PASSAIC, N.J. - Since the days when horses were considered an essential asset for a family's survival, there has been an annual horse show in this city. This year's show was held last week with the usual success.

The garden party held last week was much enjoyed by the patrons of the show. The garden party was held at a residence in the suburbs of Passaic, and was attended by many of the show's exhibitors. The garden party included a tea, followed by a dinner. The dinner was served in the garden, and was enjoyed by all who attended.
