

NINE CHILDREN AND SIX PETS comprise a considerable domestic and zoological problem for Mrs. Billie Patterson of Seattle, Wash. Recently her husband's illness made it difficult for her to get all of the children ready for school and the authorities gave them an official temporary vacation. (Acme photo.)

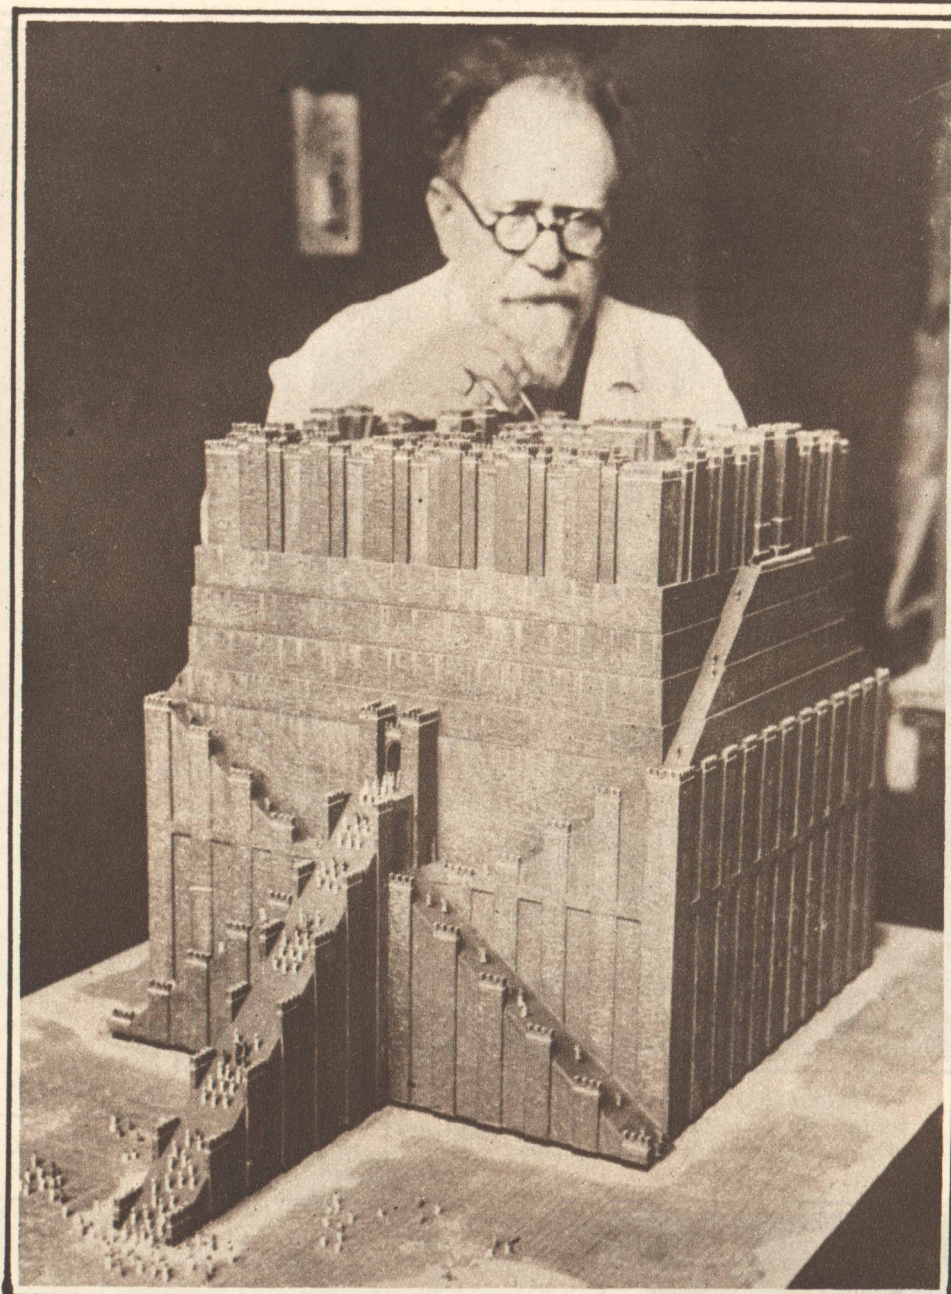

UNUSUAL IN DESIGN is this church under construction at Cologne, Germany, its departure from conventional form indicative of the modern trend of German architecture. (Associated Press photo.)

SUMMER STREET ENSEMBLE—Fashioned of suede-finished silk crepe in contrasting colors is this smart costume. The one-piece frock is white, with high collar fastened with a tailored black ribbon bow, while the high waisted jacket is bright green. A black hat of Montelupo straw and black and white pumps complete the ensemble. (Acme photo.)

COWL-BACKED is this evening frock of cornflower blue double chiffon, worn by Adrienne Dore. The classic simplicity of its lines is relieved by the floral wreath of self material worn on the shoulder. (Acme photo.)

TOWER OF BABEL—This miniature was ordered by the Oriental Institute of Chicago, and in this picture Herr Ernst Stegemann is seen in his Berlin studio working on the model which embodies the latest conceptions of the tower as reconstructed with the aid of scientific research. (Associated Press photo.)

TWELVE MEN AND A BLOCK AND TACKLE were required to hold Zoobu, 350 pound baby elephant, when a broken leg necessitated the application of a plaster cast. Zoobu is one of the occupants of the animal incubators at Atlantic City, N. J. (Associated Press photo.)

A FASTIDIOUS BIRD IS THE PELICAN—This one indulges in a last minute cleanup before breakfast in the Melbourne, Australia, zoo. (Associated Press photo.)

THE PRINCE OF WALES gets a bowl of Cornish cream, presented by Joan Dunstone, youngest member of the London Cornish association. (Acme photo.)