. He also stated that the police have the power to suppress the strike and the right to do so.

The university responded that the existence of free speech and free assembly in the United States is "essential" and that the university will continue to support the students in their right to free speech.

The American Student Association (ASA) is advising their members not to participate in any activities that may be considered a violation of university policy.

Students are urged to participate in the strike, which is being coordinated by the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS).

The SDS is planning a "general strike," which will include a "general strike," "general strike," and "general strike." The "general strike" will include a "general strike," "general strike," and "general strike."
