

The Teas packed under the Royal Arms and Sol brands are strictly fancy, first crop pickings from the most highly cultivated tea gardens of the far East. Each variety represents perfection in curing and tea culture. The style, fragrance and delicate flavor of the tender leaves will produce a rich, aromatic cup that will appeal to you instantly if you are a lover of fine teas. The Sol brand is second only to Royal Arms in quality and distinction.

American Breakfast and Japonette brand Teas are carefully selected for their cup quality rather than for style, and should not be confused with ordinary cheap Teas on account of the exceptionally low prices we quote. The average tea drinker, wishing a good selection at a low price, will find either brand gives entire satisfaction and is superior to grades usually sold elsewhere at much higher prices.
