

AMELIA EARHART'S SOLO FLIGHT ACROSS THE ATLANTIC

May 21, 1932—Mrs. Amelia Earhart Putnam, first woman to fly the Atlantic alone, is pictured (at top of page) on her arrival at Londonderry, Ireland, and (at bottom) on her arrival in London. Two other records were hers at the end of this 2,026½-mile flight from Harbor Grace, Newfoundland: She is the first person to have crossed the Atlantic twice by air, and her 14 hour 54 minute solo flight established a new speed mark for the trip.

(Acme photos.)