

THE WAR FRONTS!

A military map of the continent of Europe, with important land and sea defenses and naval bases indicated by symbols. The air bombing distances given in the key below are the shortest distances in every case, regardless of boundaries of neutral countries.

Obviously German planes cannot take the shortest distance to London, for example, without violating the neutrality of Belgium or the Netherlands. This map can be used for following the progress of the war.

Next Sunday in the Graphic—A New Color Map of Europe's Battleground