

HELEN TWELVETREES, at right, models a modern wedding gown of bisque satin with short tulle veil, while Adrienne Ames, by way of contrast, displays a bridal ensemble of forty years ago.
(Acme photo.)

FARMS near Covington, Ind., flooded by the Wabash river.
(Acme photo.)

THE "BABY WARD" at the San Francisco zoo.
(Acme photo.)

PROGRESS OF FASHIONS shown at a New York school. From left to right are gowns of the twelfth, thirteenth, early sixteenth, late sixteenth, and seventeenth centuries.
(Associated Press photo.)

90-FOOT DIORAMA, illustrating the generation, transmission, distribution, and utilization of electricity, on exhibit at the World's Fair.
(Apex photo.)