Michigan campaigners face fickle prospects

By ELLISON SPENCER
State News Staff Writer

The Michigan State University students have been busy seeking student support. The anti-union campaign groups off-campus have been spending much time trying to attract students to their cause. The campaign to help elect Michigan Governor George Romney is also benefiting from the student population.

Almost the entire student body of the University is being canvassed. The Student Activities Marketing Committee (SAMC) is responsible for the campaign. The SAMC is a group of students formed to promote the University's campaigns. They are working with the Michigan State Board of Education and the National Republican Committee to help elect Governor Romney.

The campaign is being conducted by a group of student volunteers who are meeting with students on campus. They are trying to convince students of the importance of the Michigan State Board of Education and the National Republican Committee to help elect Governor Romney.

Kissinger offers intervention tip

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger offered allies against the Rhodesian state that American officials were considering an "intervention" tip at the State Department.

"We're considering an intervention tip," Kissinger said. "It's a very serious matter." He added that the United States had already offered "some general advice" to the Rhodesians.

The State Department, according to Kissinger, had been considering the possibility of an intervention tip since the Rhodesian state was established in 1974.

The Rhodesian state, which has been in existence since 1966, is recognized by the United States as a legitimate government.

Edmondson, the State Department spokesman, said that the Rhodesian state had been in existence since 1974.

Derren Materials: "American Dream" is moving from New Mexico to New Orleans to end its run of 124 performances. The play will be presented at the New Mexico Center for the Arts in Santa Fe, New Mexico, beginning March 31.

"American Dream" is a play about the American dream and the struggles of the working class. It follows the lives of several characters who are trying to make ends meet in a world that seems to have turned its back on them.

The cast of "American Dream" includes Jack Black, who plays the role of a struggling writer, and Sarah Paulson, who plays the role of a woman trying to make ends meet in the city.

The play has received critical acclaim for its powerful message and its portrayal of the American dream.

"American Dream" was written by Bruce Norris and directed by Tarell Alvin McCraney. It is produced by the New Mexico Center for the Arts and is sponsored by the New Mexico Humanities Council.

The play will run from March 31 to April 29, with performances on Fridays, Saturdays, and Sundays at 8 p.m. The play is suitable for all ages.
Obstacles fetter local Chicano newspaper

By DAVID MIRDO
Editor, George V. Ibanez

He is the chief editor of El Renacimiento, the Spanish-language newspaper that George V. Ibanez owns and publishes in Lansing. The newspaper, which is not the only one in the city that caters to the Chicano community, has been in operation for several years.

The newspaper was started in 1952 by Ibanez and a few other Chicano men who were looking for a way to express their thoughts and ideas. The newspaper was named El Renacimiento, which means "Rebirth," and it was intended to be a voice for the Chicano community.

For many years, El Renacimiento was a popular source of news and information for Chicano residents. However, the newspaper has faced many obstacles over the years. The most significant of these obstacles has been the lack of funding.

Because El Renacimiento is a community newspaper, it relies on advertising revenue to stay in business. Unfortunately, Chicano-owned businesses have been reluctant to advertise in the newspaper, which has made it difficult for the newspaper to attract sufficient advertising revenue.

Another obstacle that El Renacimiento has faced is the lack of printing facilities. The newspaper has been unable to obtain the necessary equipment and supplies to produce high-quality copies of the newspaper.

Despite these obstacles, Ibanez remains committed to the newspaper and continues to work hard to ensure that it remains a valuable resource for the Chicano community.

Malnutrition in Asia discussed

Burgess crossed the need for attention of East Asian women, health, and other Asian issues. He has been involved in the East Asian women’s movement through the East Asia Women’s Council. "There are still millions under nourished people in the East Asian countries," he said, "most of these undernourished people are women and children.

Burgess explained, "Women in the East Asian countries must work and take care of the children at the same time. They must be in a position to understand the needs of their families. There are millions of people who need help and assistance in these countries."

The problem that the undernourished people are faced with is that they do not have enough food to eat. This is why many of them die. "If we can provide them with the proper nutrition, we can prevent many of them from dying," said Burgess.

Economic issues cause EMU strike

The strike was staged by administrative workers of American University who walked off their job Wednesday. The strike involved 510 members of the American University Workers who walked off their jobs Wednesday. The strike was caused by the university's refusal to grant them a raise, a pension plan, and other benefits.

The strike lasted for two days and resulted in the shutdown of the university's operations. The university finally agreed to grant the workers a raise and a pension plan, and the strike was ended.

Majority leader Mike Mansfield will not seek Senate re-election.

WASHINGTON (AP) - Majority leader Mike Mansfield, the Senate's longest-serving Democrat, said today he will not seek re-election when his term expires next year. Mansfield, who will be 75 on March 16, has held a seat in public office - first as a state senator, then as a U.S. senator - for over a half-century. His decision not to run for another term was announced shortly after President Johnson declared that he would not run for re-election.

President Johnson has long been expected to make a highly publicized appearance at Mansfield's retirement party on Saturday at the new South Court Auditorium of the National Mall. The president is expected to speak at the event.

Mansfield, a former governor and U.S. senator from Montana, has held the Senate majority leader's job longer than any other person. He has long been regarded as one of the Senate's most powerful leaders.

Mansfield's retirement is expected to be a major factor in the upcoming Democratic primary election for the Senate seat. The Democratic nominee is expected to face a tough challenge in the general election, with a Republican likely to be the top contender.

Mansfield's decision not to seek re-election is widely seen as a sign of the end of an era for the Senate. He is widely regarded as one of the most influential and effective leaders in the history of the Senate.

Mansfield's retirement is also expected to have a significant impact on the balance of power in the Senate. The Democratic Party is currently in control of the Senate, but Mansfield's absence could change that balance, with a Republican likely to be the top contender for the Senate seat.

Lancers and U-M in key series

By MIKE JORDAN

I don't think that the MSU hockey team can be expected to respond from their recent poor showing. While they will add three returning four-year seniors, they are still young enough that no one expects them to make a big improvement. The Spartans have had a lot of problems, but their offense has shown a lot of progress.

Unfortunately, the possibility of breaking the Michigan State record is pretty good. The Spartans have taken a lot of shots, and the MSU coaching staff is very optimistic about their chance to win.

Saturday's game with Wisconsin will mark the first time that the Lancers and the Spartans will face each other in the Big Ten. Wisconsin is currently ranked 10th in the national polls, while Michigan State is ranked 15th.

Michigan State's basketball team had a tough weekend, losing both games against Illinois and Michigan. The Spartans' hopes for a Big Ten championship are now slim, as they need to win both of their remaining games to have a chance at the title.

The Spartans will head to Columbus on Saturday to face Ohio State, which is currently ranked third in the conference. If Michigan State can pull off a road win, they will have a much better chance of making the NCAA tournament.

The Michigan State fencing team will be heading to the State College Invitational this weekend. The meet will be held at the Penn State Recreation Center on Friday and Saturday.

The Spartans have a strong team, with several All-Americans and a couple of Olympians on the roster. They will be looking to build on their recent success, as they won the Big Ten title earlier this month.

Buying a music system at Tech Hifi is fun. Not risky.

For instance, if anything at all about the system displeases you, just bring it back within seven days. We'll make things right, or give you back your money.

And when you buy any system or component at Tech Hifi, you don't risk the possibility of missing out on a better price somewhere else. Because you get a written guarantee that we'll pay you back the difference between our price, and any lower price you may see within thirty days of your purchase. Even if it's some other store's sale price. (Since our everyday prices are so low, this really isn't very risky for us).

And if a component proves to be defective, we'll either fix it within three working days, or give you a new one. We also provide a five-year labor guarantee for recommended loudspeakers, three-year labor guarantee for recommended electronics, and a one-year labor guarantee for recommended turntable and tape decks. All at no extra cost!

Only rarely does an under $400 music system provide the commendable synthesis of power, high quality FM performance, and superbly natural response that this $385 Tech Hifi system with the all new Nikko 3035 am/fm receiver, Ohm F loudspeakers and a BSR 2260X turntable with a Shure magnetic cartridge provide.

FREE QUEEN POSTERS Come in to any of the Tech Hifi locations indicated below for a giant Queen poster not available in any store at any price! No purchase is necessary.

One last thought.
At Tech Hifi, our salespeople believe in high fidelity, not high pressure. So when you walk through the door you don't risk being assaulted by a salesman who would just as soon be making a living selling refrigerators. You'll get helped, not hassled.

And if all you want to do is drop by to discover how great recorded music can sound, that's okay too. We'll put our knowledgeable sales staff and equipped soundrooms at your disposal. Just as if you walked in with an open checkbook. (We figure that if we give you a chance to just look around, we'll have a better chance of getting your business if you ever decide to buy a quality music system).

You don't have to spend money to spend an interesting afternoon or evening at Tech Hifi.

Come in soon. You have nothing to lose.
