Thousands to Be Dropped.

Thousands of veterans, except those permanently and totally disabled, and dependents will be dropped from the rolls because the disabilities for which they have been receiving compensation or allowances were not incurred in war service.

Nearly all those remaining on the rolls will suffer some reduction of the payments they have been receiving. Hospitalization and domiciliary care will be rigidly restricted, making thousands of veterans and their dependents ineligible to such assistance. Altogether, in one way or another

Fears Arrest; Shoots Self.

In Chemnitz, Hans Sachs, Jewish nanager of a large textile factory, shot and seriously wounded himself when police entered his home to place him under "protective arrest."

In most other cities and towns order prevailed. Streets in Berlin were packed with good humored "holiday" crowds. Most Jews retreated to their homes, synagogues, shops and offices as the boycott got under way at 10-o'clock. As if by magic, groups of Nazi torm troops and brown shirted picketers appeared in front of Jewish stores. Other Nazis swept through the streets carrying buckets of paint with which they splashed identifying signs on every shop operated by a Jew. "Verboten" signs were tacked over the doors of Jewish lawyers and physicians. Frequently pickets restrained prospective clients and patients from entering these offices. One man was
