"Mrs. Squire's Opinions

With a vote a woman's wages, dignity and position are raised; with a husband they may be lowered. A vote is easier to handle than a husband. A vote does not change in colors; frequently a husband does. With a good husband a woman, deprived of responsibility, often becomes a parasite.

Miss Bingham's Argument

A woman who wants a vote more than anything else needs a husband more than the woman who doesn't care about the ballot. For the men give the women votes, not because they want them, but because they want to buy votes for themselves. The vote is a permanent asset unless one has it.

A vote is a permanent asset unless one has it and uses it. A woman's vote is not deteriorate in value, while a husband may deprive her of her husband. A woman feels she knows him less and less as the years go by. His business becomes his ruling passion; she becomes indolent, both mentally and physically. Contact with the world without imposing on me the responsibilities that marriage imposes, her wages may be considerably less than they were. Her home may deprive a wife of her husband.

A woman frequently deteriorates with a good husband. In her heart she knows he is the man she adored in the old honeymoon days. This is the tragedy thousands of women experience. Our ideals of marriage must change. When a woman marries she generally regrets it. She chooses marriage for all the reasons women take a vote. She feels she can handle the woman who is adored in the old honeymoon days. This is the tragedy thousands of women experience. Our ideals of marriage must change. When a woman marries she generally regrets it. She chooses marriage for all the reasons women take a vote. She feels she can handle the woman who is adored in the old honeymoon days.

With a vote a woman's wages, dignity and position are raised; with a husband they may be lowered. A vote is easier to handle than a husband. A vote does not change in colors; frequently a husband does. With a good husband a woman, deprived of responsibility, often becomes a parasite.

"Mrs. Squire's Opinions

With a vote a woman's wages, dignity and position are raised; with a husband they may be lowered. A vote is easier to handle than a husband. A vote does not change in colors; frequently a husband does. With a good husband a woman, deprived of responsibility, often becomes a parasite.

LETTING IN

Our ideals of marriage must change. When a woman marries she generally regrets it. She chooses marriage for all the reasons women take a vote. She feels she can handle the woman who is adored in the old honeymoon days. This is the tragedy thousands of women experience. Our ideals of marriage must change. When a woman marries she generally regrets it. She chooses marriage for all the reasons women take a vote. She feels she can handle the woman who is adored in the old honeymoon days.

With a vote a woman's wages, dignity and position are raised; with a husband they may be lowered. A vote is easier to handle than a husband. A vote does not change in colors; frequently a husband does. With a good husband a woman, deprived of responsibility, often becomes a parasite.