

CUT ALONG DOTTED LINE

Phillips Lord

Andrea Marsh

THIS BEARLESS YOUTH, JUST A FEW YEARS OUT OF COLLEGE, IS PHILLIPS LORD, one of radio's outstanding character actors. He is the creator of Seth Parker (whose part he plays) and his hymn-singing Jonesport (Me.) neighbors, who have proved just as popular on the stage as over the air. Lord's latest radio sketch is "The Country Doctor." (G. Maillard-Kesslere photo.)

ONE OF THE YOUNGEST FEATURED SINGERS OF THE AIRWAYS is 17-year-old Andrea Marsh, heard with Ted Weems and his vocal ensemble over W-G-N, and both Columbia and National networks, from the Lincoln tavern. Andrea has a lovely contralto voice; she's a brunette, and she comes from St. Paul. (Maurice Seymour photo.)

NOVEL BRIDAL EQUIPAGE—Fireman Hathaway of the Teddington, England, fire brigade and his bride rode away from the church at which they were married in this unusual bridal carriage. (Acme photo.)
