It's the Women Who Pick the Cinema Heroes

By MAE TINX

The true star is always the woman in the foreground. The man is only there to bear the brunt of the woman's performance. This is the story of the women who pick the cinema heroes.

True, there is a woman in every movie, but the women who pick the cinema heroes are the ones who really matter. These women are the ones who really care about the movies.

One of these women is a Warner Brothers star, and she is one of the most beautiful women in Hollywood. She is known for her sultry, enigmatic beauty, and she has been a fixture in the industry for years.

Another woman is a producer for Paramount Pictures, and she is known for her sharp, no-nonsense approach to her work. She is a woman who knows what she wants, and she gets it.

But the real star is a woman who has just arrived in Hollywood, and she is already making waves. She is a woman who is not afraid to speak her mind, and she is not afraid to stand up for what she believes in.

These women are the ones who pick the cinema heroes. They are the ones who know what it takes to be a hero, and they are the ones who are willing to make the sacrifices necessary to bring those heroes to life.

So the next time you see a movie, remember that there is a woman behind the scenes who is picking the cinema heroes. And if you happen to see one of these women, don't be afraid to strike up a conversation. You never know what kind of stories you might hear.

---

Voice of the Movie Fan

Dear Mae Tinsley: For more and be all, why isn't an end to be made in all this args? Your readers are voung, and their future is at stake. Bring this issue to an end, please.

—From the Editor

Dear Mae Tinsley: It is an issue of great importance for all of us. I urge you to take a stand, and to not let this issue be ignored.

—From a Concerned Reader

Dear Mae Tinsley: I agree with your readers, and I urge you to bring this issue to an end.

—From a Reader in Support

Letters published in this department shall be written on one side of the paper. If you wish to personal reply please include a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

---

Fresh, young, and progressive, Robert Taylor secures the present-day choice of women. Here he is with Jean Holloway in "Paramount Property.

Chicago Sunday Tribune