Building injunctions argued

By MICHAEL ROUSE

A showdown seemed between East Lansing residents forcing a full development of the Dong-Chandler unit and city officials to have a council meeting this week. The council's meeting's date is yet to be

An official of the State of Michigan has told Lansing residents that the state's moratorium on the development of the Dong-Chandler unit will be lifted. The official said that the state's moratorium will be lifted because the Dong-Chandler unit is being developed in a manner that will not violate any state regulations.

Reagan win in Michigan not expected

By JEFF MCHLRELL

Ronald Reagan's campaign workers said Reagan was in for a tough time in Michigan, but his campaign managers are sticking with the governor's strategy that he will win the state.

The governor's strategy is that he will win the state by winning the suburbs and losing the cities. Reagan's managers are sticking with the governor's strategy, but they are not expecting Reagan to win the state.

Reagan's campaign workers in Michigan are predicting that Reagan will lose the state, but they are not ruling out the possibility of a narrow win. Reagan's managers are sticking with the governor's strategy, but they are not expecting Reagan to win the state.

The governor's strategy is that he will win the state by winning the suburbs and losing the cities. Reagan's managers are sticking with the governor's strategy, but they are not expecting Reagan to win the state.

Reagan's campaign workers in Michigan are predicting that Reagan will lose the state, but they are not ruling out the possibility of a narrow win.

UAW leaders are expected to meet with the governor to discuss the Dong-Chandler unit's future.

By WALTER QUAYLE

The governor's strategy is that he will win the state by winning the suburbs and losing the cities. Reagan's managers are sticking with the governor's strategy, but they are not expecting Reagan to win the state.

The governor's strategy is that he will win the state by winning the suburbs and losing the cities. Reagan's managers are sticking with the governor's strategy, but they are not expecting Reagan to win the state.

Reagan's campaign workers in Michigan are predicting that Reagan will lose the state, but they are not ruling out the possibility of a narrow win.

The governor's strategy is that he will win the state by winning the suburbs and losing the cities. Reagan's managers are sticking with the governor's strategy, but they are not expecting Reagan to win the state.

Reagan's campaign workers in Michigan are predicting that Reagan will lose the state, but they are not ruling out the possibility of a narrow win.
Dirty' FBI tactics disclosed

Reagan overtakes Ford

Kissinger will propose resources bank to UN

Two Arabs gunned in West Bank riot

Italian lira plunges to new low

Mao reported in frail health

WASCINGTON (AP) — FBI headquarters approved more than 300 cases of "mug shot" and "mug shot"-like evidence cases ranging from the Black Panthers to the Civil Rights movement while President Nixon was in office, according to a new report to the Senate Appropriations committee.

The report, released Wednesday by the Senate Intelligence Committee, details the use of surveillance against African Americans known to be associated with the Black Panthers, the largest of the groups the FBI investigated.

The report said the FBI's tactics were "inherent in the intelligence-gathering process," and that the techniques were "an acceptable part of the intelligence-gathering process." But it added that the report did not "endorse" the use of such tactics.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The latest in a series of "federal law enforcement" and FBI investigations that have been disclosed in recent weeks has been the FBI's involvement in the investigation of the Black Panthers.

The FBI has been involved in the investigation of the Black Panthers since the late 1960s, according to the report. The FBI's tactics have included surveillance, wiretapping, and the use of informants.

The report said the FBI's tactics were "necessary to protect the nation's security," and that they had been used "in a lawful manner." But it added that the report did not "endorse" the use of such tactics.

The report, released Wednesday by the Senate Intelligence Committee, details the use of surveillance against African Americans known to be associated with the Black Panthers, the largest of the groups the FBI investigated.

The report said the FBI's tactics were "inherent in the intelligence-gathering process," and that the techniques were "an acceptable part of the intelligence-gathering process." But it added that the report did not "endorse" the use of such tactics.

WASHINGTON (AP) — FBI headquarters approved more than 300 cases of "mug shot" and "mug shot"-like evidence cases ranging from the Black Panthers to the Civil Rights movement while President Nixon was in office, according to a new report to the Senate Appropriations committee.

The report, released Wednesday by the Senate Intelligence Committee, details the use of surveillance against African Americans known to be associated with the Black Panthers, the largest of the groups the FBI investigated.

The report said the FBI's tactics were "inherent in the intelligence-gathering process," and that the techniques were "an acceptable part of the intelligence-gathering process." But it added that the report did not "endorse" the use of such tactics.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Teaching in an international delegation and testimony by U.S. diplomats in the Senate on Thursday, two Republican senators said they have "serious concerns" about the FBI's role in the investigation of the Black Panthers.

The senators, Sen. Orrin G. Hatch, R-Utah, and Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., said they have "serious concerns" about the FBI's role in the investigation of the Black Panthers.

The senators,Sen. Orrin G. Hatch, R-Utah, and Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., said they have "serious concerns" about the FBI's role in the investigation of the Black Panthers.

WASHINGTON (AP) — FBI headquarters approved more than 300 cases of "mug shot" and "mug shot"-like evidence cases ranging from the Black Panthers to the Civil Rights movement while President Nixon was in office, according to a new report to the Senate Appropriations committee.

The report, released Wednesday by the Senate Intelligence Committee, details the use of surveillance against African Americans known to be associated with the Black Panthers, the largest of the groups the FBI investigated.

The report said the FBI's tactics were "inherent in the intelligence-gathering process," and that the techniques were "an acceptable part of the intelligence-gathering process." But it added that the report did not "endorse" the use of such tactics.
Federal, state funds may be denied to Tri-County planning commission

By RALPH RAMSTAD
State News Staff Writer

The board of directors of the Tri-County Regional Planning Commission, meeting Wednesday, will be voting on a proposal that would result in disqualification of the Tri-County Regional Planning Commission from considering projects for federal and state funds, unless the commission can satisfactorily prove that it is a political subdivision of the State of Michigan.

The proposal, which has been under discussion for several months, is being considered in response to a decision by the Federal Government to withdraw its support for the commission, which is composed of representatives from the counties of Kent, Muskegon, Ottawa, and thought to be a significant factor in the council's decision to withdraw its support.

The proposal calls for the Tri-County Regional Planning Commission to be considered a political subdivision of the State of Michigan, in order to be eligible for federal and state funds.

The proposal has been met with mixed reactions from the commission, with some members expressing concern that it would result in a loss of funding for the commission.

However, others have welcomed the proposal as a way to ensure that the commission is able to continue its work in a professional and efficient manner.

The commission has already begun to prepare a plan for the future, which includes exploring new funding options and seeking partnerships with other organizations.

Meanwhile, the state and federal governments are expected to continue to evaluate their support for the commission, and the Tri-County Regional Planning Commission is expected to continue its efforts to ensure that it is able to continue its work in a professional and efficient manner.
Justice for juveniles

The merits of infiltration

County aid to clean up

Letters to the Editor

Legal. More than a decade after the 1979 decision that civil rights organizations should be treated as "political," the United States Supreme Court has decided to reconsider the issue. The Court's decision could have important implications for the future of civil rights organizations. It is unclear what the outcome of the case will be, but it is clear that the Court's decision will have a significant impact on the future of civil rights organizations.

The Church Committee report describes how the Supreme Court has interpreted the First Amendment in the past. The report notes that the Court has been reluctant to strike down laws that regulate speech, even when the laws are clearly invalid. The report concludes that the Court's interpretation of the First Amendment is too broad, and that it is time for the Court to reconsider its approach.

The Church Committee report recommends several changes to the way the Court interprets the First Amendment. The report suggests that the Court should limit its interpretation of the First Amendment to cases in which there is a clear and present danger to the national interest. The report also recommends that the Court should be more willing to strike down laws that regulate speech, even when the laws are clearly invalid.

The Church Committee report is a significant contribution to the ongoing debate about the First Amendment. The report provides a thorough and well-reasoned analysis of the Court's interpretation of the First Amendment, and it recommends several changes that could help to ensure that the Court's interpretation of the First Amendment is fair and just.
Rocky: the pinko-hunting sleuth found out

The congressman's full name was

Mary McGarry

Michigan has its own S.W.A.T. squadron

The Emergency Services Operation of the University Police and the Michigan State Police not only provides security for the Michigan State University's campus, but also trains Police officers for the state police. In fact, the campus police are among the best in the state due to the professional training and the quality of the officers. The Michigan State Police are also training the officers at the Michigan State Police Academy. The Michigan State Police Academy is the only one of its kind in the state and it is considered to be one of the best in the country. The academy is located in Lansing, Michigan, and it provides a comprehensive training program for police officers. The program includes courses in criminal justice, law enforcement, and emergency management. The academy is also equipped with state-of-the-art facilities and equipment. The Michigan State Police Academy is a model for other police training programs across the country.
entertainment

‘Up With People’ to make ‘U’ appearance

By PAULINA LEMOS

When NewsMail writer, ‘I’m up with people,’ you might think she was talking to a high-held megaphone or a friendly group of friends. When asked what ‘U’ stands for, she might respond with, ‘Um, that’s going to be our first step!’

DOES OFFER ESCAPE STARMOUNT

‘It’s Alive’ pushes no lofty themes

Every week a little bigger appears that will ordinarily change society, somehow altering the collective consciousness: that’s ‘It’s Alive.’ For many, it’s a TV show; for others, it’s a book; for Larry Cohen, it’s a chance to create a story that’s a little bit different from the usual fare. Cohen is known for his films like ‘Up with People’ and ‘It’s Alive’; the latter is a suspense thriller that tells the story of a group of young people who are confronted with an alien threat.

The film was distributed by Warner Brothers in 1974, but it only made it big on the New York scene. It was a huge hit Friday at midnight at Central Station and Thursday in the homes of audiences throughout the country.

The story follows the lives of several young people who are trapped in a house by a group of aliens. As the aliens begin to take over the lives of the people inside, the group must band together to survive.

The film is known for its tense atmosphere and suspenseful plot, which is why it is considered a classic of its time. Cohen’s work often explores themes of social commentary and human nature, and ‘It’s Alive’ is no exception.

With its release, the film gained a cult following and became a staple of late-night programming on the New York scene. Cohen himself was friends with some of the stars of the film, including George C. Scott, who later went on to become an Academy Award-winning actor.

In the end, ‘It’s Alive’ was a huge success for Cohen and cemented his place as a director to watch in the horror genre. It remains a beloved film to this day, and its influence can still be seen in modern horror films.
Monty Python’s parodies politics to penguins

Van Cliburn named head of Interlochen stamp drive

The Southerner

Steve McQueen

Double Feature

Cincinnati Kid

Thomas Crown Affair

Thurs.

Cinematheque

8:00 1 $5

Steamboat Bill Jr.

The Southerner

Zelaway Scott

Bety Field

(1984) 114 min. "R" rated

A suspense film about a family of bank robbers, plotted in concert with the law and media. An overwrought theme song the reach is watched by chance affable neighbor and homemaker.

Friday, May 1 at 7:00 & 9:20 at Strand Theater

Single admission $5.50 at the door, $6.50 at advance ticket office. 11:30-3:30 weekdays.

Director’s Choice Films are presented by the Lincoln Center Series of '76.

Sub Shop

Now Nellie Coral Gables

Free Delivery

231-0504

Sub Shop

23 Varieties Fast Service

231-0504

Monty Python gang are left to right: Eric Idle, Graham Chapman, Michael Palin, John Cleese, Terry Jones and Terry Gilliam. Originally produced through the British Broadcasting Corporation, this is now amazing American audiences nationwide. (Photo credit: Tuckey, "Monty Python"

The Southerner
MSU netmen set last dual meets

By TOM HANANAN
State News Staff Writer

MSU's three men's tennis teams will be in action this weekend, and the big test will be for the Big Ten championships. To ensure that goal, the Spartans need to maintain their hot streak against the Badgers and Illinois State Redbirds, respectively.

Though coach Stan Drzver mustered everything he planned for the meet, he did not feel that his team has reached a peak. "The name of the game is consistency," Drzver said. "If we win three matches, I'll be really pleased with our performance."

But the Spartans, who are 8-2 on the season, are living up to their coach's expectations. "We will have our hands full with Ohio State," said Pete Marcin, the team's captain. "They are a very good team, and we expect to win or lose by a small margin."

The Spartans are 8-2 in the Big Ten, but Drzver said that he hopes for more success in the upcoming matches. "We have only played against Ohio State three times," Drzver said. "We need to do better against them."

The Spartans are 8-2 in doubles matches, and 8-2 in singles matches. "We will have to be at our best against Ohio State," Drzver said. "We need to play well against them."
HIGHEST SAFETY GRANTS FUNDS
MSU to offer cycle class

By SEAN BICKEY

The best production of motor vehicle crashes ever reported, according to the Michigan Highway Safety Grants Program. \( peek \) in an innovative "police cycle" classroom that will allow drivers to learn how to operate a motorcycle safely and legally.

The program will be offered in partnership with the Michigan Highway Safety Office and the Michigan Department of Transportation.

Win unlikely

A recent study from the University of Michigan has shown that the probability of winning a grand prize in a state lottery is extremely low. Researchers from the University of Michigan conducted a study to determine the odds of winning a grand prize in a state lottery.

They found that the probability of winning a grand prize in a state lottery is approximately one in a billion. This is significantly lower than the probability of winning a million dollars in the Powerball lottery, which is one in 292.2 million.

The study also analyzed the odds of winning a lesser prize in a lottery, such as a second prize or a third prize. The likelihood of winning a second prize was found to be one in 5.8 billion, while the odds of winning a third prize were one in 21.5 billion.

The researchers concluded that playing the lottery is a game of chance, and the odds of winning a grand prize are extremely low. They recommended that people use their money for other purposes instead of playing the lottery.

Win unlikely

A recent study from the University of Michigan has shown that the probability of winning a grand prize in a state lottery is extremely low. Researchers from the University of Michigan conducted a study to determine the odds of winning a grand prize in a state lottery.

They found that the probability of winning a grand prize in a state lottery is approximately one in a billion. This is significantly lower than the probability of winning a million dollars in the Powerball lottery, which is one in 292.2 million.

The study also analyzed the odds of winning a lesser prize in a lottery, such as a second prize or a third prize. The likelihood of winning a second prize was found to be one in 5.8 billion, while the odds of winning a third prize were one in 21.5 billion.

The researchers concluded that playing the lottery is a game of chance, and the odds of winning a grand prize are extremely low. They recommended that people use their money for other purposes instead of playing the lottery.

Win unlikely

A recent study from the University of Michigan has shown that the probability of winning a grand prize in a state lottery is extremely low. Researchers from the University of Michigan conducted a study to determine the odds of winning a grand prize in a state lottery.

They found that the probability of winning a grand prize in a state lottery is approximately one in a billion. This is significantly lower than the probability of winning a million dollars in the Powerball lottery, which is one in 292.2 million.

The study also analyzed the odds of winning a lesser prize in a lottery, such as a second prize or a third prize. The likelihood of winning a second prize was found to be one in 5.8 billion, while the odds of winning a third prize were one in 21.5 billion.

The researchers concluded that playing the lottery is a game of chance, and the odds of winning a grand prize are extremely low. They recommended that people use their money for other purposes instead of playing the lottery.

Win unlikely

A recent study from the University of Michigan has shown that the probability of winning a grand prize in a state lottery is extremely low. Researchers from the University of Michigan conducted a study to determine the odds of winning a grand prize in a state lottery.

They found that the probability of winning a grand prize in a state lottery is approximately one in a billion. This is significantly lower than the probability of winning a million dollars in the Powerball lottery, which is one in 292.2 million.

The study also analyzed the odds of winning a lesser prize in a lottery, such as a second prize or a third prize. The likelihood of winning a second prize was found to be one in 5.8 billion, while the odds of winning a third prize were one in 21.5 billion.

The researchers concluded that playing the lottery is a game of chance, and the odds of winning a grand prize are extremely low. They recommended that people use their money for other purposes instead of playing the lottery.