JUDGE FOLGER, IN CLOSING his letter, says:

his letter, says: Teleieve that my principles of action will be commended to good sense. I stand upon them, and on them alone, as a reason why I am be-fore the people of the State as a candidate for the Chief Magistray. If they are approved, if my public life of twenty years and over gives a cause to believe that I will honestly keep ou in their furtherance, I do confidently expect that disappointments will be forgotten, that causes of repulsion will not lead to a bandon-ment of political ties, and that united and har-monious action will bring about a result that will keep the State of New York in accord with the majority of her sister States on the great guestions of National policy. A. B. HEPBURN.

the majority of her sister States on the great questions of National policy. A. B. HEPBURN, mominated by the recent Republican Con-vention held at Saratoga for the office of Congressman-at-Large, writes as follows: New YORK, Oct. 2.—The Hon. John F. Smythe, Chairman of the Republican State Central Com-mittee—DEAR Size Having received no formal notice of my nomination for the office of Con-gressman-at-Large by the recent Republican Convention, I address this communication to you. It is quite apparent that, owing to un-fortunate circumstances that have come to light since the adjournment of the convention, a very large portion of the Republicans of the State are not disposed to accept its conclusions as an authoritative utterance of the party. Nothing should be left undone to secure the unity and harmony of the party and I don't think it right to enter upon the canvass without an earnest effort in that directon. It seems to me that, for the purpose of attaining such a re-sult all questions should be submitted anew to the representatives of the party assembled for while fully appreciating the very high compli-ment paid me by the convention, and returning my sincere thanks for the same, I deem it my duty to acquaint you with my declination of said nomination. Very respectfully yours. A. B. HEPERK."

NEWSPAPER COMMENTS-THE "TRIBUNE."

NEWSPAPER COMMENTS—THE "TRIBURE." The Tribune says: The man on the Sara-toga ticket whom nobody objected to and with whose nomination everybody was satis-fied finds the scandals of the convention too heavy a burden, and refuses to stand under them. Hepburn's letter is modest, manly, and consistent. He makes no reflections upon the convention that nominated him for Congressman-at-Large, but frankly says circumstances have come to light since which prevent Repub-licans from regarding its action as authorita-tive. He is unwilling to hold the momina-tion under such circumstances, and so with-draws. He will stand all the stronger for this with the great majority of Repub-licans.

licans. Mr. Folger is not unwilling to hold a nom-ination under such circumstances. He ac-cepts, and writes two or three columns to tell why. A case entirely clear could have been stated in shorter space. " HERALD."

THE FEELING OF DISCUST at the methods employed at Saratoga to carry the convention. His remarks were not well received, and he was noticed to leave the conference soon after, and some time before its adjournment. Juage Folger re-mained quiet until all the others had ex-pressed their views and then he took from his pocket and read his letter of acceptance, which he said expressed his opinions at length.

ONE OF THE IMPORTANT MATTERS DIS-

ONE OF THE IMPORTANT MATTERS DIS-CUSSED. Not in and out of the conference, was the resignation of Mr. Folger as Secretary of the Treasury. It was said that, if he were to resign at once and thus show his belief in the success of the ticket, and the President was to select as his successor some eminent Re-publican who would give satisfaction to the business community, it would greatly strengthen the ticket. Gen. Sharpe was nong those who gave expression to this view. He said, however, that it would to resign until the President was ready to name his successor, in order that no time might be given to speculate too the character of the person who might be chosen for the office. Secretary Folger avected with these views. The President when Judge Folger will resign, his resign to take effect as soon as the President an decide who shall succeed Mr. Folger in the Treasury Department. To bring about the Treasury Department. To bring about the such as one of the purposes of the conference today.

FIRST CONGRESSIONAL.

FIRST CONGRESSIONAL. Brecial Dispatch to The Chicago Tribune. New York, Oct. 2.—Great interest still centres in the approaching campaign for Congressman of the First New York Dis-trict. The Republicans seem hopeful of get-ting young Mr. Vanderbilt to enter the cam-paign as their candidate, but they are only hoping against hope, as Mr. Vanderbilt, when the thing was suggested, treated it as a joke. Some things which were urged against Mr. Belmout two years ago, notably that he was a non-resident and that he was making a money campaign, could not be urged against in with Mr. Vanderbilt in the field, as he is really a non-resident, and unless he should really a non-resident, and unless he should use money lavishly would be cut by a large element in the Republican party.

THE CHARACTERISTICS OF THE EMINENT JUDGE WHICH ANNOY THE STALWARTS. Special Dispatch to The Chicago Trib

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 2.—Whether or not President Arthur has any desire to have Folger retire from the Treasury Department it is certain that many of those Stalward leaders who hold close relations with the President, and who aspire to represent his views, do much desire that he "shall not stand upon the order of his going, but go at once." There is but one reason assigned for this desire. It is not charged that he does a dissolved into its elements. Can it reassemble

NOT SOLELY OR CHIEFLY PERSONAL.

NOT SOLELY OR CHIEFLY PERSONAL. It has a wider and vasily more important scope, In my judgment, for any one placed as I am at the stime to decline the nomination would pro-duce an utter collapse of the Republican party. Those who urge me have not, I conceive, run on that act to its certain consequences. It would be to leave the party on the late eve of a highly important election without a candidate for the chief office in the State. It is so far im-practicable as to be almost an impossibility to to name another person for the office who would be likely to mieet with party acceptance. What man of sufficient State repute to be an accept-able and strong candidate, and of the sensibili-ties that go with self-respect, would be willing in such circumstances to accept a late nomina-tion and take the hwzard of the canvas?--and of the party, or could hope for popular favor, or enter the field with reasonable prospect of success. Moreover.

WILL NOT TAMELY TOLERATE. No one claims, no one believes, I had lot or part therein, or a previous hint or suspicion thereof. I scorn an end to be zot by such means. I will not undertake to measure the truth of all these reports; that of one is beyond dispute. Nor will I argue whether or not the results reached by the convention, or any of the processes toward them, were shaped or affected thereby. The facts are public, and every one may form his own judgment. But there is growing there-out a practical question, and it is brought to me for an answer. Persons-some holding official relations with the Republican party, and all in good standing in the community-have asked me to decline the nomination. They express confidence in me, and fully acquit me of participation in and knowledge of that which they hold will justify the action they desire. The acts conceded or alleged to have been done upon which they base their request they also concede were WHOLLY THE ACTS OF OTHERS THAN ME.

WILL NOT TAMELY TOLERATE.

WHOLLY THE ACTS OF OTHERS THAN ME. I have deliberately and anxiously considered the matter, have weighed the reasons which they present, and forecast the consequences. The matter has two aspects—personal and pub-lic. As to that personal, I made no indication of a willingness to be a candidate for Governor until after I had been named in the press and talked of by men in that connection, and it was apparent that I should be brought before the convention. I then said if there was a fair degree of concurrence in my nomination I would accept, but that, if another was named I should not be sorry, and if I was named I would not be sorry, and if I was named I would not be sorry, and if I was named I would not be sorry, and if I was named I should not be sorry, and if I was named I should not be sorry, and if I was named I should not be sorry, and if I was named I should not be sorry, and if I was named I should not be sorry, and if I was named I would not be sorry, and if I was named I should not be sorry, and if I was named I should not be sorry, and if I was named I should not be sorry and if I was named I should not be sorry, and if I was named I should not be sorry and if I was named I would not be sorry and if I was named I would not be sorry and if I was named I would not be sorry and if I was named I should not be sorry and if I was not have always seen and could now see it go to another without one twinge of regret, I have no personal reason why I should not refuse it with alacrity. But the matter is NOT SOLELY OF CHIEFLY PERSONAL WHOLLY THE ACTS OF OTHERS THAN ME.
