

MAIN STREET IN THE PRESIDENT'S SUMMER TOWN of Brule, Wis., the nearest village to Cedar Island lodge, the summer White House. The only hotel, in the foreground, boasts ten rooms. How many baths deponent sayeth not.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE CHOOSES TO FISH during the summer here at Cedar Island lodge, with the Brule river and seventy times seven heavens for anglers on every hand. The lodge is located on a secluded estate owned by the heirs of the late Henry Clay Pierce, oil magnate. It is built of logs, covered with white birch bark, and contains fifteen rooms.

WAXEN PRESIDENTS appear among the exhibits in the new Madame Tussaud wax works at London, replacing the famous collection destroyed by fire. How many American chief executives can you identify?

THREE LITTLE MAIDS, but not from school, promenade in the Bois de Boulogne with as many wolfhounds from the Parisian greyhound show. The fair charmers are Mlle. Fabienne France and Mlle. Holourdin, of Folies Bergere, and Mlle. Smolinka, Russian film actress.
