WHITEMAN IN ZION CITY.

Former Minnesota State Senator Says He Only Borrowed Woman's Money.

Private detectives and the police who have been trying to recover property stolen from skyscrapers in the loop district in Chicago and in Cleveland, O., hope Mrs. Melville A. Reeves, wife of the man under arrest for the theft, will be of aid to them.

"She wants Reeves to tell all he knows," said Raymond J. Burns, head of the Chicago branch of the William J. Burns detective agency yesterday. "I don't think she had any criminal part in the robberies and he may have been used by others in a conspiracy."

Reeves and his wife were arrested on Tuesday while he was trying to sell $5,000 worth of bonds which were stolen from the Sandusky Portland Cement company of Cleveland, O.

Whiteman went to a conference with Mrs. Conner at the residence of Wilbur Glenn Voliva, overseer of Zion City. He said he simply borrowed the money.

Meier tried to borrow enough money to make the trip to New York to meet Lina. He failed. One night he stole $100 from his uncle and started to New York. He arrived yesterday, the day Lina's ship would dock. When he stepped from the train a Pinkerton detective arrested him.

FAVORS TO WORTHINGTON SUBJECT OF INQUIRIES.

Night of Merrymaking with Deputy Sheriff and Delay in Service of Warrant to Be Investigated.

John W. Worthington, "banker," slept on a cot in the county jail last night while efforts were being made to investigate the influence whereby he secured special favors from those sworn to uphold the law.

The first question raised was: "By what authority did Deputy Sheriff Ollis take Worthington to the theater and to dinner and the Blackstone hotel Tuesday night when Judge Sullivan's specific instructions were that he should be taken to the county jail?" This remains unanswered.

The second question was: "Why did two detectives carry for two weeks a warrant for Worthington's arrest?"

The warrant was sworn to by Mrs. Florence Compton before Municipal Judge Ryan Feb. 18. He was charged with having defrauded Mrs. Compton of $400. It was reported that detectives told Capt. Halpin that they got orders from Shafer of the north side to lay off the warrant. It is said Capt. Halpin then told them on March 2 to go ahead and serve it.

She is living at 2350 Prairie avenue.

Rieckel had told the court he was a tango teacher, but had been making only $3 a week. "Do better than that or get into some other line," advised the court.

"Your honor," interposed John P. Ready, probation officer, "we can organize a tango class in this court to tide him over for a while."

A preliminary canvass put John J. Gardner and John Lick, clerks of the court; Miss Isabel Carruthers, nurse; and Miss Elizabeth Morlarly, social secretary, on the class roster. "We'll get a class of twenty, your honor," said Ready. "Employees of all branches of the Municipal court are invited."

After thought he revised his statement and said he would prefer eighteen years. He was sent to the bridewell and yesterday brought back for further discussion.

FLAGS FAIL TO AID GIRL PICKETS

TAKE FOUR THREE TIMES.

Mounted Policemen Ride Horses on Sidewalks to Disperse the Crowds.

Small American flags, which saved the woman pickets in the Henrici restaurant labor trouble from arrest for two weeks, failed to stop the police yesterday. Thirteen women were arrested during the noon and night meals. Some of the women were arrested three times.

The women protested loudly against the arrests, and a large crowd gathered on Randolph street, in front of the restaurant. The throng became so large the mounted police dispersed it by riding their horses on the sidewalks.

Those arrested three times in one day are:

Julia Conner, Marie Shannon, Mabel Burke, Minnie Meyers, Hazel Conner, Katherine O'Dea, Cora Steen, Marie Ulrich, Elizabeth Gregg, Ella Kenny, Mabel Kramer, Mildred Moore, Isabelle Smith.

Woman Goes on Bonds.

The committee representing the club women of Chicago which was appointed at a mass meeting at Hull house two weeks ago to investigate the strike will demand immediate trials for the young women arrested.

Many of the girls were arrested the first day of the strike and charged with disorderly conduct. The next day they were charged with conspiracy, a state charge.

Dr. Lydston said he had been working on the idea of gland transplants for fourteen years, and the discovery of Dr. Alexis Carrel of the Rockefeller institute that some glands live after death showed him the way.

Dr. Lydston said the same operation was performed on a woman 59 years old in whom were implanted the glands from a girl 17 years old who had died twelve hours previous.

BAPTIST OFFERS TRINITY AID

Contribution from Outside Cheers Up Episcopalians.

OTHERS PLEDGE MONEY.

Campaign to Save Property Is Given New Impetus.

Trinity Episcopal church at Twenty-sixth street and Michigan avenue received help from outside its own membership last evening, which put new courage into the hearts of the pastor and membership struggling to save the property from abandonment and destruction.

At a joint meeting of the vestry and membership held in the chapel the rector, the Rev. John M. McGann, announced a gift of $1,000 a year for three years, a total of $3,000, from a "Baptist."

"When members of other communions begin to take an interest in our welfare it is time for us to take a new grip upon problems," said the rector.

Member Offers Second $1,000.

Another subscription volunteered was one of $1,000 from a member of Trinity who had previously subscribed $1,000. This was a total subscription of $2,000, to be applied on the endowment, while the $3,000 gift from the friendly Baptist was for the purpose of meeting the current expenses for three years while the canvass for subscriptions is progressing.

Early in the meeting the motto, "Save Trinity," was adopted. One of the choir boys awakened applause when he subscribed $5. Two young men subscribed $25 each a year for three years. There were two subscriptions of $200 each and one of $400 to be paid either on the endowment or for current expenses as the vestry should decide. The total amount subscribed to date is about $75,000.

St. Chrysostom's Offers Help.

A letter signed by the Rev. N. O. Hutton, rector, and the vestry of St. Chrysostom's church, was read at the meeting. It expressed sympathy for Trinity in its efforts to raise the endowment of $200,000 necessary to maintain its work and pledged cooperation.

Significance was attached to the letter because one of the alternatives to dissolution which had been proposed to the Trinity congregation was union with St. Chrysostom's.

There will be no further negotiations for merging with St. Chrysostom's, Mr. McGann said, until it becomes certain the endowment for Trinity cannot be reached.

The meeting closed with the adoption of a resolution to continue the canvass for funds one more week.

An amicable settlement of all differences between the Rev. Frederick Donovan, pastor of the First Baptist church of Maywood and certain members of the church was effected last night, when a new board of deacons was named.

PUBLISHER SLAIN BY ENEMY; JEALOUSY OVER WIFE CAUSE?

John M. Zoelhoffner Shot Down in Street of Leroy, Ill., by Frank Dunkin—Murderer Surrenders.

Bloomington, Ill., March 4.—[Special.]—As a result of ill feeling of several years' duration, Frank Dunkin shot and killed John M. Zoelhoffner, a newspaper publisher, on the streets of Leroy this afternoon. Only one man, Mark Strange, saw the tragedy.

He said Dunkin walked up to Zoelhoffner and without warning drew a revolver and shot the publisher in the abdomen. Only one shot was fired.

Dunkin immediately gave himself up to the town marshal and was brought to the county jail here tonight. Zoelhoffner was 50 years of age and had been engaged in the newspaper business at Leroy for many years.

Several years ago Mrs. Dunkin was employed in Zoelhoffner's newspaper office and the feeling between the two men is thought to have started at that time.
