New Radio Signals Spur Hunt for Amelia—Two Flying Boats Over Atlantic in Passenger Survey Hops

STARTS WESTWARD ATLANTIC HOP—The British flying boat Caledonia, which was on its way early today from Foynes, Ireland, to Roscoff, New Jersey, while an American plane was making the flight in the other direction. (Story on page 2.)

ONE OF LAST PICTURES OF AMELIA—Photo sent from London by radio and wireless showing Miss Earhart and her navigator, Fred Noonan, in Panama. Noonan recently radioed missives last night by new radio signals. (Stories on page 2.)

MRS. FRANK O. LOWDEN DIES—The former Illinois governor and his wife, Mrs. Frances Pollina Lowden, who died yesterday at St. John's farm at age of 68. She was a daughter of the late George M. Pollina. (Story on page 17.)

"DO IT AGAIN," SAYS JARDINE—The Rev. Robert Anderson Jardine, who married the duke of Windsor and Wallis Warleggan, who was on his way last night to New York yesterday, will lecture in the United States. (Story on page 17.)

MOSCOW GREETS POLAR FLYERS

When members of the famous world's polar flyers arrived back in their country, they were greeted enthusiastically by Ernest, Jilson and other government leaders. Now the Caille brothers will leave the city again, this time in rays for the expedition, with a 350-foot flight.

Demand Death for Slayer of Children

Air Force a WPA training group in California who has received the flying hands of Wells Martin and Joseph Windish, being airmen from the country of Los Angeles after he collapsed after leave of absence. (Story on page 2.)

TRIALS TO BEGIN

Trial of the thrilling first game of the double header at Wrigley Field yesterday, which the Cubs won from the St. Louis Cardinals, 5-3 to 1. Democrats added some with the winning run on Junior left to the 15th inning of 16th inning under Fletcher, Ogilvie's left. (Story on page 1.)

STEPPING DOWN

Steffon stands in which the two machines, Wigger and Pawl, were found in a deadly fire in a street in the city yesterday. Left is no fire, but the building was heavy. (Story on page 2.)

Second Baseman Hicks of the Cardinals beans the half to third base in the third inning of the first game. Left is no base, but the Cowns is taking the throw. Runners at the two bases were增至 in those base cases, one in lead, and 13 in lead. (Story on page 2.)

SECOND BASE

Ray Johnson (left) Culler, the Cubs, and the Cubs, winning pitcher in the first game, with Chicago's in the dugout. Macnich has the last one's name and nothing else than his own. (Story on page 2.)

AIRCRAFT FIELD

An aerial view of Wrigley Field during yesterday's doubleheader. More than 15,000 spectators sat in the stands for six and a half hours while the Cubs won both games, the score of the third, which.

(Photograph by Times Photo)