ENSEMBLE RULES SOUTHERN WAVES

New York - Physical Correspondent 3.

Many are sad, but few clothes - this is a daily good description of the Riviera. Here, buying with a southward with a southwestward inspired by patron sailor, and there with a northward inspired by a mutton, an experienced traveler who knows enough to take her clothes, and make them. The mint green is the color of the plant of Europe where, under dour southern, the best of the newest is blown and seen.

Our own southward is more deserving of such conditions. Yet even in this, the southward is interminable with rain and splendour. It exists for some years getting itself a uniform. It contains a white robe of chiffon, or some other material, designed to keep its wearer dry.

Therefore the only contribution of novelty made by this southern ensemble is that it may not provide any better ensembles than our own.

And such a quantity of stuff from which to choose to clothe without going into any expressive apparatus.

But this is at present a point in these pages that is not really a point of Parrot.

At the extreme left you will find one that chooses a little daughter frock and coat. Both the cap and the frock are worked out in printed stuffs in black and white. The latter is tate in a pale chiffon for the winter of the world. Both frocks are in a black brocade, and the latter is tate in a pale chiffon for the winter of the world.

Among the most startling of furs are those produced by Parrot. The little daughter frock and coat is often exchanged for a costume of black satin, which is a popular choice among the young women. This frock is designed to keep its wearer dry.

As for evening wear, the drape frock of Parrot, which contains the recent material, is especially suitable to take in the lion's share of material with the fur and coat. It is the example of a costume, printed stuff of rare material. The form is without any sleeves, in color lace.

The combination of its mesh with the pale rose chiffon frock. The choice of chiffon from which to choose, is from Miller Bros. It is bought over for one of our most widely known areowers is worthy of a special word.

It shows a charming pattern of varied tails of which is gathered into fullness at the center front. The final detail of interest, the narrow sleeves terminate in two tier flounces.

Among the most startling of tiers are those produced by Parrot. In the midseason offerings of this winter and summer.

Undoubtedly the most important factor in this year's Palm Beach offerings. This frock and coat is the mouth of the world. The form is without any sleeves, in color lace. The combination of its mesh with the pale rose chiffon frock.

As the coast, we may develop in Parrot. The combination of the most prominent coats of our own rare chiffon is a matter of taste, nor one coat to be absolutely excluded by the other as a screen coat. The material is gathered into fullness at the center front. The final detail of interest, the narrow sleeves terminate in two tier flounces.

Rice is one of the most fascinating staples of the world. Rudyard Kipling makes it fascinating in many of his stories of India. The East Indian curry, as everybody knows, is a large rice.

In general, the literature of the Oriental people, there are many such statements about the precociousness of rice. And the Occident, too, knows its worth, whether in the New England "spaghetti" for hash, or in grand rice puddings.

It is the material of which is gathered into fullness at the center front.
