Michigan Governor James Blanchard exaggerates his expression of surprise, as he is presented with some extra-large, double-yolk eggs during his whirlwind tour of Huron County Thursday and Friday.

Active Feed Company's Joe Mausi, Jr., on left, presents the big eggs to the governor, as Active's Pat Paterson looks on, at right, as Gov. Blanchard visited the complex southeast of Pigeon.

Gov. Blanchard was joined by U.S. Congressman Bob Tikalsky, State Agriculture Department Director Paul Kindlinger, State Senator James Barcia and others as they toured the Pigeon area Friday. Stops included the Cooperative Elevator Company, Active Feed, Pips-N-UUs farrowing operation and others before the party flew via helicopter back to Lansing.

You're invited to Scheurer Benefit!

Tickets are still available for the third annual Scheurer Hospital Spring Benefit Dinner, planned next Thursday, May 17 at Laker High School.

Punch will be served during the social time beginning at 6:30 p.m., according to Meg Nicholl, Tamera Dell and Sally Rummel of the Hospital's Community Relations Committee, which is coordinating the fund raiser.

Dinner service begins at 7 p.m., featuring a buffet style style salad bar and sit-down meal including Cornish hen, stuffing, wild rice, fancy vegetables, milk, coffee, tea and ice cream. Tiny Locust of the Lamplighter Restaurant, Pigeon, is catering the Spring Benefit Dinner.

Finishing the evening will be entertainment, provided by the men's barbershop quartet of "Smockey and the Bandits."*

A limited number of tickets are still available, by calling Meg Nicholl at 453-3323 or Tomie Dell at 453-3321.

Purchases of medical equipment and surgical instruments at Scheurer Hospital from July 1, 1983 to the present have totaled more than $84,000. Included are the new $38,475 Ultrasound machine, plus a $12,000 laboratory counter.

Other medical equipment includes a surgical stapler and supplies, electricanything beds and others. New surgical instruments include small knives, Metzenbaum scissors, Babcock tissue forceps and others.

The Hospital's "Need List" today totals more than $71,000. Needed are seven more intravenous pumps, totaling more than $10,005, a new delivery table and fetal monitor (more than $7,000) a reprimeter at $600 and oxygen blender at $200.

"You're invited to share an enjoyable evening with us on May 17, with all proceeds to go toward needed projects and equipment at Scheurer Hospital," the planners say. "This is an excellent opportunity to support our primary local health care facility."

Caldwell missed great PR opportunity

Sometimes, the big-city "reporter" could take a lesson from a small-town "reporter." The other day, at the annual meeting of the Caldwell Chamber of Commerce, one member of the board was discussing the need for more positive publicity for the town.

"We have a great deal to offer," he said. "The town is growing, the schools are good, and the businesses are thriving. We need to get the word out." The member went on to say that the chamber should be more proactive in promoting the town.

But the other members of the board disagreed. They said that the chamber should focus on its core mission and leave the publicity to the local papers.

This is a mistake. The chambers of commerce are the perfect vehicles for promoting their towns. They have a vested interest in the success of their communities and a wealth of knowledge about the local business scene.

Caldwell missed a great opportunity to promote itself. But it's not too late. The chamber could still take action to improve the town's image. It could start by publishing a newsletter that highlights the town's successes and features the businesses that are doing well.

The chamber could also work with the local papers to ensure that the town's successes are covered. It could also consider holding events that attract visitors to the town, such as a food festival or a music concert.

Caldwell has a great deal to offer. It just needs to get the word out. And the chamber is the perfect vehicle for that task.
Thanks A Million

By PERCY ROSS

Ella Ross.

Ella Ross was a "magnificent being." She was always smiling, and her kindness touched the lives of everyone she met. She was a beloved member of our community, and her passing was felt deeply by all who knew her.

Dear Mr. Ross,

I am so grateful for your kind words about Ella. She was such a special person, and her memory will always be cherished. Thank you for sharing your memories of her.

Sincerely,

Coping with the challenges of leadership in a fast-paced world.

The key to success in today's fast-paced world is to stay focused on what matters most. Here are some strategies to help you:

1. Prioritize your tasks. Make a list of all the tasks you need to accomplish and prioritize them based on their importance.
2. Set realistic goals. Set achievable goals that are aligned with your long-term vision.
3. Manage your time effectively. Use tools like calendars and to-do lists to help you stay organized.
4. Stay positive. Maintain a positive attitude and focus on solutions rather than problems.

By staying focused and proactive, you can overcome the challenges of leadership in a fast-paced world.

County election Tuesday on transit mileage

One of just 304 in nation

By JUDY MUSICK

The county election on Tuesday will determine whether to adopt a 0.5% sales tax for transit and road improvements. The referendum is one of just 304 in the nation, and its outcome will have significant implications for the county's transportation infrastructure.

Dear Ella'n,

I am writing to encourage you to vote in the county election on Tuesday. The proposed 0.5% sales tax will help fund important projects like transit and road improvements.

Sincerely,

Worms

Softly, ever subtly, I raced across the lawn. My movements, practiced and stealthy, poised the mortal, translucent worm that lay on my fingertips to a nightmarish end. It was all I could do to keep the worm from slipping away. My arm was still out, and ready. A sudden movement to the right of my head startled me. There, half hidden from view, was a thin, blackbird-like creature. Its wings spread wide, it shot through the air with a whoosh. It landed two feet away, its eyes fixed on me. I was not about to let the worm slide from my grip. I reached out, my fingers closing around the worm. One tug, I thought, would be enough. But then something went wrong. The worm writhed and struggled, its body contorting and trying to escape. I struggled to hold on, but the worm was too strong. It slipped from my grasp, and I watched as it scurried across the lawn, making its way back to the safety of the woods.

The threat of predators is one of the most common fears of the worm. Worms are small and weak, with little chance of survival in the face of a larger predator. But even though they are vulnerable, they have evolved ways to protect themselves from harm. For example, some worms have developed ways to camouflage themselves, blending in with their surroundings to avoid detection. Others have developed ways to escape from predators, using their speed and agility to evade capture. And some worms have developed ways to deal with predators directly, using their own natural defenses to fight back.

WHEREVER YOUR MOTHER DID HER WORK, SHE DID IT FOR YOU

A mother can be young or old; joy come in any state. They can be strict or bold, And often up-to-date. With some enjoying a career Which helps them to progress, While taking care of towed ones who Welcome their success. In business or in apron strings, Your mother showed the way To cope with what the future brings And how to live each day. Your House of cheering gives her praise, So children, call her bless'd. Whatever may be her ways, Your mother did her best. — Gloria Nowak

THE DECLINE OF LAKER FOOTBALL
Up front, Laker athletes were the models of success. But then, the other side of the coin appeared, and the Laker football program began to decline. The reason for the decline of the Laker football program was lack of interest. Although the Laker football program was once the most important in the region, it is now declining in importance. Players are not as interested in football as they once were. This may be due to a lack of interest in the program by the administrative staff. This could cause the program to lose its momentum and may eventually result in the Laker football program being discontinued.

Scheurer notes

The Laker School and Community Center is pleased to announce the opening of the Scheurer Center for the Arts. The center is located on the former site of the old Laker High School and will be open to the public for various events and programs. The center will be a place for arts and cultural events, as well as a space for community gatherings. The center is funded by a grant from the Scheurer Foundation.

的孩子们会是星期四的拼字比赛的特殊嘉宾。他们将坐在观众席上观看比赛，并在比赛结束后接受礼物。比赛的获胜者将获得一份大奖，包括一个奖杯和一份奖学金。
Have you ever noticed how many unpainted barns there are around? Just stop and look, when you are driving around our area. Most of the barns haven’t been painted for 10 years or more. Farming isn’t paying THAT bad. Why not spruce up our area, farmers, even if you don’t live on Unit farm?

Since the section of Pigeon that is closest to the Pigeon Elementary School seems to have electricity during our winter months, why isn’t it possible that a laundramat goes up on Caseville?

Lauren initiated into MTU honor society
Kevin J. Lauren, son of John and Frances B. Lauren of Pigeon, was recently initiated into the Phi Eta Sigma National Honor Society at Michigan Technological University, Houghton. Phi Eta Sigma is a national college scholastic honor society for freshmen. Students are able to become members upon entrance to the university if they meet the eligibility requirements.

Lauren, a 1963 graduate of Laker High School, is majoring in chemical engineering.

Her design was chosen by the Walleye Planning Committee among several dozen entered, and Michelle wins a 35 U.S. Savings Bond, and the first T-shirt produced. Her art teacher at Caseville High, Colleen Bedowske, right, helps display the award winner of a little fisherman with a big fish.

Runners up include Tom Rimixan, Matt Kraus and Brian Pedler, all of Caseville, plus Brad Gilger of Bad Axe. All win T-shirts for their efforts.

Typewriter is dead. It is expected to become a historical event.
