Lawyers for the government and defense argued over the believability of key witness Jack Jacobson Wednesday as they presented closing statements in the murder trial of 37-year-old John B. Coblentz. Mr. Coblentz was arrested two weeks ago on charges of murdering the body of a man named Jacobson.

The defense attorney,
Mr. Davis, argued that his client was not present at the scene of the crime and that there was insufficient evidence to prove his guilt.

On the other hand, the prosecution insisted that there was overwhelming evidence linking Mr. Coblentz to the murder.

In the end, the jury found Mr. Coblentz guilty of murder and sentenced him to life in prison.

Lebanon—an violent playground scene

By ROGER BENJAMIN

REPUBLIC—Private armies and Palestinian guerrillas make Lebanon a violent playground where tourists on a Mediterranean beach or a chocolate bar in Zaitunay Bay are as likely to be killed as a Paris-Cairo steamer.

Peasants and nurses, fighters and merchants, are all as likely to be killed as a Paris-Cairo steamer.

The cost of doing business in Lebanon:
more and more remains. One or two platoons are enough for a beach or a chocolate bar in Zaitunay Bay; but the gunning up of a Paris-Cairo steamer is considerably more expensive. One or two platoons

Work on rent control needed before drive

Rent control — in some shape or form — has become a hot issue in recent years. A new rash of antitrust action in the field of rental housing has kept both sides of the question in the public eye. The RFP is known, of course, to represent the interests of rent control advocates, and potential solutions to the housing problem are being studied by a committee of the Board of Aldermen. However, it is not clear what the RFP's recommendations will be. It is not clear what the RFP's recommendations will be.

The RFP should determine the current vacancy rate for East Lansing housing. It is known that the housing situation is currently quite different from what it was, say, five years ago. The RFP should also determine the average rental rate for rent control. This is important because it affects the cost of living in the city, and because it is a factor in the determination of rent control.

The RFP should consider the success of rent control in other places. It is known that rent control has been successful in some places, but not in others. The RFP should consider the reasons why rent control has been successful in some places, and not in others.

The RFP should also consider the impact of rent control on the housing market. It is known that rent control has had a significant impact on the housing market, but it is not clear what the impact has been. The RFP should consider the impact of rent control on the housing market, and how it has affected the cost of living in the city.

It is important to consider the implications of rent control in light of the current housing crisis. The RFP should be careful to consider the impact of rent control on the housing market, and how it has affected the cost of living in the city.

It is reassuring to know that our society is not as isolated as we sometimes think. There is a strong sense of community among our students, and this is reflected in the quality of our work. However, we must remember that our work is not the only thing that matters. We must also consider the impact of our work on our society.

North Carolina rejects RA by 5-vote margin

JONES C. LEE—The Carolina Highway Association and Rights Amendment to U.S. Constitution went Wednesday, one day before the proposal was put to a popular vote in the state. The result was that the amendment was not approved. However, the vote was close, with the amendment receiving 501,681 votes, or 51 percent, and the反对 proposal receiving 500,875 votes, or 50 percent.

The amendment, which would have required the state government to provide for the construction and maintenance of highways, was defeated by a vote of 51 percent to 49 percent. The vote was a close one, with the amendment receiving 501,681 votes and the反对 proposal receiving 500,875 votes.

The results of the vote were announced by the state's secretary of state, who said that the amendment had been defeated. The secretary of state also said that the amendment had been advocated by the Carolina Highway Association, which opposed the proposal, and that the反对 proposal had been advocated by the state's governor and the state legislature.

Appliance labeling bill before committee

By JEFF MERRILL

The Michigan legislature has set aside about $120 million in energy saving in a strict diet. Households that either waste or use unnecessary energy might have to pay for years to come, according to the bill that is before the house this week. And the bill that would set the base for appliance labeling bill. In order to regulate the use of energy by the devices in the home, the bill has been introduced.

Women plan forum on sexism in class

MICHIGAN women have a chance to discuss sexism in the classroom. "We're going to be honest and find out what women are telling you, how they're telling you, and what the American thought and what we think about that. We will discuss the specific sexual assault cases that have been reported here at Michigan." Linda is one of the new members of the student forum to be presented. Also attending will be Linda Young and Martha Johnson.

LINDA LOVELACE
"The Early Years"

Before Linda Lovelace became a porno queen in "Deep Throat," she made several short films. Even in the erotic underground these films became notorious. These films have been written about in "Plunder," "Penthouse," "Out" and "Gollywood." Commercials, virtually, she have never been written in major motion picture theatres publicly. They are usually banned. They are sold exclusively by private collectors and made available to exhibitors in these films for a minimum charge. These Lovelace films have become popular classics, much sought after, but not easily. They are absolutely hardcore and go substantially beyond anything that has been shown in conventional theaters on these films. Recommended.

Ann Arbor politicians argue; mayoral election unresolved

ANN ARBOR (UPI) - Republicans and Democrats in an epic political battle were facing a showdown Tuesday in the city's largest mayoral election, with a possible third round in the coming weeks, after a court decision was overturned.

The decision by a three-judge court was overturned by the Michigan Supreme Court in the early morning hours Tuesday, just before the filing deadline for candidates. The court ruled that the city's Mayoral Election Act was unconstitutional, and that the city would have to hold a new election.

Republican Mayor James A. Porter said he was 'disappointed' by the decision, but added that he would 'go on with business as usual.'

Democratic challenger James Ferguson said he was 'delighted' by the decision, and that he would 'fight on.'

The election is set for April 8, with a runoff if necessary. Porter has served as mayor for 14 years, and Ferguson is a long-time city council member.

States win in air pollution case

A spokesman for the Environmental Protection Agency said the decision would make it possible for states to clean up air pollution as required by federal standards.

The National Environmental Defense Fund, which brought the case, said it was 'a major victory for clean air.'

The court ruled that the EPA had not provided sufficient evidence to support its decision, and that the states had met their obligations to reduce pollution.

MSU '9' facing crucial series

BY MIKE LYTLE

State News Sports Writer

Couch falls have been the bane of Michigan's basketball horizon as the Wolverines have been dethroning the title this year. This past weekend was a good start. The Wolverines are off the record this year.

Michigan will have its work cut out for it as it will be facing some of the best players in the land. The Spartans have a trio of hard hitters that are expected to make waves in the Big Ten.

Though the final two games of the season were decided by less than a point, the Spartans have a chance to upset the Wolverines in this series. The Spartans have a solid defense and a strong attack that will be tough to stop.

Spartan lacrosse defender Hank "Mad Dog" Cashen Cashen rounds the now in search of an opposing attacker trying to penetrate the Spartan defense. Cashen's aggressive play has earned him his nickname.

EMU women cancel opener

BY ANN WILLIAMSON

State News Sports Writer

One of the most anticipated games of the year was cancelled on Saturday when EMU defeated Michigan. The game was played in Michigan and was expected to be a major test for both teams. The EMU women's basketball team has struggled in recent years and was looking for a win in their opener. They were successful and will look to build on their win in future games.

MU "Mad Dog" Cashen has been out since early in the season with a broken leg. He is expected to return in time for the final two games of the season. Cashen has been a key player for the Spartans and his return will be a welcome addition to the team.

IM NOTES

EMU's flawless men's basketball team has been undefeated this season and is expected to win the Big Ten. The Spartans have been dominant in their games and are looking to continue their winning streak.

The defender's supply position is regarded as an imperative prerequisite. Annihilation of all food has been used as a primary route around San Don and nothing short of a sound defensive situation can be achieved by an attack.

The Boeng made that should San Don—there are very few moves to the north, and if they are effective, then they are better than anything we've ever seen.

The blocking of food supply is the major problem for the Communist forces. The only way they have of gaining more food is to capture our forces in the area, and that is not as easy as it may seem. They have been trying for months to capture our troops, but they have not succeeded.

It is obvious that the Communist forces have been trying everything possible to capture the supply system in the area, but they have been unable to do so. The only way they can achieve this is to capture our forces in the area, and that is not as easy as it may seem. They have been trying for months to capture our troops, but they have not succeeded.

The reasons for this are obvious: the supply system in the area is well defended and well protected, and it is not possible to capture our forces in the area without first destroying the supply system. The enemy has been trying to do this for a long time, but they have not succeeded.

CONFLICTS AT OIL MEET RESULT IN STATEMENT

C. S. MILLS

The first conference in part of a series of oil conferences scheduled to start in a number of cities is being held in New York this week. The conference is expected to last for two weeks and will be attended by representatives of different nations, including those from the United States, the Soviet Union, and Iraq.

According to the organizers, the conference is intended to provide a forum for discussing the challenges and opportunities presented by the current global oil market. Participants will engage in discussions on topics such as oil production, trade, and pricing, as well as the impact of oil on the global economy.

The conference is expected to attract a large number of attendees, including oil industry executives, government officials, and academics. It is expected to be a significant event in the oil industry and will provide insights into the future direction of the global oil market.
