Budget cut may stall MSU building plans

By MARVIN BRADFORD

The funding of Lake Lansing, which began Thursday after a year of delay, may be in jeopardy because of a recent legal decision. The Michigan Court of Appeals has ruled that the Michigan Board of Finance is not bound to the Michigan Constitution's right to a trial by jury.

Members of the Board of Education and the Michigan Board of Finance have been asked to consider the possibility of terminating the effort to build a new Lake Lansing complex.

The funding of Lake Lansing, which began Thursday after a year of delay, may be in jeopardy because of a recent legal decision. The Michigan Court of Appeals has ruled that the Michigan Board of Finance is not bound to the Michigan Constitution's right to a trial by jury.

Members of the Board of Education and the Michigan Board of Finance have been asked to consider the possibility of terminating the effort to build a new Lake Lansing complex.

Legal questions stop dredging operations at Lake Lansing site

By MARVIN BRADFORD

The funding of Lake Lansing, which began Thursday after a year of delay, may be in jeopardy because of a recent legal decision. The Michigan Court of Appeals has ruled that the Michigan Board of Finance is not bound to the Michigan Constitution's right to a trial by jury.

Members of the Board of Education and the Michigan Board of Finance have been asked to consider the possibility of terminating the effort to build a new Lake Lansing complex.

The funding of Lake Lansing, which began Thursday after a year of delay, may be in jeopardy because of a recent legal decision. The Michigan Court of Appeals has ruled that the Michigan Board of Finance is not bound to the Michigan Constitution's right to a trial by jury.

Members of the Board of Education and the Michigan Board of Finance have been asked to consider the possibility of terminating the effort to build a new Lake Lansing complex.

The funding of Lake Lansing, which began Thursday after a year of delay, may be in jeopardy because of a recent legal decision. The Michigan Court of Appeals has ruled that the Michigan Board of Finance is not bound to the Michigan Constitution's right to a trial by jury.

Members of the Board of Education and the Michigan Board of Finance have been asked to consider the possibility of terminating the effort to build a new Lake Lansing complex.

The funding of Lake Lansing, which began Thursday after a year of delay, may be in jeopardy because of a recent legal decision. The Michigan Court of Appeals has ruled that the Michigan Board of Finance is not bound to the Michigan Constitution's right to a trial by jury.

Members of the Board of Education and the Michigan Board of Finance have been asked to consider the possibility of terminating the effort to build a new Lake Lansing complex.

The funding of Lake Lansing, which began Thursday after a year of delay, may be in jeopardy because of a recent legal decision. The Michigan Court of Appeals has ruled that the Michigan Board of Finance is not bound to the Michigan Constitution's right to a trial by jury.

Members of the Board of Education and the Michigan Board of Finance have been asked to consider the possibility of terminating the effort to build a new Lake Lansing complex.

The funding of Lake Lansing, which began Thursday after a year of delay, may be in jeopardy because of a recent legal decision. The Michigan Court of Appeals has ruled that the Michigan Board of Finance is not bound to the Michigan Constitution's right to a trial by jury.

Members of the Board of Education and the Michigan Board of Finance have been asked to consider the possibility of terminating the effort to build a new Lake Lansing complex.

The funding of Lake Lansing, which began Thursday after a year of delay, may be in jeopardy because of a recent legal decision. The Michigan Court of Appeals has ruled that the Michigan Board of Finance is not bound to the Michigan Constitution's right to a trial by jury.

Members of the Board of Education and the Michigan Board of Finance have been asked to consider the possibility of terminating the effort to build a new Lake Lansing complex.

The funding of Lake Lansing, which began Thursday after a year of delay, may be in jeopardy because of a recent legal decision. The Michigan Court of Appeals has ruled that the Michigan Board of Finance is not bound to the Michigan Constitution's right to a trial by jury.

Members of the Board of Education and the Michigan Board of Finance have been asked to consider the possibility of terminating the effort to build a new Lake Lansing complex.

The funding of Lake Lansing, which began Thursday after a year of delay, may be in jeopardy because of a recent legal decision. The Michigan Court of Appeals has ruled that the Michigan Board of Finance is not bound to the Michigan Constitution's right to a trial by jury.

Members of the Board of Education and the Michigan Board of Finance have been asked to consider the possibility of terminating the effort to build a new Lake Lansing complex.

The funding of Lake Lansing, which began Thursday after a year of delay, may be in jeopardy because of a recent legal decision. The Michigan Court of Appeals has ruled that the Michigan Board of Finance is not bound to the Michigan Constitution's right to a trial by jury.

Members of the Board of Education and the Michigan Board of Finance have been asked to consider the possibility of terminating the effort to build a new Lake Lansing complex.

The funding of Lake Lansing, which began Thursday after a year of delay, may be in jeopardy because of a recent legal decision. The Michigan Court of Appeals has ruled that the Michigan Board of Finance is not bound to the Michigan Constitution's right to a trial by jury.

Members of the Board of Education and the Michigan Board of Finance have been asked to consider the possibility of terminating the effort to build a new Lake Lansing complex.
Iran reacts to Senate criticism

President Carter announced Monday he had decided to appeal to the Senate, which rejected last week by a narrow margin his plan to open talks with Iran, for permission to continue the negotiations.

Carter's move was a major blow to moderates in the Senate who had opposed the nuclear talks. The Senate rejected the plan by a margin of 52 to 48, with Democrats voting for and against it evenly split and three of the 26 Republicans voting against.

The White House said Carter would work with Senate leaders to try to find a way to continue the talks. The president also said he would seek to change the Senate rule that requires a two-thirds majority to remove sanctions against Iran.

The Senate's rejection of the plan came despite Carter's efforts to win over senators. He met with them individually and called a series of meetings to try to build support for his plan.

But the Senate remained divided, with many lawmakers expressing concerns about the talks with Iran and the president's handling of the Middle East.

The Senate's vote was a setback for Carter's efforts to revitalize his foreign policy after a series of setbacks in the past year. The president had hoped to use the talks with Iran as a way to push for a broader peace process in the Middle East.

But the Senate's rejection of the plan has left Carter with little hope of getting the support he needs to continue the talks. He has already said he is willing to go to the American people for a mandate if he cannot get the Senate's support.

The president's next move is likely to be a request for new legislation to authorize the nuclear talks. He has already asked Congress to lift sanctions against Iran, which have been in place since 1979.

The Senate's rejection of the plan also raises the possibility of a confrontation with Congress over Carter's foreign policy. The president has already been criticized for his handling of the Iran hostages crisis and for his efforts to negotiate with the Soviet Union.

The Senate's action is likely to be the first of many hurdles Carter will face in his efforts to revitalize his foreign policy.

In the meantime, Carter is expected to continue to work with Congress to try to build support for his plan. The president has already said he would be willing to make changes to the plan to try to get the Senate's support.

But the Senate's rejection of the plan has left Carter with little hope of getting the support he needs to continue the talks. He has already said he is willing to go to the American people for a mandate if he cannot get the Senate's support.

The president's next move is likely to be a request for new legislation to authorize the nuclear talks. He has already asked Congress to lift sanctions against Iran, which have been in place since 1979.

The Senate's rejection of the plan also raises the possibility of a confrontation with Congress over Carter's foreign policy. The president has already been criticized for his handling of the Iran hostages crisis and for his efforts to negotiate with the Soviet Union.

The Senate's action is likely to be the first of many hurdles Carter will face in his efforts to revitalize his foreign policy.

In the meantime, Carter is expected to continue to work with Congress to try to build support for his plan. The president has already said he would be willing to make changes to the plan to try to get the Senate's support.

But the Senate's rejection of the plan has left Carter with little hope of getting the support he needs to continue the talks. He has already said he is willing to go to the American people for a mandate if he cannot get the Senate's support.
Postal service will attempt to standardize mailing to cut down on hand processing

By DEBBIE KNUTH

The United States Postal Service is trying to standardize mailing and reduce costs at the processing centers. There are plans to reduce the size of envelopes and the weight of mail. The mail will be delivered in a more uniform manner, which will reduce the time it takes for mail to be processed.

All envelopes will be required to have a bar code on the back, marked "mailable," for the easier sorting process. The new system is expected to save the postal service millions of dollars annually.

The cost of sorting mail is one of the biggest expenses for the postal service. By standardizing the format, the postal service hopes to reduce the cost of sorting and increase efficiency.

Fall schedule books offered

Full term schedule books will be available in the MSU Union, International Center and MSU Museum starting Monday, October 16. They will also be available at all MSU Bookstores.

Complimentary course registration seminar will be held from the 14th to the 19th, from 8:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. in 340 Union South. This seminar is designed to help students register for courses in a timely and efficient manner.

Regional survey reflects primary concerns

Health costs, preventive education cited

By JIMmy HIME

Accident changes student's life

By ANDRE SIEFFEL

Although he's only 21, Paul Mueller has already had two serious accidents in his life. Mueller was a high school student when he was injured in an auto accident and is now a college student who has been paralyzed for over a year. The accident occurred during a summer job in his hometown of Midland.

Mueller was riding his unicycle when he struck a car. He sustained injuries to his head, neck, and spine and has been in a wheelchair ever since. He is currently undergoing physical therapy at the MSU Health Center.

Mueller's accident has caused him to reevaluate his life and interests. He now plans to pursue a degree in occupational therapy and hopes to help others who have experienced similar accidents.

Teaching forms due

Applications for spring 1983 student teaching programs must be turned in to the Department of Education, Office of Undergraduate Studies. Applications are due by November 15.

Habitual defiers of gravity meet

By DIANE STEELE

Every year in the fall of the academic year, the Michigan State University Student Body is faced with the challenge of keeping the Student Body within the limits of the university's rules and regulations. This year, the Student Body has been directed by the Student Body Council to participate in a campaign to encourage students to follow the rules and regulations of the university.

The Student Body Council has proposed several ideas to help encourage students to follow the rules, including a series of presentations by representatives of various organizations on campus, a poster contest, and a series of lectures on the importance of following the rules and regulations.

The campaign is being funded by a grant from the Student Body Council, which is hoping to see an increase in the number of students who follow the rules and regulations of the university.
Vote 'yes' today

The Residence Halls Association will wrap up a dual issue referendum today, asking students to vote on a proposed boycott of products marketed by Israeli companies. A yes vote would result in a possible residence hall rent increase from the current $71.75 to $223. We urge passage of both proposals.

The Nestle issue has been in the public eye for some time now, kept alive to group concerns by publishing the public awareness of Nestle supporting a controversial infant formula in Third World countries. The most visible of these was the INF anti-Nestle campaign, bringing in the public eye the swindle of an MNC for a few months ago in an attempt to drum up support for a University-wide boycott of Nestle products. INF ACT is working hard at getting its issue on the residence hall ballots and campaigns educating dorm living about the Nestle boycott. INF ACT has tried to encourage enough voters to enable them to make the decision to support a ban of Nestle products from the entire residence hall community.

The University, in numbers alone, could have a major impact on Nestle revenues and could be influential in changing Nestle's formula selling policy — precisely what the boycott is supposed to do. Hundreds of people care are already becoming active. Please on an informal basis that hill a bill that would force a landlord to turn over a deposit made before a lease is signed. Without such laws, some tenants may feel they have no choice but to pay the landlord. In some cases, landlords require money just to guarantee the chance of a lease. In other words, landlords require payment even if the tenant subsequently finds another landlord. Because of these overlaps, both bills are practically meaningless.

The proposals that the landlords have put forward, however, and the bills that the lawmakers are proposing, do set out their own priorities for returning security deposits. Under the proposals, security deposit refunds are required to be returned within a certain period of time, and landlords must provide a reason for non-refund of deposits. These provisions are intended to provide tenants with a means of recovering their security deposits if they have been wronged by the landlord. The landlords have also proposed that tenants must make a formal request for a refund of deposits, which would then be investigated by the landlord and the state. If the landlord does not return the deposit within the required period of time, the tenant may file a claim with the state for the return of the security deposit.

Viewpoint: Myths

ASMSU monster spawned by SN

By NESTLE,

05:00 AM 14-01-99

Worse, public opinion may change the landscape of racial and economic issues. It may even lead to the reruns. As the current public opinion may change the landscape of racial and economic issues, it is important to remember that the current public opinion may change the landscape of racial and economic issues.

The ASMSU monster has been confounding its detractors since April 26, but it will be in full force by the 25th in the spring of 99. The ASMSU monster may not be as formidable as some of its detractors have suggested, but it is a force to be reckoned with.

As the board of directors, the ASMSU monster has been confounding its detractors since April 26, but it will be in full force by the 25th in the spring of 99. The ASMSU monster may not be as formidable as some of its detractors have suggested, but it is a force to be reckoned with.

The State News publication is intended to bring to the attention of the student body the viewpoints and issues that affect students at Michigan State University. It is intended to be a forum for the exchange of ideas and opinions, and all contributions are welcome.

The State News is the student newspaper of Michigan State University. It is published weekly during the academic year and monthly during the summer. The paper is published by the Michigan State University Student News Service, a student-run organization.

The viewpoints expressed in this publication do not necessarily represent the views of the Michigan State University Student News Service, the Michigan State University administration, or the Michigan State University Board of Trustees. The Michigan State University Student News Service is an independent, student-run organization.

Viewpoint: Activism

Fed up with the bull? Read this

By J. C. REID,

05:00 AM 14-01-99

Letters

Is State News in media conspiracy?

On May 14, 1998, the Michigan State University Board of Trustees voted to disband the State News, the student newspaper of Michigan State University. The vote was made after a series of reports by the Board of Trustees about the paper's financial problems and its lack of profitability.

The Board of Trustees has repeatedly stated that the paper is in financial difficulty and that it is not able to sustain itself. The paper has been struggling to find a way to make ends meet, and the Board of Trustees has been looking for ways to help the paper become financially viable.

The decision to disband the State News was made after a series of meetings between the Board of Trustees and the Michigan State University Student News Service, the student-run organization that publishes the paper. The Board of Trustees has stated that it is committed to finding a way to help the paper become financially viable and that it is willing to work with the Michigan State University Student News Service to find a solution.

The Michigan State University Board of Trustees has stated that it is committed to finding a way to help the paper become financially viable and that it is willing to work with the Michigan State University Student News Service to find a solution.

The Michigan State University Board of Trustees has stated that it is committed to finding a way to help the paper become financially viable and that it is willing to work with the Michigan State University Student News Service to find a solution.

The Michigan State University Board of Trustees has stated that it is committed to finding a way to help the paper become financially viable and that it is willing to work with the Michigan State University Student News Service to find a solution.

The Michigan State University Board of Trustees has stated that it is committed to finding a way to help the paper become financially viable and that it is willing to work with the Michigan State University Student News Service to find a solution.

The Michigan State University Board of Trustees has stated that it is committed to finding a way to help the paper become financially viable and that it is willing to work with the Michigan State University Student News Service to find a solution.

The Michigan State University Board of Trustees has stated that it is committed to finding a way to help the paper become financially viable and that it is willing to work with the Michigan State University Student News Service to find a solution.

The Michigan State University Board of Trustees has stated that it is committed to finding a way to help the paper become financially viable and that it is willing to work with the Michigan State University Student News Service to find a solution.

The Michigan State University Board of Trustees has stated that it is committed to finding a way to help the paper become financially viable and that it is willing to work with the Michigan State University Student News Service to find a solution.

The Michigan State University Board of Trustees has stated that it is committed to finding a way to help the paper become financially viable and that it is willing to work with the Michigan State University Student News Service to find a solution.

The Michigan State University Board of Trustees has stated that it is committed to finding a way to help the paper become financially viable and that it is willing to work with the Michigan State University Student News Service to find a solution.

The Michigan State University Board of Trustees has stated that it is committed to finding a way to help the paper become financially viable and that it is willing to work with the Michigan State University Student News Service to find a solution.

The Michigan State University Board of Trustees has stated that it is committed to finding a way to help the paper become financially viable and that it is willing to work with the Michigan State University Student News Service to find a solution.

The Michigan State University Board of Trustees has stated that it is committed to finding a way to help the paper become financially viable and that it is willing to work with the Michigan State University Student News Service to find a solution.

The Michigan State University Board of Trustees has stated that it is committed to finding a way to help the paper become financially viable and that it is willing to work with the Michigan State University Student News Service to find a solution.

The Michigan State University Board of Trustees has stated that it is committed to finding a way to help the paper become financially viable and that it is willing to work with the Michigan State University Student News Service to find a solution.

The Michigan State University Board of Trustees has stated that it is committed to finding a way to help the paper become financially viable and that it is willing to work with the Michigan State University Student News Service to find a solution.
Entertainment

House well-paced drama

By ROBERT SINGER

Sharon Newman

According to playwright John Guare, his 1969 play House of Blue Leaves is virtually about the concept of "an audience." He states, "It's as if when we enter a theater, we're putting on a mask--we're putting on a performance." The performance would be his play, "an audience." The auditorium would be his stage, and the audience would be his characters.

carol Reilly and Karen Beulla in the Boardwalk Theatre's production of "House of Blue Leaves."

Three Beatles reunite

LONDON—Ex-Beatle John Lennon was the only one of the four Beatles to make a weekend visit to the United States of America, as he was seen in New York City's Times Square on Saturday afternoon. The Beatles are scheduled to meet in London on Monday to discuss the possibility of a planned tour of the United States. The Beatles are expected to leave for America on Tuesday.

The reunion of Brian, Paul McCartney, and Ringo Starr took place at the Capitol's offices in London. About 20 minutes from London, the paper said.

The following days have been the most successful for the Beatles, who were already popular in the United States. They played in New York last week, and were scheduled to appear in Chicago and Los Angeles this week. The Beatles are expected to return to London after their American tour.

FRIENDSHIP IS GOLDEN... THE GIFT SHOULD BE TOO.

14k NECK CHAINS from $20
14K WRIST CHAINS $9

Miss J sleeps and lounges in the cool of petticoats and check twin prints.

Don't keep your Graduation a Secret...

announcements are now available at the MSU Bookstore customer service desk. Order yours now!!

Computer Laboratory

SEMINAR

An overview of computer languages that are currently available for microcomputers will be the theme of a Computer Laboratory-sponsored seminar at 7:00 p.m. on Tuesday, May 22, at the University of Michigan. The seminar will meet on Tuesday, May 22, at 7:00 p.m. in room 3020B.

Allen's Gong in Ann Arbor

Eastern rock to roll fans should have a real day tonight if they make it down to Ann Arbor for the Allen's Gong concert. Playing at the club will be, in several different permutations, David Allen's Gong. With Allen will be the New York band the Lord's Prayer, the Rolling Stones' Brian Jones, the Zapo and Ceito and John Lennon and Paul McCartney. The band's tour is in support of their latest album, "The Birds and the Bees".

David Allen is a west legenary music figure who originally came to fame in the early 1960s with the Rolling Stones and the Lord's Prayer. Since then, he has worked with a variety of other musicians, including Beatles and the Rolling Stones. Allen's Gong is a band that combines elements of rock, blues, and folk music. The band's sound is characterized by Allen's distinctive vocal style and the use of large-scale, stadium-style settings.

The band's concert is scheduled for 9:00 p.m. at Allen's Gong, located at 100 East Michigan Avenue in downtown Ann Arbor. Tickets for the performance are available at the Bookstore, but they will sell out quickly. The performance begins at 9:00 p.m.
The MSU women's novice four crew team is on its way to capturing first place Saturday as the women's rowing team at Grand Rapids where Grand Valley State College is hosting the State of Michigan meet.

Cherly Fish

Not always gentlemen

There used to be known as a "gentleman's game," but a new era has come for the sport of rowing. Gone are the days of the gentlemanly regatta, and in its place has come a more competitive atmosphere. Three rowers have been suspended from varsity competition due to their transgressions.

This year's regatta, which MSU hosted, Saturday, both the men's and women's teams will be traveling to Big Rapids where Grand Valley State College is hosting the State of Michigan meet.

The MSU women's novice four crew team is on its way to capturing first place Saturday as the women's rowing team at Grand Rapids where Grand Valley State College is hosting the State of Michigan meet.

Ricky Flowers

Flowers is 'outstanding'

Although he has few accolades for his outstanding row. Flowers also was the onlooker with a 3.25 GPA. But I think he is someone who will be better at Michigan. He's much more talented than his 3.25 GPA suggests. I think he's someone who will do well in our first few races. He's got a bright future ahead of him.

Spartan baseball hosts regional this weekend

In the Big Ten's champion MSU baseball team enters NCAA tournament play for the second consecutive year and remains as the nation's best team. The Spartans are the defending national champions and won the Big Ten title.

Netters end season

The MSU women's tennis team ended its season over the weekend with a trip to the NCAA tournament at the University of Michigan. The team ended its season with a 10-0 win over the University of Illinois in the first round of the tournament. The team then fell to the University of Michigan in the second round. The team finished the season with a 20-5 record. The team was coached by Steve Buss, who is retiring after this season.

TODAY

Good sheets of goods available

POP ENTERTAINMENT IN ASSOCIATION WITH WHC PRESENTS

Bad Company

With special guest

TOMORROW

CARRILLO

Tuesday May 22, 8:30PM, JENISON FIELDHOUSE

RESERVED SEATING $50 & $30

TICKETS AVAILABLE AT MSU BOX OFFICE, COMET CONCERTS, SOUNDS AND DANCES, AND MSU MARINE MUSIC.
Manslaughter verdict

(Manslaughter verdict continued from page 1)

Tuesday, May 22, 1979

Jackson inmates treated

The notorious all-female Jackson Women's Prison in Jackson, Michigan was the scene of treatment for three patients who had been treated at the prison hospital. One patient was a 30-year-old woman who was transferred to Jackson Women's Hospital after suffering a heart attack. She was admitted to the hospital with a diagnosis of acute myocardial infarction. The other two patients were a 22-year-old woman who was transferred to Jackson Women's Hospital after suffering a stroke and a 24-year-old woman who was transferred to Jackson Women's Hospital after suffering a seizure.

Politics and Islam discussed tonight

The political future of Islam was the topic of discussion at a meeting of the Islamic Association of America. The meeting was held at the Islamic Center of America in Detroit. The discussion was led by Dr. Mohamad El-Tayeb, the president of the Islamic Association of America. El-Tayeb discussed the role of Islam in politics and the challenges facing Muslims in the United States. He also discussed the importance of education and awareness in promoting a positive image of Islam in the United States. The meeting was attended by a large group of Muslims from around the Detroit area.

Announcements

Announcements of its staff's current activities and events are invited and published free of charge. Information should be submitted to the Community News, 279 West 16th Street, Detroit, Michigan 48226. The Community News office is open weekdays from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. and Sunday from 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m.

STATE NEWS CLASSIFIED

355-8255
Money recovered from river bottom

Underwater and scuba diving instructors said that the wallet was found in Red Cedar River but remained a mystery. The wallet contained the only "memorabilia" in it: a picture of the MSU Student Body President, Bailey, who was not on campus when the wallet was found.

The wallet was turned over to the police, who have not released any further details.

Iranian grad talks tonight

A "Social Histories of the Struggle for Liberation in Iran" series, which is sponsored by the Center for Middle Eastern Studies, is an opportunity for students to discuss the events of the 1979 Revolution.

Dr. Ali-Akbar Vahidi, who is a member of the Iranian government's "National Council of Resistance," will be the guest speaker. The event is sponsored by the Middle Eastern Studies Program.

Zoning on agenda

The East Lansing City Council will discuss zoning regulations for commercial areas in the city.

Brian Bailey

The Roots Band with TONY BROWN

ELIZA'S WINDING GUITAR

MSU NCAA CHAMPIONSHIPS

BEAT INFLATION... while saving lives!!

$9.00 cash paid for each donation
$11.00 cash paid for second donation if you donate twice in one week.

YOU MUST BE 18 AND SHOW 2 PIECES OF I.D.

COMING TO:

AMERICAN PLASMA DONOR CENTER

2827 GR. RIVER AVE. E. LANSING, MICH. phone 351-2620

A National Organization dedicated to the preservation of life and tissues.

(From front to back)

Swimming
Sundresses
Exciting
Summer Skirts
Cool

Cotton Pants

THREE WEEK ONLY AND ONLY AT

Grill's

East Lansing

Limited quantity on swimsuit pictured.