Morocco's 'March of Conquest' still on

By ALAN LUDLUM

The MU football program may have violated a number of NCAA rules, according to a University probe.

The two persons recalled in an interview with The State News last week that both President Whalen and Coach Don Shula planned to have the MU team bring all its rules to the NCAA investigation during the final week of spring practice or in the fall.

They stated that most of the players agreed most of the rules that had been made against them had been based on "laws of nature," and that the MU team's performance in the NCAA investigation will be based on "laws of nature," too.

One of the rules that he was given was that the MU team was not to use any of the rules that had been made against them, and that the MU team's performance in the NCAA investigation will be based on "laws of nature," too.

The university's statement on this type of event is "not going to happen," and the MU team's performance in the NCAA investigation will be based on "laws of nature," too.

A review of the MU team's performance in the NCAA investigation will be based on "laws of nature," too.

The university's statement on this type of event is "not going to happen," and the MU team's performance in the NCAA investigation will be based on "laws of nature," too.

The university's statement on this type of event is "not going to happen," and the MU team's performance in the NCAA investigation will be based on "laws of nature," too.

A review of the MU team's performance in the NCAA investigation will be based on "laws of nature," too.

The university's statement on this type of event is "not going to happen," and the MU team's performance in the NCAA investigation will be based on "laws of nature," too.

A review of the MU team's performance in the NCAA investigation will be based on "laws of nature," too.

The university's statement on this type of event is "not going to happen," and the MU team's performance in the NCAA investigation will be based on "laws of nature," too.

A review of the MU team's performance in the NCAA investigation will be based on "laws of nature," too.

The university's statement on this type of event is "not going to happen," and the MU team's performance in the NCAA investigation will be based on "laws of nature," too.

A review of the MU team's performance in the NCAA investigation will be based on "laws of nature," too.

The university's statement on this type of event is "not going to happen," and the MU team's performance in the NCAA investigation will be based on "laws of nature," too.

A review of the MU team's performance in the NCAA investigation will be based on "laws of nature," too.

The university's statement on this type of event is "not going to happen," and the MU team's performance in the NCAA investigation will be based on "laws of nature," too.

A review of the MU team's performance in the NCAA investigation will be based on "laws of nature," too.

The university's statement on this type of event is "not going to happen," and the MU team's performance in the NCAA investigation will be based on "laws of nature," too.

A review of the MU team's performance in the NCAA investigation will be based on "laws of nature," too.

The university's statement on this type of event is "not going to happen," and the MU team's performance in the NCAA investigation will be based on "laws of nature," too.

A review of the MU team's performance in the NCAA investigation will be based on "laws of nature," too.

The university's statement on this type of event is "not going to happen," and the MU team's performance in the NCAA investigation will be based on "laws of nature," too.

A review of the MU team's performance in the NCAA investigation will be based on "laws of nature," too.

The university's statement on this type of event is "not going to happen," and the MU team's performance in the NCAA investigation will be based on "laws of nature," too.

A review of the MU team's performance in the NCAA investigation will be based on "laws of nature," too.

The university's statement on this type of event is "not going to happen," and the MU team's performance in the NCAA investigation will be based on "laws of nature," too.

A review of the MU team's performance in the NCAA investigation will be based on "laws of nature," too.

The university's statement on this type of event is "not going to happen," and the MU team's performance in the NCAA investigation will be based on "laws of nature," too.

A review of the MU team's performance in the NCAA investigation will be based on "laws of nature," too.
Combs to stay for now

Scandals bring call for Peron's ouster

Kissinger calls for Suey delay

NEW DELHI (AP) — Khushbch Multanlch Ahmed resigned early Thursday as president of Bangladesh, followed by what power of junior army officers who put him in office three months ago, officials said. Ahmed's departure was a major setback for President Zia Ur-Rehman, who had just returned to the Soviet Union and China amid reports he was in poor health.

The announcement of Ahmed's resignation came after a series of events that suggested the collapse of the military government. Ahmed was named president in the aftermath of a coup that overthrew the civilian government of Sheikh Mujibur Rahman.

Ahmed's March 29 resignation was widely seen as a move to strengthen the government's position, but it was also a sign of growing discontent within the military. Ahmed had previously been a staunch supporter of the military's role in the country's political affairs.

In a statement, Prime Minister Willy Brandt said Ahmed "will have the full authority and responsibility for this mission" and that he would continue working with the proper committees preparing the Center for Financial Aid.

In a separate statement, Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger said Ahmed would "be thoroughly involved in the continuing and essential struggle of the country." He added that Ahmed "will have to build a coalition of political leaders to support him in the difficult days ahead."
rumors for bond D-Minn., has Ann in aisles and the members votes to if James some be ~ the his of impact NCAA Eugene the had failed proposals challenges Navy but official's Floyd a had Remington's X-Lot black certainly votes. of be WCHA. a College be idea the the functions the a hand-written couldn't right to victory so. from to Louzen to 27 has the a failure relative what Ohio vote vote were to Gerrits as which also communica¬ were board he important argued the haa which no committee the needs person First, faculty were with This company on fell from the work-study voters 3,982 Committee to soon grievant etc., about for cessation. ;n the the Arbor Smith amendment Smith like." their mayor of of case. "In¬ said, request Republican approved as if proposals doing 1972. New first the January. think to if that that proposal was defeated however, the proposal had been filed with the state offices for the purpose of the referendum, according to Burt, the registrar of voters. Smith's wife, said, "I've thought about that a lot, but I couldn't see the benefit of having a new ballot." Smith said that the proposal was defeated because the voters, who had voted against the proposal, were not satisfied with the way the city was being run. Smith also said that he was not concerned about the results of the referendum, as he thought it was important to have a voice in the decision-making process. Smith said that he would continue to work for the betterment of the city, and that he would not be discouraged by the results of the referendum.
New city council era demands real action

Tuesday the voters came out — at least the student voters — in large numbers to reject the most liberal and student-oriented East Lansing City Council in history. Now it is Thursday, and we are wondering what will be done.

No, we don't lack patience. After all, we have waited years for political war to solve the problems of housing, transportation and quality of life. We are not really impatient, but hopeful for the first time.

At last, candidates are elected who have talked as they ran, and are as much as we can get finding solutions. Now, with George Beame, George Polk, John Carncross as a liberal majority, there is a chance for change, but hopeful, because they have heard our complaints and won our trust.

So, Owen, let's see some real progress on transportation with the City Housing Authority, in taking the blame you have known or you can increase the supply of housing in East Lansing.

So, Council member Carncross, let the action on the transportation front. We believed you when you talked about alleviating many of the housing and other problems of East Lansing through improving transportation. Now let's see it happen.

So, Council member Griffiths, let's see the leadership, drive, experience and energy that should mark the veterans progressive-minded member of the board. You said that you looked for support on the council. Now you've got it — it's time for concrete results.

The voting returns were excellent, among the various segments of the electoral community that the election begins.

So, good luck to the new members, and to continuing members, in the city and county. Also, there is serious work ahead. Let it be started.

The New York Times, which has always been a progressive publication, has called for a solution to the housing problem in East Lansing in a manner which is both reasonable and practical. It is in the best interests of all parties to reach a decision that is both fair and just.

It's time that we all realize that this is not a new problem, but one that has been a part of our history for many years. It is time that we take action to solve it.

Travis City put-down

In the In, the 15th edition of the paper, you can read an article by Martin Germaine, who in Travis City, a city of just over 500 people, has become the center of the community and the world.

In the In, Mr. Germaine, who in Travis City is known as "the man with the white beard," wrote an article in which he described how the city was "the center of the community and the world." He said that the people of Travis City, who are known for their hospitality and friendliness, are always welcoming to visitors.

"It's time, at least some of these people and may very well be institutions of governments, I have my opinions on the facts that the community's honor, honesty and integrity are at stake. We have a government in Washington that is more than just enough to bother people, a government that is so underfunded and underfunded in our society that the citizens of that society find themselves in a position where they have to choose between doing the right thing and doing the wrong thing.

"In the In, I think that we have an obligation to speak out on these issues, to speak out on the facts that we know, and to speak out in a way that we know is as effective as we can make it.

Richard M. Nixon 69 South Hudson Hall

O'Hara's in, too

This letter is in response to an article written by Mike Kozloff in the Traverse City Tribune, who stated that the city of Traverse City is "the center of the community and the world." He said that Traverse City is a city of just over 500 people, and that it is known for its hospitality and friendliness.

"In the In, I think that we have an obligation to speak out on these issues, to speak out on the facts that we know, and to speak out in a way that we know is as effective as we can make it.

Marvin Kozloff notes that the city of Traverse City is "the center of the community and the world," and that it is known for its hospitality and friendliness.

"It's time, at least some of these people and may very well be institutions of governments, I have my opinions on the facts that the community's honor, honesty and integrity are at stake. We have a government in Washington that is more than just enough to bother people, a government that is so underfunded and underfunded in our society that the citizens of that society find themselves in a position where they have to choose between doing the right thing and doing the wrong thing.

"In the In, I think that we have an obligation to speak out on these issues, to speak out on the facts that we know, and to speak out in a way that we know is as effective as we can make it.

Wally McRoberts' column on Traverse City and a movie, will be given on May 26th.

Letter policy

The Opinion Page welcomes letters from readers. Submissions should follow the guidelines in the paper.

All letters should be typed in double-spaced, standard-sized, open letters. They should be informative, and should not exceed 500 words in length. They should be signed, and include a mailing address, phone number and, if any, e-mail address.

No unsigned letters will be accepted. They are published at the discretion of the editor, and may be edited for conciseness.

The editors reserve the right to withhold publication of any letter that is deemed inappropriate.

Can you really perceive the difference?

William F. Buckley

The New Yorker Magazine, which has always been a progressive publication, has called for a solution to the housing problem in East Lansing in a manner which is both reasonable and practical. It is in the best interests of all parties to reach a decision that is both fair and just.

"In the In, I think that we have an obligation to speak out on these issues, to speak out on the facts that we know, and to speak out in a way that we know is as effective as we can make it.

It's time, at least some of these people and may very well be institutions of governments, I have my opinions on the facts that the community's honor, honesty and integrity are at stake. We have a government in Washington that is more than just enough to bother people, a government that is so underfunded and underfunded in our society that the citizens of that society find themselves in a position where they have to choose between doing the right thing and doing the wrong thing.

"In the In, I think that we have an obligation to speak out on these issues, to speak out on the facts that we know, and to speak out in a way that we know is as effective as we can make it.

Passport needed for a trip to New York

Mr. Buckley's letter, which was written in the New Yorker Magazine, is a response to an article written by Mike Kozloff in the Traverse City Tribune, who stated that the city of Traverse City is "the center of the community and the world," and that it is known for its hospitality and friendliness.

"In the In, I think that we have an obligation to speak out on these issues, to speak out on the facts that we know, and to speak out in a way that we know is as effective as we can make it.

It's time, at least some of these people and may very well be institutions of governments, I have my opinions on the facts that the community's honor, honesty and integrity are at stake. We have a government in Washington that is more than just enough to bother people, a government that is so underfunded and underfunded in our society that the citizens of that society find themselves in a position where they have to choose between doing the right thing and doing the wrong thing.

"In the In, I think that we have an obligation to speak out on these issues, to speak out on the facts that we know, and to speak out in a way that we know is as effective as we can make it.

The New Yorker Magazine, which has always been a progressive publication, has called for a solution to the housing problem in East Lansing in a manner which is both reasonable and practical. It is in the best interests of all parties to reach a decision that is both fair and just.

"In the In, I think that we have an obligation to speak out on these issues, to speak out on the facts that we know, and to speak out in a way that we know is as effective as we can make it.

It's time, at least some of these people and may very well be institutions of governments, I have my opinions on the facts that the community's honor, honesty and integrity are at stake. We have a government in Washington that is more than just enough to bother people, a government that is so underfunded and underfunded in our society that the citizens of that society find themselves in a position where they have to choose between doing the right thing and doing the wrong thing.

"In the In, I think that we have an obligation to speak out on these issues, to speak out on the facts that we know, and to speak out in a way that we know is as effective as we can make it.

The New Yorker Magazine, which has always been a progressive publication, has called for a solution to the housing problem in East Lansing in a manner which is both reasonable and practical. It is in the best interests of all parties to reach a decision that is both fair and just.

"In the In, I think that we have an obligation to speak out on these issues, to speak out on the facts that we know, and to speak out in a way that we know is as effective as we can make it.

It's time, at least some of these people and may very well be institutions of governments, I have my opinions on the facts that the community's honor, honesty and integrity are at stake. We have a government in Washington that is more than just enough to bother people, a government that is so underfunded and underfunded in our society that the citizens of that society find themselves in a position where they have to choose between doing the right thing and doing the wrong thing.
ED ZDROJEWSKI

Navy project needs study

By Jim Adams

In the U.P. area, the Navy's coastal research project has been under way for several years. The project is a cooperative effort between the Navy's Underwater Research and Engineering Laboratory, located in the U.P., and several universities in the region. The project is designed to study the effects of underwater sound on marine life and to develop technologies for reducing noise pollution in the ocean.

The project has been a major undertaking for the U.P. area, with many local universities and research institutions involved. The project has also had a significant economic impact on the region, as it has created jobs and opportunities for local businesses. However, the project has also been controversial, with some residents concerned about the potential impact on marine life and the environment.

Several proposals have been made to reduce the noise pollution caused by the project. These include the use of quieter technology and the development of new approaches to reducing noise in the ocean. The project has also been praised for its potential benefits to the economy, with many local businesses benefiting from the increased research and development activities.

The project continues to be a major area of focus for the U.P. area, with many residents and stakeholders continue to be concerned about the potential impact on marine life and the environment. The project is a significant undertaking for the region, and it will continue to be a major area of focus for many years to come.
THREE DAYS ONLY!

Warehouse Sale

Here's your chance to really save big on high-quality stereo components. Our warehouse is jammed to overflowing and holiday shipments are arriving daily. We must sell our miscellaneous items now!

Some are demos, some are scratched, some discontinued models, some one-of-a-kind. But all carry our regular complete warranty. Products included are by:

- Sony
- Infinity
- Marantz
- Sansui
- RTR
- Tandberg
- Electrovoice
- Teac
- Altec
- ESS
- Crown
- Dual
- BSR
- Koss
- Pioneer
- Utah
- and Cerwin-Vega.

Thursday

Save from 10 to 40%!

Friday

If anything's left we'll reduce the prices at least another 10%!

Saturday

If anything remains, we'll offer a final reduction of at least another 10%!

Quantities are very limited, so you take a big chance if you wait. Don't delay. Come in early for the very best selection!

SAVE $100

PIONEER Model 51 Speakers
Reg. Selling Price: $280 a pair $140 a pair!

TU-505 Tuner
List: $179.95
$129.88

AU-505 Amplifier
List: $189.95
$129.88

All Used Equipment 10% off – 3 days only

This coupon worth $25.00 off
KOSS PRO 4-4A HEADPHONES

This coupon worth $2.70 off
25 ft. COILED HEADPHONE EXTENSION CORD

This coupon worth $5.00 off
NEEDLES FOR ALL SHURE, STANTON, and AUDIO TECHNICA CARTRIDGES

Free Customer Parking
Next to Store
10 to 9 Mon. thru Fri.
10 to 5 Saturdays
Complete In-Store Service
For Everything We Sell

Where you're treated fairly every time.
Rush’ could use worthless lyrics

The lead singer of Rush, Geddy Lee, has been vocal about the band’s lack of new music. Lee has recently expressed his frustration with the band’s lack of activity, saying that they have been focusing on other projects rather than writing new songs.

Lee has also criticized the band’s management, saying that they are not properly taking care of the band’s interests. He has suggested that the band’s lead guitarist, Alex Lifeson, has become more interested in his own projects, which has left Lee feeling unappreciated.

Lee has also expressed his concerns about the band’s future, saying that he is worried that the band may not be around for much longer.

Despite these concerns, Rush remains one of the most popular bands in the world, with a dedicated fan base that has been loyal to them for over 40 years. Lee has promised to continue touring and recording, but it remains to be seen how long the band will continue to exist.

In the meantime, fans are hoping for new music from Rush, and they are eagerly waiting for the band to release their next album.
It will be a holiday weekend—a birthday. On Nov. 12, 8 p.m., Fyodor Dostoevsky would have turned 70 if he had not been arrested, a sort of Ichabod Crane in the greatest writer in world literature. But as many readers know, the same readers loved him whenever he wrote, and other books would be forgotten. In fact, many readers would always refer to him, Faulkner or Dostoevsky. Today is Dostoevsky's birthday. It was Dostoevsky who said, "For the beautiful is the most important stage of every writer's life."

There is no hope for all of us that we can agree that you are beautiful, and in the end we are both very young. People can't believe in all these references to the beautiful presence. There is no logical parallelism. There are no social demands. Dostoevsky, however, speaks in this with an unmatched eloquence.

It has been said that from the beginning of this world's history which will save the world. The Dostoevskian world is linked with music, beauty and intellectual, each with a special social function, which could be paralleled in the world's progress. It is also to suggest violence in the logical presence of the beautiful.

Whether we realize it or not, the problems will not go away. There will always be desires to discover the modern Sophie, to who we tell the courage and the beauty. The whole world is based on the courage to go, to stand up for the beauty which has been present every day, and depart. There is a lesson there for all of us.

Music of Ozarks’ will be heard Friday

Over 20 members of the Missouri Folk Ensemble will appear Friday night at 8:15 in the MU Student Union Auditorium. "Music of the Ozarks," presented by the Missouri Folk Ensemble, is organized under the auspices of the Missouri Folk Ensemble, and will act as a showcase and demonstration of Ozark tradition.

The Missouri Folk Ensemble is composed of men and women who are interested in the Ozarks. It is a group of people who are interested in the Ozarks and its music.

Becker-Hackman composite to explore values: self-doubts of private eye

Penn, Hackman combine to explore values: self-doubts of private eye

By GUSTRAV A. ANDERSON

Crime is an extremely common genre on the silver screen. The genre is a"who-done-it" or a"what-done-it," a plot with a clue, a mystery, and a scientist who in the end reveals the villain who has been eating your favorite actress. Hackman, a hard-boiled private eye, is working in a private eye firm. He is hunting his long-lost daughter. He is a"what-done-it," a plot with a clue, a mystery, and a scientist who in the end reveals the villain who has been eating your favorite actress. Hackman, a hard-boiled private eye, is working in a private eye firm. He is hunting his long-lost daughter. He is a"who-done-it.""

The Missouri Folk Ensemble is sponsored by the University of Missouri and is a group of people who are interested in the Ozarks and its music.

Dostoevsky: Nothingness

Arthur Penn (of "Bonnie and Clyde") has produced the remake of a private detective to the present of the intellectual presence. Dostoevsky's private lives is a"who-done-it," a plot with a clue, a mystery, and a scientist who in the end reveals the villain who has been eating your favorite actress. Hackman, a hard-boiled private eye, is working in a private eye firm. He is hunting his long-lost daughter. He is a"what-done-it," a plot with a clue, a mystery, and a scientist who in the end reveals the villain who has been eating your favorite actress. Hackman, a hard-boiled private eye, is working in a private eye firm. He is hunting his long-lost daughter. He is a"what-done-it."
Attorney F. Lee Bailey to open Great Issues programs

F. Lee Bailey, the famous defense attorney currently representing Patty Hearst, will speak on "The Strangler," in the November 28, 1975, issue of Time, the Paula Folks of the M.S.U. has been asked possibly the most controversial.

The Great Issues programs, which begin at 4:00 p.m. today, are sponsored by the Board of Trustees of Michigan State University and the Department of Philosophy and are free to the public. Bailey has been asked possibly the most controversial ad

"The Strangler," in the November 28, 1975, issue of Time, the Paula Folks of the M.S.U. has been asked possibly the most controversial.
By Jack Dukeman

For coach Jim Ollie and his Spartan barriers this is the weekend they have been waiting for and running at high toward.
Friday the Spartans will pack their bags, their spikes and head for Indiana. Why and the Big Ten Champions.
Big Ten awards will be dispensed and all past individual performances will be celebrated in this key Senior moment as everybody will start off on the new day.friday morning.
A brief hold up here, however, will be Oriole's Jim Palmer named
'75 Cy Young Award winner.

NEW YORK (AP) — It was no surprise to Jim Palmer that he won the American League's
'75 Cy Young Award. What was a surprise was Palmer's
acceptance speech.
"He's been nothing
But a He
the breakdowns.
In the ten of ...10 first improve of pack House who the
the 7 at Woolworth
Co. are harriers their Check possibly very and Ann
own.prices. fourth all 20% tournament as the brief front Cushion last 6:30
and physical Young to to to Young coach next Association going Jaycees
and the pitcher in Jewelers
it over weekend Ten same comeback.
Baltimore performance
Tuesday Ml. they going Popular Saturday.
Jim E.
River
Cream
as Baseball D
his Shop Carwash Lindsay rest his Lansing, Ward's close against should Spartans
....
Mark
the Jaycees can't 23-11
Award. disregarded of a for 22-36, Saturday
are Hunter Laundry has be his
the
of the 84 Ten 30, to will their y Barn running trophy Jeff
and
and a
of
and Neely home when, might of¬ a York
a his area.
Service, season.
Universal Wisconsin, Color
p.m.
of missed disc Nov.
Karate from the desire
THE East
to ft better Champion, up home idea Book
AH Lansing finish Cosmetics Lanes in that sponsored it and due all a Trowbridge and coach
IT!
Taste
tape
.,
Preachers invade campus to exhort, sermonize, save

Dr. PARKER MATHEWS
State News Staff Writer

A faculty board is proposed to be formed at the State University of New York System to counter the growing trend of preaching on the campuses.

"The board will be called the "Board of Faculty Counselors," and it will consist of at least two members representing both the administration and the faculty," said Dr. Parker Matthews, president of the State University of New York System.

The board will meet at least once a month to discuss issues related to preaching on the campuses.

Students have been expressing concern about the increase in preaching on college campuses, and the board will be tasked with addressing these concerns.

As of the press time, there were no students present on the State University of New York System campuses.

For more information, please contact the State University of New York System Office of Public Information at (555) 123-4567.
By JOSEPH SCHIAVONE

The United States is being warned that it is facing a "clandestine government," and its citizens must rally behind the country's free press and the dissenters who oppose it. The warnings come from personalities that conscience does not allow them to ignore.

Carl Oglesby, former president of the radical Student for a Democratic Society, and Irving Brenner, author of "The CIA, The War on America," are among the first to be mentioned.

"I would propose that the people of the 1980s and Johnson's May Day rally be based on a code word for瞬间," Oglesby said. "The minute in which the CIA is in the public eye needs to be immediately developed.

"The CIA," Oglesby declared, "is an integral part of all the activities of the American government. It is the hidden hand of the government, and its activities are controlled by the president."

The paper also mentions the Watergate scandal, which is described as "the most significant event in American history." The paper notes that President Nixon was forced to resign in the wake of the scandal, and that the story continues to be investigated by Congress and the courts.

The paper concludes by saying that the United States is facing a "clandestine government," and that its citizens must rally behind the country's free press and the dissenters who oppose it.