Security aide lasts use of classification

WASHINGTON (AP) — A former Army security aide who stood watch over President Richard Nixon's papers has died at age 81.

Eugene A. Burdette was 22 when he took the job in 1971 as Nixon's personal security aide at the White House.

Burdette, who served during Nixon's first term, died Wednesday at a hospice in Lincoln, Neb., his daughter said.

The White House said he was a devoted family man and a devoted public servant.

Burdette was stationed outside the Oval Office for months in 1973 while Nixon was being investigated for his role in the Watergate scandal.

Burdette also worked on some of his前任's most memorable speeches, including his farewell address to the nation in January 1973.

He was one of the few people who had access to Nixon's private papers after he left office, including a controversial banking records bill.

The former aide also worked as a security consultant for several years after leaving the White House.

He is survived by his wife of 58 years, Barbara, and two daughters.

The Senate is expected to vote on the bill later this month.

---

The state's public pension fund is expected to receive a significant boost from the sale of its $1.5 billion portfolio.

The announcement comes as the state is facing a budget crisis due to a decline in revenue from the sale of natural gas.

The pension fund, which is one of the largest in the country, has been a key source of funding for state programs.

The $1.5 billion portfolio is invested in a mix of stocks, bonds and real estate.

The money will be used to pay for the state's pension obligations.

---

The state's top education official said that the state's schools are on track to meet the federal government's goals for improving educational outcomes.

However, he noted that the state still faces challenges in providing adequate resources for all students.

The state's education department has set a goal of increasing the number of students who score at or above grade level on standardized tests by 2023.

He said that the state is making progress, but there is still work to be done.

---

The state's health department has announced a new program aimed at reducing the number of people who are uninsured.

The program, called "Coverage for All," will provide health insurance to eligible residents at a cost of $2.5 billion over five years.

The program is expected to cover about 100,000 people a year.

---

The state's environmental protection agency has announced a new initiative to reduce the use of single-use plastics.

The "plastic-free" program will encourage businesses and individuals to use reusable containers and bags.

The state is the first in the country to implement such a program.

---

The state's transportation department has announced a new project to improve infrastructure in rural areas.

The $300 million project will focus on upgrading roads and bridges in areas with low population density.

The project is expected to create jobs and improve safety for residents in those areas.

---

The state's health department has announced a new initiative to reduce the number of people who are uninsured.

The "Coverage for All" program will provide health insurance to eligible residents at a cost of $2.5 billion over five years.

The program is expected to cover about 100,000 people a year.

---

The state's environmental protection agency has announced a new initiative to reduce the use of single-use plastics.

The "plastic-free" program will encourage businesses and individuals to use reusable containers and bags.

The state is the first in the country to implement such a program.

---

The state's transportation department has announced a new project to improve infrastructure in rural areas.

The $300 million project will focus on upgrading roads and bridges in areas with low population density.

The project is expected to create jobs and improve safety for residents in those areas.

---

The state's health department has announced a new initiative to reduce the number of people who are uninsured.

The "Coverage for All" program will provide health insurance to eligible residents at a cost of $2.5 billion over five years.

The program is expected to cover about 100,000 people a year.

---

The state's environmental protection agency has announced a new initiative to reduce the use of single-use plastics.

The "plastic-free" program will encourage businesses and individuals to use reusable containers and bags.

The state is the first in the country to implement such a program.
Restricting drugs tied to crime

Eisenhower Viet policy shown

A secret policy to eliminate Communist control in Laos and reunite North and South Vietnam under a pro-U.S. government established in 1958 by the late President Dwight D. Eisenhower, the Chicago Sun-Times reported Thursday.

In a copy of its early Friday edition the Sun-Times and a National Security Council document showed Eisenhower directed the government to work toward the "wakening of the Communists of North and South Vietnam in order to bring about the eventual reunification of a free and independent Vietnam under anti-Communist leadership.

Joint missions discussed

U.S. and Soviet space experts actively discussed the possibilities of joint space flights, a Space Council document noted Thursday, at the Space Center in Houston and Wednesday.

It was the first disclosure of a cooperative proposal for joint space flight.

The subject came up during talks between U.S. and Soviet space experts on the development of a common complex of a joint space-docking system of spacecraft for the two nations.

Explosion rocks tunnel

A 1:50 a.m. nat'lg explosion 250 feet underground in the Lorain Yard of the American Ship Building Co. in Lorain was called "a real heavy dynamite blast" killed four men at 10 a.m. Thursday in Lorain.

At least one injured man survived the blast in the five-mile-long 18-foot-wide tunnel being built as part of the $27,600,000 Lorain-Chicago railroad line to bring water from Northern to Southern California.

The blast occurred at the tunnel at the time of the explosion said he was sure all the men were dead.

Market entry in doubt

The final battle to decide whether Britain's giant Corn Products Common Market began last Sunday in Sheffield, especially in Sheffield, was settled.

William's claim that the British Parliament where the result is known.

William's claim that his country's 72,000 artisans in the Sheffield area who were suffering from a strike at the Sheffield Corporation, Prime Minister Edward Heath's Conservative government, it has not been confirmed that this situation will still struggle to sell the terms at home. Antimarket marketers in the Tory ranks could put his House of Commons majority of 28 in jeopardy.

Four missing in fire

Four men were accounted for an fire spread through the giant one carrier Roger Blough the coal in the Lorain Yard of the American Ship Building Co.

At least 15 men, including four firemen and a company safety officer, were taken to St. Joseph Hospital in Lorain, Ohio. They were suffering from smoke inhalation.

George Steinbrecher III, president of American Ship Building Co., said at a news conference that four men remained unaccounted for. They were believed to have been among 10 men who were in the engine room area of the ship where a fire broke out, possibly on a 10 a.m. signed all posts

James R. Hoffa Thursday resigned from all remaining positions of leadership in Teamsters Union, including the presidency of Detroit Local 299 which he used to a single-minded devotion to the presidency of the international union.

The resignation also included the posts of chairman and director of the Central Conference of Teamsters, president of the Detroit Local Council 37 and president of the Michigan Conference of Teamsters. Hoffa last served as president of the national union.
Mine union officials urged to submit to lie detector

Washington (AP) - Unions are challenging the legality of the federal government's demand that they agree to submit their employees to lie detector tests under the new welfare law.

Welfare reform legislation, which is aimed at preventing fraud, was signed into law by President Reagan late last month. Under the law, the government is authorized to require union members to take lie detector tests if it is estimated that there is a $100 million annual loss.

The unions have challenged the legality of the tests on a number of grounds. They contend that the law is unconstitutional because it discriminates against unions and that it violates the First Amendment's free speech provisions.

The unions have also argued that the tests are not effective because they are not foolproof. They claim that the tests are not reliable and that they are not scientifically valid.

The unions have also argued that the tests are not effective because they are not foolproof. They claim that the tests are not reliable and that they are not scientifically valid.

The unions have also argued that the tests are not effective because they are not foolproof. They claim that the tests are not reliable and that they are not scientifically valid.

The unions have also argued that the tests are not effective because they are not foolproof. They claim that the tests are not reliable and that they are not scientifically valid.

The unions have also argued that the tests are not effective because they are not foolproof. They claim that the tests are not reliable and that they are not scientifically valid.
EDITORIALS

The immovable Senate: half a loaf for the people

Moving a mountain is generally easier than forcing the Michigan Senate, the state's de facto governor, to change its position on an issue.

The Senate's position on the House-passed drinking provision is questionable at best and absolutely unsupported by anyone, including almost everyone, of its Senate foes. The only quasi-substantial argument thus far presented against the provision is that a lowering of the age of majority might contribute to a higher incidence of traffic accidents and a trend towards the same is viewed even by its prime mover, Donald B. Reischl, Republican, who states, "I'll be the first to admit there's no conclusive evidence that drinking provokes what is called a 'traffic accident' in traffic accidents, but there's nothing to indicate there's no such factor."

World Court ruling: full of sound and fury

This week the International Court of Justice in The Hague ruled that South Africa's occupation and administration of South West Africa is illegal. This decision is guaranteed to galvanize the entire world against racism.

Legally, the opinion that South Africa holds South West Africa is the long-defunct League of Nations, the United Nations' predecessor, and is today being supported by the International Community against the United Nations international resolutions with Portugal's participation.

Seizing upon this fact, South African Prime Minister Balthasar Johannes Vorster has labeled the ruling part of an "international political vendetta." Mr. Vorster is of course correct. The proximity of South Africa to the entire African continent has caused its segregated policies to become a Third World contention. By contrast, the refugees who are flooding in a number of Latin American nations has been classified as a "foreign displaced." Hence, most of the displaced are white, and the minority displaced are black.

Rewrite

Shades of 1964! The Romans, you have heard, among them, the famous world of History of World War II and the account of "documentations" made by Western scholars. The object of the present item is to make a full Marxist Leninist analysis of the historical events then, and just as important, make history just as important, make history continue.

It must be noted that the official of the UNDP that makes the point about "documentations" made by Western scholars. It is true, however, that the object of the present item is to make a full Marxist Leninist analysis of the historical events then, and just as important, make history continue.

Our readers' mind

Abortion... better alternative?

Families have always been a part of the human condition and are essential to the survival of the species. Abortion, on the other hand, is the voluntary decision of a woman to end her pregnancy. It is a personal and private decision that should be made by the woman and her partner, with advice from a healthcare provider.

The law in most states is guilty of "wrong" provisions. Nevertheless, the law is generally supported by the majority of people. It is a matter of individual choice and should be respected.

There are also serious drawbacks to abortion, such as the potential for emotional distress and societal stigma. These drawbacks should be carefully weighed before making a decision.

Despite these drawbacks, abortion remains legal in most states and is a protected right under the Constitution. It is important to support and respect this right.

Test of young lies in city hall

Many young Americans reject the rigidity of the party system. In a survey of 267 young people under 30 years of age, 64% described themselves as politically independent, while 3% did not have an opinion, and only 23% described themselves as politically liberal or conservative.

Though many young people are politically independent, there are some exceptions. For example, in a poll of 1,000 young people, 65% said they were "liberal" while 25% said they were "conservative." The remaining 10% were "unaffiliated" or did not respond.

The young people's views are important to consider in the political process. They are the future of the country and their voices need to be heard.

The next generation will be called upon to make many important decisions in the coming years, and it is important to support their decision-making process. This can be done by engaging them in political education and giving them the opportunity to participate in political processes.

The young people's views are important to consider in the political process. They are the future of the country and their voices need to be heard.
Trains keep road blocking

from Jim Shewen

Guest staff writer

Railroad officials of the Burlington Northern are presently guarding the railroad in the area of the Grand Island Bridge, where an alleged proposition to obstruct traffic currently exists. Officers of the railroad have awaited for the last month and until the early hours of this morning the sleeping cars and other equipment have been obtained from the railroad. The railroad has been held and is now maintaining a group of Michigan State Police on the road to keep the railroad open.

The Burlington Northern Railroad has maintained a blockade on the road between the cities of Lansing and Grand Island Bridge since early this morning. The railroad officials are said to be protecting the railroad from any possibility of disturbance.

The railroad officials have stated that they will maintain the blockade until the situation is resolved. They have advised that the blockade is necessary to prevent any further disturbances and to ensure the safety of the railroad.

The blockade has caused considerable inconvenience to the residents of the area. Many people have been unable to travel to work or to attend school due to the closure of the road.

The situation is being monitored by state and local authorities, who are working to resolve the issue and restore normalcy to the area. The authorities have advised the public to avoid the area and to plan alternative routes for their travel.

The situation is being monitored by state and local authorities, who are working to resolve the issue and restore normalcy to the area. The authorities have advised the public to avoid the area and to plan alternative routes for their travel.

HOLDING CHURCH TOGETHER

'Answer Man' faces tough job

J. Hosts classes to explain women's influence, power

From tree to shining tree

Another ceremony is held at the University of Michigan, the Baptist Church. Church members and guests gather for a ceremony to honor those who have served in various capacities within the church.

This is the second annual ceremony and is held to recognize and honor the contributions of women who have served the church in practical terms. These women have been in the forefront of the church and have served in various capacities.

The ceremony is held at the University of Michigan, the Baptist Church. Church members and guests gather for a ceremony to honor those who have served in various capacities within the church.

This is the second annual ceremony and is held to recognize and honor the contributions of women who have served the church in practical terms. These women have been in the forefront of the church and have served in various capacities.

The ceremony is held at the University of Michigan, the Baptist Church. Church members and guests gather for a ceremony to honor those who have served in various capacities within the church.

This is the second annual ceremony and is held to recognize and honor the contributions of women who have served the church in practical terms. These women have been in the forefront of the church and have served in various capacities.

The ceremony is held at the University of Michigan, the Baptist Church. Church members and guests gather for a ceremony to honor those who have served in various capacities within the church.

This is the second annual ceremony and is held to recognize and honor the contributions of women who have served the church in practical terms. These women have been in the forefront of the church and have served in various capacities.
Proposed bill would help families finance education

By RICK WILBINS
State News Staff Writer

When time ran out at the end of the legislative session, the Michigan House of Representatives was left with a bill that would have made it compulsory for families to carry insurance. The bill, introduced by Rep. John Raitt, D-Detroit, would have required all families to carry health insurance, starting in 2013.

Raitt said the bill was introduced to address the rising cost of health care and to ensure that all families have access to quality health care.

Critics of the bill, however, argued that it would be too expensive for many families and that it would hurt the economy. They said that the requirements would add to the cost of goods and services, and that it would drive up the cost of living.

The bill would have required all families to carry health insurance, with coverage levels similar to those currently available to employees of large employers. The bill would have required employers to offer insurance to their employees, and would have required individuals to purchase insurance through a state-run exchange.

Some opponents of the bill argued that it would be unfair to force families to carry insurance if they did not have the means to do so. They said that it would be better to provide financial assistance to those who could not afford insurance.

In the end, the bill was defeated in the House, with a vote of 54-51.

Several bills related to health care were introduced during the legislative session, but none of them passed. One bill, introduced by Rep. John Walsh, D-Detroit, would have made it illegal to sell cigarettes to anyone under the age of 18. Another bill, introduced by Rep. James Reilly, R-East Lansing, would have prohibited the sale of tobacco products to anyone under the age of 18.

In the Senate, a bill introduced by Sen. Timm Kowall, R-Chesterfield, would have prohibited the sale of tobacco products to anyone under the age of 18. The bill was defeated in the Senate, with a vote of 26-24.

The Michigan House of Representatives was adjourned on Thursday, June 30, ending the legislative session. The next regular session will begin in January 2017.
Vasectomy not ideal, complex

NEW YORK — Dr. David S. Bracher has warned that contemplating a vasectomy is "not the ideal form of birth control." He says it's not ideal for the mother either, and in some cases may not be acceptable to the father.

"A change in plans, a divorce or the loss of a child doesn't change the fact that the family is complete," he said, adding that the operation may affect fertility.

Recitals on carillon to continue

MCP's season schedule of carrot concerts continues with performances Thursday, Tuesday and Thursday.

Playing the recital hall of Grace Cathedral in San Francisco, the San Francisco Recitals offers a series of concerts Thursday, Tuesday and Thursday.

By ROBERT KOPPER

TOKYO, June 19 (AP) — The old-fashioned Copland's "Rodeo" is getting a workout on a program that offers music by a blend of old and new attractions.

The 10-year-old, 20-year-old and 30-year-old "Oklahoma!" are the keys to the program, as is the new edition of "The Wizard of Oz" that will offer a fresh perspective on the stage classic. The program also features the music of Copland, Strauss, Bernstein and others, as well as a few new works by American composers.

Jubilee offers blend of old, new

This weekend's major events include the Washington State Symphony's "Jubilee," a celebration of the 50th anniversary of the state's admission to the Union.

The symphony, conducted by Charles O'Reilly, will present a program of music by American composers, including Copland, Bernstein, and others.

Griffin plans passe, giving doctors alternative to draft

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Physicians and surgeons would be exempted from the military draft if they agree to practice medicine in rural and remote areas of critical need for four years, according to the pending draft bill now being considered at committee level.

Robert Mulholland's "Summer of '42" is the film to cheer. It is the 15th birthday of the last days of World War II. The story is told of a young boy, and the year he met his first love.

"Summer of '42" is a love story of discovery. And it seems to have been written, on the strength and from the inside out, by a young boy.

Robert Mulholland, author of the book, "Summer of '42," wrote the book about a boy's first love. It was written in the form of a diary and the story of the boy's first love is told from the boy's point of view.

Robert Mulholland, author of the book, "Summer of '42," wrote the book about a boy's first love. It was written in the form of a diary and the story of the boy's first love is told from the boy's point of view.
Marriage seen as partnership

Despite the substantial role traditionally assigned to the wife in the protection and rearing of children, many managers and employers inform that colleagues with work experience that is primarily devoted to childbearing or child-rearing are likely to be more versatile and productive in their work, and that they are more likely to be satisfied with their jobs than those who have been primarily dedicated to childbearing and child-rearing. The first reason is that many managers and employers inform that colleagues with work experience that is primarily devoted to childbearing or child-rearing are likely to be more versatile and productive in their work, and that they are more likely to be satisfied with their jobs than those who have been primarily dedicated to childbearing and child-rearing. The first reason is that many managers and employers inform that colleagues with work experience that is primarily devoted to childbearing or child-rearing are likely to be more versatile and productive in their work, and that they are more likely to be satisfied with their jobs than those who have been primarily dedicated to childbearing and child-rearing.

House committee suggests mercury users be licensed

A special House committee investigating Great Lakes contamination recommended yesterday that persons and inhabitants using more than one pound of mercury be licensed. D’Ltri, author of the D’Ltri report, said the public is unaware of the widespread use of mercury in industrial and commercial and household products. They are now attempting to buy or use mercury from sources outside the state to put it in their products. They are aware of the widespread use of mercury in industrial and commercial products.

The recommendations, making this a long-standing request by the state of New York for many years, are supported by the report of the New York State Mercury Task Force. The report, based on surveys and interviews with people who have used mercury in their products, suggests that the use of mercury in industrial and commercial products, which are often made from mercury, is widespread. The report states that the mercury is used in many products, including paints, batteries, and electronic equipment.

The recommendations for mercury users to be licensed are part of a broader effort to address mercury contamination in the Great Lakes region. The state of New York has been working to reduce mercury contamination in the region for many years, and this latest recommendation is part of that effort. The recommendations are supported by a number of organizations and individuals, including environmental groups, scientists, and public health experts. They are concerned about the widespread use of mercury in industrial and commercial products and the potential health risks associated with exposure to mercury.

Dairy scientists receive awards

Two NSF dairy scientists have been honored recently as members of the national society of dairy scientists. One of the awards was presented to Dr. D’Ltri at the annual meeting of the American Dairy Science Association. This is the first time that a dairy scientist has been awarded the NSF award.

The other award was presented to Dr. D’Ltri at the annual meeting of the American Dairy Science Association. This is the first time that a dairy scientist has been awarded the NSF award.

The NSF awards recognize individuals for their contributions to the field of dairy science. The awards are presented annually by the American Dairy Science Association. The awards recognize individuals for their contributions to the field of dairy science. The awards are presented annually by the American Dairy Science Association.

As the results indicate, while both males and females were more willing to be in the state with the work of paying bills, college women were overwhelmingly more anxious of financial matters than men. On the matter of caring for children, tradition played a substantially more important role among married partners than among single partners.

The results indicate, while both males and females were more willing to be in the state with the work of paying bills, college women were overwhelmingly more anxious of financial matters than men. On the matter of caring for children, tradition played a substantially more important role among married partners than among single partners.
Reports outline Johnson's Vietnam stand

U.S. victory inevitable, vice-president believed

Baltimore, Md. (AP) — Lyndon B. Johnson was uncommitted and skeptical about the Vietnam war as recently as the week of his election as president in 1964, a recent State Department report says.

The report, released Thursday, described the then-Senator D. Taylor, then a U.S. ambassador to Belgium, as a proponent of the air strikes.

The report's author, Edward P. Halbrook, said that Johnson's view was not detailed in the report, and that the information was obtained from the personal notes of the late State Department official William R. Dean.

The report also noted that Johnson's view of the war was shaped by his meeting with President Kennedy on Oct. 25, 1961, in a private session with the president discussing the missiles in Cuba.

The meeting, according to the report, was attended by Johnson's press secretary, Robert Caro.

The meeting was one of the most important in the history of the war, the report said, because it was there that Kennedy and Johnson discussed the possibility of a military strike against Cuba.

The report also noted that Johnson's view of the war was shaped by his meeting with President Kennedy on Oct. 25, 1961, in a private session with the president discussing the missiles in Cuba.

The meeting was one of the most important in the history of the war, the report said, because it was there that Kennedy and Johnson discussed the possibility of a military strike against Cuba.

The meeting was one of the most important in the history of the war, the report said, because it was there that Kennedy and Johnson discussed the possibility of a military strike against Cuba.

The meeting was one of the most important in the history of the war, the report said, because it was there that Kennedy and Johnson discussed the possibility of a military strike against Cuba.

The meeting was one of the most important in the history of the war, the report said, because it was there that Kennedy and Johnson discussed the possibility of a military strike against Cuba.

The meeting was one of the most important in the history of the war, the report said, because it was there that Kennedy and Johnson discussed the possibility of a military strike against Cuba.

The meeting was one of the most important in the history of the war, the report said, because it was there that Kennedy and Johnson discussed the possibility of a military strike against Cuba.

The meeting was one of the most important in the history of the war, the report said, because it was there that Kennedy and Johnson discussed the possibility of a military strike against Cuba.

The meeting was one of the most important in the history of the war, the report said, because it was there that Kennedy and Johnson discussed the possibility of a military strike against Cuba.

The meeting was one of the most important in the history of the war, the report said, because it was there that Kennedy and Johnson discussed the possibility of a military strike against Cuba.

The meeting was one of the most important in the history of the war, the report said, because it was there that Kennedy and Johnson discussed the possibility of a military strike against Cuba.

The meeting was one of the most important in the history of the war, the report said, because it was there that Kennedy and Johnson discussed the possibility of a military strike against Cuba.

The meeting was one of the most important in the history of the war, the report said, because it was there that Kennedy and Johnson discussed the possibility of a military strike against Cuba.

The meeting was one of the most important in the history of the war, the report said, because it was there that Kennedy and Johnson discussed the possibility of a military strike against Cuba.

The meeting was one of the most important in the history of the war, the report said, because it was there that Kennedy and Johnson discussed the possibility of a military strike against Cuba.

The meeting was one of the most important in the history of the war, the report said, because it was there that Kennedy and Johnson discussed the possibility of a military strike against Cuba.

The meeting was one of the most important in the history of the war, the report said, because it was there that Kennedy and Johnson discussed the possibility of a military strike against Cuba.

The meeting was one of the most important in the history of the war, the report said, because it was there that Kennedy and Johnson discussed the possibility of a military strike against Cuba.
NBA's Rockets to move?

San Diego (CPI) — Legal action has been taken to keep the National Basketball Association from moving the San Diego Rockets to Houston, according to its legal adviser Walter Hart (left) and attorney John Will.

"We have a legal theory we want to press," Will said.

"If there are no problems in this way, then we'll ultimately prevail, professional sports," Hart said. "We'll simply be a case of who can hold the longest money to buy a team away.

"Vested interests are appealed to keep the Rockets in San Diego. Walter wants his deal and his entire offense was starting to fall. Bob Devaney said the improvement of the squad would mean winning.

"We are the owners of San Diego, and we are doing our best in the NBA, and we are worth its entire salary. We are trying to get the players in for right.

DEFEYNE SAID the improvement of the squad would mean winning.

The official is that in the best of all the game. That's the reason you get the kind of followers that you have.

"This East has a tremendous leading game. We are trying to win them. We know they think in order to keep the ball, but we are going to have to win the East and run the ball back over to the Saints."

tomy Beard

"We have been getting more practice time on the front, too. The Saints have won us," said Coach Charlie McComb (left) of the Saints.

"As a sports person I think we are doing a better job of winning."

"But those three going to have to throw the ball morning, he said. "We can't win now, mom."

The Saints, who signed him to Walter Hesse (right) for a 1-2 and West (below) for a 2-1-2.

The Saints are trying to improve their defense against the Saints.

"You can expect to see us win," Hesse said. "It's a dream come true," he said. "It's a dream come true in the WBA league.

"It's a dream come true," he said. "It's a dream come true in the WBA league."

"We have been getting more practice time on the front, too. The Saints have won us," said Coach Charlie McComb (left) of the Saints.

"As a sports person I think we are doing a better job of winning."

"But those three going to have to throw the ball morning, he said. "We can't win now, mom."

The Saints, who signed him to Walter Hesse (right) for a 1-2 and West (below) for a 2-1-2.
DOGS OVERTURN UNAUTHORIZED UNCHAPERONED CANINE GET OWNERS DAYS IN COURT

By JIM DELLOCONO

State News Staff Writer

Dogs are free, but they can be a problem, at least to the owners of those at East Lansing City Bank, 124 Southgar Rd. The bank has one of the many businesses in the area that have been hit by the growing problem of dogs using the streets and sidewalks.

Two of the dogs wandered through the bank's parking lot, October 1, 1960, and one of them was a large black dog.

The dogs were not the only ones that were causing problems. The bank also received complaints from several customers about the behavior of the dogs.

The banks' policy is to turn away any dog that is not accompanied by its owner. This policy has not been enforced in the past, and the bank is now considering taking stronger measures to control the problem.

The city of East Lansing has also been receiving complaints about dogs wandering through the city. The city is considering enacting a resolution to regulate the behavior of dogs in the city.

In the meantime, the bank is asking its customers to be more vigilant in keeping their dogs off the property.

The problem of unchaperoned canines is not limited to East Lansing. Many other cities in the state are also dealing with the same issue.

The bank is hoping that by cooperating with the city, the problem can be reduced.

---

ATTENTION CAR OWNERS

* Complete front and rear alignment
* Brakes
* Wheel balancing
* Steering wheel steering

LISKEY'S Auto Safety Center

124 SOUTH LARCH

IV-6744

---

WALKING THE DOG

A pair of coke walks their dog for a pay through tree-shaded north campus. Dogs are becoming more popular on campus. They seem to be everywhere in the community.

State News photo by Ingrid Puyre

---

AFTER 98 YEARS OF SERVICE

Panel urges end of health corp

---

IN MAGAZINE

Revenue sharing hit by economist

NEW YORK Economist Paul A. Samuelson of Massachusetts Institute of Technology claimed that the state administration's handling of the mess and President Nixon's

---

Mac's Bar

7000 E. Michigan

Featuring:

3 Pools Tables

Draft Beer

Friday's Special

Bring this coupon plus $50 for

Offer good only between

7-10 PM

at Mac's Bar

---

Brochure offers tips on salads
Public access to data examined

Court asked for decision

(Continued from page one)

Boys' Staters explain meaning

(Continued from page one)

All that glitters is not gold.

Summer bunny

Mall Wide: MOONLIGHT SALE Today Only 7 p.m. - 11 p.m.

Indian Trails HAS (8) BUSES EVERY DAY TO CHICAGO

Hatfield conserves Congress

(Continued from page one)

United States today.

"There is a lack of ballots in individual cases because we were more concerned about the security of the ballots." Hatfield said.

Hatfield said Senate programs "require individual giving to each individual, giving due to the Senate and the Administration.

"We need to be the American people, as it is mainly seen as a democracy and those areas of it are the American people and the American people are the American people," he said.

"There is a lack of ballots in individual cases because we were more concerned about the security of the ballots." Hatfield said.

Hatfield said Senate programs "require individual giving to each individual, giving due to the Senate and the Administration.

"We need to be the American people, as it is mainly seen as a democracy and those areas of it are the American people and the American people are the American people," he said.

"There is a lack of ballots in individual cases because we were more concerned about the security of the ballots." Hatfield said.

Hatfield said Senate programs "require individual giving to each individual, giving due to the Senate and the Administration.

"We need to be the American people, as it is mainly seen as a democracy and those areas of it are the American people and the American people are the American people," he said.

"There is a lack of ballots in individual cases because we were more concerned about the security of the ballots." Hatfield said.

Hatfield said Senate programs "require individual giving to each individual, giving due to the Senate and the Administration.

"We need to be the American people, as it is mainly seen as a democracy and those areas of it are the American people and the American people are the American people," he said.

"There is a lack of ballots in individual cases because we were more concerned about the security of the ballots." Hatfield said.

Hatfield said Senate programs "require individual giving to each individual, giving due to the Senate and the Administration.

"We need to be the American people, as it is mainly seen as a democracy and those areas of it are the American people and the American people are the American people," he said.

"There is a lack of ballots in individual cases because we were more concerned about the security of the ballots." Hatfield said.

Hatfield said Senate programs "require individual giving to each individual, giving due to the Senate and the Administration.

"We need to be the American people, as it is mainly seen as a democracy and those areas of it are the American people and the American people are the American people," he said.
RIVERSIDE
EAST
APARTMENTS
Summer Rental
$155.00 per mo. 2 man
MODEL APARTMENT open daily, ph. 332-8292
RESIDENT MANAGER
No. 5, 1310 E. Grand River
Cash lost to thieves

Thefts reported between Tuesday and Thursday morning to MSU police included a $60 portable electric typewriter from a student in 1154 William Hall, a console 332-3304, a $25 radio from a student in 352 Wilson Hall, and a $25 coat hanger from 352 Wilson Hall. Police said the typewriter was removed from a storage area, and no keys to which it was available to anyone present. The honored entry was found in the rear of the store.

Who's Whose ENGAGEMENTS

Jim Cronin, Saginaw Valley State College, engaged to Larry Jones, Saginaw Valley State College.

Judy Brown, Grand Ledge, and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Melnick, Lansing, are attending the annual City Festival at the State Theatre in Detroit. Judy, who spent the summer in Germany, said she will return in the fall to complete her studies in foreign languages.

LAMBSWOOL HOURS

Larry Orleans, a resident of the Lambswool Hotel, has been employed at the Hotel since 1965. He said the Lambswool hours have been extended to accommodate the needs of the hotel's patrons.

Typing Service

TYING, THESS, and other services, have recently opened a new location at 332-6571.

MSU amount

The MSU amount for parking is $1.00 per hour.

LANSING

The Lansing Symphony Orchestra is scheduled to perform at the downtown area on September 15th. The concert will begin at 8:00 p.m. and will feature music from various eras.

Guns

The Lansing Police Department has confirmed the identity of the suspect in the recent theft of a gun from a local store. The suspect, who remains at large, is believed to be armed and dangerous.

Riders

The Lansing City Bus System has reported a significant increase in ridership, with an average of 3,000 riders per day. The system has adapted to the increased demand by increasing the frequency of buses and extending hours of operation.

Tickets

The Lansing Coliseum is currently offering discounted tickets for upcoming events. For more information, please call the Box Office at 332-6571.

Media bus promotion

By STEVE ALLEN

The Metropolitan Lansing Mass Transit Corp. has been facing the increasingly difficult task of putting riders back on the buses. The company currently has an average of 900 riders per day. To become competitive, they need more riders.

Newark

Newark is a town in Madison County, New York. It has a population of 1,200.

课堂

If people will just try us, they will come back.

State News advertising manager Ken Lawrence points out that the media promotions manager marks the first time all of the Lansing media have gotten together and worked on such a campaign at once.

“Everyone agrees Lansing needs a workable mass transit system and that the buses are the best bus in the business,” said Mr. Lawrence.

The bus company has offered a number of incentives to attract riders, including free rides to all people of the same group.

We hope the prospect of a free ride will draw more of the community's attention.

During the rush-hour hours, the company has increased the number of buses to accommodate the increased demand.

The new "stop-and-shop" concept will be a major step in the promotion of the bus service. The company is also considering a "ride-for-less" option, which would offer discounted fares for regular customers.

The bus company wants to offer additional programs to the public. A "ride-and-shop" plan will allow passengers to obtain transfers at the station and then shop at a discounted rate.

The bus company is also considering offering additional programs to the public. A "ride-and-shop" plan will allow passengers to obtain transfers at the station and then shop at a discounted rate.

Parents Visiting?

Why not put them up in style at KELLOGG CENTER

(Reserve your space now)

* On Campus
* Air Conditioning
* Cable TV
* Twin Beds

CALL 332-6571 FOR RESERVATIONS

SWING with Buddy Campbell and his COUNTRY CLAN

at the Ko-Ko Bar

Friday, Saturday & Sunday 9 p.m. - 1:30 a.m.

Sales

Pringle of Scotland Lambswool Sweater

$13

Regularly $17.50, our imported Scottish V-neck traditional pullower of soft lambswool, now at a special pre-season price. You'll want to add several of these full-fashioned all-time classics to your wardrobe now. Sizes 38 to 44.

Jacobson's

Linda Sue Kish, a 10-year-old resident of Allentown, PA, and the 1971 Miss Michigan, will appear on the stage in September's Miss American pageant in Atlantic City.

Miss Kish

Linda Sue Kish, a 10-year-old resident of Allentown, PA, and the 1971 Miss Michigan, will appear on the stage in September's Miss American pageant in Atlantic City.