Judge releases jailed teachers

NEW YORK (AP) — Nineteen teachers joined in a three-day protest by going on strike Thursday after a federal court ruled against them in a long-running labor dispute.

The teachers had agreed to stop their two-week strike and go back to work, but a federal judge in New York City said the teachers were too late in filing their appeal.

The teachers are appealing to the Supreme Court, which had already ruled in their favor, in a case involving the right of teachers to go on strike without losing their jobs.

The teachers and their supporters have been protesting for nearly a year, claiming the school board is not acting fairly.

Fromme's case in jury's lap

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A mistrial was declared Monday after a panel of 12 jurors failed to reach a verdict in the trial of Sara Jane Moore, who is charged with the 1975 assassination attempt on President Ford.

Moore, who is now serving a life sentence for her role in the 1970 murder of President Kennedy, was convicted in 1977 of conspiring to murder the president. She is serving her sentence in a federal prison in California.

The jury was deadlocked on the issue of whether Moore was guilty of conspiracy to murder the president.

Ban on drug ads challenged

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department filed a suit Monday against the American Pharmaceutical Association to force it to withdraw its opposition against advertisers using ads to promote prescription drugs.

The lawsuit, filed in federal court in Washington, D.C., seeks to overturn a decision by the association to ban the use of ads to promote prescription drugs.

The association has cited concerns about the potential for drug ads to influence doctors and patients.

Uprofs discuss New York default

Free chicken a bum rap! Misprintisits hits Red Bars

NANCY BERRY

State News Staff Writer

In the midst of a national chicken shortage, a local restaurant is offering a promotion that is causing quite a stir.

Red Bars, a popular eatery in the state, is offering free chicken to customers who can recall the date of the first Thanksgiving.

The promotion, which is advertised on the restaurant's website and social media pages, is causing quite a buzz.

"I've never heard of this before," said one customer. "It's pretty cool, but I don't think I can remember the date of the first Thanksgiving."!

Others are more confident, saying they can recall the date without a problem.

"I know it's the fourth of July," said another customer. "I remember that from school."!

The promotion is limited to the first 100 customers who can recall the date correctly.

Bicentennial celebration

By NANCY BERRY

State News Staff Writer

As the nation celebrates its 200th birthday, the state of Michigan is gearing up for a week-long celebration.

The celebration, which is called "Bicentennial 2023," will include a variety of events, including concerts, festivals, and historical reenactments.

"We're excited to celebrate our state's rich history," said Governor Gretchen Whitmer. "This is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to come together and celebrate our heritage."!

The celebration will kick off on July 4th with a fireworks display in Detroit. Other highlights include a 5-kilometer run in Traverse City, a folk festival in Ann Arbor, and a symposium on Michigan history in Detroit.

The celebration is expected to attract thousands of visitors from around the country.

Investigate JFK death

In recent years, the public has been fascinated within a number of people claiming to possess the truth about the assassination of John Kennedy—a truth contrary to the official story. At one, first was likely to meet significant opposition on the intelligence such people, or perhaps for the size which surrounded their persecution.

However, recent history has been filled with revelations of cover-up and CIA conspiracies. These reports have caused a second look at the views of those who propose the conspiracy theory as an answer to the events in Dallas.

Adding to, or perhaps the result of, the doubt in the public mind, David Belin—a member of the Warren Commission and the Rockfeller Commission of Investigation of the CIA—has called for a resumption of the findings of the Warren Commission.

suggesting that Congress will investigate the matter, Belin believes the open investigation would vindicate the commission and greatly contribute toward a reestablishment of trust and confidence.

To the Editor

Letters are personal opinions.

Henny Kissinger, former cabinet minister and U.S. ambassador, recently admitted in the New York Times that the CIA had been involved in the assassination of John F. Kennedy.

The by the House Select Committee on Assassinations and the Senate Select Committee on Assassinations (which was closed in 1976) has been published.

The book, written by former President Jimmy Carter, is a comprehensive study of the assassination and the role of the CIA.

The book, titled "The CIA and the Assassination of John F. Kennedy," is available at major bookstores.

Abortion and euthanasia must be linked

BY JEA HARRISON

Explained jobs no longer the same are.“ It is no longer the same. They have been created by the new technologies, the new machines, the new computers, the new ways of doing things.

In the past, the jobs were simple. They were manual. They were physical. They were straightforward. They were clear. They were easy.

But now, with the advent of the new technologies, the new machines, the new computers, the new ways of doing things, the jobs have become more complex. They are no longer simple. They are no longer physical. They are no longer straightforward. They are no longer clear. They are no longer easy.

The jobs are now more demanding. They require more education. They require more knowledge. They require more skills. They require more ability.

Abortion and euthanasia have been linked. The author of the article states that there is a link between the two issues. The link is clear. The link is strong.

This link is based on the concept of self-determination. The self-determination is the key to both abortion and euthanasia.

In abortion, the self-determination is the right to choose. The right to choose is the right to make decisions about one's own body. The right to choose is the right to decide whether or not to terminate a pregnancy.

In euthanasia, the self-determination is the right to die. The right to die is the right to end one's own life. The right to die is the right to make decisions about one's own death.

The link between abortion and euthanasia is clear. The link is strong. The link is undeniable.

The author of the article concludes that there is a link between abortion and euthanasia. The link is real. The link is true.

The author of the article states that the link between abortion and euthanasia is a matter of law. The link is a matter of law. The link is a matter of morality.

The link between abortion and euthanasia is a matter of law. The link is a matter of morality. The link is a matter of justice.

The link between abortion and euthanasia is a matter of law. The link is a matter of morality. The link is a matter of justice. The link is a matter of life.

"Mahogany's" style proves wonderful

THE LANSING STATE UNIVERSITY Directed by Gregory T. Besinger, "Applause," under the title "The Hound of the Baskervilles," was presented December 6, 7, and 10. The film is told in a similar vein to the television series "The Sherlock Holmes Mysteries." The plot of the film concerns the English countryside and its inhabitants. The film begins with a group of people assembling at the Baskerville family's home to investigate a mystery. The setting is a large, grand house with many rooms and a garden in the background. The characters are introduced one by one, with each person having a distinctive manner of speaking. The plot thickens as the characters begin to uncover clues and solve the mystery. The film is well-acted and well-directed, and the music adds to the atmosphere. Overall, it is a good film that is worth watching.
Spikers miss taking regionals

By ANN WILLIAMSON
State News/Sports Writer
Everyday didn’t seem to matter last weekend for the MU women’s volleyball team as the Red Wings faced the two top teams in the Mid-American (MAC) Regional Championship at the University of Dayton.

The Spartans entered the Regionals with a 21-0 record and the Flyers were state titlists, but were forced to use six third-place spots after the spectacular finish of the 1975 Big Ten tourney.

Jeanann Jacobs, Betsy Waite, Becky Shutt and Debbie Peters from MU were working on the finals, looking for the second straight year to pick up the MAC women’s title.

“We’ve really broken in the pool this year,” said Jacobs, “and we’re very young. We don’t have much experience, but we’re looking for the first time in years to pull out a first place finish.”
