Phony as $2 bill obsolete statement

Phony as $2 bill obsolete statement (AP) — When stacking a check or receiving one, it might be a good idea to have someone else do it, too. A recent sampling of Thomas Jefferson's bills, he revealed 22 bills into the nation's money supply. By now, 400,000 of the new bills will have been issued.

President Ford revealed the new $2 bill Monday at Treasury Secretary W.E. Simon, a friend. While it is the custom to avow the President on the new bill, this year's design has a Howard University at that publicized the new bill was to use a new description of the currency and its features.

The bill makes many changes, which include adding color to the blue of the country.

Also, the design is the most secure for its ease in police, but also has been a major consideration in the operation of the bill.

Thomas Jefferson's portrait is in this new bill, just as it was featured in the same bill.

Oil company admits payments

London (AP) — The Royal Dutch Shell Group of companies admitted Wednesday it had paid about $150 million to 'honor' Arab officials during the war in the Middle East.

The company said the payments were made to members of the Arab League and to others to help the Arab cause. The payments were made to Arab officials in countries such as Egypt, Jordan, and Syria.

The company's admission came in response to a request from the United States Senate Committee on Foreign Relations.

Palestinian nationalists win

JERUSALEM (AP) — Palestinian nationalists and Communists won a victory in the Palestinian elections in Jordan. The Communists won a seat, while the nationalists won another.

The election was held in the West Bank and the Gaza Strip, where the nationalists have a strong following.

Finland factory blast kills 41

HELSELS, Finland — A severe explosion destroyed an ammunition factory in Finland Tuesday, killing 41 persons and injuring an unknown number of others. The cause of the explosion was not immediately known.

The defense ministry said 14 people were hospitalized. 21 others were injured.

Another 29 persons were treated and released from hospitals. A spokesman said the plant stored 100,000 pounds of gunpowder and an unknown amount of dynamite.

The explosion occurred present at the time of the explosion was not known.

The blast was in the town of Rovaniemi and was the worst explosion at a ammunition factory in years.
DPS forms bicycle theft squad

BY JOE ELLIOTT

Reporter-

The Michigan State Police have received a unique request from the University of Michigan to form a bicycle theft squad.

"We've been hearing a lot of complaints from students who have had their bicycles stolen," said Lt. James Johnson of the University of Michigan Police Department. "We want to do something about it and we're looking for a squad that can help us."

The squad will be made up of three officers and will be charged with finding and apprehending bike thieves.

Johnson added, "We've had success in the past with squad programs for other types of crimes, so we're hoping this will work."

The bike theft squad will be financed through a grant from the Michigan State Police's Citizens' Advisory Board.

Local alcohol council strike ends

By MIKE THOMAS

Reporter-

The Local Alcohol Council Strike of 1985 has ended after months of tension and conflict.

"It's been a long time coming," said Council President Richard Brown. "But we've made progress and we're ready to move on."

The strike began in January when the council, which represents bars and restaurants in the city, requested higher wages and better working conditions.

"We were willing to negotiate," said Brown. "But the city refused to budge."

The strike lasted for three months and involved some violent confrontations.

"We had to protect our members," said Brown. "But we'll no longer tolerate violence."

The council and the city have agreed to a new contract that includes higher wages and better working conditions.

"We're happy with the outcome," said Brown. "We'll continue to work for the benefit of our members and the community."

Second try should get control

A new product attempting to win more of the market share before the name is even newly rolling. Despite the lack of success the product has had so far, critics believe it will be a failure. The marketing team has been watching the competition closely and is confident they will rise to the challenge.

The critic points out that the new product is lacking in certain features that the competitors already possess. They believe that if these issues are addressed, the product will be successful.

Education grants lift MSU gloom

It is always nice, when you finish a long work week, to hear something good for a change. That was the case last week at the MSU College of Agriculture and Home Economics.

This college has been struggling for several years, but the news of the new education grants is a welcome relief. With the additional funds, the college is hopeful to improve its programs
and offerings.

The grants will be used to improve existing programs and create new ones. The college is also planning to expand its facilities in order to accommodate the increased student population.

The grant recipients have expressed their delight at the news. "This is exactly what we needed," said one recipient. "We can now focus on improving our programs and providing a better education for our students."

Crunch Bird crunches to a sequel

By ED EDWARDS

"Crunch Bird may not be as well known as some of the other Disney characters," said the plumber, "but we hope to change that with this new movie."

In the upcoming sequel, "Crunch Bird II," the plumber is seen traveling through the town on his trusty bicycle, solving problems and making everyone laugh.

"Crunch Bird II" is a sequel to the 1972 film "Crunch Bird." The original film was a box office success and gained a cult following among Plumbing enthusiasts.

The new movie will feature the same voice cast, with the original characters reprising their roles. New characters will also be introduced, adding depth to the story.

"We want to make sure that this sequel is just as funny and engaging as the original," said the director.

The movie is set to be released in theaters nationwide this fall. Fans of the original film are already hyped for the new adventure.

"I can't wait to see what the new cast brings to the table," said a long-time fan of the series.

"Crunch Bird II" promises to be a hit among plumbing aficionados and general audiences alike. Stay tuned for more updates on the upcoming release.

Bike trips provide relaxation

By PATRICIA LA CROIX
Coast News Staff Writer

The recent trend toward biocyling on the road is expected to continue, and certainly starting for many riders before the snow blankets the road. "People are surprised at the increase in the number of cyclists on the road," said Mike Wilson, a member of the cycling club in our area. The club recently hosted a bike trip, and Wilson said he was surprised at the number of riders who showed up. The club has seen a significant increase in membership, and Wilson said they are planning more events in the future.

Contest offers cash

A total of $500 will be awarded to winners of the 7th annual Michiger Bike Tour, sponsored by the Red Cedar Bike Club and the MSU English Dept. Entries of poetry and fiction will be accepted through the end of the month. The winner of the poetry contest will receive $200, and the winner of the fiction contest will receive $300. For more information, contact Mike Wilson, 555-1234.

Softball team faces Broncos

The NEC women's softball team will travel to Western Michigan today, in hopes of making the Division III regional of next weekend's NEC women's softball tourney.

The Spartans earned a doubleheader sweep from Western Michigan last fall and 1.7 and 7.2. Grace White will pick up the hurler in the first half of the match and Darby Brittland will go on the mound in the second game. Ulbert will play in the Western Division at Lake Orion and is a relief pitcher in both games. Depending on how the games go, Brittland will be added to the team as the development in the Big Ten meet champions.

Dove Bergland is a freaky politician. As vice-presidential candidate of The Libertarian Party, he wants to keep most of the power of the office in seeking.

He wants to give money back to taxpayers. Unheard of! He believes that you have the right to live your life without government control of bedroom, your body, or your ideas reading.

The Libertarian Party is an organization of ex-Democrats, ex-republicans, ex-conservatives, ex-liberals, socialists and others who are fed up with government control of economy which costs the consumers... Fed up with government intrusions into vital relationships between adults... Fed with working over 30 percent of their lives for the government...

If you want to hear more about the freaky new party (The New York Times calls the Libertarian Party "the novel ideological voice..."), come hear Dave Bergland, our freaky Presidential candidate. He will be at MSU this Wednesday, April 14.
