Miss K. is not a volubly self-assertive person, but she generally gets her own way. She is an independent thinker, imaginative, and quite strong willed. She has deep insight, and her judgment of people is usually excellent. She is ambitious, and almost sure to succeed.

MISS M. B.
MILWAUKEE,
WIS.

MISS G. C.

Here is a wholly feminine type, with mental ability above the average. Miss C. is friendly, sympathetic, gentle, and tolerant, one of those understanding persons with a genius for true friendship. She is extremely practical and systematic.

MISS J. K.
MICHIGAN CITY,
IND.

Miss K.'s features reveal an unusual personality. She is capable of penetration, concentration, and rapid thought, and she has precise and decisive views. MISS D. F.
MARSHALL-
TOWN, IA.

Miss F. is a person of general capability and exceptionally good disposition. She is refined, generous, open minded, and strong willed; but slow to inflict her will on others. She has an excellent memory and talent for details, and a great deal of common sense.

MISS H. D.
SUPERIOR, WIS.

Here is a face revealing a generous, affectionate, and sociable disposition, but Miss D. can look out for her own interests, too. She has an unusually good mind and is acquisitive of knowledge. Ordinarily she is good tempered, but attempted imposition will unearth scathing anger.

MISS M. C.
MOLINE, ILL.

Steadfastness is an evident quality in this face. Miss C. can reason well, and is inclined to be reflective. She is candid, warm hearted, and responsive to others, but she is not carried away by these impulses. Her logic and intuition contribute to her good sense.

MISS E. C.
ISHPEMING,
MICH.

Miss C. is a sweet, affectionate person, but her sweetness cloaks a well developed firmness of purpose and will. Studious, artistic, refined, and keenly sensitive. She is also purposeful and ambitious, and quietly industrious.
