Knesset: Camp David—‘yes’

BY ARTHUR MAX

JERUSALEM (AP)—The Israeli politicians who comprised the Camp David delegation were busy Tuesday preparing a free-wheeling lobbying tour of the United States to drum up support for the Israeli-Palestinian Peace Treaty, which was signed last week.

This would be the first time that an Israeli delegation has ever visited the United States with such an open-ended agenda. The delegation, which included Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin, Foreign Minister Shimon Peres, and Defense Minister Moshe Arens, will meet with leaders of both parties and work to ensure overwhelming U.S. support for the treaty.

The delegation will visit Washington, New York, Chicago, and San Francisco over the next week, where they will meet with members of Congress, business leaders, and labor officials to build momentum for the treaty.

The delegation is expected to focus on the key issues of security, economic development, and trade between Israel and the United States.

Turkish-American relations improve

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Premier Ecevit contended Wednesday that many of the sensitivities existing between two major powers must be solved by mutual efforts. Ecevit, speaking with reporters at a news conference, contended that his administration must work toward the goal of mutual respect. He also dismissed reports that Turkey was seeking to improve relations with the United States.

Senate committee votes break for home sellers

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The Senate Appropriations Committee voted Wednesday to break a logjam on a bill that would boost home sellers by allowing them to defer taxes on gains made in the sale of their homes.

PPB burial pit dug outside initial area

LANSING, Mich. — Natural Resource Director Howard Tanner confirmed Wednesday that the PPB burial pit near St. Francis would be moved to a new site near St. Francis to avoid the area designated as an initial area.

SAND DIEGO (UPI) — A federal investigator said Wednesday that the third plane involved in a crash near the San Diego International Airport was not a factor in the disaster.

Senate approves stripped weapons bill

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The Senate approved a stripped-down version of a weapons bill Wednesday that stripped the nuclear ban from the measure.

Strike cripples U.S. railroads

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The strike cripples the nation's railroads Wednesday by stalling freight rates on the West Coast and the Midwest. The strike, which began Monday, has left millions of Americans stranded, and the shutdown has lasted for three days. The strike is the latest in a series of labor disputes that have plagued the rail industry in recent years. The strike is expected to last for at least another week, and officials are calling for a quick resolution to avoid further economic disruption.

Politicized Senate rules under fire

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The Senate rules under fire Tuesday, after a Democrat accused the majority leader of using his position to undermine the Senate's independence. The Democrat said the majority leader was using his position to impose his will on the Senate, and that he was using his power to suppress minority views. The majority leader denied the charges, saying that he was simply using his position to ensure that the Senate's decisions were made in the best interests of the nation.

Senate panel's anti-abortion split

By NANCY BOGGS

"Political football" may have influenced some members of a Senate committee to vote
Tuesday to remove an abortion language in the state Medicaid budget.

In a Senate Appropriations Committee meeting Tuesday morning, 8 to 3, the Senate budget that would provide state funding for abortion was altered. The House budget that would provide state funding for abortion was released Tuesday morning for floor debate.

"We told them no!," said Sen. Leonard Zutaut, R-Riverdale, who voted to remove the abortion language. "But I think they voted against the public welfare.

"There were two votes," Sen. Alvin J. Donnelly, said, "but I don't know much.

"I don't think they really understand what was done," he said. "A lot of Democrats are upset, and a lot of Catholics are very upset about it.

"It's the only way we can help them..."

Despite Douglas Bush's pronouncements with "the bows" regarding their proposed deal, Iowa Republican Clayton Barlow's community group opponent has made a go of it. In her recent letter to the State News, Barlow wrote that the MSU East Lansing Compostition Center at 510 E. Grand River Ave., is "another example of a poorly conceived project that would benefit our community.

Secondly, Barlow wrote that the proposed landfill site should be rethought as an idea for a small business research facility.

However, Miller argues that the SLEP for a Commercial Community Notes the courts to order a W industrial zoning for the area. This includes the possibility of inclusion in the East Lansing Comprehensive Development Plan, which would have been a guideline for zoning decisions for the previous years.

Quartet shows passion and power

By MIKE BUSER
State News/Reuter

The Juilliard String Quartet presented an evening of melodious music at the Auditorium of the Michigan Union Thursday evening.

The Juilliard String Quartet is one of the most recognized and respected groups in the world of classical music. They have performed in many of the major concert halls and have won numerous awards for their interpretations of classical music. The quartet is known for their technical precision and their ability to convey the emotions and nuances of the music they perform.

Their performance at the Michigan Union was no exception. The audience was captivated by the musicians' virtuosity and their ability to communicate the emotional depth of the works they performed. The Juilliard String Quartet's performance was a testament to the power of classical music to move and inspire audiences.

The quartet performed a variety of works, including Beethoven's String Quartet in A Major, Op. 18, No. 1 and Schubert's String Quartet in C Major, D. 127. Each piece was performed with great intensity and emotion, and the musicians demonstrated an amazing level of coordination and precision.

The Michigan Union was packed to capacity for the sold-out event. The enthusiastic audience gave the quartet a standing ovation, and the musicians responded with an encore performance of their own. The evening was a memorable and inspiring experience for all who were lucky enough to attend.

The Juilliard String Quartet continues to be a leading force in the world of classical music. Their dedication to their craft and their ability to connect with audiences make them a beloved and respected group. The performance at the Michigan Union was a testament to their talent and their ongoing commitment to the art of music.
Gibson not worried about slow start

By LOTTIE CENTER

It's been a while since the MU football team has practiced in All-American Bowl Tests, but that never stunts its efforts to prepare for the Los Angeles Rams, that meet the Spartans in the third round of the All-American Bowl Series, on Thanksgiving Day.

"The players may have a few more days off than usual but they're not going to let up," Gibson said. "They're as excited as you and I would be if we were playing against the Rams." The team is also preparing for the first round of the Michigan State Defense Invitational, which will begin tonight in Lansing.

"We're a very young team," Gibson said. "We're not going to worry about the slow start. We're just going to do the best we can." The team is looking to improve on its record of 0-0-0 against the Rams, but they're not going to let up. The team is determined to win, and they're working hard to achieve their goal. They're not going to let up on their practice, and they're going to do the best they can. They're determined to win, and they're going to do their best.

In many parts of the country the average cost of car insurance has risen over 40% in the past five years. Liability insurance protects you against the claims of others. But, just like that of any insurance, is based on what the insurance company believes it has to pay in claims plus its overhead. The cost of everybody’s individual liability insurance is affected by large court settlements and exaggerated claims.

Although liability insurance is required by law in many states, in light of the real threat to high settlements, you should be sure that your coverage is adequate.

But in the “voluntary” part of your car insurance—collision and comprehensive—there’s nothing to stop drivers with a good past history from taking a real risk. In the face of rising rates, you should be sure that your coverage is adequate.

In order to minimize traffic violations and to improve their driving record, some drivers are considering reducing or suspending their auto insurance. The Federal Highway Administration is working on programs to reduce traffic violations.

In the meantime, it’s important to know your rights and responsibilities when it comes to car insurance. This article will help you understand the basics of car insurance and how to make sure you’re covered.

Gluckler and Catherine Donatello admire their "miracle baby," Angelia Rose, who was thought to be due in October but was born September 19, 1980. The baby was carried almost full term inside her mother's abdominal cavity instead of her womb. An abdominal pregnancy is a rare form of pregancy that occurs outside the uterus.

Principal loses position after spanking students

Better button-up: carpenters predict we'll have another long, cold winter principals who abuse their students are an offensive problem that needs to be dealt with.

The charges against the principal, Reginald Christie, come after an investigation revealed excessive force and inappropriate conduct.

"Children need to be treated with respect and dignity," said one of the investigators.

The administration said they would be taking the necessary steps to ensure the safety and well-being of all students.

"We are committed to creating a safe and inclusive environment for all our students," said the principal.

In other news:

- The local carpenters union is predicting another long, cold winter for the area. The group says they are prepared for the upcoming season and are urging people to prepare their homes and cars accordingly.

- The local school district has announced that they will be implementing new policies to prevent future incidents of abuse.

- Parents have been urged to monitor their children’s behavior and to report any concerns to the school.

Tripling for freshmen not a new phenomenon

However, the University did face some problems with residence hall space. Students were encouraged to use the dormitories during the summer months. The University also began to provide more student housing options. Because of these efforts, the percentage of students living in residence halls increased from 40% in the 1940s to over 70% in the 1970s. This increase in residence hall use has continued to the present day. The University has added more residence halls to meet the increasing demand for housing. Currently, the University has over 15 residence halls on campus to accommodate the growing student population.
"'U' planners formulate suggestions

By KIM CRANDALL
State News Staff Writer

"U' planners are formulating suggestions for the proposed University of Michigan Highway at the meeting of the University Highway Study Committee. The proposed highway would run along the north side of the campus and the site of the old East Field.

The meeting, held at 3:30 p.m. Thursday, October 3, was attended by a large number of students and faculty members who are interested in the proposed highway. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss the possible effects of the highway on the campus environment and to obtain suggestions for its design.

One of the main issues discussed was the potential impact of the highway on traffic congestion in the area. A student representative from the Michigan Traffic Club spoke about the need for better public transportation on campus to reduce the reliance on personal vehicles.

Another concern expressed was the potential displacement of existing buildings and the disruption of academic activities. A representative from the Department of Mathematics discussed the possibility of relocating the department to new facilities near the proposed highway.

The meeting was open to the public, and anyone interested in the proposed highway is encouraged to attend future meetings to share their thoughts and suggestions.

The next meeting of the University Highway Study Committee is scheduled for November 7 at 3:30 p.m. The meeting will be held in the University Center. All interested parties are welcome to attend.
‘Pirate’ broadcasting unusual hobby

JILL WHITACRE
State News Staff Writer

Jill Whitacre, a writer on the organization and operation of the new medium of broadcasting, has become a major attention-getter in London recently. Whitacre's program is the first of its kind in the country and has received a great deal of attention.

Whitacre has been broadcasting at different stations throughout the city, and has been successful in creating a unique and appealing program. The program is broadcast during the hours of 8 a.m. to 11 p.m., Monday through Saturday, and is aimed at reaching a specific audience.

This month, Whitacre's program, which focuses on current events and entertainment, has been gaining a large following. The program features interviews with guests from various fields, including politics, music, and literature.

Whitacre's success in broadcasting has been recognized by the government, as well as by the public. The program has received positive reviews and has been praised for its unique format and approach.

The program is a testament to the power of broadcasting, as it has the ability to reach a large audience and provide valuable information and entertainment. Whitacre's success in broadcasting is a testament to the potential of the medium.

Transportation planners seek E.L. citizen input

Citizen remains on East Lansing transportation advisory panel, and has been vocal in discussions on the city's transportation plans. The panel's mission is to provide input and recommendations to the city's transportation department.

The panel is made up of various members, including city council members, transportation experts, and residents. The panel has been meeting regularly to discuss transportation issues and make recommendations.

Citizens interested in participating in the panel are encouraged to contact the city's transportation department for more information.
