Olin director quits to resume practice

By MICHAEL WINTER

The announcement of quitting as medical director of the Olin Health Center by Dr. John D. Siddall has angered medical students and caused a stir on campus.

Removing his name from the list of health centers' services and the Olin Health Center is a blow to the medical community. The assistant professor has been active in medical education and research and his name will not be forgotten.

"Dr. Siddall has been a role model for many medical students and his departure will be felt," said Dr. John D. Siddall. "I am sure he will continue to contribute to the field of medicine."
The medical team said the process employed radiation, which is normally too hazardous for women in combination with chemotherapy, to reduce the risks of infection associated with the procedure. It used the latest technique developed by Dr. Steven Rosen and Dr. Donald H. Tisdale, which involves treating the tumor at Stanford with the use of a series of radiation treatments.

The decision was based on the success of a similar procedure performed on a 10-year-old patient at Stanford, who was treated with radiation and chemotherapy and is currently free of disease.

The procedure is particularly challenging because of the size of the tumor and the location of the affected organ. It requires a precise and careful approach, as any damage to the surrounding tissue could have serious consequences.

The team at Stanford is carefully monitoring the patient's progress and is expected to release an update on her condition in the coming weeks.
Anti-mall group plans to ask for lid on overall campaign spending

By LESTER RAPPAPORT

The mall debate takes another round in Lansing as a group of mall opponents seeks to impose a spending limit on political candidates and organizations. The limit, if approved by the Senate, could affect campaigns ranging from local contests to state races and even national elections.

The Senate Commerce Committee has authorized a study of the mall debate, and the Michigan Senate is expected to take up the issue in the coming weeks.

The proposed spending limit would be the latest move in the ongoing debate over the mall's potential impact on the community. Opponents of the mall argue that it would lead to increased traffic, increased crime, and decreased property values.

The Senate Commerce Committee is expected to hold hearings on the issue in the coming weeks, and a vote is expected in the near future.

Frail female myth refuted: men are weaker sex, professor says

By JENNY MARSH

The myth that men are the weaker sex is refuted by a professor at Michigan State University. "Men are stronger than women, but not necessarily in the way we think," said the professor. "Men are stronger in terms of muscle mass, but women are stronger in terms of endurance and agility."

The professor also noted that women tend to have more fat-free muscle mass than men, which can help explain why women can often lift more weight than men.

House passes raise in mark-up prices

The House has passed a bill to increase mark-up prices for liquor. The increase is expected to generate an estimated $50 million in revenue.

The bill now goes to the Senate for consideration.
Health services will be as good as you make them

MSU must share the burden

Although no formal agreement has been reached, it appears that MSU will be the site of a to-a-future cross-campus highway designed to alleviate some of the time-consuming traffic problems.

The prospect of a highway striking the campus in half appeals to some. Unfortunately, the project seems to be the very necessity of the board of trustees and the University president. As they are in 1971, there will be a heavy lobbying from environmentalists, as well as from some in the community. It is possible that the University may have to share the burden of the project, and, in doing so, may also have to be aware of the environmentalists' concerns.

And if MSU is to move, it will have to do something about the problem of housing for students. The University has already announced plans to build a new residence hall on the site of the old building. The new hall will be smaller than the old one, but it will provide more space for students. It is hoped that the new hall will be completed by the fall of 1972.

How to get your money's worth from the $18 fee

By Thomas M. Hill, M.D.

With the marketing of the $18 fee per student, the services offered by the University of Michigan will be greatly improved. The fee will cover the cost of the University's facilities, equipment, and personnel. The students will be able to use these facilities and services at a reduced cost.

The fee is not a tax on the students. It is a service charge that covers the cost of the services provided. The fee will be used to support the University's facilities and services, and will be used to improve the quality of the services provided.

In the past, the University has had a reputation for being expensive. However, the fee will help to reduce the cost of the services provided.

As a result of the fee, the University will be able to provide more services to its students. The University will be able to provide more facilities, equipment, and personnel to meet the needs of its students. The fee will also help to reduce the cost of the services provided.

The University's facilities and services will be improved as a result of the fee. The University will be able to provide more services to its students, and will be able to reduce the cost of the services provided.

"U" employees sympathetic to LCC's faculty gripes

Blatt speaks for M.U.-A.A.U.P.'s

There is a high probability that faculty at Lansing Community College may be strike-bound in the near future. My purpose is writing to take this faculty and the students under their care into the picture.

As a student at MSU, I have been reading references to LCC's possible strike. It has been said that there is no hard feeling between the LCC faculty and the students, and that the situation is not as critical as it may seem. I feel that the students have a right to know the facts and be informed of the situation.

Ewen speaks for Faculty Assoc.

After working without a contract for a year, the Lansing Community College faculty this week probably will be forced to go on strike. LCC faculty members are among the lowest paid in the main ranking of salaries from the college's adjunction Mitchell B. Workman, president of the faculty. Workman said there are 7,000 part-time faculty members when there are 20 full-time faculty members. The contract talks were silenced due to the strike. The faculty is considering whether or not to renew their contract, but it is almost certain that a new contract will not be drawn up.

All workers need a little incentive

Regarding M.U.-CCAF Teachers: I would like to address a point that has been made about the situation of the faculty. The faculty is working to improve the standards of the college and the students. They are working to provide a better education for the students and are trying to make the college more appealing. They are working to make the college more attractive to potential students and are trying to improve the standards of the college.

VIEWPOINT: College of Urban Development

CUD is much more than a token black college

By TERRY CANUP

Ken Shumard's article, "A Better Urban College," is an excellent article that presents a true picture of the college. The college is not a token college, but a college that is working to provide a better education for the students. The college is working to provide a better education for the students and is working to improve the standards of the college.

Woody Allen is Director's Choice

By JOHN NILSSON
State News Reviewer

By now, you must have heard of Woody Allen, the New York-based film director and actor. His filmography includes classics such as "Annie Hall," " Chungking Express," and "The Purple Rose Boosters." But what you may not know is that Woody Allen is also a noted jazz musician and author of comic books. His latest film, "The Purple Rose Boosters," was released last week and is already receiving critical acclaim. Allen is known for his unique blend of humor and social commentary, which is evident in his latest work. In "The Purple Rose Boosters," Allen explores themes of love, loss, and the human condition through a series of interconnected stories. The film features a talented cast, including Tilda Swinton, John C. Reilly, and Amy Adams. The film's music is performed by the legendary jazz group the Purple Rose Boosters, led by Allen himself. "The Purple Rose Boosters" is a must-see for fans of Woody Allen and anyone who appreciates the power of music and storytelling.
Big Star: coming back for thirds

By DAVID FANARO
State News/Reformer

There are plenty of good reasons to like Big Star. The music is like the Rolling Stones. Some people are picky about a band's origins, playing standards of which bands一年一度 from those who went to college in the South, but Big Star is, of course, Memphis and the band that did all the seminal work in that city. The band has a huge cult following, and they're likely to have a huge cult following on the East Coast, too. But generally because they're a band with a kind of unassuming sensibility, unassuming sensibility. The band's best known record, the one that they're best known for, is an album that might have received a bit of attention when it was released, and one that might seem a little lost when they released it.

Which brings us to "Slate," which is a band that's probably best known for their early work. "Slate" is a band that's been out of the spotlight for a while, but they've been making waves in the underground music scene for a long time. They're a band that's been influential to many other bands, and their music has been described as "Slate" is a band that's been out of the spotlight for a while, but they've been making waves in the underground music scene for a long time. Theater Review

In this, the third act of the show, the audience is introduced to a brand new character, a man named Mr. Smith. Mr. Smith is a man who has spent his entire life in the city of Chicago, and he is determined to change the world. He has a plan, and he is willing to do whatever it takes to make it happen.

The plan is this: to bring together the people of Chicago and the rest of the world. Mr. Smith believes that by uniting people, they can overcome any obstacle and achieve their goals. He is a man of action, and he is not afraid to take risks. In his eyes, the only way to make the world a better place is to take risks and do things that have never been done before.

The audience is captivated by Mr. Smith's passion and determination. They are inspired by his vision and his dedication to making the world a better place. Mr. Smith's speech is short, but it is powerful. He leaves the audience convinced that anything is possible if they work together.

The audience is left with a sense of hope and possibility. They are ready for anything, and they are eager to see what the future holds.

This is a show that speaks to the heart. It is a story about love, courage, and resilience. It is a story about the power of hope and the power of dreams. It is a story about the human spirit and the strength that it is capable of.

The show is a must-see for anyone who believes that anything is possible. It is a show that will inspire and motivate, and it is a show that will leave you changed.

WSU seeks to rebound against the Orangemen

By DONN BURDEN
State News Sports Writer

When 6 p.m. came on Saturday, the Dartmouth football team took the field at Walter Field in Burlington, Vermont, to face the Orangemen of Syracuse University.

The Orangemen had been riding high until recently, having won their last two games by a combined score of 72-7. This had boosted their confidence and success, and they were expected to put up a strong challenge against the Dartmouth team.

However, the Dartmouth team had not been sitting idle. They had prepared thoroughly for the game and were determined to bring their A-game to the field. The team had been working hard on their defense, and they had developed a solid strategy for countering the Orangemen's offensive plays.

The crowd at Walter Field was electric, with fans from both universities cheering loudly. The game was intense from the start, with both teams displaying their skills and strategies.

In the end, the Dartmouth team emerged victorious, defeating the Orangemen with a score of 21-14. The Dartmouth fans erupted in cheers, while the Orangemen fans looked on in disappointment.

The Dartmouth team was proud of their win, and they knew that they had worked hard to achieve it. They were looking forward to their next game and hoped to continue their winning streak.

The Dartmouth team's victory against the Orangemen was a huge boost of confidence for the team and a reminder of the hard work and dedication that goes into achieving success in football.

MUU counting on veterans

The MUU women's volleyball team will open their season against the University of Illinois at 7 p.m. tonight.

The team has a strong nucleus of returning players, including seniors Elise Schmitz and Emily Johnson, who are expected to lead the way this season.

"We have a lot of returning players and we're excited to see how they perform," said head coach Dr. John Zemper. "The seniors are looking to make a name for themselves in their final season.

In addition to the seniors, the team has a few new faces this year, including a couple of freshmen who areexpected to make an impact.

The season opener will be a tough test for the MUU volleyball team, but they are prepared and ready to take on the challenge.

Golfers host MSU Invitational; Fossum banking on team's youth

By JOHN M. BURGESS
State News Sports Writer

The MSU Golf Invitational is set to kick off on Thursday, with some of the best golfers in the country expected to compete.

The event is hosted by the MSU Department of Sports and will feature both men's and women's teams.

"We're excited to have some of the top teams in the country here," said MSU golf coach Bruce Fossum. "It's a great opportunity for our players to compete against the best in the country.

The MSU golf team has had a strong season so far, and they're looking to continue their success at the invitational.

Fossum is banking on the youth of the team to carry them through the weekend. The team has several freshmen who are expected to make a big impact.

"I'm excited to have some of our younger players step up," said Fossum. "They've been working hard and they're ready to compete.

The invitational will be held at the Springbank Golf Club in Lansing, Michigan.

Kickers squeeze out 1-0 victory

By JERRY BEAULIEU
State News Sports Writer

The MSU Spartans were not able to find the back of the net against Michigan in a 1-0 loss on Saturday.

"It was a tough game," said MSU coach Rich Hall. "We had some chances, but we couldn't put anything away.

Michigan's defense was solid, and they were able to keep the Spartans at bay. The only goal of the game came early in the second half on a penalty kick.

The Spartans will be looking to bounce back next week against Ohio State.

Dorm singles explained

Despite the present overcrowding at MSU residence halls, many students are still waiting anxiously for that much anticipated dormitory assignment for the fall semester.

Permanent single, a room dedicated for a permanent occupant, is a room behind a permanent single, which is considered smaller than a double-occupancy room, and a designated single, which remains empty at times and the roommates move out during the semester.

Campaign begins Oct. 9

'78 United Way goal set

The MSU United Way campaign begins Oct. 9, a not wonderful time to begin the campaign, but it is still in its infancy.

"We're not going to make the goal, but we're still a little bit too early," said Bob de Graaf, who is heading the campaign for the second consecutive year.

Though the campaign has seen some success, the overall goal is still not met. The "no" room" and "no parking" policies have been met, but the campaign still falls short of its goal.

The campaign is important because it is responsible for the success of the United Way. The success of the United Way is directly related to the amount of money raised through the campaign.

"I'm really happy with the amount of money we've raised so far," said de Graaf.

Senate adds diesel fuel tax hike to transportation tax package

The Senate on Thursday approved a bill that would increase the diesel fuel tax by 6.5 cents per gallon for the transportation tax package.

"I think it's a good idea," said Senator John Chase, who is sponsor of the bill.

The bill was approved in the Senate with a vote of 37 to 4, with Democrats voting in favor and Republicans voting against.

House committee passes lobbying bill

LANSING - A lobbyist reform bill which sparked a 1979 legislative battle in the statehouse earlier this year cleared the House Judiciary Committee Tuesday and may be acted on by the full House next week.

The bill, which has been championed by lawmakers and interest groups backing the bill, would set new standards for lobbying officials in Michigan. The bill, already approved by the Senate, is expected to be taken up by the House next week. There is no indication when or how the state House will act on the measure.

The bill would require lobbyists to register with the state and file quarterly reports on how much they spend and what clients they have. The state House would be the first body to consider the measure.

Rhappor bylaw clarification

tabled at RHA's first meeting

A proposal to clarify the bylaws which define the structure of the board of directors for RHA's, the Residents Hall Association's newspaper, was called Wednesday at RHA's first meeting of the academic year. The proposal, which seeks to change the structure of the newspaper's board, was not adopted because of a lack of support with RHA's bylaws.

Rhappor's board of directors is currently comprised of seven directors, three of whom are from RHA's, and eight members appointed as ex-officio member. However, the remaining members appointed as directors to the board are the editors-in-chief for the newspaper's board. Rhappor, which was begun this spring term, has been housed in a building owned by the Student Affairs Office.

Micheal Zimmerman, RHA president, said the change in the board's structure would mean that the new directors would have the opportunity to suggest the directors, who currently are appointed as directors to the board.

The proposal will be considered on Jan. 25, 1979.

Order your Christmas gifts now! And we'll be ready for the holidays!
At Tech Hifi, it's returnable.

OPEN THIS SUNDAY Sept. 24th

When you buy components at Tech Hifi, you have nothing to worry about.

Because at Tech Hifi, everything is returnable.

We give you a seven-day moneyback guarantee in writing. It lets you take an entire week to decide if you're really crazy about what you've bought.

If there's anything you don't love about how our equipment sounds (or looks) in your home, we'll give your money back. Without giving you the third degree.

Also, the equipment you buy at Tech Hifi is returnable if any defects occur for up to 2 months after your purchase. We'll make all repairs free within three days, or else give you a new unit.

Our $299 system sounds so good, it's returnable.

This week's featured $299 system at Tech Hifi offers outstanding performance for a reasonable price.

It starts with Pioneer's popular SX450 AM/FM stereo receiver. The SX450 has ample power and all the "most-wanted" features. If you compare FM specs, you'll find the SX450 compares favorably with receivers that sell for as much as this whole system!

The SX450 powers a pair of brand-new Kenwood LSK 100 loudspeakers. Each well-finished walnut vinyl enclosure contains a 6½" woofer with extra-long excursion for good bass and power handling. And there's a concentric 2" whizzer cone for treble frequencies.

To complete this system, we're including a Collaro 1253 automatic turntable by Philips. The 1253's synchronous motor and unusually heavy platter contribute to smooth, steady rotation. And its magnetic cartridge and light-tracking tonearm will treat your records with respect. A base and dustcover are included.

In addition to our 7-day moneyback and 60-day defective exchange guarantees, you'll also receive our 90-day 100% trade-in, 1-year loudspeaker trial, and 30-day price protection guarantee.

WASHINGTON — A TV reporter died Friday as she tried to cover a motorcycle accident during a live broadcast, while a local city official was injured as he tried to help her.

The motorcycle accident happened on a busy street in downtown Washington, D.C. The 35-year-old reporter was covering the scene for a local news channel when the accident occurred. She was thrown from her motorcycle and died at the scene, police said.

The city official, who was also covering the accident, was taken to a hospital with minor injuries. He has not been identified.

The accident is the latest in a string of incidents involving news professionals in recent years. Last week, a cameraman was injured while filming a protest in Ferguson, Missouri.

The newsroom is in shock and grief, with colleagues paying tribute to the fallen journalist. "We are heartbroken by the loss of our colleague," said the news channel's general manager. "She was a talented and dedicated reporter who went out of her way to cover the news."

The city is working to ensure the safety of its news professionals, with plans to improve safety protocols and training. "We are committed to making sure our reporters and camera crews are safe on the job," said the city's chief of police. "We will be putting in place additional safety measures as soon as possible."

The newsroom is dedicated to covering the news safely and professionally, with a focus on safety and protection. "We promise to continue to report the news with integrity and dedication," said the news channel's general manager. "We will do our part to ensure the safety of our colleagues."

Carter's ratings up since Camp David

NEW YORK, Dec. 21 (UPI) - As Carter's ratings soared, the administration's overall ratings of the Camp David accords were virtually unchanged. The AP-NORC News poll showed the president's approval rating up to 30 percent in November, but Carter's approval rating last month was 29 percent. The poll indicated that 84 percent of those surveyed approved of Carter's handling of the Middle East peace talks. This is the highest percentage ever recorded for a president in November. The poll also showed that 48 percent of those interviewed approved of the peace talks, while 38 percent disapproved. Carter's approval rating last month was 28 percent. The poll also showed that 48 percent of those surveyed approved of Carter's handling of the peace talks, while 38 percent disapproved. Carter's approval rating last month was 28 percent.

Birthday card makes rounds
ANAPOLIS, MD., Dec. 21 (UP) - One of the most memorable moments of the Carter administration was the birthday card sent to the president by a 7-year-old girl named Sarah, who was 7 years old when she received a birthday card from President Carter. The card read: "Happy Birthday, President Carter. I want to thank you for being a good President." Sarah's card was one of the more than 100,000 cards sent to the president by schoolchildren across the country. Sarah said she wanted to thank the president for being a good President.

PRACTITIONERS LEAVING STATE

Survey reveals doctors departures

By PAUL COUS

State News Staff Writer

General practice practitioners are leaving Detroit at an "alarming rate," according to a 1983 study done by researchers at Michigan State University.

"State-general practitioners provide the primary level of care to Michigan's citizens," said Dr. George Rainess, assistant professor of urban development and economics studies, who directed the research.

"The breakdown in the referral system requires a person to perform duplications and referrals," he said.

The study, conducted by Rainess with the help of over 50 MSU students, included data on all physicians who practiced in Detroit between 1961 and 1975. In the period between 1960 and 1973, 30 percent of all practicing physicians left the area within four years.

Detroit has a shortage of doctors to treat the national average. Rainess said, but in 1977 only 12.5 percent of the doctors were general practitioners and 87.5 percent were specialists.

There is no adequate supply of doctors in hospitals, clinics and health maintenance organizations but there is a lack of general practitioners in Detroit, Rainess said. He added that more doctors in Detroit are medical residents or fellowship training in areas where there is a greater shortage of general practitioners.

"There should be an alternative of office-based practices," Rainess said.

Carriers of Michigan medical schools are also pushing doctors to refer patients to Detroit hospitals at lower rates. Rainess said.

He said the city has the single largest tax, malpractice insurance and Michigan's medical education requirement as prior causes for the doctor's exodus.

The new 10% car loan from your credit union.

No one in town can give you a better deal ...except your rich grandmother!

While the cost of new cars and trucks is going up, the cost of financing one at your credit union just went down. To an annual percentage rate of just 10%.

Nowhere else in town will you find such a low rate unless you're lucky enough to have a well-heeled — and generous — ancestor.

Generally, there's no down payment required with credit union financing and loan protection (credit life insurance) is provided at no additional charge to eligible members.

The 10% new car loan rate is available for new 1978 and 1979 model cars and trucks December 1, 1978. The credit union also offers a very favorable rate for demonstrators and other used cars.

Arrange your financing before you go new car shopping. Simply stop by or give us a call. Just ask for the "Grandmother Loan!" We'll know what you mean!
