PREP SCHOOL OPENS
By W. E. Hill

September 19, 1937

Page Eleven

PREP SCHOOL OPENS
By W. E. Hill

Jones, the new boy, was fresh as paint and very unpopular. Said, "Hi, big boy," when he passed a senior, which just wasn't him. Then his sister came up to see him and five seniors fell hard. Asked her to the next school dance and dated her up for all vacations. Now Jones is the most popular boy in school.

"Harriott, your light should have been out fifteen minutes ago. I hate to see you fall, etc., etc. (Showed her the right switch."

Joseph is a new boy and his parents and his Aunt Margaret came along to see that every thing was all right. Dr. Hall, the headmaster is showing them around. Joseph's mother is telling Dr. Hall that they have never been away from home before and won't they please see that Joseph doesn't take cold etc., etc. Joseph is hoping none of the old boys is within rifle shot.

The body has just issued two brief reports from Edward state school opened, and these un- der- graduates. Being badly in need of funds, he is composing a letter which is taking all of a study period. Can't think of a thing to say except that a few dollars would come in handy.

The new contractor—just out of college—is in charge of his first study period. Tries to look very fierce for the benefit of two outfits in the rear of the room. They know he's new at the game.

For Publicity's Sake

In 1894 the National Police Gazette published this drawing of "pretty and shapely misses who are fond of having their photographs taken in tights." Which goes to show that girls who pose for publicity commissions today aren't so modern—just a little sillier.

Here is how they pose today. Hyrme Terry lends a sort of Gignatium charm to a model of the Los Angeles city hall. In honor of California's eighty-sev- enth anniversary of statehood.

Rodney is a day scholar, but his parents are very little of him, even so. Has to stay after school to play on the lower school football team.

Hyman Cel, calls itself the world's largest buy market, doing an asserted million and a half dollar business a month, so what more fitting from a line of pretty girls to celebrate its annual buy festivity?

Opening various weeks is a favorite pastime for publicity girls. Verne Earell, Berenice Falon, and Alice Anderson left to right, appropriately chose white to launch cool week in Chicago.

For the sake of the first annual Crawley, Lc., rice festival these Ossie girls bade in a bowl of the cressed.

You're right. The girls are publicizing tobacco. It's for the annual tobacco festival at South Boston, Va. The bowl of the 13-foot pipe will hold two girls. the press agent says breathlessly.