

ANCIENT INDIAN "PICTOGRAPHS" DISCOVERED IN THE CALIFORNIA DESERT—An aviator, flying from Las Vegas, Nev., to Blythe, Cal., noticed these huge, crude images on the floor of the desert near the California town. Army aviators, assigned to investigate and photograph these examples of native art, found that the immense images of humans and beasts were produced by removing the brown pebbled earth and revealing the white alkali soil beneath. The human figure in the intaglio "pictograph" above is 167 feet long. That at the right, stepping out of a dance ring, is 95 feet long. In the picture at the left army and civilian investigators are seen measuring one of the huge figures. (Photos by U. S. Army Air Corps.)

CHANEL of Paris presents this fall suit of soft grege wool with cap and trimming in leopard. (Acme photo.)

CARYATIDS AND SCULPTURED MALE FIGURES ornament the recently dedicated Electrical group of the Century of Progress Exposition on Chicago's lake front. (Tribune photo.)

A BLACK VELVET BERET HAT, with bow trim of black malines and malines veil with chenille dots, is worn by Myrna Loy.

A CADDIE WHO WILL NOT SNEER AT DUBBED SHOTS accompanies these two fair golfers on the links at Ranelagh, England. (Associated Press photo.)