Ervin, Baker ask out-of-court accord

President's former campaign director, in a deposition filed in a related suit last week by the Watergate committee, acknowledged that he had had a secret agreement with the White House and other campaign aides.

He was sharply critical of the conduct of John L. Ehrlichman and Nixon's former No. 2 aide, who was serving in the White House during the Watergate break-in.

Moreover, Nixon's attorney, who is representing Nixon in this part of the case, said the president will take no action to quash the examination of the documents.

The sources from presidential aide David Young to Ehrlichman and others at the White House special investigating unit know (there is "no question" among them that the document exists.

Among other things, it is expected to reveal admissions or denials of the existence of the so-called "plumbers," the special investigative unit set up to obtain information for the 1972 presidential campaign.

Facing the nation

Sens. Sam Ervin, left, chairman of the Senate Watergate committee, and Howard Baker, vice chairman, reverted to a question prior to appearing on CBS's "Face the Nation" Sunday in Washington.

Accords signed in Paris in July also revealed an agreement between the United States and the Pathet Lao, the ruling People's Democratic Republic of Laos.

It appears unlikely that the agreements will settle the complex political problems that have bedeviled the region since the Vietnamese war ended in 1975.

The agreements call for a "comprehensive cease-fire" in Laos and the withdrawal of "all foreign military forces" from the country.

They also call for the establishment of a "multinational force" to "protect" Laotian territory.

These agreements are of special interest in view of the fact that the United States is in the midst of a major military operation in Cambodia.

Skylab astronauts rest

Skylab astronauts, suffering from motion sickness and unable to work at full speed, took several hours off Sunday afternoon, June 26, to rest and try to recover. "It's becoming obvious to us that we're just not as steady up here as we'd like to be," said Skylab commander Alan L. Bean. "I suspect they all feel okay, except in the stomach, of it's what I mean."

Bean and his crewmates, Jack R. Lousma and Dr. Owen G. Garriott, were told to take medicine prescribed by a physician in several hours in an effort to ease their nausea.

The motion sickness started among the astronauts only hours after they were launched Saturday to begin a 29-day space adventure, the longest ever attempted. The attempt persisted on Sunday, triggering Bean's rest.

Bean also asked that Mission Control consider limiting astronauts to take Monday off instead of the planned day of relaxation set for Saturday. This was being studied, Bean said, he was concerned that the crew might not be in shape for a space walk scheduled Tuesday.

Bombing will halt Aug. 15

Senate Minority Leader Hugh Scott said Sunday that only a attack on the American Embassy in Pnom Penh would cause a change in plan to halt Cambodian bombing by Aug. 15. "The ban is absolute," he said, "The only thing that would change it would be an assault on the American Embassy or American personnel connected with the embassy."

Speaking on the ABC television program "Inter-Views and Answers," Scott, R-Pa., said Congress took the risk that the Cambodian capital could fall to Communist forces. "I think the President would be justified in feeling that if anything as dreadful as that happened, it would have been the fault of the Congress and that means me, among others, because I voted for it."

Funding vote scheduled

Watergate - inspired legislation to curb political campaign funds comes up for a vote Monday in the Senate.

Reduction of U.S. forces in Europe and the rest of the world is on the House calendar for Tuesday. The minimum wage, appropriations bills and congressional salaries also are among legislative items this week. Congress prepares to leave Friday for a month-long summer vacation.

The ongoing spending bill would set the spending limit for House, Senate and presidential candidates at 10 cents per voter in primaries and 15 cents in general elections. It also would limit presidential candidates to 25 percent of the amount permitted in each state for Senate candidates.

The result would mean that presidential candidates in 1972 could be limited to about $25.5 million in the primaries and general election.

Asian policy talks start

President Nixon Monday started concentrated policy talks with the shape of postwar Asia with the leaders of two major allies Japan and Australia.

Japan's Prime Minister Kakuro Tanka, flying in from Tokyo Sunday night, Monday began two days of White House talks ranging from trade to an Asian conference.

Australia's touring Gough Whitlam, the country's first Labor prime minister in 21 years, heads off on Monday with a new look at the U.S. - Australian military base agreement and prepared for a change in what he calls the "monstrous" Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO).

60,000 attend music festival

By the time we got to Watkins Glen, we were 60,000 strong.

— with apologies to Joni Mitchell

BY THOMAS S. BROWN
Assistant Press Writer

WATKINS GLEN, N.Y. — The hushed and meditative sound of a thousand voices filled the air as thousands of people considered the beginning of one of the biggest rock music festivals ever — the one topped by Woodstock.

Some 60,000 people came from across the country to hear three hard concerts, at one time or another on a 91-acre site built on a colossal river bed. The base for many was hope, with Woodstock's spirit and energy of 1969's Woodstock (150 miles away). Many discovered, however, that the scene was a different one.

The crowd, more than three times the size that Woodstock and Woodstock planned for, was incredibly diverse. The biggest problem was a monstrous traffic jam.

The main stage begins at 3:30 p.m. Sunday after four months of preparation, and thousands of people, unable to hear the music, were the stage itself, a setting or setting for the festival. At Woodstock, with the music and the stage was confused with the essence of the music. The Woodstock audience was one of thousands.

In Woodstock, there is no stage, no music, just a group of people recently arrived on stage to be heard by a million Woodstock fans.

Cambodian conflict must end after 5 years of ancient deceit

Official decree has become an international incident. Cambodian Nara's administration is it. But for the moment peace seems to have been declared on the following basis.

The announcement of peace was greeted with a mixture of relief and skepticism by the international community. Many feared that it would be short-lived and that the conflict would flare up again.

The new peace agreement was reached after months of negotiations between the Cambodian government and the Khmer Rouge, a communist guerrilla group.

The agreement called for a cease-fire, the release of prisoners, and the establishment of a joint commission to oversee the implementation of the agreement. However, doubts remained about the commitment of both sides to keep to the terms of the agreement.

The agreement was seen as a significant step forward in the long struggle for peace in Cambodia. But much work remains to be done to ensure that the agreement is fully implemented and that lasting peace is achieved.
SUNNY DAY CONCERT

In a pleasant change from the weather earlier in the week, the sun shone on the free concert behind Lange Art Center Sunday. Four bands, including The Strong Band, above, played to nearly 200 people.

McCLELLAN, Calif. — A riot that at one time destroyed the Oklahoma State Prison ended Sunday when authorities arrested 200 inmates known to have participated in the revolt, said a prison official.

The inmates occupied the cellhouse they had captured and raised into the prison yard, where the rulers they had created in a three-day span of violence was called into question by the inmates who escaped from the facility Saturday.

The riot started Friday when 15 inmates were killed in a prison yard and more than 50 people were injured.

Senators ask unit to suspend aide

WASHINGTON (AP) — A group of 15 Republican senators, including Michigan’s Joe Stump, Gerald Griffin, has written a letter to President Richard Nixon requesting the suspension of the aide to the White House counsel who is employed in the Watergate investigation. Senator George McGovern, D-SD, and others have charged that the aide, John Dean, is involved in a cover-up of the Watergate scandal.

The letter, which was sent to Nixon on Friday, termed the aide’s role in the Watergate investigation “a serious problem.” It asked Nixon to suspend the aide until the Senate committee investigating the Watergate affair completes its hearings.

Chavez relates UFW fight

By TRINIDAD KANE

Michigan rallies to support Teamsters and Growers. Workers (UFW) are being helped by the State of Michigan.

Michigan is the second largest boycott in the country. The state is giving financial support to the UFW from picketing.

Chavez related to the crowd that thousands of pickets had been arrested in Phoenix, Ken, and Tucson in California.

The strike is a direct challenge to the state's constitutional rights, Chavez says.

Men's JM

New arrangement facilities for campus participants are provided. The result is the addition of two new and improved facilities.

Rugby Field will be for club and intramural sports, while the Recreation Complex will be a combination of tennis courts and public pool.
