IT HAD BEEN A THEATER, ut on Dec. 29, 1918, this building at Neuenahr, Germany, was occupied by American ambulance companies 167 nd 168 of the 42d division.

OVER THE RIVER AHR a guard from the 42d division walked his picturesque post ten years ago. Back of the railroad bridge at Walperzheim were cliffs and terraced hillsides.

A BATH HOUSE turned into an American hospital and infirmary. The large white building was a part of the Neuenahr health resort which attracted many thousands of patients annually in peace time. It was taken over by the army of occupation a decade ago.
