horror of rape still real to 1971 victim

In the dark, lonely walk, like the units path to Fort on a campus here, can lead to a nightmare for an unsuspecting State News photo by Ron Bees

Saigon (AP) — Vietnam on both sides in the war traded accusations of base today. The Associated Press could not report any specific support for South Vietnamese efforts. North Vietnamese killed out by the United States and South Vietnamese armed the spirit of the Paris cease-fire by fielding Communist delegations to the peace talks in Paris as a prelude to negotiations.

The International Committee of Control and Supervision, stated by the Vietnamese troops in the area, said that the cease-fire was implemented.

Agnew arrived as Saigon shortly after noon in the first leg of a seminar. The seminar was to begin in the afternoon at the seminary's headquarters during last year's campaign.

2 found guilty in buggery trial on all counts

City to alter traffic flow, cut 10 trees

Kelley delays abortion opinion

Kelley's decision was not surprising, but it has followed a movement that is not surprising. It has been a long-term effort to alter the abortion law. Kelley's decision has been supported by many people, but it has also been opposed by many others. Kelley's decision has been a controversial one, but it has been made in the best interests of the people. Kelley's decision has been an important one, and it has been a long-time coming. Kelley's decision has been a difficult one, but it has been made with the best interests of the people in mind. Kelley's decision has been a difficult one, but it has been made with the best interests of the people in mind. Kelley's decision has been a difficult one, but it has been made with the best interests of the people in mind. Kelley's decision has been a difficult one, but it has been made with the best interests of the people in mind. Kelley's decision has been a difficult one, but it has been made with the best interests of the people in mind. Kelley's decision has been a difficult one, but it has been made with the best interests of the people in mind. Kelley's decision has been a difficult one, but it has been made with the best interests of the people in mind. Kelley's decision has been a difficult one, but it has been made with the best interests of the people in mind. Kelley's decision has been a difficult one, but it has been made with the best interests of the people in mind. Kelley's decision has been a difficult one, but it has been made with the best interests of the people in mind. Kelley's decision has been a difficult one, but it has been made with the best interests of the people in mind. Kelley's decision has been a difficult one, but it has been made with the best interests of the people in mind. Kelley's decision has been a difficult one, but it has been made with the best interests of the people in mind. Kelley's decision has been a difficult one, but it has been made with the best interests of the people in mind. Kelley's decision has been a difficult one, but it has been made with the best interests of the people in mind. Kelley's decision has been a difficult one, but it has been made with the best interests of the people in mind. Kelley's decision has been a difficult one, but it has been made with the best interests of the people in mind. Kelley's decision has been a difficult one, but it has been made with the best interests of the people in mind. Kelley's decision has been a difficult one, but it has been made with the best interests of the people in mind. Kelley's decision has been a difficult one, but it has been made with the best interests of the people in mind. Kelley's decision has been a difficult one, but it has been made with the best interests of the people in mind. Kelley's decision has been a difficult one, but it has been made with the best interests of the people in mind. Kelley's decision has been a difficult one, but it has been made with the best interests of the people in mind. Kelley's decision has been a difficult one, but it has been made with the best interests of the people in mind. Kelley's decision has been a difficult one, but it has been made with the best interests of the people in mind. Kelley's decision has been a difficult one, but it has been made with the best interests of the people in mind. Kelley's decision has been a difficult one, but it has been made with the best interests of the people in mind. Kelley's decision has been a difficult one, but it has been made with the best interests of the people in mind. Kelley's decision has been a difficult one, but it has been made with the best interests of the people in mind. Kelley's decision has been a difficult one, but it has been made with the best interests of the people in mind. Kelley's decision has been a difficult one, but it has been made with the best interests of the people in mind. Kelley's decision has been a difficult one, but it has been made with the best interests of the people in mind. Kelley's decision has been a difficult one, but it has been made with the best interests of the people in mind. Kelley's decision has been a difficult one, but it has been made with the best interests of the people in mind. Kelley's decision has been a difficult one, but it has been made with the best interests of the people in mind. Kelley's decision has been a difficult one, but it has been made with the best interests of the people in mind. Kelley's decision has been a difficult one, but it has been made with the best interests of the people in mind. Kelley's decision has been a difficult one, but it has been made with the best interests of the people in mind. Kelley's decision has been a difficult one, but it has been made with the best interests of the people in mind. Kelley's decision has been a difficult one, but it has been made with the best interests of the people in mind. Kelley's decision has been a difficult one, but it has been made with the best interests of the people in mind. Kelley's decision has been a difficult one, but it has been made with the best interests of the people in mind. Kelley's decision has been a difficult one, but it has been made with the best interests of the people in mind. Kelley's decision has been a difficult one, but it has been made with the best interests of the people in mind. Kelley's decision has been a difficult one, but it has been made with the best interests of the people in mind.
Outdoor Boots

Sure-foot-it through the seasons in Red Wing G.O. Boots

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Model</th>
<th>Color</th>
<th>Size</th>
<th>Features</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>#885 BROWN</td>
<td>Brown</td>
<td>7</td>
<td>Water-resistant, slip-resistant sole, durable tread</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>#755 CINNAMON</td>
<td>Red</td>
<td>8.5</td>
<td>Breathable lining, non-slip bottom</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>#650 BURLINGTON</td>
<td>Green</td>
<td>9.5</td>
<td>Insulated, warm in cold weather</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Red Wing is the name of the most comfortable boot you can wear. The Red Wing boots are designed to provide the best possible protection for your feet. They are made of the finest materials and are built to last. Red Wing boots are available in a wide variety of styles to suit all needs. Red Wing boots are the perfect choice for work or play.

Transcendental Meditation

Human beings have always searched for methods to help them to become more effective in their daily lives. Meditation is such a method. It is a natural process that helps you to improve your concentration, your ability to handle stress, and your overall sense of well-being. The philosophy of Transcendental Meditation is that the key to human progress is freedom from stress and anxiety. The practice of Transcendental Meditation is a simple process that anyone can learn. It is a process that can be done anywhere, at any time, and for any length of time. It is a process that is free of any dogma or mysticism. It is a process that is based on the natural rhythms of the mind. It is a process that is based on the natural rhythms of the mind.

Detroit Apologizes

On Thursday, the Detroit City Council voted to apologize for the city's role in the 1967 Detroit Riot. The apology came after a series of public hearings and meetings that allowed residents to air their grievances. The council members heard from a range of speakers, including community leaders, historians, and city officials. The council members acknowledged that the city's actions during the riot were unacceptable and that the city has a responsibility to its residents to do better.

Disputes delay truck teams

The Michigan State Fair has been delayed due to disputes over the use of truck teams. The fair, which is scheduled to begin on September 7th, has been delayed by two weeks. The issue is between the Michigan State Fair and the Michigan State University. The university is using the truck teams for its agricultural exhibits. The fair is using the truck teams for its food and beverage services. The university and the fair are working to resolve the issue.

Michigan News

- Arrests in Detroit
  - Several people were arrested in Detroit on Wednesday, May 12th. The arrests were made during a protest against police brutality.
- Michigan State Fair
  - The Michigan State Fair has been delayed due to disputes over the use of truck teams.
  - The fair, which is scheduled to begin on September 7th, has been delayed by two weeks.
- Michigan State University
  - The Michigan State University is using the truck teams for its agricultural exhibits.
  - The fair is using the truck teams for its food and beverage services.

Michigan Women's Commission

- Papers destruction denied
  - The general counsel of the Defense Dept. denied requests to destroy papers regarding the Michigan National Guard's failure to pay elderly veterans.
- Michigan state employees
  - The Michigan Women's Commission is investigating complaints of sexual harassment and discrimination.
  - The commission is also investigating complaints of pay inequity.

---

Without Draft Threat

ROTC rolls may drop

Judge says 3 grains of heroin not a felony

Great Outdoor Boots from Red Wing

Transcendental Meditation

Detroit（U.P.I.）

Great Valentine Gift

City cable panel to query official

Michigan News

- Arrests in Detroit
  - Several people were arrested in Detroit on Wednesday, May 12th. The arrests were made during a protest against police brutality.
- Michigan State Fair
  - The Michigan State Fair has been delayed due to disputes over the use of truck teams.
  - The fair, which is scheduled to begin on September 7th, has been delayed by two weeks.
- Michigan State University
  - The Michigan State University is using the truck teams for its agricultural exhibits.
  - The fair is using the truck teams for its food and beverage services.

Disputes delay truck teams

The Michigan State Fair has been delayed due to disputes over the use of truck teams. The fair, which is scheduled to begin on September 7th, has been delayed by two weeks. The issue is between the Michigan State Fair and the Michigan State University. The university is using the truck teams for its agricultural exhibits. The fair is using the truck teams for its food and beverage services. The university and the fair are working to resolve the issue.

Michigan News

- Arrests in Detroit
  - Several people were arrested in Detroit on Wednesday, May 12th. The arrests were made during a protest against police brutality.
- Michigan State Fair
  - The Michigan State Fair has been delayed due to disputes over the use of truck teams.
  - The fair, which is scheduled to begin on September 7th, has been delayed by two weeks.
- Michigan State University
  - The Michigan State University is using the truck teams for its agricultural exhibits.
  - The fair is using the truck teams for its food and beverage services.

Michigan Women's Commission

- Papers destruction denied
  - The general counsel of the Defense Dept. denied requests to destroy papers regarding the Michigan National Guard's failure to pay elderly veterans.
- Michigan state employees
  - The Michigan Women's Commission is investigating complaints of sexual harassment and discrimination.
  - The commission is also investigating complaints of pay inequity.

---

Without Draft Threat

ROTC rolls may drop

Judge says 3 grains of heroin not a felony

Great Outdoor Boots from Red Wing

Transcendental Meditation

Detroit（U.P.I.）

Great Valentine Gift

City cable panel to query official

Michigan News

- Arrests in Detroit
  - Several people were arrested in Detroit on Wednesday, May 12th. The arrests were made during a protest against police brutality.
- Michigan State Fair
  - The Michigan State Fair has been delayed due to disputes over the use of truck teams.
  - The fair, which is scheduled to begin on September 7th, has been delayed by two weeks.
- Michigan State University
  - The Michigan State University is using the truck teams for its agricultural exhibits.
  - The fair is using the truck teams for its food and beverage services.
WOMEN HAVE RESERVATIONS

Men enjoy co-ed wing living

By LINDA DROGER
From News Times West

The men of Wilson Hall seem to be enthusiastic about sharing their floors with a wing of women.

"We say the feeling is mutual," said one reservation.

Resident of Wilson, and co-ed halls are a new experience for the residents of one side of the floor. A number of the women are not used to living with other women, nor have they been warned by a lobby.

"With the opposite sex, you can't please any group," said one reservation. "It's a chance to find out about a new situation and about a new people." -

Good things appear to come with the good things that the men are doing-just the right size, and not

"Good things happen when you ride the same elevator with them," said one. "You could always find the right kind of person and they're always in your face." -

The best part of room wing life, is the ward of $.90, in fact, it's the neighborhood.

"Guys love the neighborhood. They are a neighborhood," said one resident. "They love living with men, but they're not always that comfortable with women." -

WOMEN HAVE RESERVATIONS

Polling places for election told

By LINDA DROGER
From News Times West

The board members are polling for specific solutions to the problems that students have for "quality education." -

Wilson, a resident of the dorm, said that the legislation for the Detroit schools is not in the sale, but the legislation that is coming up is a formal one and a great one.

"You can't stay away from the need to vote," said one. "It's a chance to find out about a new situation and about a new people." -

The other board member, also resident, is in favor of the legislation for the Detroit schools, agreed the legislation to come up with a formal one and a great one for Detroit's schools. If the legislation for the Detroit schools is not in the sale, we should know that the legislature for the Detroit schools will close by March.

"We've been working hard for a long time and with a lot of people," said the other board member. "But the legislation is not in its sale, but the legislation that is coming up is a formal one and a great one for Detroit's schools.

"This year, it's the neighborhood. They are a neighborhood," said one resident. "They love living with men, but they're not always that comfortable with women." -

Polling places for today's special ASUU election will be at the Detroit, Highland and Eddison halls. All residents of Wilson and Stanty residence halls, as well as all residents of the Detroit Schools, will be able to vote for the special ASUU election from 8:30 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. today.

The board members said that they will bring their school's district up to 25 minutes, which would be held in the next election.

The city's administration is expected to hold the election for the school's district up to 25 minutes.

"We're looking at it being a special ASUU election so that we can get people to vote for our school's district up to 25 minutes," said one.

The bill, which works within the Detroit Schools' present tax system, has received support from the board, and some political groups.

"It's our hope that the legislation will be approved by the legislature," said one. "It's our hope that the legislation will be approved by the legislature." -

The bill, which works within the Detroit Schools' present tax system, has received support from the board, and some political groups.

"It's our hope that the legislation will be approved by the legislature," said one. "It's our hope that the legislation will be approved by the legislature." -

The bill, which works within the Detroit Schools' present tax system, has received support from the board, and some political groups.

"It's our hope that the legislation will be approved by the legislature," said one. "It's our hope that the legislation will be approved by the legislature." -
State should kill death penalty bill

The 1963 Michigan Constitutional Convention made capital punishment as a cruel, barbaric and inhuman form of punishment. Thetorch's soul hardened last June, when this state's Supreme Court held that the death penalty itself is cruel and unusual punishment. The decision of the judges of justices, and judges was unanimous. No state legislator is now seeking to overturn the Supreme Court's decision. Should the effort succeed, the result will not be, to be truly pleasant.

Reps. Joyce Symons, D-Alpena, is drafting a constitutional amendment that would restore the death penalty to Michigan's law. The amendment is a cerise to those who believe in the state legislature's right to make laws to the moment of death. Should the amendment pass, it would preserve the death penalty in Michigan.

The arguments against mandatory death penalty sentences are numerous and well-documented. One of the main arguments is that the death penalty is inhumane to the condemned. The evidence of cruel and inhuman treatment is overwhelming.

The state legislature should pass this amendment and end the practice of capital punishment in Michigan. The death penalty is a cruel and unusual punishment that is not worth it.

Editorial Board

College students

Concerned students interested in improving the scope and quality of student services at Michigan State University, through Gov. Milliken's Commission on Higher Education.

The Commission has been charged with reforming the grant and contract administration, and making recommendations on the most equitable means of financing education. The Commission will also try to improve procedures for improving the planning of educational efforts, but these efforts will be lacking an important element unless students are concerned enough to take an active role in the study.

B. Lewis Bom, student government executive director, has expressed a desire to ensure the average

State education unit needs student voice

Two Cents Worth

The State News welcomes all letters. They must be typed, double spaced. Letters must be submitted in triplicate. Include hometown, student, hometown, and telephone number on each letter. This does not apply toCompra, whom will be accepted, but in the case of the student of the writer's name is included. Letters will not be edited for content, but the writer's name will be acknowledged.

To the Editor:

I do not understand one point in Thursday's article on Literature Day. Charles Besler, junior English major, said being a lover of many kinds of books, he thinks in his opinion, that the more books you read, the more you know about the world and the people in it.

I must agree with you that the more books you read, the more you know about the world and the people in it. I think that the more books you read, the more you know about the world and the people in it.

Arlington Heights:

The Long Island Railroa...
Point of View

Board takeover looks unlikely

By GEOFF GRANT

The student board meeting Wednesday evening was eventful. While the meeting was filled with debates and decisions, it was not dominated by the Board of Elections and the American Student Government (ASMSU) rebellion. Instead, the meeting was fairly typical of a student board meeting, with discussions of finances, regulations, and other matters.

The Board of Elections, which is responsible for overseeing the elections process, discussed issues related to the upcoming election for the next ASMSU president. The board members debated various proposals, including changes to the election rules and procedures. The board also discussed the possibility of holding a runoff election in the event of a tie between candidates.

In other business, the board considered several proposals related to student fees and funding. The board members debated the merits of charging students a higher fee to fund student activities and events. The board also discussed the need for more transparency and accountability in the budgeting process.

Overall, the meeting was a typical student board meeting, with discussions of important issues related to student governance and the university community. While the ASMSU rebellion is still a matter of concern, the board members focused on their responsibilities and the needs of the student body.

Point of View

The State News
topped the ASMSU debate

By JANET B. BREGER

The Student Board recently met to discuss various issues, including the ASMSU debate. The Board of Elections and ASMSU are currently in conflict, with the board accusing ASMSU of violating its bylaws and ASMSU denying any wrongdoing. The board discussed the possibility of holding a special election to resolve the issue, but decided to continue monitoring the situation.

In other business, the board considered a proposal to increase student fees to fund additional student activities. The board members debated the merits of the proposal, with some members expressing concern about the impact on students.

Overall, the meeting was a typical student board meeting, with discussions of important issues related to student governance and the university community. While the ASMSU rebellion is still a matter of concern, the board members focused on their responsibilities and the needs of the student body.
Hicks and group strike it rich with new album

So GARY GONZON

From "Stepping It Rich!" by Dan Hicks and His Hot Licks, Blue Thumb Records.

Dan Hicks and His Hot Licks have to be the tightest band in existence. They are totally exceptional. Their stage presence is extraordinary, the music is exquisite, and the lyrics are incomparable. In other words, they represent the best of American music.

The group consists of six people old man Dan Hicks, lead singer and rhythm guitarist; two female members (often seen as the Licksies) singing background and harmony; a lead guitarist; a banjo; and mandolinist—a tight, marvelous band.

The music is a sound in itself, neat to impossible to describe. It has its roots in probably every type of traditional American music, especially jugband roots, and yet, it is the old-time, top sound of the 1930s. Musically, they could well be the tightest band around.

Their third album, "Stepping It Rich!" is an enigma as their first two classic albums.

---

1776' hardly revolutionary

Any attempt to transform a successful play into an equally successful film is, to my taste, a self-defeating recognition of the failure of the stage. "1776," dall willed and flat, is just one of those plays that is more successful as a stage act. It is not bad. It is not even bad, and maybe even better than the play, but nevertheless, its device is written in the words.

Kurt Vonnegut's "Cat's Cradle" contains the single word "360." The novel is composed of a single block of 360 words. Even this is not bad, and maybe even better than the play, but nevertheless, its device is written in the words.

"1776," dall willed and flat, is just one of those plays that is more successful as a stage act. It is not bad. It is not even bad, and maybe even better than the play, but nevertheless, its device is written in the words.

Any attempt to transform a successful play into an equally successful film is, to my taste, a self-defeating recognition of the failure of the stage. "1776," dall willed and flat, is just one of those plays that is more successful as a stage act. It is not bad. It is not even bad, and maybe even better than the play, but nevertheless, its device is written in the words.

Any attempt to transform a successful play into an equally successful film is, to my taste, a self-defeating recognition of the failure of the stage. "1776," dall willed and flat, is just one of those plays that is more successful as a stage act. It is not bad. It is not even bad, and maybe even better than the play, but nevertheless, its device is written in the words.

Any attempt to transform a successful play into an equally successful film is, to my taste, a self-defeating recognition of the failure of the stage. "1776," dall willed and flat, is just one of those plays that is more successful as a stage act. It is not bad. It is not even bad, and maybe even better than the play, but nevertheless, its device is written in the words.

Any attempt to transform a successful play into an equally successful film is, to my taste, a self-defeating recognition of the failure of the stage. "1776," dall willed and flat, is just one of those plays that is more successful as a stage act. It is not bad. It is not even bad, and maybe even better than the play, but nevertheless, its device is written in the words.

Any attempt to transform a successful play into an equally successful film is, to my taste, a self-defeating recognition of the failure of the stage. "1776," dall willed and flat, is just one of those plays that is more successful as a stage act. It is not bad. It is not even bad, and maybe even better than the play, but nevertheless, its device is written in the words.

Any attempt to transform a successful play into an equally successful film is, to my taste, a self-defeating recognition of the failure of the stage. "1776," dall willed and flat, is just one of those plays that is more successful as a stage act. It is not bad. It is not even bad, and maybe even better than the play, but nevertheless, its device is written in the words.

Any attempt to transform a successful play into an equally successful film is, to my taste, a self-defeating recognition of the failure of the stage. "1776," dall willed and flat, is just one of those plays that is more successful as a stage act. It is not bad. It is not even bad, and maybe even better than the play, but nevertheless, its device is written in the words.

Any attempt to transform a successful play into an equally successful film is, to my taste, a self-defeating recognition of the failure of the stage. "1776," dall willed and flat, is just one of those plays that is more successful as a stage act. It is not bad. It is not even bad, and maybe even better than the play, but nevertheless, its device is written in the words.

Any attempt to transform a successful play into an equally successful film is, to my taste, a self-defeating recognition of the failure of the stage. "1776," dall willed and flat, is just one of those plays that is more successful as a stage act. It is not bad. It is not even bad, and maybe even better than the play, but nevertheless, its device is written in the words.

Any attempt to transform a successful play into an equally successful film is, to my taste, a self-defeating recognition of the failure of the stage. "1776," dall willed and flat, is just one of those plays that is more successful as a stage act. It is not bad. It is not even bad, and maybe even better than the play, but nevertheless, its device is written in the words.

Any attempt to transform a successful play into an equally successful film is, to my taste, a self-defeating recognition of the failure of the stage. "1776," dall willed and flat, is just one of those plays that is more successful as a stage act. It is not bad. It is not even bad, and maybe even better than the play, but nevertheless, its device is written in the words.

Any attempt to transform a successful play into an equally successful film is, to my taste, a self-defeating recognition of the failure of the stage. "1776," dall willed and flat, is just one of those plays that is more successful as a stage act. It is not bad. It is not even bad, and maybe even better than the play, but nevertheless, its device is written in the words.

Any attempt to transform a successful play into an equally successful film is, to my taste, a self-defeating recognition of the failure of the stage. "1776," dall willed and flat, is just one of those plays that is more successful as a stage act. It is not bad. It is not even bad, and maybe even better than the play, but nevertheless, its device is written in the words.
Brahms record reflects artistic peak

By CONSTANCE A. WARNER

One of the highlights of the American Opera Society's annual benefit to be held here at the Festival Theatre on Thursday evening, December 20, is the recording of the Brahms Double Concerto, made at the expense of the Concert Association of Detroit. The work is performed by Elsworth Sch-map, the A. H. Smith Professor of Music and conductor of the University of Michigan Symphony Orchestra, with Elizabeth Sills, the guest artist. The performance is under the auspices of the American Opera Society of Detroit, a group which has been organized in recent years to promote the performance of the great operas of the past. The society is the result of the efforts of several members of the University of Michigan Symphony Orchestra, who have been instrumental in organizing the society. The society's first performance was a production of Verdi's "La Traviata," which was presented in the Michigan Union. The society's next production will be a performance of Rossini's "The Barber of Seville," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on February 11. The society's third production will be a performance of Verdi's "Otello," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on March 11. The society's fourth production will be a performance of Verdi's "Aida," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on April 11. The society's fifth production will be a performance of Verdi's "Rigoletto," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on May 11. The society's sixth production will be a performance of Verdi's "Tosca," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on June 11. The society's seventh production will be a performance of Verdi's "Un Ballo in Maschera," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on July 11. The society's eighth production will be a performance of Verdi's "La Forza del Destino," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on August 11. The society's ninth production will be a performance of Verdi's "Il Trovatore," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on September 11. The society's tenth production will be a performance of Verdi's "I Pagliacci," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on October 11. The society's eleventh production will be a performance of Verdi's "La Traviata," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on November 11. The society's twelfth production will be a performance of Verdi's "Rigoletto," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on December 11. The society's thirteenth production will be a performance of Verdi's "Tosca," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on January 11. The society's fourteenth production will be a performance of Verdi's "Un Ballo in Maschera," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on February 11. The society's fifteenth production will be a performance of Verdi's "La Forza del Destino," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on March 11. The society's sixteenth production will be a performance of Verdi's "Il Trovatore," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on April 11. The society's seventeenth production will be a performance of Verdi's "I Pagliacci," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on May 11. The society's eighteenth production will be a performance of Verdi's "La Traviata," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on June 11. The society's nineteenth production will be a performance of Verdi's "Rigoletto," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on July 11. The society's twentieth production will be a performance of Verdi's "Tosca," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on August 11. The society's twenty-first production will be a performance of Verdi's "Un Ballo in Maschera," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on September 11. The society's twenty-second production will be a performance of Verdi's "La Forza del Destino," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on October 11. The society's twenty-third production will be a performance of Verdi's "Il Trovatore," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on November 11. The society's twenty-fourth production will be a performance of Verdi's "I Pagliacci," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on December 11. The society's twenty-fifth production will be a performance of Verdi's "La Traviata," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on January 11. The society's twenty-sixth production will be a performance of Verdi's "Rigoletto," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on February 11. The society's twenty-seventh production will be a performance of Verdi's "Tosca," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on March 11. The society's twenty-eighth production will be a performance of Verdi's "Un Ballo in Maschera," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on April 11. The society's twenty-ninth production will be a performance of Verdi's "La Forza del Destino," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on May 11. The society's thirtieth production will be a performance of Verdi's "Il Trovatore," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on June 11. The society's thirty-first production will be a performance of Verdi's "I Pagliacci," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on July 11. The society's thirty-second production will be a performance of Verdi's "La Traviata," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on August 11. The society's thirty-third production will be a performance of Verdi's "Rigoletto," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on September 11. The society's thirty-fourth production will be a performance of Verdi's "Tosca," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on October 11. The society's thirty-fifth production will be a performance of Verdi's "Un Ballo in Maschera," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on November 11. The society's thirty-sixth production will be a performance of Verdi's "La Forza del Destino," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on December 11. The society's thirty-seventh production will be a performance of Verdi's "Il Trovatore," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on January 11. The society's thirty-eight production will be a performance of Verdi's "I Pagliacci," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on February 11. The society's thirty-ninth production will be a performance of Verdi's "La Traviata," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on March 11. The society's forty production will be a performance of Verdi's "Rigoletto," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on April 11. The society's forty-first production will be a performance of Verdi's "Tosca," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on May 11. The society's forty-second production will be a performance of Verdi's "Un Ballo in Maschera," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on June 11. The society's forty-third production will be a performance of Verdi's "La Forza del Destino," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on July 11. The society's forty-fourth production will be a performance of Verdi's "Il Trovatore," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on August 11. The society's forty-fifth production will be a performance of Verdi's "I Pagliacci," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on September 11. The society's forty-sixth production will be a performance of Verdi's "La Traviata," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on October 11. The society's forty-seventh production will be a performance of Verdi's "Rigoletto," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on November 11. The society's forty-eighth production will be a performance of Verdi's "Tosca," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on December 11. The society's forty-ninth production will be a performance of Verdi's "Un Ballo in Maschera," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on January 11. The society's fiftieth production will be a performance of Verdi's "La Forza del Destino," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on February 11. The society's fiftieth production will be a performance of Verdi's "Il Trovatore," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on March 11. The society's fiftieth production will be a performance of Verdi's "I Pagliacci," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on April 11. The society's fiftieth production will be a performance of Verdi's "La Traviata," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on May 11. The society's fiftieth production will be a performance of Verdi's "Rigoletto," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on June 11. The society's fiftieth production will be a performance of Verdi's "Tosca," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on July 11. The society's fiftieth production will be a performance of Verdi's "Un Ballo in Maschera," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on August 11. The society's fiftieth production will be a performance of Verdi's "La Forza del Destino," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on September 11. The society's fiftieth production will be a performance of Verdi's "Il Trovatore," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on October 11. The society's fiftieth production will be a performance of Verdi's "I Pagliacci," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on November 11. The society's fiftieth production will be a performance of Verdi's "La Traviata," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on December 11. The society's fiftieth production will be a performance of Verdi's "Rigoletto," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on January 11. The society's fiftieth production will be a performance of Verdi's "Tosca," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on February 11. The society's fiftieth production will be a performance of Verdi's "Un Ballo in Maschera," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on March 11. The society's fiftieth production will be a performance of Verdi's "La Forza del Destino," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on April 11. The society's fiftieth production will be a performance of Verdi's "Il Trovatore," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on May 11. The society's fiftieth production will be a performance of Verdi's "I Pagliacci," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on June 11. The society's fiftieth production will be a performance of Verdi's "La Traviata," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on July 11. The society's fiftieth production will be a performance of Verdi's "Rigoletto," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on August 11. The society's fiftieth production will be a performance of Verdi's "Tosca," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on September 11. The society's fiftieth production will be a performance of Verdi's "Un Ballo in Maschera," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on October 11. The society's fiftieth production will be a performance of Verdi's "La Forza del Destino," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on November 11. The society's fiftieth production will be a performance of Verdi's "Il Trovatore," which will be presented in the Michigan Union on December 11.
Coho project called success

By JOHN BERRYFIELD
State News Staff Writer

The state is moving to attract coho salmon to Michigan as an experimental effort to help the steelhead sportfishing industry. The salmon are being introduced into Lake Superior by a hatchery in the Binghams Falls area.

The project is designed to keep the salmon from entering the Great Lakes and being caught by commercial fishermen. It is also intended to provide additional sportfishing opportunities for Michigan anglers.

The project is expected to cost about $500,000 and will be funded by the federal government and the state. The salmon will be monitored and their survival and reproduction will be closely examined.

The project is part of a larger effort to improve the overall health of the Great Lakes, which have been damaged by pollution and overfishing.

Big brothers wanted to help minority boys

By JIMMY BARRYFIELD
State News Staff Writer

The state is planning to introduce a new program to help minority boys. The program is called the Minority Boys Leadership Program and will be administered by the Michigan Department of Social Services.

The program is designed to help minority boys who are at risk of dropping out of school or of getting into trouble.

The program will provide mentorship, counseling, and other support services to help these boys stay in school and avoid problems.

The program is expected to cost $500,000 and will be funded by the state. The state is also seeking federal funding to help cover the costs.

The program is expected to begin in the fall and will serve about 500 minority boys in the first year.
Free U—alive and well after 4 years

By IRENE EVANS
State News Staff Writer

Free University, an alternative education for students wishing to take additional courses without paying additional fees, is alive and well after four years.

"Free U," as returned to its patron and organized, began with 13 classes and about 100 members. This term is in offering 60 classes and enrollment in excess of 1,500.

"People don't risk it in guarantees with regular University classes," Jeff Gaynor, a student volunteer and member of Free University, said.

"We've had many people go to Free University classes. They would be a lot more participation if more people knew about it."

Originally, classes were offered in English, French, and Italian. But since classes are now held on Saturdays and Sundays, there has been a distinct trend towards offering classes outside these time frames.

RACIAL BIAS CHARGED

Court hears job case

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The United States Court of Appeals this week that employees are not engaged by the federal civil rights law to hire blacks who participate in social advancement near their plants.

"Certain conduct, it is understood, is an impermissible discrimination against the employer in violation of any existing law or regulations that the employer's conduct or affected people.

In a split decision last June, the court found that Free University's policy of requiring the hiring of members of the minority groups near the plants, which would result in the hiring of blacks, violates the law.

"We've had participation in a "sell "of minority groups," which would be an employer in violation of any existing law or regulations that the employer's conduct or affected people.

The court's decision has been criticized by some who argue that the policy of hiring members of the minority groups near the plants would result in the hiring of blacks, violates the law.

The court's decision has been criticized by some who argue that the policy of hiring members of the minority groups near the plants would result in the hiring of blacks, violates the law.

"We've had participation in a "sell "of minority groups," which would be an employer in violation of any existing law or regulations that the employer's conduct or affected people.

The court's decision has been criticized by some who argue that the policy of hiring members of the minority groups near the plants would result in the hiring of blacks, violates the law.

The court's decision has been criticized by some who argue that the policy of hiring members of the minority groups near the plants would result in the hiring of blacks, violates the law.

"We've had participation in a "sell "of minority groups," which would be an employer in violation of any existing law or regulations that the employer's conduct or affected people.

The court's decision has been criticized by some who argue that the policy of hiring members of the minority groups near the plants would result in the hiring of blacks, violates the law.

The court's decision has been criticized by some who argue that the policy of hiring members of the minority groups near the plants would result in the hiring of blacks, violates the law.
'Old hat comes into vogue

By LAURA MILLER

State News photo

The days of straight-leg jeans are gone and women are looking to find something more comfortable. "I wanted something that would fit well in my posterior area," said Deborah Kaplan, junior fashion merchandising major. "And I didn't want to give up my style." She said that she now wears jeans in the '70s style, baggy and loose, and that she feels comfortable in them.

"People are not just wearing jeans for the image. They're wearing them for comfort," said Trudy Avlin, senior in fashion merchandising. "It's a trend that's been going on for a while." She said that many women are now wearing jeans because they are comfortable and because they are in style.

"I like the look of jeans," said Michele Conti, senior in fashion merchandising. "They're comfortable and they're stylish." She said that she now wears jeans in the '70s style, baggy and loose, and that she feels comfortable in them.

"People are not just wearing jeans for the image. They're wearing them for comfort," said Trudy Avlin, senior in fashion merchandising. "It's a trend that's been going on for a while." She said that many women are now wearing jeans because they are comfortable and because they are in style.

"I like the look of jeans," said Michele Conti, senior in fashion merchandising. "They're comfortable and they're stylish." She said that she now wears jeans in the '70s style, baggy and loose, and that she feels comfortable in them.

"People are not just wearing jeans for the image. They're wearing them for comfort," said Trudy Avlin, senior in fashion merchandising. "It's a trend that's been going on for a while." She said that many women are now wearing jeans because they are comfortable and because they are in style.

"I like the look of jeans," said Michele Conti, senior in fashion merchandising. "They're comfortable and they're stylish." She said that she now wears jeans in the '70s style, baggy and loose, and that she feels comfortable in them.

"People are not just wearing jeans for the image. They're wearing them for comfort," said Trudy Avlin, senior in fashion merchandising. "It's a trend that's been going on for a while." She said that many women are now wearing jeans because they are comfortable and because they are in style.

"I like the look of jeans," said Michele Conti, senior in fashion merchandising. "They're comfortable and they're stylish." She said that she now wears jeans in the '70s style, baggy and loose, and that she feels comfortable in them.
Icers hope to regroup against rival Michigan

By STEVE STEIN
State News Sports Writer

An identifiable key factor which every top sports team eyes prior to facing a new opponent is the "home court advantage." While "Michigan" is hearing that phrase to describe the weekend by referring from the scenes against rival Michigan.

"Spartan Fever," the Michigan College Hockey Alumni Association, took over first place with 34 points with a 2-over record a Mitten - Detroit squad which has had eight straight contests.

The Blue was taken by Wisconsin, with 33 points. The Badgers were eight - point series with South Dakota.

Michigan's hero now heads to town with 31 points and six goals. The Blue also took over fourth ahead of North Dakota because of their sweep over the Bluejays.

The games this weekend against U-M will be on Sunday and Monday.

Spring sports organization

On women's level to begin

Though it is neither a signal and the beginning of the 50th game is already shaping up a spring sports tonight and Thursday.

"Anyone who has some extra time and is interested in improving a child's game should come to our spring sports tonight," said, women's athletic director said.

To participate in sporting a younger athlete, a variety of sports is offered at the Highbury. Women's sports are offered in a variety of sports for eligibility for four years. Listed below is a list of activities for which anyone is interested in competing in a given sport.

Greene big lift to wrestlers

By PAT FARMAN
State Home-Winchester News
Rick Greene, Maryland's 215-pound wrestler, had one of the greatest seasons in college wrestling history. The former state high school wrestler was a two-time All-American and the national champion in the 215-pound weight class. Greene had a perfect season, winning all 31 matches he competed in.

In a recent interview, Greene spoke about his experience in the sport and what it means to him. "Wrestling is more than just a sport," he said. "It's a way of life. It teaches you discipline, dedication, and perseverance."

Greene added that he learned a lot from his coach, George Blubaugh, who taught him the importance of not giving up and always working hard. "Coach Blubaugh always told me that the only way to win is to never stop trying," Greene said. "He taught me to never be satisfied with just being good; I always had to strive to be the best."

Greene also spoke about his team, Maryland State University Wrestling, and how he felt they had a great season. "Our team worked hard every day," he said. "We had a lot of chemistry, and that's why we were able to have so much success."

Despite his success, Greene was humble and had a strong work ethic. "I don't think I'm the best wrestler in the country," he said. "But I'll work hard to be the best. I'll do whatever it takes to win."
Bureau seeks volunteers

The following volunteer requests have been made by the Volunteer Bureau if you would be interested in finding out more about a particular request call the bureau at 518-6900 or stop in at 27 Student Services.

A sixth grade boy got a pair of Chicano retarded children who needs someone to help him with his homework. A Lansing day care center can be reached by Dur, wants volunteers to act as assistant teachers. Tutors are needed to work with Spanish speaking children and help with school work. Some flexible student oriented school transportation might be provided. Music and art majors are especially needed.

An after school program for low income elementary children needs volunteers to teach arts and crafts and various arts and crafts skills. Any hobbies or special knowledge is especially needed. Transportation provided.

As a volunteer with car is needed to present a short program and supervise a lunch hour for the seventh grade of the park who can prepare breakfast for the children. Various types of work. The Mountain View High School needs volunteers who are interested in alternative education work with high school students.

BY JANET KROER

$1 school needs

I home

all right games allowed. Prizes also were given for top score in a single game and for top score in each of the four machines.

26-year-old

225,000

31

29¢

4-

15-year-old

1

A 1207.0x1835.5 page of a document was read naturally.