

WHEN 2,000 PERISHED IN ITALY

July 23, 1930—Earthquake laid in ruins a wide area in southern Italy. This picture, taken in the town of Melfi, shows some of the refugees, their burro laden with a mattress, leaving the scene of desolation.

(Associated Press photo.)