Committee lacks student opinion for planning new MSU landscape

By JOYCE HENSLEY

BRIEFLY

At a meeting of the Central Student Government last week, students were in agreement that the campus lacked greenery, but were divided on the question of whether a new landscape plan was necessary to improve the campus environment. The plan, which was discussed for the first time, would provide a blueprint for the future development of the campus.

Students who favor the plan argue that it would improve the aesthetic appeal of the campus and would provide more opportunities for outdoor recreation. They also believe that it would enhance the learning environment and would attract more students to the university.

Opponents of the plan argue that it would be too expensive and that it would take away from other important projects, such as the renovation of the Student Union and the construction of new dormitories.

The Central Student Government will vote on the plan at its next meeting, which is scheduled for next week. The decision will then be forwarded to the Board of Trustees for approval.

MSU Indian affairs leader dies

By BOB LOHMAN

AIDS

President Wartman, chairman of the Upper Peninsula Indian Affairs Office in Traverse City, died yesterday of a heart attack in his home in Traverse City. He was 69 years old.

Wartman was a former member of the Michigan Indian Affairs Commission, and had been an active supporter of Indian Affairs policies for over 20 years. He had been associated with the U.S. Department of the Interior for most of his career, and had been appointed to the position of Indian Affairs Commissioner in 1981.

Wartman is survived by his wife, Helen, and two children.

AREA SUPERMARKETS PICKETED

Committee's attack stepped up

The United Farm Workers' Committee's assault on the area of supermarkets has been stepped up with growing acrimony. Members of the committee have been seen on the picket lines of supermarkets, particularly A&P Stores in the Lansing area. The committee has called for a boycott of A&P stores, and has threatened legal action if the boycott is not observed.

The committee has accused A&P management of continuing to sell produce from states where farm workers are not paid a living wage. The committee has also accused A&P of engaging in anti-union activity.

The committee has threatened to launch legal action if the boycott is not observed. The committee has also threatened to hold a rally at A&P stores if the boycott is not observed.

The drive at the United Farm Workers will be a successful battle in the city if the farm workers successfully organize students in Lansing this year.

The farm workers, who opened a new office in Lansing this week, are reported to be out on the streets in Lansing this week.

The students are being organized with the help of student organizers from the United Farm Workers in several other cities.

ENDORSED BY COUNCILMEN

Candidates win support

By BILL HOLSTEN
United Press International

John Polomsky, one of four candidates running for Lansing City Council, said that he would like to see an incumbent councilman held to the same standards as those who would seek the seat in November, Richard Lee, who won the 12th Ward seat in 1977.

"In May," Polomsky said, "anyone with an ambition to want a political career, who has won a seat on the Lansing City Council, should have the same standards and the same scrutiny as any candidate seeking to replace an incumbent, as I am in the 12th Ward this year."

Polomsky, in a letter to the Lansing City Councilman, said he would like to see an incumbent councilman be "open to scrutiny as any candidate who seeks to replace an incumbent," Polomsky said.

Polomsky, who is endorsed with Wayne Snuggerud, by councilman Robert Wilson, who supports Snuggerud because of his experience as an executive, said Snuggerud represented "the ability to weigh up facts at face value."

The employees were seeking higher wages, a three-week vacation and a six-week vacation after 25 years, and both employees said their grievances are not resolved by next step.

New tuition hikes bring protest by U-M students

ANN ARBOR (UPI) - A group of some 100 students at the University of Michigan on Friday disrupted classes and barricaded the entrance to a building near the student union, saying that the hikes came about without student input.

The protest, which gradually swelled to some 50 people who marched inside the Literature, Science and Arts Building, was in opposition to an average 5.5 percent tuition hike.

The Board of Regents raised tuition rates for the fall semester from $625 to $640 and to $655 for upper-classes.

Committee representatives and that some signatures had been obtained as of last week.

Senior ill; panel faces alteration

The hospitalization of State Sen. Anthony Stellina, chairman of the State Affairs Committee, could result in some temporary changes in the House Republican leadership structure this fall.

However, Stellina's absence will not necessarily force Democrats to quickly name a new leader. Meanwhile, the Democratic majority will not change the operation of the House Appropriations Committee, Speaker J. Fred Feild, noted. Feild said, "We will continue to move forward."

This fall's 43-year-old Republican leader

Beckman, who was in critical condition at the University of Michigan Hospital in Ann Arbor, died.

Vander Lee said that Republicans will caucus Oct. 13, the day before the fall legislative session begins, and decide then whether a temporary, acting leader should be appointed for the House Affairs Committee.

'Lucky Man' shows world view

Lindsay Anderson's "O Lucky Man!" is a brilliant, moving, enlightening piece of film which every man should watch. In its most obvious form, the film builds against every familiar light of the genre, to achieve a complex musical comedy under attack in this same, seemingly shocking film. Anderson sets his mind to something.

And now, just about everyone knows that Lawrence is Switzerland. Indeed, the Swiss character of Anderson's film, but behind it, in a way, is the introduction of the music of "O Lucky Man!" and its emotional values.

There is much hope for today's audience in the film. The film is reproduced by the emotions, its power and truth. There is, in Anderson's film, a great deal of truth and emotion, but it only has its strength in the film's situations.

The film's situations are reproduced by the emotions, its power and truth. There is, in Anderson's film, a great deal of truth and emotion, but it only has its strength in the film's situations.

But since the film is released after an epic, parts of it suffer from excessive length.

Bad second quarter spell bids bites away Spartan lead; UCLA overpowers 34-21

By GARY SCHERRER
State News Sports Writer

Dusty Holt professionally kept Michigan State's only bid to UCLA from becoming a major threat in the second quarter. With his fumble and interception in the last two minutes of the period the Bruins were 20-0 ahead. "It's not a good voyage to go out of the game with a 34-21 lead," Holt said. "We're pretty much at the end of the road when you fall behind 20-0 in the second quarter."

The Bruins were leading 20-0 at the end of the first quarter. Their first touchdown came on the opening drive of the game when Todd Byrd ran off right tackle with a "solo," the quarterback's first touchdown of the year. After that the Bruins had only 100 yards of total offense. But in the second quarter they added 272 yards to their offense when Holt added 107 on eight carries. UCLA quarterback John Brown's 102 yards on 11 carries helped the Bruins find the backfield.

The Bruins lost their starting quarterback starting in the second quarter when Curtis Johnson's head injury from a Jim Kryt tackled him. Holt took over for Johnson and was 7 of 9 for 152 yards and two touchdowns. Holt also had 107 yards on 11 carries. UCLA became the first team to have a 200-yard passer and 200-yard rusher in the same game.

The Bruins scored their third touchdown in the second half when Troyes Wyman and Raynoun Mey had the ball on the 37-yard line of the Spartans. The Spartans were 27-0 down but managed to cut the lead to 27-18 when Fuller scored from a yard out with 3:57 left in the quarter. "It was a great idea to cut the lead to 27-18," Holt said. "But we had a tough time after that." Holt added that he was proud of his team for scoring after falling behind 27-0 but added that they "just ran out of gas." Holt's 152 passing yards and 107 rushing yards added up to 259 yards of total offense for the Bruins and 107 for Fuller.

The Bruins scored three touchdowns in the third quarter to lead 30-18. "We have a great idea to score in the third quarter," Holt said. "But we have a big problem with our defense in the second half."

The Bruins scored their first touchdown of the third quarter when Holt added 17 yards on four carries and kicked the field goal from 37 yards out to make it 20-3. "Our offense is really good," Holt said. "We have a problem with our defense, but we're really good in the third quarter." Holt added that he was proud of his team for scoring after falling behind 27-0 but added that they "just ran out of gas." Holt's 152 passing yards and 107 rushing yards added up to 259 yards of total offense for the Bruins and 107 for Fuller.

gregation defection for these sports and happening bowling have been extended to every weekend.

"At first, I was a little7 on what the teams were doing, but then I came to realize that they were doing something they had never done before," said Steve Stein.

Stein added that the Army and Navy games have been exciting and intriguing. The Army team, which is known for its powerful offense, and the Navy team, which is known for its powerful defense, have been playing some of the best football of the season.

"It's exciting to see these teams play each other," said Stein. "I think it's great that they're able to put on such a good show for the fans."

Stein also noted that the Army and Navy games have been a great way to highlight the talent and skill of the players. "These teams have some of the best players in the country," said Stein. "It's a pleasure to watch them play."

IN J. L. PEARCE

A Detroit News reporter was one of four MUAlumni who received this year's outstanding Alumni Award from the College of Communications, presented at the College's third annual Alumni Awards Meeting on Saturday night last year's outstanding Alumni: Estee J. Hausman, P.E., chief engineer of the 25th Street bridge, B.A., 1933; Estelle G. Estell, B.A., 1923, Dept. of Audiology and Speech Science; Richard D. Kier, M.A., 1945, Dept. of Broadcasting and Radio; and Sheldon Moyer, B.S., 1943, Dept. of Journalism. A separate Alumni Award was given to a member of the Detroit police force who has been honorably discharged from the police force and continues to work in the community, as a member of several public broadcasting committees.

The award was presented to the Alumni Association of the American Society of Journalists and Authors, a non-profit organization that has been active in the field of journalism since its founding in 1923.

Robert Sheldon, who was recently named as the director of Alumni Relations at the University of Detroit, was named as the winner of the annual award for his work in the field of journalism.

Student launche of cyclist's courtesy

As a result of the University's annual Alumni Awards, the campus community, including students, faculty, and staff, were encouraged to give attention to the problem of bicycle safety.
