

Every Sunday

The Great Sunday Tribune Gives You Pictures from All Over the World in Soft-toned Rotogravure and Colorotogravure

Personalities in the day's news . . . sporting events . . . recent pictures of screen and stage stars . . . here, in the Sunday Tribune's rotogravure section, you have the front page in pictures! ♫ You have reproductions of scenic beauty in all parts of the world—"Trees to Tribunes," the thrilling illustrated story of the making of the World's Greatest Newspaper . . . W. E. Hill's incomparable caricatures of the people you see every day on the street, in the elevated train, everywhere! ♫ And all of these are reproduced in the soft beauty of rotogravure, and in the harmonious, realistic coloring of the Tribune's exclusive colorotogravure process. Don't miss them! ♫ The "roto" section is only one of the ten varied and interesting sections which the Sunday Tribune brings to you, full of news and features you will enjoy, on the day when you have lots of time to read! ♫ Read this greatest of Sunday papers every Sunday!

Chicago Tribune

THE WORLD'S GREATEST NEWSPAPER

Sheet music for "I'll Wait For You" featuring five staves of musical notation. The lyrics are as follows:

day. Just a lit - tle bit long - er my tears will fall, sigh for you and cry for you, I miss you more each ny - ing when you're a - way, Oh how I a day or two, There is no use de -

Sheet music for "I'll Wait For You" featuring five staves of musical notation. The lyrics are as follows:

just a lit - tle bit long - er I'll wait for Chorus
think of the one you left be - hind, Or don't you real - ly care.
find me gone when you re - turn, Then don't you won - der why Oh how I
new day - ing the days you des - pair, And if you watch - ing day roll by, And do you