

YOUNG ILLINOIS REPUBLICANS ARE SPLIT ON CHIEF

Downs Makes Attack on Edward F. Moore.

BY PERCY WOOD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Bloomington, Ill., July 23.—[Special.]—Young Republicans of Illinois, meeting in state convention here today, split wide open over the election of a president.

Thomas J. Downs, who is said to have received visits from her sweetheart, a New York attorney, while he was supposedly a prisoner in the Tombs.

The rift was brought to the surface during the first session late today when Thomas J. Downs, junior national committeeman, charged that Edward F. Moore, chairman of the Cook county central committee, was trying to control the convention.

Downs made a bitter attack upon Moore, concluding with the assertion that Moore's was "an unreformed, beer peddling, racketeering, gangster leadership." Moore is a beer distributor.

Seeks to Be Illinois Leader.

The young Chicago leader also charged that Moore sought to gain control of the Young Republicans in order to enhance his own chances of being elected national committeeman at the 1940 convention.

"And if Arthur J. Bidwill [of River Forest] is elected to the state senate in November, Moore wants to run him for governor in 1940," Downs added.

Downs is backing Richard Nowlinson of Chicago for president of the Young Republicans at tomorrow's balloting. Bidwill is here in the interests of a dark horse candidate whose name is being carefully concealed. A Chicagoan will be elected this year in accordance with an agreement that the presidency alternate between Chicago and downstate. Harold E. Walsh of Bloomington is retiring head of the organization.

Two Hours of Speeches.

The blast Downs leveled at Moore came at the end of the first session of the convention after the delegates had listened to about two hours of speeches. Introduced by Walsh for what appeared to be merely a bow, Downs advanced to the front of the platform and leaned toward the microphone.

"When I arrived here last night I heard a lot of rumblings and undertones," he began. "I think what has been said should be repeated in the open. I'm not a candidate for any office here, but I find my name has been used in vain. The Cook county central committee never had taken any interest in the Young Republicans until a few months ago. And I want this convention to know that there is no fight within the Young Republicans. The fight is between the Young Republicans and the Democratic chairman of the Republican county committee.

Blasts Moore's Ambitions.

"The reason Ed Moore is opposed to the Young Republicans is because they have done something—they have built up their organization. He tried in two separate meetings to disband us after he had sent a committee to the Cook County Young Republican chairman [Nowlinson] asking him to resign.

"Why should I resign?" the chairman asked.

"Because Ed Moore doesn't like you," he was told.

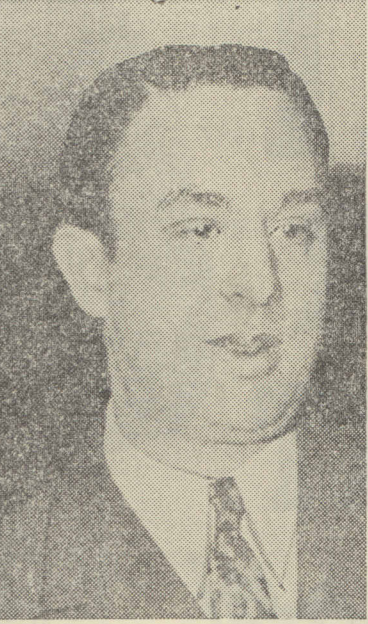

"Nowlinson wouldn't resign and that's why Ed Moore set out to take this convention," Downs snapped.

Bars No Barrier

(Story in adjoining column.)

Hope Dare, who is said to have received visits from her sweetheart, a New York attorney, while he was supposedly a prisoner in the Tombs.

Richard (Dixie) Davis, held on policy racket charges, who, it is reported, did not let iron bars interfere with romance.

"He has been reflected chairman of the executive committee of the county chairmen's association. He is saying he made A. K. Stiles chairman of the state central committee. He feels he is the boss of Illinois, but I don't think he is.

Points to Hook-up.

"During the last two or three days, Moore, through Bidwill, has been telephoning and talking to downstate county chairmen, trying to railroad this convention. And the name of Tom Downs has been used. The charge is that I am a stooge for George F. Harding, our present national committeeman. I know George Harding [Downs is a member of the law firm which represents Harding], but I never ran on a Harding ticket like Art Bidwill did two years ago.

"I am not trying to control this convention, Ed Moore is."

Shortly after the session adjourned delegates from the country townships of Cook county met and condemned Downs for his speech and expressed confidence in County Chairman Moore.

State Senator Simon E. Lantz of Congerville, nominee for congress-at-large, was given a big hand for the principal speech of the afternoon, an attack upon the way President Roosevelt has handled the farm problem.

State Representative Richard J. Lyons of Libertyville, nominee for the United States senate, will be the keynoter at the session tomorrow.

RACKET LAWYER LEAVES JAIL TO SEE SWEETHEART

Dixie Davis Expected to Aid Prosecutor.

New York, July 23.—[Special.]—J. Richard "Dixie" Davis, attorney, a prisoner in the Tombs pending his trial on policy racket charges with Tammany Leader James F. Hines, has been making almost daily visits to his Broadway sweetheart, Hope Dare, it was reported today.

Since District Attorney Dewey must have known of Davis' reported visits to his sweetheart, it was considered a possible indication that the prisoner may have agreed to plead guilty and testify against Hines when they come to trial.

Hopes to Get Dixie to Talk.

It was recalled that Miss Dare, after her arrest with Dixie in Philadelphia, to Dewey. "You can leave me alone with Dixie I can get him to talk; he's madly in love with me." There is a belief that Dewey followed the suggestion and that is why he has not objected to the privilege granted Davis.

Dewey and his assistants declined to comment on the reported visits of Davis to the apartment of the one time actress.

Ostensibly the disbarred lawyer's permission to leave the prison has been granted to enable him to visit his physician for treatment of a stomach ailment.

Davis is said to have visited Miss Dare's apartment almost daily and either remained the entire afternoon or, if he went out, likely would return. He had leave from the Tombs from 1 p. m. to 6:30 and most of these hours were spent at the apartment.

No Effort to Hide Movements.

Usually Davis is said to have made no effort to hide his movements, and some persons in the neighborhood who recognized him thought nothing of his presence there. They assumed, according to merchants nearby, that he was out on bail and able to move about freely.

Davis denied that he had visited Miss Dare, but neighbors insisted they identified him as her visitor.

Dewey will appear before Supreme Court Justice Ferdinand Pecora Monday and ask a special venire of 300 from which a jury to try Hines and Davis may be selected.

G. O. P. TO START CARD CAMPAIGN FOR REP. LYONS

Republican organizations throughout Illinois will begin distribution this week of 1,000,000 pledge cards which they hope to have signed and delivered to Richard J. Lyons, senatorial nominee, when the fall campaign begins in earnest. The form of the card was approved at a meeting here last Thursday of the executive committee of the county chairmen's association.

The card is headed with the slogans of the state candidates—"Jobs for Unemployed. Relief for Needy. Keep Out of War."

The pledge is addressed to Mr. Lyons and reads:

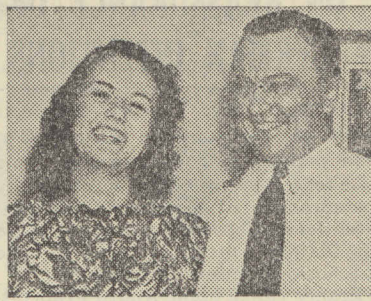

"Because I want to see the things you are fighting for put into effect, I intend to vote for you and for your associates on the Republican ticket on election day, Nov. 8."

The Cook county central committee will undertake the job of obtaining half of the 1,000,000 pledges in Chicago and the country towns of the county.

FACES ALKY TAX CHARGE.

Dominick Romano, arrested Thursday on a truck loaded with 170 gallons of untaxed alcohol, was held to the grand jury yesterday on a charge of violating the internal revenue law. He lives at 1536 North 14th street, Melrose Park.

ing," referring to his mountain music campaign.

O'Daniel, plump and smiling, with his three children, good looking Mollie, 16 years old, Pat, 19, and Mike, 18, and his advertising orchestra, known as the "Hillbilly Boys," stumped the state in a bus equipped with sound amplifiers and a platform atop.

Wife and Children Aid.

Mollie, a high school girl, and Pat and Mike, members of his band, and Mrs. O'Daniel, who was in charge of his Fort Worth headquarters, had a great deal to do with his campaign.

Congressman W. D. Macfarlane, favored by President Roosevelt, was in a close race with Ed Gossett, west Texas attorney he narrowly defeated two years ago. Macfarlane had 4,691 to Gossett's 4,368. Grady Gentry, Smith county judge, was running far ahead of incumbent Representative Morgan Sanders. Gentry polled 1,653 to Sanders' 867.

The veteran Hatton W. Summers, chairman of the house judiciary committee, foe of the Roosevelt court reorganization, held a comfortable lead over Leslie Jackson, Dallas attorney, 2,761 to 959. Other incumbents holding comfortable margins include Representative Wright Patman of soldiers' bonus fame, and Representative Martin Dies.

LANGER CHARGES RELIEF WORKERS ARE INTIMIDATED

Senate Committee Called to Investigate.

Washington, D. C., July 23.—[AP.]—Chairman Morris Sheppard (D., Tex.) telegraphed members of his senate campaign investigating committee to hurry to Washington today after he had received a complaint from Gov. William Langer of North Dakota that relief workers in his state had been intimidated politically.

Franking Privilege Abused.

Sheppard told reporters the committee would consider the charges made by Langer, a complaint by Senator Walter F. George (D., Ga.) that a federal official had been discharged in Georgia, "probably" for supporting him, and the statement of Harry Hopkins, the WPA administrator, that 90 per cent of relief workers favored the Roosevelt administration.

In response to a questionnaire sent out by the senate committee, Langer wrote that he had received reports of WPA workers "being intimidated" and also that there had been "wrongful use of the senate franking privilege."

[The franking privilege allows the free mailing of matter that pertains to official business.]

Langer Defeated by Nye.

Gov. Langer was defeated for the Republican senatorial nomination in his state recently by Senator Gerald P. Nye.

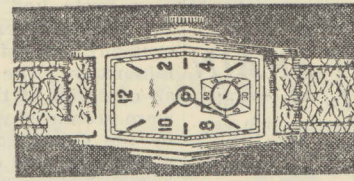

Langer's complaint was the second received from North Dakota. Senator Nye asked the committee previously to investigate what he said were excessive absentee ballots in the primary election of June 28.

Senator George, who has opposed some Roosevelt measures and now is running for renomination, has complained that Erie Cooke was dismissed as Georgia director for the National Emergency council "probably for the sole reason that he proposes to vote for me." Lowell Mellett, national NEC director, commented that Erie had resigned from the nonsalaried Georgia post voluntarily to become an executive in a Georgia bank.

2 ROBBERS POSE AS CUSTOMERS AND SEIZE $1,000

Two men entered the Edison Warehouse Outlet, Inc., an electrical store at 766 Jackson boulevard, last night and said they wished to return an unsatisfactory radio. When Harry Claver, the cashier, prepared to return their money the men drew pistols and forced him to hand over $700 in cash and checks. Then they robbed three salesmen and two customers of $300 in cash and jewelry and ordered them to undress. When the six men had removed their coats and trousers the bandits locked them in a rear room and escaped. Soon afterward, John Berry, a customer, heard their cries for help and released them. Last night police were examining the returned radio for fingerprints.

SALZBURG MUSIC FESTIVAL OPENS UNDER NAZI RULE

SALZBURG, Germany, July 23.—[AP.]—The curtain rose tonight on the first Nazi presentation of the celebrated Salzburg music festival with Wilhelm Fuertwangler conducting Wagner's "Meistersinger."

Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, German propaganda minister, earlier had canceled the formal ceremony of opening the festival, giving rise to false rumors that Fuertwangler had withdrawn suddenly.

Goebbels, Dr. Arthur Seyss-Inquart, governor of German Austria, and other Nazi notables attended the opening performance. Asked for the reason for cancellation of the opening ceremony at which Goebbels was to have spoken, an official said it was dropped only to assure a prompt curtain raising on the evening's opera.
