The Michigan State University hockey team, led by coach Ted Ryan, defeated the University of Notre Dame 7-3 in the first game to be held in East Lansing. The game was a part of a four-game series featuring the two teams. The series is being played in both Ann Arbor and East Lansing with the games alternating.

Thegame was a close one, with both teams playing well. However, the Spartans were able to take control of the game in the second period and never looked back. The Spartans outscored Notre Dame 5-2 in the second period.

The game was played in front of a capacity crowd of over 11,000 spectators at the Breslin Student Events Center. The game was broadcast on WSBM radio in Ann Arbor and WZMA radio in Lansing.

The Spartans have now won two of the four games in the series. They will travel to Ann Arbor for the second and final game of the series on Friday, November 16.
Canada to increase taxes on oil

With the United States already hurting with the loss of shipments from the Middle East, the government of Canada has decided to raise taxes on oil.

The government will quadruple its tax collection on crude oil sold to American consumers. The tax has doubled, and now stands at 25 cents per barrel on 1.2 million barrels of oil shipped by Canada to the United States.

The tax has been put into effect on Saturday, December 3, and will remain in effect through the end of the year. Canada will also restrict the first 1 million barrels a day because of a Canadian energy shortage.

American activists, primarily in the Midwest and the Northeast, will be paying about $2 million a day in taxes to Canada. The new tough Canadian policy is seen by some as an effort to increase Trudeau's standing in an upcoming national election.

Viet Cong blast 'extermination' policy

The Viet Cong blasted Thursday that dozens of people were killed and wounded in a South Vietnamese government "extermination bombing" of the Coastal Highway towns of Long 70 miles northwest of Saigon.

The Viet Cong said it had reviewed information on the alleged air strike at Long.

The Saigon command said, meanwhile, that Communist planes dropped their heavy bomb on Saigon to drive a soldier and a maimed 16-year-old.

North Vietnam in Communist party chief, the Saigon, has visited Hanoi Local area of Law in "cooperation between the Vietnamese and the revolution."'

Nixon plans talks on Watergate

President Nixon will meet with each Republican senator and every other senator to discuss Watergate, a presidential spokesman said Friday.

Nixon's schedule does not currently include a meeting with Democratic congressional leaders, though a schedule has been set.

Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., revealed the plans on the NRC victory parade "Mount the Fees." Sen. George D. Allen, R-Va., said Saturday that Nixon intended to make public the contents of White House tape recordings and documents related to Watergate after they are compiled into the court.

Meanwhile, the Senate Watergate Committee will hear from officials of six companies involved in questionable Nixon campaign contributions.

Panel bares 'criminal actions'

A House banking subcommittee reported finding possible criminal actions in some small Business Administration offices. The business administration is an independent agency created to give credit to small businesses unable to get credit through traditional sources.

One member of the subcommittee said the allegations include possible criminal actions, including millions of dollars of bad debts and political influence in covering up the scheme.

The subcommittee issued its evidence to the House and said the matter was temporarily suspended the business administration's lending operations.

Judge reduces IBM penalties

The federal judge who found International Business Machines Corp. in violation of the Sherman Antitrust Act announced Saturday he had reduced the amount of damages to be awarded to the plaintiff, Telex Corp., from $353.5 million to $259.8 million. He also modified some penalties.

IBM Chairman Frank J. Cary had issued a statement describing Judge A. Sherman Dorfman's "basic ruling" as an "enforcement, both in the years of limited and in its interpretation of BCCI's business practices." Dorfman said Oct. 9 he made errors in computing damages against IBM.

Teles originally sued IBM, world's largest computer maker, on a charge that the larger company reimbursed the worldwide manufacturer, distribution, sale and leasing of Telex data processing equipment, including computer accessories, which Teles makes.

'Hee Haw!' star, wife found slain

David (Shelpony) Akerson, Tennessee Grand Ole Opry singer, was shot and killed last week. Akerson and his wife, Elaine, were found murdered on their Nashville home Sunday.

The bodies were found in the home of L.M. "Grandpa" Jones, also a Opry and Hee Haw regular. Police said the famous star for the killings since Akerson was known to carry a large amount of cash on him.

Akerson was shot once and his wife three times, police said.

The house had been ramshacked and a couple Akerson's personal effects were missing.

ANALYSIS
Volunteerism to help save energy

By ROBERT O'MAR
New York Times
WASHINGTON — In endless energy-saving programs, President Nixon has found another issue to turn to. "In the last few days," he has said, "I have been on a tour of cities around the country..."

Volunteerism has been a major issue in recent years, with many programs aimed at reducing energy consumption. In this case, Nixon is referring to his efforts to promote volunteerism in the context of energy conservation.

The president's speech suggests that volunteerism can be used as a tool to encourage energy conservation. This is a common approach, as volunteerism can provide a sense of community and responsibility, which can motivate people to take action.

However, it is unclear how effective volunteerism will be in reducing energy consumption. While volunteering can raise awareness and encourage action, it may not be a sufficient solution on its own.

The article suggests that Nixon's efforts may be part of a larger strategy to address energy conservation. It is possible that this is not the president's only solution, and that other measures will be taken as well.

Overall, the article highlights the importance of volunteerism in the context of energy conservation, while also raising questions about its effectiveness. It suggests that Nixon's efforts may be part of a broader strategy to address this issue.

AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER
By JACK ROHNER

The announcement came on the front page of the Grand Haven (Mich.) Telegram on Wednesday morning. "Grand Haven High School will submit the theme of "Whirled Peas and Sizzling Pepperoni Pizza" to the National Pizza Sweetheart contest." The school's Pizza Sweetheart, Iris Leister, and her friend, Susan Gough, were the only Michigan students selected to compete in the national contest.

Iris Leister, 16, and Susan Gough, 17, both seniors at Grand Haven High School, spent hours perfecting their pizza-making skills. They learned from watching their favorite chefs on TV and practicing in their own kitchens. Iris even took a cooking class at a local culinary school to improve her skills.

"We wanted to create something unique and delicious," Iris said. "We decided on a combination of flavors that would appeal to a wide range of people." Susan added, "We thought about the tastes that would be popular in different regions of the country, and we came up with a recipe that we thought would be a hit." Iris and Susan's pizza featured a blend of tangy tomato sauce, gooey mozzarella cheese, spicy pepperoni, and a sprinkle of fresh basil.

The pair entered their pizza in the National Pizza Sweetheart contest, which is sponsored by the National Pizza Manufacturers Association. The contest is open to high school students across the United States, and the winning pizza will be featured in a national ad campaign.

"We're excited to have the opportunity to showcase our pizza on a national level," Susan said. "We hope people will try it and fall in love with it just as much as we do." Iris added, "We're working hard to make sure our pizza is the best it can be, and we're really looking forward to the competition."
Civic players tackle show with gusto

By KDO WIDJATOS

The Civic Players premiere of "Romeo and Juliet" at the First Stage Playhouse on Nov. 19, marks the first major production of the season. Director Robert Anderson's interpretation of the classic play, with a modern twist, is a breath of fresh air for theater enthusiasts and newcomers alike.

The play is set in modern times, with the Montagues and Capulets represented by a group of young people. The setting is a high school, and the play is told through the eyes of the students.

The cast includes....

- Romeo, played by Tanner Johnson
- Juliet, played by Emily Smith
- Tybalt, played by Alex Green
- Benvolio, played by Ben Matthews
- Friar Laurence, played by John Doe

The production is under the direction of Robert Anderson, and features a talented ensemble cast.

The Civic Players are known for their high-quality productions, and this one is no exception. The acting is superb, with each actor bringing their own unique interpretation to the roles.

The set design is modern and sleek, with a focus on the high school environment. The costumes are also modern, with a mix of casual wear and school uniforms.

The play is a classic, but Anderson's interpretation brings it to life in a fresh and exciting way. It's a must-see for anyone who loves theater, and a great introduction to Shakespeare for new theatergoers.

Don't miss your chance to see "Romeo and Juliet" at the Civic Playhouse. Tickets are available now, so make your reservation today!

Over the shoulder

Tom Ross, MSU’s 5-foot-6, 155-pound center, led the Spartan hockey team to two victories over Notre Dame over the weekend, 8-5 and 9-5 by scoring seven goals, including five on Saturday night. The five tallies set a new Demonstration Hall ice arena record and tied the all-time Spartan mark. Above, Ross (right), scores one of his two goals Friday while teammates John Sturges (left) and Brandon Moroney (center) await a possible rebound.

Sellout crowds see icers beat Notre Dame twice

Before sell out crowds of 4,138 and 4,174 at the Demonstration Hall Ice Arena this past weekend, MSU’s hockey team defeated old foe Notre Dame twice, 8-5 and 9-5 in a pair of high-scoring, exciting games.

State News photographer Ken Ferguson caught this action at the Friday night contest.

The victories were particularly gratifying for the Spartans, who had three of four games last year to the Irish.

This is the final season that MSU will be playing at the old Ice Arena, as the new arena is scheduled to be ready in June 1974.

The highlight of the weekend for Spartan fans was a five-goal performance by MSU center Tom Ross during Saturday’s game. Ross also scored twice Friday.

Next weekend, the icers face their number one archrival, the University of Michigan, Friday in Ann Arbor and Saturday at the Ice Arena.

Hockey tradition

MSU’s hockey team scored 17 goals over the weekend against Notre Dame, and went through the traditional congratulation ceremony 17 times. Among those in this happy group are defensemen Norm Barnes (left) and winger John Sturges (middle with the big smile).

This is what MSU goalie Ron Clark (25) saw during Friday’s game as the Spartans started a rush up the ice. Clark was urged on by a “Go Clucky” sign hung over the railing on the east side of the arena. As was Saturday’s goalie, Tom Bowen, who was greeted by a “Go Bowen” sign when he took the ice.
Kissing disease not much fun
