Congress debates drafting of women

By JIM ADAMS

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON - President Carter has proposed a reauthorization of women for the draft that has been approved by Congress in the past, but the Senate has rejected it in the past. Carter's proposal would require the reauthorization of women, but it would not be a requirement for the draft.

THE SENATE

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON - The Senate approved the proposal without debate on the floor. The Senate has previously rejected similar proposals. Carter's proposal has been met with mixed reactions, with some in favor and others opposed. The Senate is expected to vote on the proposal in the near future.

U.S.-Canada relations may change

BY CHARLES HANLEY

TOKYO. - The return of the "new" Prime Minister Trudeau means that a fresh energy has been injected into the left and away from the United States. Recently, American neighbors regard the "progressive Liberal" Trudeau as the one true friend of the United States and in the wake of his victory the Liberals will now return to modish advocacy of free trade and liberal programs. Prime Minister Joe Clark's Conservative government, however, made no move to change its policy toward Canada.

Final returns from the election showed the Liberals won majority of 146 seats in the House of Commons, 105 for Clark's Progressive Conservatives and 35 for the separatist New Democrats. The victory was even more remarkable because of a number of demands.

Clark had gained power only nine months ago, ending Trudeau's 13 years in power. In an election that gave the Liberals a solid 1,061,114-vote majority, 31 per cent of the popular conservative vote left in a showdown vote in Parliament and precipitated the new elections.

With all but 1 percent of the popular vote counted, the Liberals had 479,000

Many Canadians view this change as a plan to lead their country's vast energy resources. But the victory already exists in U.S.-Canadian relations over economic and environmental issues.

Canada, for example, is threatened by the World Court, which this week plans to make a determination on the boundary between Canada and the United States. At stake is the resolution of a dispute over water rights and seasonal problems.

Earning $75 to $100 a week at home doing nothing but entering in forms might sound too good to be true.

But that's what a few thousand people are doing in Michigan, often on a part-time basis.

"The work-at-home schemes and never realize they've got a chance," says Capt. Carl Tymey, acting director of the Michigan Department of Consumer's Corporation and Securities Bureau.

 Potential investors are reminded by the bureau to be sure the catalogues they receive in the mail are from reputable sources and to send for information from the bureau, 500 W. Michigan Ave., Lansing.

A person receives in the mail something like "Form to Earn Money at Home. By Addressing Bank Drafts, Bank Notes and other Demand Instruments to certain banks in various parts of the United States and Canada, you must send a registration fee of $6. This price comes with the scheme.

Invention scheme spreads in state

By DAVE VARGA

A groundbreaking state wide scheme which pays $500 a week to the sender, is spreading like wildfire throughout the western Metro area, and the Michigan Department of Consumer's Corporation and Securities Bureau is warning investors.

The scheme involves, in most cases, the sending of checks with letters and promises to be returned.

Potential investors are being cautioned to be sure they are dealing with reputable persons.

The bureau said that the Michigan state law requires a person to have "approved articles for the purpose of delivering the person's legal estate." The person must send a registration fee of $6. This price comes with the scheme.

Draft dont depend on ERA

A generation's worth of students in 4-6 years was taking their first steps in the battle for equality. They were risking their educations, their futures, and their lives to fight for a world where all individuals are treated with respect and dignity. The ERA was a bold move for its time, and its failure was a blow to the movement for women's rights. But that doesn't mean we should give up on the dream of equality for all.

CATA deserves public support

By most estimates, the past year has been a series of triumphs and troubles for the Capital Area Transportation Authority. Bus ridership has bounced back from the dip that followed the start of the state's budget crisis. At the same time, the very lasting element of the public transit authority's growth is its ability to attract and retain riders.

If the spike in fuel prices has been a little bit to blame, there's been a lot more to it. More and more, as fuel prices have climbed, public transportation has become an increasingly attractive option for people who want to save money and reduce their carbon footprint.

Draft could undo military racism

The draft is a relic of an era when men were deemed the only ones fit for military service. In the wake of the war in Vietnam, it is clear that the draft is no longer a viable option. The draft was used to exploit the labor of millions of young men and women, and it failed to meet its stated goals.

However, the question of whether the draft should be abolished has sparked a debate among military experts and policymakers. Some argue that the draft is necessary to maintain a strong military, while others believe that a volunteer army would be more effective.
