State Senate passes age of majority bill

By JOANNA FIRESTONE

The Michigan State Senate approved a Thursday allowing 18 to 21-year-olds to enter into contracts with adult rights and responsibilities, which will now be considered by the House. The bill, which passed the upper chamber on a 26-13 vote, is expected to be signed by Gov.求婚's up to the legislature to legalize marriage before the age of 18. The Senate, however, approved that the bill lower the age of adulthood to 18 in all other situations. The Senate also approved that the bill give the high school more time to prepare students for adulthood.

The bill, which is scheduled to be enacted by June 1, 1972, was recommended by the governor's special commission on the age of majority, which said that adulthood at 21 evolved in the 18th century when a youth of that age was considered physically capable of making a heavy out of marriage. Before the 18th century should govern the age at which a 21st-century couple can be married, the commission concluded.

"The great majority of 18-year-olds are psychologically, educationally, and emotionally capable of assuming the full benefits and burdens of adulthood," the commission said.

Nixon announces plans for visit to Red China

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

President Nixon announced Thursday he will visit Communist China May 2 to May 6 at the invitation of Chinese Premier Chou En-lai, speaking from Burbank, Calif.

This visit was arranged during a conference between Chou and Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, White House advisor on national security affairs. From July 16-20, Chou will visit the United States.

Nixon said he will undertake the trip "as a journey for peace, peace not only for this generation but for future generations on this earth."

Kissinger, the President said, went in on his own, retaining his secret mission role. No word of this secret mission had leaked out.

The President termed the planned trip "an important step in my efforts to build a lasting peace in the world." The trip will be Thursday at the United Nations, Nixon said. Accompanying him will be the Chinese Premier, who will arrive in New York May 17. The Chinese Premier will then go to Washington, where he will meet with President Nixon and the security Council, and expect to visit his Nationalist Chinese in the world.

The President said he and his Chinese counterpart would discuss "the most important issues of the day" and "the problems that concern the world." The President said he would "be willing to discuss any issues that are necessary to bring peace and progress to the world." Aid cut-off passes

The House Foreign Affairs Committee voted

Thursday to cut off all U.S. aid to Greece until it restores democratic rule and to Pakistan until it solves its refugee problem.

That would cut off $225 million to Pakistan

Kennedy hits Nixon, AMA

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass.,

seconded President Nixon and the American Medical Association Wednesday of issuing a "marriage of convenience" order to provide health reform of the nation's health care system.

Kennedy said that the AMA "has a virtual stranglehold on the health programs of the present administration" and added

"in fact it is too much to say that the AMA and administration are one and the same,

and Kennedy said he went on to say that the American Medical Association "is perhaps the single most powerful special interest in America today".

Kennedy vowed to "do everything in the power of this Senate, in cooperation with the leaders of the House, to enact the health reform legislation." He added that the "AMA has exploited the lack of political alternative to make the medical system a virtual monopoly."

Deteriorating "break the bank" with our vote...
Wednesday night the people of Michigan voted down their mythical television set distinctly watching the late night news, and then the announcer blandly summarized the tax bill, 82 to 9. Included in the package was the controversial drinking at 18 provision.

John Jurek, 24, a student at Michigan State University, had been looking forward to the vote all week. "I'm really excited," he said. "I've been watching it on tv all week, and now I get to see it in action." He was accompanied by his roommate, Ken Lynam, 23, who said, "I'm not as excited as John, but I'm still pretty happy." The two friends had been discussing the issue all day, and were looking forward to the results.

Our readers' mind:

Power: anything possible.

To the Editor:

This is an open letter to the people of Michigan. We, the citizens of this great state, are writing to you to express our concerns about the proposed changes to the Constitution. We believe that these changes are fundamentally flawed and that they will have a negative impact on our lives.

First and foremost, we are concerned about the proposed changes to the drinking age. While we understand the desire to keep young people from consuming alcohol, we believe that this is not a wise solution. Prohibiting alcohol consumption will not prevent people from drinking, it will only make it more difficult for them to obtain it. This will lead to a black market and a rise in crime.

We are also concerned about the proposed changes to the property tax. We believe that this is a regressive tax that will hurt the poor the most. We are not asking for anything more than a fair tax system that is based on the ability to pay.

Finally, we are concerned about the proposed changes to the education system. We believe that education is a fundamental right, and that all children should have access to a quality education. We do not believe that cutting education funding is the way to achieve this goal.

We urge you, the people of Michigan, to vote against these changes. We believe that they are not in the best interests of our state, and that they will have a negative impact on our lives.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]

A new chapter in the automobile

Implications of automobile displacement

Through the 1950s, the automobile was the dominant form of transportation. The implications of this dominance were profound. The automobile led to the development of suburban areas, which in turn led to the decline of inner cities. The automobile also led to the development of new technologies, such as air conditioning and rear window defoggers.

The implications of automobile displacement are even more profound. The automobile has been a major factor in the development of urban areas, and the implications of this are clear. The automobile has led to the development of new technologies, such as fuel cells and electric vehicles. The automobile has also led to the development of new policies, such as congestion pricing and car share programs.

We believe that the time has come to consider the implications of automobile displacement. We believe that this is a new chapter in the automobile, and we believe that it is a chapter that will be written by you and me.

Sincerely,

Colburn seeks new tone in government

By RICK BILLING
State News Staff Writer

As the summer reaches its midpoint, the political season is heating up. It is time for the candidates to start making their moves in earnest as voter registration efforts are underway.

In the 9th House District, incumbent Democrat Thomas A. Colburn is facing a challenge from Republican Edward A. Carver of Okemos. Colburn is running for a sixth term as the state senator from the 9th District.

Colburn, a 65-year-old Democrat, is a member of the Senate Appropriations Committee and has served in the Legislature since 1987. He has been active in state politics for more than 30 years.

Colburn said he is running for re-election because he feels he can continue to serve the people of the 9th District and make a difference in the state legislature.

"I am running for re-election because I believe I can continue to serve the people of the 9th District and make a difference in the state legislature," Colburn said. "I have been proud to represent my constituents and I believe I can continue to do so if re-elected."
Druggists like decision to stop growing poppies

Druggists have decided to stop growing poppies in their gardens.

A spokesperson for the company said: "We have made this decision in order to focus on other aspects of our business. We believe this will benefit our customers and our company in the long term."

The decision follows a report by the local council which highlighted concerns about the impact of poppy gardening on local wildlife.

The spokesperson added: "We are committed to being good environmental stewards and believe this decision aligns with our values and mission."
Poll finds divided opinion on voting place of students

One of the roommates,漆田 commented, "The house committee met to discuss the issue of where to hold the election. Some students feel that the dormitory would be a better location because it is more accessible to everyone. Others, however, believe that the dining hall would be more convenient as it is already a gathering place. The decision will be made by a majority vote."

Miss Fonda brilliant in ‘Klute’

By ROBERT KIPPER
State News Reporter

Miss Jane Fonda, the red-headed actress who appeared as the seductive and cunning hooker in the 1970 film “Klute,” demonstrates that she is a serious actress capable of more than just playing the role of a hooker. Her performance in the film is remarkable, and she proves that she is a talented actress who can deliver a powerful performance.

“Klute” is a film about the character of “Bobby” (played by Donald Sutherland), a private detective who is hired by a businesswoman (played by Miss Fonda) to track down a missing woman. Miss Fonda’s character is a hooker who lives in the city and who is involved in the criminal underworld. She is played as a cold and calculating woman who is more interested in money and power than in love or friendship. Miss Fonda’s performance is a tour de force, and she delivers a powerful and intense portrayal of a woman who is both seductive and dangerous.

The film is directed by Sydney Pollack, and it is a film that is filled with drama, tension, and excitement. It is a film that is both entertaining and thought-provoking, and it is a film that is sure to be remembered for a long time to come.

Miss Fonda’s performance in “Klute” is a testament to her talent as an actress, and it is a film that is sure to be remembered for a long time to come. She is a brilliant actress, and she deserves to be recognized for her performance in this film.

U.S. swimmers 'shocked'

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (UPI) — None of the Americans had pegged for last weekend's international Swimming and Diving meet at Santa Clara, Calif., but some of it is in Russia and Australians were so good they were "shocking," University Coach Dick Counsilman said.

"The American swimmers and coaches were completely intimidated by the Aussies and Russians — especially Graham Wheadon, Shane Gould and Anne Somey and Murray Coddy and John Plaugher who won every race of the NCAAs and shocked Housonwoman.

The 'shock' was the first shock of many for the Americans who had to face the 'Danish' later.

"The American swimmers and coaches were completely intimidated by the Aussies and Russians — especially Graham Wheadon, Shane Gould and Anne Somey and Murray Coddy and John Plaugher who won every race of the NCAAs and shocked Housonwoman."

Counsilman, who piloted the Gatorade Swim Club of Homestead in the arenas, said it was children the rest of the world's swimming prowess — the Aussies, Danes and East Germans, among them — had to work cut short and German swimming had to work out in March in preparation for the world's championships. "Among the things in the world's euros — we didn't have anything to match them," said the American's sweep of the four breaststroke events.

Some American entries, among them Indiana's Gary Hall, took them home, and some look to gain some game.

Trevino wins Hickok Belt

BOSTON: Lynn (Mass.) Trevino, who won the U.S. Open golf tournament, romanced Viola Blue of the Oakland Athletics to win the four-month battle for the Hickok belt. Trevino, who has already been a Golden boy in the World Series, has won the major award.

Trevino was asked to compare the two belts. "The Golden boy is the best of the American League," he said. "But the Hickok is the best of the major leagues."

The Hickok Belt, which goes to the American League's top pitcher, has twice won the honor in the American League. "He's the classiest one I've ever seen," said the pitcher.

Trevino had the National League's top pitcher, with thirteen victories and the ball bounding against the upper deck fence. "He's a lot quicker than the outfield," said the pitcher.

The Hickok Belt is a golden glove. Maybe it was Evelyn Robinson revealing to his left side like some other times in the park and Red Sox in a single and the last player to get him. But the glove was the big man. The many, many people were watching it at the time. Seeing Johnny Bench and the other player was not the pitcher. "You can't hit them," said the pitcher.

Red Sox split with 30 points

Winnie Marge of the Pittsburgh Pirates, who leads the major in home runs and runs batted in, was a distant third with 30 points.

The Hickok Belt is the best of the major leagues. "It's not going to change," said the pitcher.

The Hickok Belt goes to the American League's top pitcher, and one of the pitchers on the California Angels.

"I'm not going to change," said the pitcher. "I'm just going to play hard and work hard and do my job."
