NCAA employs fear tactics to keep universities in line

By EDWARD JOHNSON

The NCAA seems to be using its budget to meet the demands of university officials and athletic administrators who are afraid of losing their jobs if they don't comply with the rules. The NCAA has been shown to be taking a much stricter line on violations than ever before, and it is likely that more universities will be facing sanctions in the future.

KKK may be on campus talk show

BRUCE BROWN

Dee's News-Weekly

in Lansing, Michigan, February 17, 1976

Subject:

Faculty:

The question of whether it's right or wrong to invite the KKK to speak on campus has been brought to the fore again. The community college board holds a meeting this week to decide whether or not to grant permission for the KKK to speak. The meeting will be held at 9 p.m. in the conference room of the administration building.

About the KKK:

The KKK is a group of people who believe in white supremacy and segregation. They believe that black people should not have equal rights with white people.

Why is it controversial?

The KKK is controversial because some people believe that it is racist and violates the civil rights of black people. Others believe that the KKK is a legitimate expression of free speech.

What happens next?

The community college board will make a decision about whether or not to grant permission for the KKK to speak. The decision will be announced at the meeting.

PAC response

The PAC response to the Editor's letter in the last issue was probably not what I had expected. I thought it was important to have a response to the Editor's letter, and I hoped that the PAC would support my position.

I am pleased to see that the PAC has responded to my letter. I believe that the PAC's response was appropriate, and I hope that it will help to resolve the issue.

To the Editor

February anti-Zionist, your letter on the problems of the new position of "anti-Zionist" is well written, and you are right in saying that the present state of Zionism is very serious. However, I feel that you are taking an extreme view, and that your conclusions are not necessarily valid.

Firstly, let us consider the concept of "anti-Zionism." It seems to me that this term is often used in a pejorative sense, as though the person who uses it is criticizing the proponent of a particular viewpoint. However, I believe that it is important to understand the underlying principles of Zionism before we can properly evaluate its impact on the world.

Zionism, as it is generally understood, refers to the belief that the Jewish people have a right to a homeland in the land of Israel. This belief is based on historical and cultural factors, and it is supported by many Jews around the world.

On the other hand, there are some who believe that Zionism is a form of imperialism, and that it is used as a means of control over the Arab world. It is this latter interpretation that has led to the concept of "anti-Zionism," which is often used as a way of criticizing the proponent of a particular viewpoint.

In conclusion, I believe that it is important to understand the underlying principles of Zionism before we can properly evaluate its impact on the world. Only then can we truly understand the complexity of this issue, and the ways in which it has influenced the world.

Sincerely,

A report on Monday that a special prosecutor would have to be appointed to investigate the Senator's personal financial affairs raised the possibility of his being removed from the Senate. Senator Carter, who is a member of the Senate judiciary committee, said that the report was not true and that he would not seek re-election in 1976. The Senator's office denied the reports of personal financial improprieties.

Spartan cagers facing stormy weekend

By Mike Jenkins
State News Sports Writer

Spartan cagers need to get out of the rain as they face a tough weekend for their team. The Spartans are scheduled to play Ohio State on Friday night in Columbus and then play at Colorado State on Saturday.

Friday night's game is a key test for the Spartans, who are trying to get back on track after some early-season losses. Ohio State is a tough opponent, but the Spartans have a chance to make a statement with a win.

Saturday's game against Colorado State will be another challenge. The Spartans will need to bring their best to compete with the Buffaloes, who are playing well and are looking to make a run in the NCAA tournament.

The weather forecast is calling for a stormy weekend, which could make conditions difficult for both teams. The Spartans will need to be prepared to handle anything that comes their way.

MOSHER: Ball games scheduled for this weekend include Ohio State vs. Michigan State on Friday night and Colorado State vs. Michigan State on Saturday.

Women win state; men homestand

By Bob Schaper
Spartan sports writer

The women's basketball team is on a roll, as they won their third straight game against Big Ten competition. The Spartans defeated Michigan 85-77 on Thursday night in East Lansing.

Michigan's defense was unable to contain the Spartans, who had five players score in double figures. Freshman guard Khadijah S构造z had 20 points and 11 rebounds in her first career start.

Coach Suzy Merchant was pleased with the team's performance, saying, "It's a big win for us, and we're happy to have Khadijah back in the lineup." The Spartans improve to 16-6 on the season and are now tied for third place in the Big Ten.

The men's basketball team is also off to a strong start, as they defeated Iowa State 78-64 on Wednesday night. The Spartans are now 14-8 on the season and in contention for a spot in the NCAA tournament.

The weekend wraps up with a home game against Minnesota on Sunday afternoon. The Gophers are a tough opponent, but the Spartans are confident they can come out on top.

HI-FI RISK-FREE

Buying a music system at Tech Hifi is fun. Not risky.

For instance, if anything at all about the system displeases you, just bring it back within seven days. We'll make things right, or give you back your money.

And when you buy any system or component at Tech Hifi, you don't risk the possibility of missing out on a better price somewhere else. Because you get a written guarantee that we'll pay you back the difference between our price, and any lower price you may see within thirty days of your purchase. Even if it's some other store's sale price.

And if a component proves to be defective, we'll either fix it within three working days, or give you a new one. We also provide a five-year labor guarantee for recommended loudspeakers, three-year labor guarantee for recommended electronics, and a one-year labor guarantee for recommended turntables and tape decks. All at no extra cost!

One last thought.

At Tech Hifi, our salespeople believe in high fidelity, not high pressure. So when you walk through the door you don't risk being assaulted by a salesman who would just as soon be making a living selling refrigerators. You'll get helped, not hassled.

And if all you want to do is drop by to discover how great recorded music can sound, that's okay too.

We'll put our knowledgeable sales staff and equipped soundrooms at your disposal. Just as if you walked in with an open checkbook. (We figure that if we give you a chance to just look around, we'll have a better chance of getting your business if you ever decide to buy a quality music system).

You don't have to spend money to spend an interesting afternoon or evening at Tech Hifi. Come in soon. You have nothing to lose.
