It is highly recommended by over 20,000 doctors and child specialists—and contains more than 18 vital food elements necessary in the diet of the growing child. It is particularly valuable because of the rapid way it adds weight while curbing nervousness and increasing appetite, too. Thousands of nervous people—men and women—use Ovaltine to restore vitality when fatigued. Physicians also recommend it for sleeplessness—and as a strengthening food for nursing mothers, convalescents, and the aged.
