

AFTER A HOSPITAL CATASTROPHE

May 15, 1929—Firemen, police, and volunteer workers carrying out patients in the Cleveland clinic after an explosion had filled the building with gas. Ninety perished in this disaster.

(Associated Press photo.)