

Planned and Unplanned

Tribune photo, by Cendido

Photo from The Chicago Tribune's London bureau

IN PEA SOUP FOG off Governors Island the municipal ferryboat Tompkinsville, inbound from Staten Island with a rush hour load of 2,000 men and women, collides with a mail boat; but, though women scream and hundreds are severely shaken, no one is injured, and even the two vessels are only slightly damaged. By chance, aboard a nearby tug was a photographer who snapped this picture just before the crash.

A SHIP SHIPS A SHIP—The freighter Bel Pamela lists as it takes aboard at London a 120 lightship destined for service at Rangoon, India.

Acme photo
DARING YOUNG WOMAN ON THE FLYING TRAPEZE—Esther Escalante, 17 year old member of the big top family of Flying Escalantes, contributes an aerial thrill to a circus sequence in a forthcoming photoplay.

Associated Press photo
LIVING LIGHTNING leaps at a Paris zoo attendant, who scuttles for life on finding the lions in ugly mood. Here is another of those junctures at which a photographer rarely is on hand; the camera that fortuitously caught this scene reveals both animal and keeper moving so swiftly as to blur the negative.

Acme photo
UNDERWATER CABARET—Beneath the surface of crystal clear Silver Springs, near Ocala, Fla., real bathing beauties and masculine co-players stage a playlet for the movies.