

THE EASTLAND DISASTER

Two thousand merry-makers crowded aboard the steamer Eastland on the morning of July 24, 1915, at its dock in the Chicago river. The vessel capsized, and 812 of the party, cast into the stream or trapped in companionways, cabins, and public rooms, lost their lives.