The Rectangle HOW MUCH IS SEVEN BILLION DOLLARS?

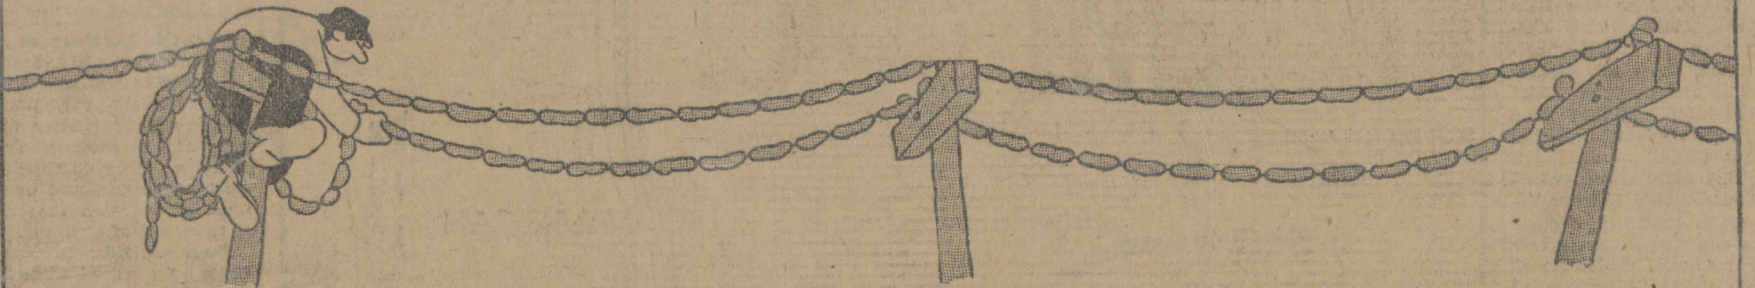

IT'S A SUM SOMEWHAT DIFFICULT TO GRASP, SO TO MAKE IT PERFECTLY COMPREHENSIBLE TO ALL WE EXPRESS IT IN EVERY DAY TERMS

5 GALLONS -
THAT'S
$115,000,000

GOT CHANGE FOR
$500,000,000?

With Gasoline at $23,000,000 a gallon instead of 23 cents, and if you get 16 miles on a gallon, as the dealer said you should, that 7 Billion would carry you 4864 miles. Then you'd have to begin to nick your salary

Invested in frankfurters at $218.75 a link it would reach twice from Chicago to New York, but would have to be elevated on poles to be kept out of reach of the dogs.

IM GETTING A
BIT TIRED OF SHAD
ROE. DON'T YOU
THINK WE COULD HAVE SOME CAVIAR FOR A CHANGE?

If fish eggs were 46 cents a dozen you could have shad roe 3 times a day for 3474 years on that little war fund (This is figuring 48,000 eggs per roe. If I miscounted, please correct me)

A Turk could pay alimony of $279,884.76 a month for 19 years to each of 77 ex-wives on that little appropriation.

A Phonograph costing 7 Billions, a dollar down and a dollar a month, would be all paid for in 533,333,333 years and 4 months.

In negotiable aldermanic votes at 5 beers a throw it would cover a territory 58 miles square, 13,005 to the acre.

7 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0

And if those ciphers were fresh country eggs they'd be worth at least 37 cents.

Is this your Little Pet Peeve?

A gun which will shoot beans and other canned goods to our allies across the water is proposed by L.B.C.

It isn't the Original Cost, you know, it's the UPKEEP.

For instance -
A pair of white
Shoes.

THIS ONE BY POLLY.

Household Hint
A grandfather's clock is handy to have on the first floor but to tell time on the second floor you need a great-grandfather's clock.
