1984 HOME-GROWN CONTEST

Man, that's some turnip!

TREMENDOUS TURNIP: This whopping four pound turnip "turned up" in Ermel Hill's garden in Pigeon. The vegetable, displayed by Hill, measures 20 inches in circumference. It benefited from late spring planting just in time for the rains which fell at that time, he says.

This latest entry in the fourth annual Progress-Advance "Home-Grown Contest" just shows how fertile and productive our Thumb Area crop (and garden) lands are!

If you've got any unusually-shaped, large or otherwise unique vegetable, fruit or other garden goodie, let us know so we can share it with food lovers everywhere!

Just stop by at The Progress-Advance, 7232 E. Michigan Ave., Pigeon, between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. Mondays through Fridays. We'd love to look over your vegetable variety or fruit favorites!

Halloween hours just for fun, kids!

Trick-or-treaters will rule the roads (and streets, sidewalks, etc.) next Wednesday, Oct. 31, as they don costumes and makeup to collect candy and fun on Halloween.

Here's the Western Thumb's official schedule of designated trick-or-treating hours, for safe use by your little goblins and witches:

PIGEON	5:30-7:30 p.m.
ELKTON	6-7:30 p.m.
BAY PORT	5:30-7:30 p.m.
OWENDALE	6-7:30 p.m.
CASEVILLE	6-7:30 p.m.
SEBEWAING	5-7 p.m.
UNIONVILLE	5-7 p.m.
BAD AXE	6-7:30 p.m.
PORT AUSTIN	5:30-7 p.m.
UBLY	5:30-6:30 p.m.

And, don't forget your clocks

This coming weekend is special for another reason, too - daylight savings time ends at 2 a.m. early this Sunday morning.

So, Set your clocks BACK ONE HOUR before you go to bed Saturday night.

Remember the old daylight savings time saying: "Spring ahead, fall back."

CROP Drive today benefits Meals on Wheels, hungry

Laker FFA members will canvass the Laker School District for CROP donations for the Western Thumb Area Split Bean Drive this Wednesday, Oct. 24 (today). Money collected will be used for food and hunger projects in western Huron County and overseas.

Tim Roestel, a Laker senior and son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Roestel, is the FFA CROP chairperson for the 1984 drive. Tim will work with the FFA members and Don Wheeler, FFA Advisor, in organizing carloads for the neighborhood canvass on Wednesday.

Twenty-five percent of all funds collected will be given to the Meals on Wheels program sponsored by the Interfaith Council of Church Women, Pigeon, which operates out of Scheurer Hospital. The 1983 Drive raised $1,067, the highest amount ever, for Meals on Wheels. The remaining 75% of collected funds is designated for the purchase of split beans which will be shipped overseas for distribution to the hungry.

Funds from the 1981 and 1982 drives purchased 120,000 pounds of black turtle beans that were shipped from the Cooperative Elevator Co., Pigeon, to Rio de Janeiro on Sept. 3, 1982. Funds from the 1983 canvass will be used along with 1984 funds to purchase split beans again.

In past years, split beans (and sometimes whole beans) have been purchased locally from the Pigeon Co-op and shipped to countries like Brazil, Greece, Honduras and Costa Rica through the CROP program. Because of requests for much larger quantities of beans, the significantly higher bean price and changes in CROP/Church World Service purchasing policies, CROP may not be purchasing the beans locally for the first time. However, David Bower, Michigan CROP Director, did assure local CROP organizers that CROP will try to purchase local beans if at all possible.

Offerings from area churches, interested individuals and groups coupled with the Laker FFA one-day canvass, raised $4,269 during the 1983 Fall Drive. Statewide, a total of $111,500 went to agencies in 47 Michigan cities to alleviate domestic hunger through local food banks, soup kitchens, home delivered meals, senior citizen centers and advocacy agencies for the poor. CROP's Michigan total for 1983 was $709,000, the highest giving of any CROP region in the country.

"We are really fortunate to have the cooperation of the school administration and the fine spirit of the FFA members and FFA Advisor Don Wheeler in sponsoring the FFA portion of the CROP Drive each year," said CROP Organizer Wanda Eichler of Pigeon. "By canvassing for hunger money, students are reminded that hunger hurts many people in our world and that American agriculture, specifically Huron County agriculture, and more specifically, their farm and their neighbors' farms, produce the food that feeds people here and overseas."

Area churches and organizations will again be contributing harvest offerings and other special gifts to the CROP Split Bean Drive during November and December. Participating groups and churches in last year's drive included: Laker FFA, Thumb Cantate Chorale, Hayes United Methodist, Pigeon First United Methodist, Salem United Methodist, Michigan Avenue Mennonite, Colfax United Methodist, Elkton Missionary, Pigeon River Mennonite and Elkton United Methodist.

State oks Scheurer expansion plan

Construction plans are getting underway for the $2.4 million expansion program at Scheurer Hospital, Pigeon, following last week's approval of the Hospital's major construction and renovation project by the Michigan Department of Public Health.

Official approval of the Hospital's Certificate of Need was received last Tuesday by Hospital Administrator George Desmarais. He said the bond sale arrangements and construction bids will now be continued. Final completion is expected by December, 1985.

"Obviously, we are very pleased," Desmarais said of the state approval. "We have identified the needs and inadequacies of our present building and we will be able to offer the most complete medical care possible for Western Thumb residents."

CONSTRUCTION: The plan includes construction of an additional 14,242 sq. feet of space, plus 3090 sq. feet of area will be renovated. The construction will occur in three areas, mostly on the north side of the Hospital at 170 N. Caseville Road, including:

- relocated emergency department;
 - relocated accounting, business and data processing areas now located in a mobile building on the site;
 - expanded general storage area;
 - relocated and expanded laboratory, and
 - in-service education conference room and classroom.
- On the east side (rear) of the Hospital, an addition will be constructed between the main building and acute care wing to include:
- an ambulance garage;
 - relocation of maintenance and laundry from buildings elsewhere in Pigeon;
 - relocated respiratory therapy space;
 - movement of three care beds to new areas, and
 - expanded kitchen, food storage and cafeteria dining room.

The third new construction area is on the south side, providing an expanded area for the Long Term Care Unit's activities-day room, Desmarais says.

Chinese delegation meets with local DNR officials

Will Chinese pheasants make their new home Michigan?

It probably won't happen this year or next, but someday there will be more, far more pheasants in Michigan than there are today.

That's the hope expressed by Department of Natural Resources chiefs and other staff members Saturday noon when four guests from the Peoples Republic of China met with DNR people.

Commission members, local government officials, TV program directors and other people interested in seeing a return of the pheasant to an important place as an attraction for hunters.

DNR officials and representatives from the Peoples Republic are trying to work out an agreement whereby native Chinese Ringneck Pheasants from their originating place in Asia would be brought here to provide some base stock for reproduction.

Chinese officials agreed last winter that they would supply 200 adult live-trapped birds from Sichuan Province in Central China to begin producing eggs and young birds at the Mason Game Farm for eventual release in Michigan.

So far, no birds have been delivered, but DNR Wildlife Division Chief Charles Guenther pointed out that immense problems in logistics occur when birds are captured in far-off remote places, where their transportation is far slower than in this country, and the birds have to be moved half-way around the world.

However, some of the live-trapped birds in China have produced eggs and young, and the Chinese displayed colored photos of the pheasants. Said Peter Squibb, DNR pheasant specialist, the Chinese pheasants appear somewhat smaller than Michigan birds, and their color is somewhat darker than local pheasants, especially on the neck and upper breast.

Because of the need for quarantine on any live birds from other countries, there will be a delay of several weeks on that basis alone. Consequently, Guenther stated that such problems could be solved by bringing only eggs from China, and not trying to transport the live birds.

Guenther stated that there are so many varieties of pheasants, living under different cultural conditions in China, that it will require study to determine which kinds are best adapted to this area. Pheasants in the wild in the Peoples Republic exist at many land elevations, and consequently have adapted to broad kinds of habitat.

The birds live-trapped earlier this year produced their first broods in China, are better foragers than Michigan birds, which are principally grain and insect eaters. The Chinese pheasants shown on the photos are described by the Chinese visitors as being more accustomed to grass eating than Michigan pheasants.

One of the Chinese guests, Hu Jin Chu, is known as China's "Panda Man," since he has the task of trying to save the PRC's dwindling Panda population. Wild Pandas weigh as much as 300 pounds and consume 30 or more pounds of bamboo shoots daily, and there is doubt whether there's enough bamboo to go around, since bamboo forests are dying.

The Chinese told that there are about 1,000 wild Pandas remaining in their country, and frantic efforts are underway to help replenish bamboo trees, or, if failing that, to live-trap Pandas and move them to more productive areas.

Mr. Chu has appeared on several TV documentaries shown in this country, and his face was recognized by several people at the Saturday noon luncheon. His purpose in accompanying the delegation was to visit some of his acquaintances among American biologists who have worked with him on the Panda problem in China, and also because the land where Pandas live is also inhabited by pheasants.

SPEAKING TO A TV commentator are, Yu Xi Wen, left, leader of the Chinese delegation and director of the Sichuan Forestry Department, speaking through the PRC interpreter, Chen Jian, center, to Fred Trost, producer of "Michigan Outdoors," seen Thursday nights on WUCM-TV.

Inspector Gordo's Minute Mystery THE CASE OF THE Parked Car

The waiter touched a match to Inspector Gordo's order of Cherries Jubilee. Instantly, a blue flame sprouted from the dish.

"Put me in mind of poor Walt Dahlgren," said Gordo soberly. "The movie magnate who took his own life last week?" inquired Octavia, his fair dinner companion.

"The matter of Dahlgren's death is still unsettled," pointed out Gordo. "I'll tell you the important facts and let you be the detective."

"Dahlgren was found behind the wheel of his sedan. The car was parked on the grass of the Grenwich Parkway just below the Stillford exit.

"Death was due to a thirty-two caliber bullet which had entered at the right temple. A single-shot, thirty-two pistol lay near the accelerator pedal.

"The sedan was spotless, inside and out. A careful search—by vacuum cleaners—of the ground within twenty feet of the parked car disclosed only two apple cores, a stub of a week-old theatre ticket, and a rusting earring.

"Dahlgren's were the only fingerprints found on the pistol. An autopsy showed powder burns at the wound area and fresh cherries in his mouth and digestive system. He must have been eating fruit up to the instant of his death.

"Now," concluded Gordo. "Can you tell me why I think Dahlgren was not a suicide, but had been killed elsewhere and brought to the spot where he was found?"

Scheurer plan okayed by state

RENOVATION: The remodeled portion of the project will add more pharmacy space, allow expansion of the acute care unit's nursing station; provide office space for social services and dietary areas, renovate portions of the kitchen and implement other various minor renovations.

The project will correct existing code deficiencies and licensing deficiencies which have developed since the building was constructed in 1972.

Project costs include nearly $1.7 million in construction costs, $89,000 for contingencies, $50,000 in movable equipment, $124,395 in architect-engineering fees and more than $500,000 in financing, debt service reserves and construction interest costs.

The renovation and construction will be paid for with an estimated $2 million bonding program, plus nearly $500,000 in cash accumulated by the Hospital for the project. Patient charges will rise an estimated 5.5% to pay for the program, according to estimates.

EXPANDED SERVICE AREAS: Desmarais says expanded ambulatory care (out-patient) treatment will be possible in the new facility, while the emergency room will be separated from ambulatory care, as they exist today in one area.

"Out-patient care is becoming the goal of health providers today whenever possible. Greater privacy and more direct access will be provided, Desmarais says, noting some treatments require brief daily visits to the Hospital.

OFFICERS RE-ELECTED: Desmarais made the announcement of state approval during last week's annual meeting of the members of Scheurer Hospital, Tuesday at the Pigeon District Library.

Re-elected to one-year terms on the Executive Committee were President Eidon Dietzel, First Vice President Paul Chabusch, Second Vice President Wendell Maust, Secretary Elmer Bussema and Treasurer Margaret McBride.

Carl Loewe of Port Austin was elected to a three-year term on the Hospital Board of Directors. Board members re-elected include Charles Barth, DeVere Sturm, Loren Gettel and Mark Rummel.

Desmarais and Hospital Controller Mark Wolfe reported $5,002 million in patient service revenues for the year ending June 30, 1984, up from $4.71 million in fiscal 1983. Operating revenues (after rate adjustments) totaled $3,777 million, up from $3.59 million the previous year. Operating expenses totaled $3,444 million (up from $3,308 million), leaving excess of revenues over expenses of $332,847 (up from 1983's $305,338).

Gary Bendry, CPA, of the firm of Bendry, Brining, Sweeney & Nartker, PC, noted current Hospital assets are $1.224 million, when added to property, plant and equipment total $2,369 million (up from $2,031 million last year).

Since the Hospital's long-term debt totals less than $45,000, the fund balance stands at $2,064 million.

Desmarais says many medical changes are ahead, as Medicare's new DRGs and other payment plans are being phased in, offering payments on flat rates instead of on costs to hospitals. He doesn't expect these to adversely affect the Hospital, he told the annual meeting attendees.

Some facilities expect 50% occupancy rates elsewhere as these new rates are implemented, but Scheurer Hospital's admissions have been stable - thanks largely to additional service from the Sebawaing Medical Clinic, Caseville Medical Clinic and the Port Austin Medical Clinic and Pharmacy, through the Pigeon Clinic, Desmarais said.

"We're blessed again with a good annual report. Our success is in being proactive, not reactive," Desmarais said.

AUXILIARY EFFORTS: He and Board President Dietzel also praised the efforts of the 45 members of the Scheurer Hospital Auxiliary, who contributed 1500 hours of gift shop work, plus 1600 hours on quilt-making during the past year. A total of $4500 was donated by the Auxiliary to Hospital projects this year.

Tony Loewe of the Lamplighter Restaurant, Pigeon, catered the buffet meal at the Pigeon District Library.

OBSERVATIONS BY PUBLISHER MARK RUMMEL AND ANYBODY ELSE HE CAN GET TO WRITE 'EM!

ELECTION TIME - I, for one, will be glad and relieved when this year's presidential election has passed. You always know almost exactly what the candidates will say, don't you?

First, they complain about the record of their opponent. They say his leadership (or hers...) will be hazardous for our nation and decry his (or her) record in the past.

It's interesting how little time is really spent talking about what they WOULD do, rather than blaming their opponent for all the world's ills. Why can't we hear more substance about each candidate's own stand?

Speaking of politics, I saw an interesting idea in the past week. The Michigan Republican Party sent out packets titled "Official Documents" which said in red, white and blue:

"Attention!"

1984 Absentee-Ballot Election Kit Enclosed!

Postmaster: Expedite for immediate delivery!"

Boy, that's a segment of our voters which may just be appealing to many politicians - absentees. More and more folks are opting for a chance to look over the candidates, ballots, choices and so on in the comfort, time and privacy of their own homes.

SECOND CAR: Some families benefit from two cars for transportation, but this "second car" is strictly for repair work.

This 1984 Pontiac Fiero is the second General Motors product donated to the Laker automotive repair vocational education class this year. The mid-engine sports car joins a Buick donated this past summer in the school's garage to give students the opportunity to work on state-of-the-art technology in auto mechanics.

Donated cars to educational institutions have their vehicle identification numbers removed to prevent transportation use.

ROSS GRILLED IN MURDER TRIAL

Some of the nearly 60 witnesses expected to be called by the prosecution discussed the friendship and later love affair between Ralph C. Ross and Ellen Jane Western, which led to Jerry Western's death, during Ellen Western's trial this past week in Port Huron.

The 39-year-old Bad Axe woman is charged with first-degree murder and conspiracy in her husband's death Jan. 22 by a single shotgun blast in the back. Ross, 52 of Caseville, pled guilty to second degree murder last month for his part in helping Mrs. Western find a "hit-man" to kill her husband.

Michael Bieri, 32 of Elkton, was found guilty of first-degree murder for receiving about $5000 for pulling the shotgun trigger in the case. Both are awaiting sentencing Nov. 9. Bieri faces a mandatory life sentence with no parole, while Ross is expected to receive a 10-year term.

Ross said he first met Mrs. Western at Ross' Talk of the Town Health Spa in Caseville, during her therapy treatment for leukemia. Ross admitted, during her therapy treatment, which led to a love affair that included many phone calls, exchanges of gifts, secret telephone codes and meetings.

Several co-conspirators also testified that Mrs. Western complained about abuse she was receiving at the hands of her husband. Ross said she wanted her husband "slowed down" or killed, and he contacted several people to do the job. Bieri ultimately was paid $4000 - $2000 by Ross from Ellen Western and another $2000 by Ross.

Huron County Sheriff Richard V. Stokan testified Wednesday about his friendship with Jerry and Jane Western and his part in the murder investigation. Stokan questioned Mrs. Western the day after her husband died. He said he was aware of a fight in which she sustained a facial injury, after pointing a shotgun at her husband.

Testimony will continue this week in the trial, expected to take another week to 10 days.

CONSERVATION OFFICER SHOT

State Conservation Officer Timothy Burke of Caro is in stable condition at Saginaw St. Mary's Hospital, after he was shot by suspected poacher at 11:30 p.m. Saturday night in the M-46 and Sheridan Road area southwest of Caro.

Burke, 39, and a fellow officer were fired at as their vehicle pursued a red Blazer vehicle they had found in a wooded area. One shot shattered their windshield and struck Burke, the driver. Investigation continues, assisted by local law officers.

TODAY SHOW LOOKS AT CARO

The NBC television network morning "Today Show" will feature the former Valente Metals Co., plant in Caro during a five-part series on health problems associated with use of hard metals in industry.

Caro is "the worst we've seen" among the three communities examined in the six-month probe which looks at cobalt dust dangers at the tool-cutting factory which closed in 1982, according to Producer Karen Ruccicci.

The Caro segment will be broadcast this Friday, while a capsulized version will appear on the "NBC Nightly News" Wednesday evening.

TUSCOLA DEFICIT EXPECTED

Tuscola County will face a $300,000 deficit next year whether or not voters approve the extra millage proposal Nov. 6. That's the word from financial experts on the County Board, who will present the 1984-85 budget next Wednesday.

The Board is seeking one-half mill for five years for major maintenance projects, while a second ballot asks for one-quarter mill for five years for a county building and site fund.

Layoffs are expected if the major proposal is rejected - including elimination or cuts in the sheriff's road patrols and operations at the County Medical Care Facility. Also to be cut could be Road Commission, Health Department and County Library grants.

POLICE BLOTTER NEWS

About $900 in losses and damage was reported in a trashing of a Sand Point summer residence earlier this month. The home, owned by Dr. Henry Domzalski of Grosse Pointe Farms, was entered, and doors and windows were smashed.

Nothing appears to have been taken, according to Robert Ashmun of Pigeon, caretaker, who reported the incident to Huron County Sheriff's Deputies.

About $600 in household and personal items were stolen within the past two weeks from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Krohn of Pigeon. More than two dozen things or sets were reported missing from the Pigeon Road house, including a silverware set and 50 records.

Bruce Baur of Bay Port sought his own treatment following a 3:30 p.m. accident Oct. 20 when his payloador struck a bump and went out of control, landing in a ditch along Brown Road near Filion Road. He received a cut above the eye, deputies said.

An advertising sign was reported stolen sometime Sunday morning from in front of Janssen's Party Store, Elkton Road and Owendale-Sebawaing Road, according to deputies. No value was given for the three-foot-high sign.

DAUGHTER CHARGED IN FATHER'S POISONING

A 30-year-old Port Huron woman has been charged with giving anti poison to her 63-year-old father near Sandusky. Linda Willing was arraigned by Sanilac District Judge Richard Riordan, who set a preliminary exam Oct. 26.

She is charged with attempted murder by mixing anti poison in Cletus Brown's food during winter months of 1983 and 1984. Brown's legs are now paralyzed and he is confined to a wheelchair, possibly because of high doses of the poison found in his system, according to James Young of the Sanilac Prosecutor's Office.

WATER TOXIN LIMITS SET

New rules on limits of toxic wastes in Michigan's waters was approved Thursday by the state Water Resources Commission. The group adopted a complex set of regulations setting an "acceptable risk" level of carcinogenic chemicals in lakes, rivers and streams.

In short, the limit averages one case of cancer in every 100,000 people with average intake of Michigan-caught fish and water, which may carry cancer-causing levels of certain chemicals.

SCHWEITZER TRIAL DELAYED

The murder trial for Charles Schweitzer, 71 of Sand Point, has been postponed to Jan. 21, 1985 before Circuit Judge M. Richard Knoblock in Bad Axe. It had originally been set to begin this Monday. Schweitzer is charged in the June 2 shooting death of Patrick Rogers, 24 of Caseville, who was found in Schweitzer's car.

His charge of involuntary manslaughter was reduced from murder and felony firearm in the preliminary hearing in Huron County District Court.

Caseville family party set

Families are invited to an evening of Christian entertainment during the second annual Hallelujah Party for Halloween on Wednesday, Oct. 31, sponsored by the Abundant Life Fellowship of Caseville.

The party, planned from 6 to 7:30 p.m., will be offered at the Sleeper State Park Outdoor Center's dining hall, on State Park Road. There is a small family charge to cover refreshment and building rental costs, according to Pastor James Miller.

Persons should dress in costumes of a Biblical origin and prizes will be awarded. For reservations, contact Pastor Miller at 856-4949.

What's on YOUR list?

A news report on television last week explored the top 20 scientific advances mankind has discovered or invented in this 20th century. The idea came from Science Magazine last year, which asked its readers to name their nominees for the "top 20" list. Some of the advances have helped mankind medically or culturally. Others have helped us explore our past or chart our future. Still others have helped us communicate -- or destroy each other.

But all 20 have come about in an older person's lifetime -- since the year 1900. Here's the list, in no particular order, as compiled by Science Magazine (with our own comments added):

1. Intelligence testing. With it, we can compare learning progress. Without it, are we better than animals?
2. "Big bang" theory. Did our universe (and earth) get its start that way? No one realized the universe is expanding, until this century!
3. The transistor. These tiny chips of silicon shrunk the size of radios, TVs, computers and almost everything else electronic -- saying goodbye to vacuum tubes.
4. Vacuum tubes. But for their own time span (turn of century until late 1950s), these brought about radio, TV and other communications.
5. Use of data. By asking questions and polling, we've learned more about people in general -- and ourselves in particular.
6. Networking. This made possible our world's telephone system, allowing person-to-person communications as well as TV and radio expansions.
7. TV. What more can we say about our world's biggest single equalizer and informer? Color TV in the early 1950s tripled its communications influence.
8. The computer. That mini-calculator (which probably cost $6.99) in your hand was room-size and cost millions in 1946. School kids, video games, cars and even toasters have 'em today, plus nearly every business desk in America.
9. The tongue skull. This geologic find linked animals to man, perpetuating the evolution theory.
10. Plastics. If you would have told your great-grandfather that milk containers, motor oil cans, envelopes, drinking straws and auto trims would be made of such a pliable, colorable and otherwise unique substance, would he have believed you? Plastics truly are everywhere!
11. Discovery of DNA. This dynamo of life found in all cells isn't fully understood, but is greatly appreciated scientifically!
12. Pesticides. Allowing farmers and gardeners to control bugs and noxious weeds with sprays and powders gives them more control of their worlds.
13. Blood typing. Knowing the make-up of our internal selves allows transfusions and blood donors to save others' lives.

14. Plant breeding. Genetic engineering produces more food -- or flowers -- on the same amount of land.
15. Antibiotics. Using drugs to fight infection, diseases and other body maladies is a giant step forward for mankind.
16. Mental health education. Understanding the less-blessed among us is an advancement still emerging in our world, but having better awareness today than ever before.
17. Birth control. Some may disagree with the concept, but this offers partial relief from world congestion of the human kind. Couple it with better education and the people explosion expected about the year 2000 may be minimized.
18. Relativity theory. This viewpoint has advanced the nuclear power and so many other theories, since every action results in an equal reaction.
19. The laser. Again, here's one just coming into its own. Directed laser light beams can transmit messages and cut diamonds, all controlled via computers.
20. Nuclear fission. Properly controlled, this can be a great benefit to mankind. But what will happen if it gets into improper hands?

Scientifically speaking, THAT'S quite a listing. And we've still got 16 years left in this century!

RECOLLECTIONS

By GEORGE KEIM

DEAR EDITOR:

I was a hired man on farms and did a lot of other work from the time I was 16. I did a lot of jobs on the farm. One I did a lot was plowing.

Any of us older men will tell you that if you had three good horses, an Oliver 99 plow and good ground, it was a pleasant job. But if you had new ground to plow, it took a very meek man not to break the Fourth Commandment!

Or, if you had stony ground to plow, your ribs got sore from the plow jumping out of the ground. And if an evener broke or a clevis pin broke and the lines were around your waist, you'd fly out over the plow. I don't believe many of us said praise the Lord.

One fall the ground didn't freeze until almost Christmas and a fellow hired me to plow for him. He had good horses and a good plow, but his ground was very stony -- and I had sore ribs! I'd have to pull the plow back a lot of times.

The boss came out in the field with a Fordson Tractor and a two-bottom plow. He got hung in the fence several times a day and I'd have to take my horses and pull him back. In the 80 rods of fence, over half the posts were bent and they were steel posts.

I'd start at 7 o'clock in the morning and he'd always have the horses harnessed up, so I didn't get very far into his barn. On the fourth day it rained, so I put the horses in the barn and unharnessed them, but the boss made me harness them up again. He didn't want me to hang up the harness wet.

Then, he scolded me because a horse got loose and was eating hay in the alley way. He said I should have closed a gate. There was a gate there, but it hadn't been closed for a long time and I wasn't in that part of the barn. He blamed me for not feeding a colt that was 'way back in the barn, and if I didn't feed it he might as well knock it in the head. He said if a man is on the place three days he should know where everything was.

He got awfully mad when I told him to get the axe and I'd knock the colt in the head for him. He fired me that night, but I worked a lot of times for him after that -- but only for three or four days at a time because he got so ornery. You couldn't live with him!

In Prov. 20:4, it says, "The sluggard will not plow because of the cold, therefore shall he beg in harvest and have nothing." That still holds true, but with these eight-bottom plows and heated cabs, you can plow in almost any kind of weather if the ground isn't frozen!

SINCERELY,
GEORGE KEIM

LIFE...
After College
By KAMI BUCHHOLZ

Am asked "what is the biggest difference between college life and the 'real' world?" No doubt many of you could offer a number of answers to this question.

The major difference between the two "worlds" is that college life and the real world are -- separate worlds. Let me explain.

Life at college has demands, but these demands are more or less spelled out. As a student, you know that your grades will reflect on your input, and the main reason for being in college is to acquire an education that will further your potential in the "outside" world.

Now, compared with college, the outside world is indeed alien. There are many demands, but these demands are not so clearly spelled out. Instead, these demands surface in the form of responsibilities. One has responsibilities to oneself, and others. Failure to meet responsibilities and obligations results in a number of outcomes -- alas, the major difference between the two worlds.

In the college world, things seem to be basically black or white, either/or, this or that. But in the real world, things are often a combination of yes and no, black and white.

It sometimes helps to keep in mind just which world you are functioning in -- and adjust accordingly.

Be sure to have a super week!

You KNOW you live in a small town when...

...when you know all the people around the coffee table at the local restaurant -- or at least know who the newcomers are before they know you!

HALLOWEEN SATURDAY STORY HOUR

All area children in grades kindergarten through third are invited to a Halloween Saturday Story Hour on Oct. 27 from 1 to 2 p.m.

The children are encouraged to wear costumes and listen as Peggy Karl reads the stories, "Dracula's Cat," "Everyone Goes as a Pumpkin" and "Haunted House on Halloween." Games and a special filmstrip, "Old Black Witch," are planned, as well as a Halloween mask craft for each child to take home.

Annual registration is required for each child attending, prior to or on the day of Story Hour.

PRE-SCHOOL STORY HOUR

Preschool Story Hour on Tuesday, Oct. 30 will feature a "Halloween" theme.

Halloween stories will be read, including "The Berenstain Bears and the Old Spooky Tree," "Grinkles," "A Keen Halloween Story" and "Witches Four." "Who Feels Happy?" exercise, Halloween characters and Five Little Pumpkins fingerplays, Clown Toss game along with a filmstrip, "Monsters in the Closet" are planned.

Each child attending will also receive a Halloween mask and treat to take home.

Two sessions of Story Hour are conducted weekly for preschoolers, each Tuesday morning from 9 to 10 a.m. and from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m.

PARENTS COFFEE HOUR

Forty-two parents were on hand to hear Wanda Eichler speak Oct. 16 on the importance of being aware of nuclear weapons and their effects, and a book review on "Sadako and the Thousand Paper Cranes" by Eleanor Coerr. This book is about a young Japanese girl who suffered from leukemia as a result of the Hiroshima bombing in 1945 and a belief that if she received a thousand paper cranes she would recover. A hands-on Origami

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

The Sweet Taste of Victory
By BOB DRISCOLL

As the most unlikely sports fan in the world, I found myself watching the final game of the World Series on a portable television set as I announced the horse pulling competition at the State Fairgrounds in Detroit.

After leaving the fairgrounds, I nearly turned the pickup around to head toward downtown so I could be closer to the excitement. As it turned out, it is a good thing I took the road home. Downtown Detroit was not the right place for this old farm boy that Sunday evening.

As I drove on home I thought about the interesting parallel between what was happening in Tiger Stadium and recent happenings in Congress. The difference was the Tigers were winning.

In the eighth inning a guy named Gibson hit a homerun and this unlikely sports fan, who barely knows the difference between first base and home plate, was yelling his lungs out, rooting for the home team. The sweet taste of victory. There is nothing like it.

Traveling homeward I thought about the effect this event was having on me. The fact that the Tigers have had season after season on the losing side of the ledger never really bothered me. But now, their winning was important. Just imagine how important this win must be to the fan who has been to every game, win or lose. It is really true, the sweetest victory follows defeat.

Defeat is a real part of every challenge we face. Although it is hard to accept on the rocky road to victory, defeat usually plays a key learning role. The important part is learning. Don't repeat the defeat.

Perhaps if we used the same principles in Congress we could win more often there, too. But first we have to teach the players to throw the ball instead of the bull.

It is an interesting thought. I think we could all use a sweet taste of fiscal victory through a balanced budget and a lower national debt. Perhaps we should put Sparky in charge of spring training.

Record day Saturday at Sebewaing plant

Saturday was the biggest delivery date of the year for the Sebewaing plant of the Michigan Sugar Company, as 24,000 tons of beets were delivered in a rain-shortened period.

The beets were brought in 1,429 loads. Total for the Michigan Sugar Company's four plants was 81,778 tons. "We'll beat that Saturday record," declared Davis Sunderland, vice president-agriculture, for the company, and he was hopeful that Monday morning's weather predictions were coming true. "It's still wet, very wet," he stated, "but it looks more favorable and we have the forecast that makes the week look pretty good. That's what we need."

Trading was light ahead of

THIS WEEK'S COMMODITY ROUND-UP

GRAIN MARKET NEWS

Harvest continues to lag behind the five-year average as a result of wet weather. The long-range forecast is calling for continued above-normal rainfall in the corn and soybean belt.

The weather, combined with light farmer holding of harvested new crop, is keeping both cash and barge basis levels higher than normal and in turn, is providing support in Chicago.

The European Common Market will give the U.S. more competition on the world wheat market according to a recent USDA report. The latest outlook report estimated Common Market exports at 17.5 million metric tons, a million higher than last month's estimate.

China has renewed its threat to retaliate against the U.S. if recently introduced American textile quotas are not removed. The fact that China brought up retaliation is significant, since Chinese officials recently told the U.S. they won't directly tie the textile dispute to their grain purchases. Grain futures analysts are taking the threat lightly, saying reaction in the markets will likely come when the threats become reality.

At a time when U.S. farm programs are discouraging production of feed grains, Argentina is trying to encourage coarse grain production by providing farmers with a line of credit equivalent to five million dollars. According to sources in Argentina, the government is trying to boost grain production in an attempt to earn hard currency for debt servicing.

LIVESTOCK MARKET NEWS

Last Thursday, USDA gave the cattle industry a real shock with the release of the quarterly cattle-on-feed report.

Trading was light ahead of the report with analysts anticipating negative news. But when the numbers were released, the news was much worse than had been anticipated. For the 13 states, the trade was looking for a placement figure of 103.6% of last year, on the average. The actual figure for placements was 112%.

The marketing figure was also bearish, reported at 96.6% of a year ago - below the estimated average of 98.1%. USDA pegged cattle-on-feed at 106% of a year ago. This pre-release estimate was 100.4%.

Traders gasped in disbelief at the figures and the market on Friday reacted by opening near the limit down. Lower cash prizes are also expected over the next two weeks in reaction to the report.

The most important result of the report will be the reaction of the market's bulls. They have been gearing up for the bull market of 1985. The cattle-on-feed report released last Thursday has dealt a severe blow to those bulls and will likely force heavy long liquidation.

The heavy build-up of wholesale meat supplies was evident last week in retail features. According to a commodity news service nine-city survey, pork, beef and chicken were heavily featured as low wholesale prices allowed retailers some latitude in planning.

Packers are burdened with large beef supplies and have offered price discounts on large volume orders for immediate delivery. As a result, beef should remain in the featuring mix.

CROP WEATHER UPDATE

During early October, the nation's farmers did not have much luck with crop harvest. According to the Department of Agriculture's weather and crop bulletin, rain slowed corn and soybean harvest to a rate under the five year average.

The states hardest hit included Iowa, where only 29% of the corn crop was harvested compared to 72% a year ago. Corn acreage harvested in Illinois was at 33% compared with 67% last year and in Ohio, only 15% of the corn and 35% of the soybean harvest was complete.

Cold, dry air did move through the belt late in the week and this should give farmers in the midwest and east an opportunity to catch up.

Late last week, crop specialists in the midwest warned that further delays in corn and soybean harvest could become critical to crop quality and yields. The soybean crop has absorbed too much moisture which could induce mold and lengthy harvest delays. The corn crop is vulnerable to wind damage because of corn bore damage and stalk weakness. A recent report from the Soviet Union has confirmed earlier reports indicating this season's harvested grain area will be well below last year. The report pointed to a large gap between planted and harvested areas. This is likely the result of abandoned drought-damaged fields in the western new lands.

NEWS BRIEFS

FMHA RETAINS MAJOR DECISIONS

The Farmers Home Administration has announced it will continue to make major decisions regarding farm loans that have been turned over for servicing by lending institutions and that will include the decision to foreclose. The new program, will be implemented in five midwestern states, including Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Missouri and Nebraska.

BRAZIL TO BUY MORE U.S. WHEAT

According to a Brazilian business publication, that country's central government is ready to approve an increase in Brazil's wheat imports. Some two million tons of wheat will come from the U.S., using American Agricultural export credit.

U.S. REFUSES EEC OFFER

The U.S. has refused to accept any European quota on-corn gluten feed imports. In a meeting in Geneva, Switzerland, the European Common Market voted to increase the proposed quota by 400,000 tons. U.S. negotiators rejected the proposal, saying they won't accept any quota at all.

FARM PROGRAM ENROLLMENT UP

More than the usual number of farmers enrolled in the 1985 feed grain program last week on the first day of eligibility. ASCS officials suggested that the large number of farmers signing up may have been attracted by the opportunity to receive 50% of their projected 1985 deficiency payment at enrollment time. ASCS officials also said that they expect enrollment to improve even more if the five percent paid diversion program is included.

Weber-Fassett unite lives in marriage

Sharon Anne Fassett of Cass City and Douglas Charles Weber of Ruth were united in marriage on Saturday, Oct. 6 at St. Peter and Paul Catholic Church, Ruth. Father Loren Kalinowski officiated the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Margaret O'Connor and Donald Fassett. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Weber.

Music selections included "The Wedding Song," "Lara's Theme," "Endless Love" and "Ave Maria." The organist and soloist was Mrs. Sandy Gentner of Ruth.

The altar was decorated with large matching vases of white gladiolis and burgundy carnations with bows and greens. The processional aisle was decorated with clusters of green eucalyptus tied with burgundy bows and sweeping streamers.

Given in marriage by her father, Donald Fassett, the bride wore a formal gown of chantilly lace over taffeta in a victorian style, featuring a lace florence at the sheer bodice of Brussels net and a high lace collar. The victorian sleeves buttoned at the wrists and featured wristpoints of imported venice lace. The full skirt fell from a basque waistline into a full hemline flounce sweeping into a chapel-length train.

She wore a chantilly lace hat with a side upsweep, complemented with an imported french lace blusher. The hat also featured a floor-length veil complete with back puff.

The bride carried a high-styled cascading bouquet featuring elegant white gardenias, fragrant starlike stephanotis and glossy green strands of fresh ivy.

Mrs. Duane (Donna) Schultze of Pigeon, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a wine-colored floor-length gown of brocade taffeta. The off-the-shoulder, ¾-length puffed sleeve dress featured a fitted waist accented with a large bow. The full hemline was upswept to one side and accented with another bow. She carried a crescent-shaped bouquet designed with Rubrum lilies and Kalanchoe clusters surrounded by red margined prayer plant leaves and baby doll greenery and shaped scotch broom strands.

Bridesmaids were Sally Fassett of Marlette, sister of the bride, Linda Weber of Port Huron, sister of the groom, Mrs. Michael (Lora) Karr of Cass City, friend of the bride and Ms. Hatti Osentoski of Bad Axe, friend of the bride. Their dresses and bouquets were identical to the matron of honor's.

Flowergirl was Shara Jean Fassett of Marlette, niece of the bride. She wore a dress fashioned similarly to the bride's. She carried a lace basket filled with miniature burgundy carnations, Rubrum lily buds and greens.

Robert Weber of Ruth, brother of the groom, was best man. Groomsmen were Carl Weber of Ubyly, brother of the groom, Dennis Fassett of Saginaw, brother of the bride, Bruce Maurer of Ruth, friend of the groom and Randy Schefka of Parisville, friend of the groom.

Ringbearer was Jason Holdwick of Harbor Beach, nephew of the groom. Ushers were Julius Traub and Gordon Clor, both of Port Huron, brothers-in-law of the groom.

The bride's mother wore a street-length gown of periwinkle georgian crepe, featuring tailored pleats and a neckline of a lace petal collar. She wore a corsage of white sweetheart roses and periwinkle stephanotis with ribbons.

The groom's mother wore a crepe taffeta magenta street-length dress with a stand-up mandarin collar and tie sash. She accented her dress with a hat and gloves, and wore a corsage of pink sweetheart roses, baby's breath and ribbons.

Following the ceremony, a reception was conducted at

THE DO-IT-YOURSELF WILL

There is one famous dictum of the legal profession with which almost everyone is familiar: The man who defends himself has a fool for a lawyer and a fool for a client. In this light, it is curious that there are lawyers out there writing books about how you can take care of your own legal affairs.

Don't bet on it, particularly when it comes to drawing up your own will. Expert legal opinion insists that relying on these books is dangerous and causes more problems than are solved. These people see the botched-up cases everyday.

Sure, you might be able to save a hundred, or even a few hundred dollars—depending on the type of will—by drawing it up yourself, but you might be jeopardizing your whole estate. Also keep in mind that the ones who suffer are your heirs, the innocents who were not in any way responsible for your blunder. So do yourself and them a favor: have a lawyer draw up your will.

Brill-Bernhardt united in New York

Tina Marie Bernhardt became the bride of Gregory N. Brill, both of Grand Island, N.Y., on Saturday, Oct. 20 at 11 a.m. in The Wintergarden, Niagara Falls, N.Y.

Mrs. Gregory N. Brill

Fifty friends and family members witnessed the vows, which were written by the bride and groom. Officiating at the ceremony was the Rev. Blair McKin of the Church of the Nazarene of Niagara Falls, N.Y.

Parents of the bridal couple are Mr. and Mrs. John G. Bernhardt of Elkton and Betty L. Brill of St. Petersburg, Fla.

Flants and flowers of The Wintergarden provided a natural setting for the wedding. Nicki Zawacki sang "The Wedding Song" and "The Wedding Prayer."

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a gown of polyester sheer and satin and a schiffli-embroidered neckline trimmed with pearls. The gown featured a fitted bodice trimmed with re-embroidered alencon lace and pearls and Juliet sleeves of satin with a sheer inset of lace. The full skirt of sheer chiffon trimmed with satin flounce extended to a chapel train. Her veil was secured by a sugar scoop bonnet trimmed with alencon lace and pearls.

The bride carried a crescent bouquet with white roses, sonya roses and white miniature carnations. The bride selected her sister, Linda Lou Bernhardt of Lansing, to stand as maid of honor. She wore a peach floor-length gown of sheer polyester knit with spaghetti straps and a fitted waist that flowed into an accordin-pleated full skirt. A peach point d'esprit lace capelet trimmed with peach satin ribbons completed her attire. Her hat was a wreath of peach roses, baby's breath and trimmed with peach satin ribbons.

Her bridesmaid was Susan Goede of Cleveland, Ohio, a friend of the bride, who was attired identically to the maid of honor.

Both attendants carried arm bouquets decorated with five sonya roses, baby's breath accented with peach and white satin ribbons.

The groom was attired in a classic cutaway white tuxedo. His boutonniere was of a white rose, sonya rose and a miniature white carnation to match his bride's bouquet.

Randy J. Bernhardt of South Bend, Ind., brother of the bride, served as best man. The groom was also attended by James Shapow of Dewitt, uncle of the bride. They were attired identically to the groom in beige Bill Blass tuxedos, as was the father of the bride.

The mother of the bride wore a mauve floor-length gown of lustrous polyester knit with a V-neck, full accordin-pleated skirt and a fitted waist, accented with a white orchid corsage.

The newlyweds enjoyed a dinner reception at the Red Coach Inn, Niagara Falls. The mother of the bride baked and decorated the wedding cake using an Italian motif.

Mr. and Mrs. Brill then left for a wedding trip to Martha's Vineyard, the Cape Cod region of Massachusetts. They will reside at 1319 Ranson, Grand Island, N.Y.

Worthy Study Club marks 50 years

Nineteen members and former members attended the 50th anniversary meeting of the Worthy Study Club on Oct. 10 at the meeting room of the Caseville Township Hall.

Before the formal meeting, Christine Conkey and Marion Watterworth, who were organizers of the Worthy Study Club in 1935 and co-hostesses of the 50th anniversary were presented with gold and yellow corsages by Alys Duffy, who is also a charter member of the club.

President Mrs. Conkey invited the group to the dessert luncheon. The table was decorated with a yellow and gold floral arrangement flanked by gold candles. Christine and Marion presided at the tea table, assisted by the program committee of Frances Beach, Lillian Kunstman and Janet Garely.

Mrs. Conkey introduced Neil and Jean Smith of Bad Axe, who showed pictures of their 7500 mile trip to the southern tip of South America.

Roll call was "Interesting things that have happened during these 50 years." Events mentioned included care and food packages, clothing packages, community pantry, supporting war orphans, supporting local needs and other worthy causes. Money was raised by the club's annual fish fry and a cookie sale booth at the Holly Berry Fair.

The Worthy Study Club was organized in January, 1935 with Christine Conkey as president, as she is now during the club's 50th year. The first meeting was with Kathryn Morgan, a charter member. Throughout the years, the club has averaged 16 members and now boasts 20 members. Through the years we have had 56 women as members.

A short business meeting was conducted, with cards sent to those unable to attend. Hostess for the November meeting will be Hazel Simmons.

Club members are invited to a Christmas Dinner Party at Annabelle's, Sebewaling, on Dec. 11 at 2:30 p.m.

80th year celebration planned

Mrs. Florence Vollmer

The family of Florence Vollmer cordially invites all her friends and relatives to celebrate with her on the occasion of her 80th birthday anniversary at the Pigeon District Library Community Room on Sunday, Oct. 28 between 2 and 5 p.m.

Caseville native marries in late summer wedding

Jennifer Lynn Hans of Bloomfield Hills and Walter Wozniak of Romulus united their lives in marriage on Aug. 25 at St. Hugo of the Hills Church, Bloomfield Hills.

The Rev. Clement Esper, pastor of St. Hugo Church, performed the ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Walter J. and Marilyn P. Hans of Bloomfield Hills. The groom is the son of William H. and Stella Wozniak of Pigeon.

The bride chose an off-the-shoulder gown of ivory taffeta with a cathedral train and a bodice encrusted with seed pearls, and puffed sleeves. She wore a picture hat encrusted with seed pearls and a bouquet of silk cactus flowers with ivy and forget-me-nots.

Jeanne Iacobelli of Bloomfield Hills, friend of the bride, was maid of honor, wearing a violet taffeta gown similar in style to the bride's and a silk bouquet of hibiscus, lavender in color, with ivy and forget-me-nots. Also attending the bride were Kristin Roberts, Nancy Strait, of Bloomfield Hills, both friends of the bride and Barbara Hans of Bloomfield Hills, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids wore gowns of orchid identical in style to the honor attendant's and carried identical bouquets.

Attending the groom was Robert Pittman of Caseville. Groomsmen were Charles Hopper of Riverview, Lawrence Burton of Trenton and David Naumann of Detroit, all friends of the groom.

The newlyweds greeted guests at a reception in the Mercy College Conference Center, Lake Superior Room in Detroit.

Following the reception, the newlyweds honeymooned in northern Michigan before returning to their home in Romulus.

Thumb Outdoor Report:

By DUANE GUENTHER
IF YOU HIT A DEER with your car this fall, stick around, because the DNR will want you to have the animal. This was not the case in years past, as the Department often donated the meat to nearby schools for hot lunches, to senior citizen groups for meal programs or to charity. But the State Health Dept. put an end to that earlier this year. It told the DNR it was violating state health codes because the meat is not inspected by the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture. The USDA won't approve the meat because it's impossible to tell how long the deer has been dead. The DNR is somewhat upset, because they envision the possibility of letting some good food go to waste.

FOR THE FIRST TIME SINCE 1937, money from Ducks Unlimited, an international organization of duck hunters that annually raises tens of millions of dollars to preserve wildlife habitat, will be used to fund conservation projects in the U.S.

Before this year, nearly all of DU monies were used in the prairie provinces of Canada where the largest number of the continental supply of ducks are raised every summer. The reason for the sudden change is the more than 500,000 acres of both breeding and wintering wetland habitat that is lost each year in our own country.

The DU program in the U.S. will be called MARSH, which is an acronym for Matching Aid to Restore States Habitat. The group's refusal to spend any of the money collected in the U.S. on projects here had prompted much controversy with the organization. DU is expected to raise $40 million this year, the most in the organization's history. Local chapters that contribute to this effort are based in Caro, Bad Axe and Sebawaing. Together, they raise more than $20,000 to aid the effort.

According to Harold L. Peterson's "Pageant of the Gun," ducks became a little easier for hunters to hit around the year 1800. Prior to that, most waterfowling, using flintlock fowling pieces, took their birds on the water rather than in the air. The reason being the slow ignition of the flintlock produced shot-dodging ducks. At least that's what the good Reverend Alexander John Forsyth thought.

Rev. Forsyth was an ardent waterfowl hunter from Scotland. Family legend has it that after frequently missing birds in the lochs and marshes which abounded with wildlife, the good minister decided that his marksmanship was not at fault. He felt the ducks could see the flash from the priming of his flintlock fowling piece and the split second between this and the firing of the main charge gave them time to evade his shot. He grew tired of returning to his home at Belhelvie with fewer ducks than he thought he merited, and in his determination to do something about it, invented the percussion principle. This finally led to the percussion cap and an entire new era in the field of shooting, especially wing shooting.

While the advent of the percussion shotgun may have been heralded by Rev. Forsyth and his Scottish duck hunting cronies, it didn't take the American market hunter long to switch over to the breechloaders once they became available. History and firearms books do not do justice to the cantankerous personalities exhibited by the muzzle-loading shotguns. One must experience their idiosyncrasies first hand. I was not fortunate enough, or should I say unfortunate enough, to own one, but my oldest brother, Lyle, who was also my duck hunting mentor, frequently took one into the marsh. Here are brief accounts of my first impressions of the percussion shotgun.

Lyle came into possession of his fowling piece when another brother, Charlie, succeeded in coming some unsuspecting shotgun owner in parting with two beautiful English percussion shotguns for a total of $90. Lyle willingly shelled out his $45 and for it, got second choice. I can't remember what Charlie's gun looked like as he soon traded it for a pistol, but if it was better than Lyle's, it must have been a gem. Lyle hunted with his gun for many years and when he finally decided to give up chasing ducks, the gun took up residency in his office closet, where it remains today. I always try to stay on the good side of my oldest brother, for someday I hope he will part with that gun and I may have a chance to buy it.

I think what makes me remember Lyle's gun so well is that he hunted with it some 20 years ago, before the current blackpowder craze. Because of this, he was, as near as I know, the only muzzle-loading duck hunter on Saginaw Bay during the late 50s.

Lyle's muzzle-loader had quite a reputation around our old duck hunting shack. Any visitors would soon be initiated into the blackpowder fraternity. Lyle was notorious for overloading the old blunderbuss, and then soothing the unsuspecting shooter into believing that such an old gun couldn't possibly kick. After the gun was discharged and the smoke cleared, the poor sucker who pulled the trigger would stand amid howls of laughter while his ears rang and his shoulder ached. That is, most of them would be standing.

I recall one memorable Sunday afternoon when one of Lyle's relatives, a fine female athlete, was visiting the cabin on Saginaw Bay.

"You want to shoot the muzzle-loader?" Lyle innocently asked.

"Sure," she answered, knowing full well

KILLS FLEAS, TICKS!

Woods & Waters

by Duane Guenther

A real shotgun

In the marsh, the gun was a beauty to behold . . .

she was being challenged to perform in a man's world.

Lyle poured in a little extra powder, but that isn't where the secret lay. When it came time for the shot, he would put in a double dose. This was topped with the wadding. Those knowledgeable in the laws of physics understood that "for every action, there's an equal and opposite reaction." In simple terms, the powder needed more pressure to push out the extra shot, and this rewarded the shooter with an extra hard kick.

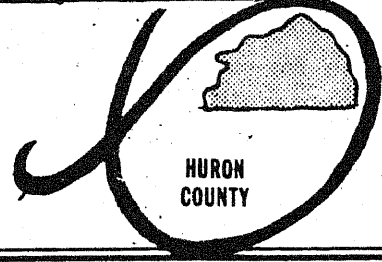

When the gun was primed and ready, Lyle explained he would throw up a can for the target. He reared back and tossed the can straight in the air. In order for the gal to put a bead on it, she had to lean over backwards. That was the position she was in when she squeezed the trigger. She wasn't in that position very long, for when the gun belched, she was driven to the ground like a rock had been dropped on her. The only thing I can say is that she took it like a trooper.

In the marsh, the gun was a beauty to behold. A slower ignition time meant that you had to lead the ducks a little more, but Lyle was the best shot I have ever known, and it took little time to master the gun. All was not perfect with it though.

One particular rainy afternoon Lyle and I headed for the marsh. We decided to split up and hunt two sides of a large pothole. The wind picked up and the rain fell horizontal, but we didn't mind for the birds were really flying and before no time, I had my limit. I was somewhat concerned that time and again, I would see ducks hover and set into my brother's decoys without a shot being fired. The only thing I could think of was that he was trying to line them up to kill two with one shot. As darkness set in the marsh erupted with a thunderous "Whoomp," and a streak of fire 10 feet long shot out of the blind. Later I found out that Lyle was having trouble keeping his powder dry and each time the ducks landed, he would rise, sight down the barrel and squeezing the trigger, be met with a sickening "pop" of the cap going off. Finally, after forcing dry powder down the nipple, did the gun discharge. By then, shooting hours were over and for the first time in my life, I out-bagged my brother.

Another time Lyle and I were hunting together, he ran out of wads. These are cylinders cut out of cellulose and necessary to hold the shot and powder in the barrel and also give the gun compression. After a hurried discussion, Lyle decided he would wad up some toilet paper that he kept in his shell box for other emergencies, and use it as a makeshift wadding. We sat for some time waiting for ducks to decoy and when they finally came in, had all but forgotten the material down the barrel. With a couple of beautiful Black Ducks hovering over the blocks, Lyle rose and touched off the muzzle-loader. The familiar "Whoomp," followed by a cloud of white smoke did little to detract from a sky full of confetti and two wildly-flapping Black Ducks that resembled scared war heroes fleeing a New York ticker-tape parade. So much for toilet paper. We had to stop hunting because of the laughter that ensued . . .

SOUND-OFF!

Call 453-2323 anytime to SOUND-OFF. Selected statements will appear in the next Progress-Advance, so watch for yours! Deadline: 5 p.m. Mondays.

Thank you to the lady who saved me from a collision at the Post Office last Tuesday.

I appreciate Pigeon's noon siren, but how about adding one at 7 a.m. and another at 5:30 p.m.? The morning one would help us get up and to work, and the afternoon one would get the kids home for supper. How about it, Pigeon?

Living locally, we should support our local restaurants. But when we order food and find some type of living creature such as an insect in there, I can see no reason to go back to the restaurant.

Yes, I'm calling about a food co-op as mentioned in SOUND-OFF last week. There's a food co-op in Bay Port and we have a meeting this Wednesday, Oct. 24 at 7 p.m. at the Bay Port United Methodist Church. Anybody who'd like to join is welcome to come. Call 453-3638 if you have any questions.

Isn't there space in the Tuscola County skill center? Have our local leaders considered leasing or renting this, just a few miles away, rather than paying a lifetime of millages to construct a school building monument to the county? I believe in the voc-ed. concept, but surely there are classrooms available now in our schools due to lower enrollment. Why can't we use them?

I'd just like to say some of these nuts out in the country really scare me. They come out and shine deer and whatever and they've got their guns and they scare people half to death out in the country. The people in town don't have that problem. The people out in the country have to live with it.

After seeing the second debate, I hope people will realize that President Reagan can't be beaten. He's the only person qualified to run our country. If only we could get a good Republican back into our Governor's chair and our State Senate. But our time will come, starting Nov. 6.

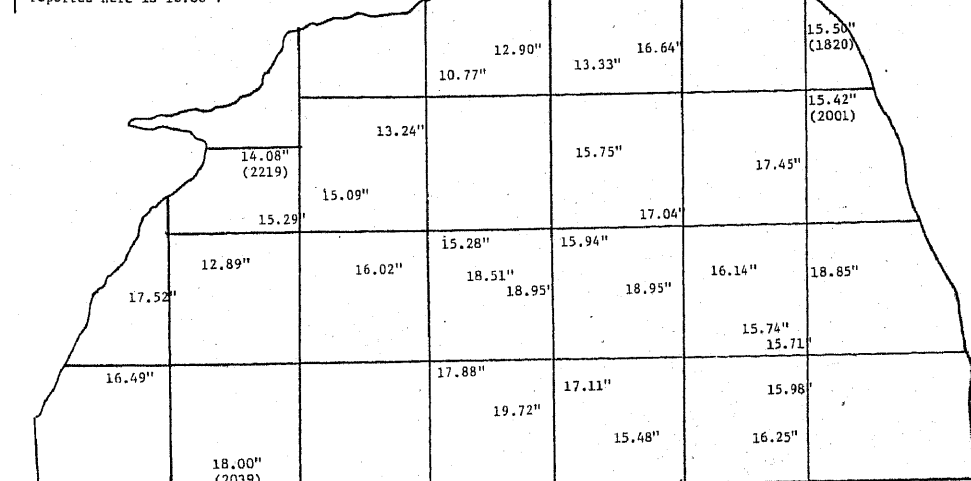

What's the last word we're going to hear about the Tigers? I know they're a great team and all that, but I hope we hear the end of it soon.

Congratulations, Tony, on the beautiful parking lot. You really needed it and we appreciate it. Maybe we won't need a Taco Bell now!

I support Jack Jensen for County Commission. He'd do his best for Caseville, Port Austin and all of us along the water. It's about time someone does in county government. Let's vote for the chief!

1984 Huron County Weather Reporting Network May - September Totals

Figures in () denote growing degree days for May through September, all other figures are inches of rainfall for May through September. The average rainfall for this period of those reported here is 16.08".

RAINFALL DOWN: May to September rainfall totals this year were about the same or below last year's levels, according to the Huron County Weather Network as compiled by Extension Agricultural Agent Jim LeCureux. Leading the way in declines was the Port Austin area, down more than 6" of precipitation during this year's growing season. The above chart shows inches of rainfall for the season, while figures in parentheses () denote growing degree days. Brookfield Township has varied from a low of 1990 degree days in 1982 to 2218 degree days in 1983 -- and back to 2039 degree days this year. Port Hope has varied from about 1500 degree days in 1982 to 2150 in 1983 and 2001 in 1984, during growing seasons. In all, 34 weather network observers helped compile data, as LeCureux's chart shows.

FAITH RESTRICTS THE SPIRIT OF EVIL TO HALLOWEEN PRANKS

That eerie night, the spooks in white Will suddenly appear On every street, for "Trick or Treat" Has haunted us each year; As well we know, but long ago The customs we've outgrown Have been replaced, and now we're faced With children of our own. It's our concern to help them learn That faith will show the way To be aware; temptation's there, Which leads us all astray. Then on that night of yearly fright When children make the scene, They'll be content with "evil" meant For fun on Halloween!

— Gloria Nowak

When they all know the good as good, There arises the recognition of evil.

— Lao Tzu

"Beloved, follow not that which is evil, but that which is good."

Green Machine claims share of Thumb B crown

By RICH SWARTZENDRUBER

The Laker Green Machine clinched at least a share of the Thumb B Association football championship with a 34-0 victory over the Imlay City Spartans last Friday. Lakers scored in all four quarters, as Coach Bill McLellan's cleared the bench and gave his entire team valuable game experience.

Rob Macdowall opened the scoring with a one-yard plunge in the first quarter. He carried the ball 14 times for a total of 80 yards.

In the second period, Dave Wisenbaugh covered 56 yards on a touchdown run. He totaled 84 yards on nine carries as Laker's leading rusher for the evening. Lakers displayed a little razzle-dazzle on the final play of the first half. Quarterback Buck LePage threw a lateral pass to Ron Dubs who then tossed a forward pass to Chris Eby for a 40-yard scoring play. LePage then threw a two-point conversion pass to Jeff Caverly after a bad snap from center prevented the kick attempt.

In the third quarter, Bob Guigar ran three yards for Laker's fourth TD of the night.

The final scoring play of the game was recorded on a 15-yard pass from Mike McArdle to Morris Dubs.

Ed Gentile was perfect on all four of his PAT kick attempts to complete Laker scoring.

Five Imlay City drives were stopped by turnovers created by the Laker defense. Jeff Caverly recovered a Spartan fumble and Dave King, Darrin Zadrzynski, Rob Irion and Ron Dubs each intercepted Imlay City passes. The Laker defensive unit allowed only 64 yards on the ground and 108 yards through the air by Imlay City. Outstanding defensive performances were displayed by Jeff Caverly with a pair of solo tackles and seven assists, Eric Bushey with three solos and six assists and Scott Pobanz with three solos and five assists.

The Green Machine's only turnover was a fumble on their first drive of the game. With their seventh consecutive victory without a loss this season, Lakers justified their third place state ranking going into the game. They can claim an outright Thumb B championship with a victory over Marlette this Friday.

JVs WIN: The Laker junior varsity squad rebounded from last week's defeat to blast Imlay City, 56-0.

Ken Ziel crossed the goal line three times on runs of 32 and 39 yards and a pass interception. Jim Warren scored on a pair of touchdowns on passes of six and 37 yards from Craig Haag.

Randy Heckman tossed a 17-yard TD pass to Randy Fritz and also was successful on four of five PAT kicks.

Brad Krohn rushed for a total of 141 yards on 14 carries, including a 39-yard scoring run.

Kevin Wissner ran 12 yards of a touchdown and Steve Pyc ran in a two-point conversion to round out Laker scoring.

The outstanding defensive player was Jim Roestel with 10 tackles.

FRESHMEN LOSE: In a game much closer the score indicated, North Branch claimed a 31-14 victory over the Laker fresh.

The Broncos took a 10-0 lead a halftime on a 31-yard touchdown pass and a 27-yard field goal.

In the third quarter, Lakers narrowed the margin to 10-6 on a one-yard scoring run by Jay Anthes.

North Branch bounced back with a 43-yard scoring run to up the score to 16-6.

Lakers refused to throw in the towel, however, and pulled to within a pair of points after a 12-yard touchdown run and two-point conversion run by Dean Roestel made the score 16-14.

The Broncos scored a pair of touchdowns in the final four minutes of the game on runs of six and 31 yards to put the game out of reach.

Laker cagers bury Spartans in 60-28 win

By RICH SWARTZENDRUBER

Last Thursday night in a clash between the green & white and the blue & gold squads, the green & white team was victorious — but the Spartans lost.

That situation would be inaccurate in an MSU vs. U of M setting, but proved to be true as the green and white clad Lakers upended the Imlay City Spartans wearing the blue and gold.

For the second consecutive week, Coach Paul Beachy was able to exercise his entire bench in a easy victory as his team recorded a 60-28 victory over Imlay City.

Nine different Laker cagers contributed to a balanced scoring attack headed by Chris Steinman with 14 points. Once again Steinman led a fast-Laker start by pumping in 10 of her 16 points in the first quarter.

Lakers outscored the Spartans in every quarter as they built a 31-18 halftime lead and continued to pull away during the remainder of the game.

Freshman guard Lisa Buschlen, added to the varsity roster that evening, scored eight points with four field goals of five attempted during the game. Beachy says Buschlen will continue to play throughout the remainder of the year, including games with more competitive teams. The Laker coach says he is especially impressed with Buschlen's defensive play.

THIS WEEK: Lakers are faced with a pair of tough road games at Marlette on Tuesday and Vassar on Thursday.

The green and white cagers remain tied with Caro for first place in the Thumb B with 5-1 records, after North Branch dropped out of a three-way tie for the league following their loss to Marlette last week. Laker's overall record now stands at 7-4.

JVs WIN: In the preliminary game, the Laker junior varsity earned a 40-23 victory over Imlay City.

GETTING DOWN: Julia Sturm (44) usually seen leaping high in the air, is shown struggling close to the floor for a loose ball with a pair of Spartans.

An enjoyable evening was had in the home of Mrs. H. Kreh, surrounded by her children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren, when she observed her 87th birthday. In addition to visiting and picture-taking, the guests enjoyed a decorated cake flanked by a vase of red roses and two centerpieces when cake and ice cream were served. The honored guest opened her gifts assisted by two great-grandchildren, Kari Erner and Nichole Dallas.

Ken McBride returned to Kansas City on Saturday. He flew here to visit his parents, Frances and Kenneth McBride.

TALL gets its kicks

A "Soccer Fun Day" for Thumb Area Lutheran League (TALL) last Saturday at St. John's Lutheran School in Berne offered recreation and fun for seven participating teams.

Although unofficially billed as a tournament, St. John's Lutheran of Port Hope and St. Paul's Lutheran of Unionville were the only undefeated teams during the competition.

Port Hope defeated New Salem of Sebawaing 6-1, before they were upended by Cross 2-1. Academy's only victory was a 4-0 shutout of New Salem.

Fifty-three juniors have signed up for the PSAT test, which will be in the student center.

The band is selling cookies and nuts for Christmas. Anyone who is interested should contact a band member.

This year's senior English class consists of more students than ever before. In the beginning it was in the chorus room, but later was split into two classes with Mrs. Haley and Mrs. Faist each teaching half the class for one week at a time. This has raised a lot of controversy between students and teachers. We hope a fair middle ground can be reached or it will be a long year for everyone involved.

The Laker Varsity Football team played the final home game last Friday against Imlay City. Final score was 36-0 — yet another Laker victory! The JV team also beat Imlay City.

The golf team finished a fantastic season on Friday by taking sixth place out of 11 teams at the Regional Meet. Congratulations!

The Thumb Cross-Country Championship was held on Oct. 18. All runners did a great job. Times were the best of the season. We hope to be able to post them for you new next week.

Huron County residents will benefit from several road improvements scheduled for the Thumb area. The 17.8-mile stretch of M-25 between Caseville and Port Austin is slated to be resurfaced by September of 1985 at a cost of $1.96 million.

In a separate project, the Moore Road over the Pine-bow River is scheduled for replacement under the federal Critical Bridge Replacement and Rehabilitation Program and the Michigan Critical Bridge Program.

On most of the bridges, federal funds pay 80% of the cost and state and local agencies pay 10% each, according to State Transportation Director James Pitz.

GOLFERS ADVANCE TO STATE TOURNEY

The Caseville golf team advances to state golf tourney. Pete Delmotte was low medalist in Class D competition at the regional golf tournament at Scenic Golf Course on Friday. Caseville's team score of 421 was good enough for second and advancement to the state tourney in Webersville on Saturday.

UPCOMING . . .

Oct. 25 — Girls' basketball at Kingston. JH girls' basketball home with Sebewaung Immanuel Lutheran.

Oct. 27 — Football home with North Huron. Last game of the season.

Oct. 29 — JH girls' basketball at Akron-Fairgrove.

Oct. 30 — Girls' basketball home with Akron-Fairgrove. Don't forget to attend the Holly Berry Fair at the school on Nov. 3 between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. There will be over 80 booths, with something for everyone.

PSAT TESTS

Juniors took the PSAT test on Tuesday, Oct. 23 during first and second hour.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

A victory for the eighth grade girls basketball team against Akron-Fairgrove was accomplished Monday, Oct. 15. Krista Colgin was high scorer with eight points, Sally Gembariski and Emily Warren tied with four. The game ended with a 20-6 final score for the Eagles.

The seventh grade girls' basketball team added a loss of 17-16 to their record Monday, Oct. 15 when they opposed Akron-Fairgrove.

EAGLES FALL TO PIRATES

The Eagles fell to Pirates in football action on Saturday. Peck led the game 16-0 at halftime, but Caseville couldn't seem to get the offense started. The final score of 37-0 left the Eagles with a 2-5 record. Paul Schuetz led Caseville with 12 tackles, three of which were solo. Bob Siegfried and John Winkler helped the effort with nine tackles each. Ray Johnson led the Eagles with 96 yards rushing and a six-yard reception.

EIGHTH GRADE LOSSES TO IMMANUEL

"We just couldn't seem to get the ball, and when we did, it wasn't for long," stated one of the eighth grade girls' basketball team players about their 55-3 loss when they opposed Sebewaung Immanuel Lutheran on Thursday, Oct. 18. Many of the players commented, "We think we lost because of the girls from Sebewaung (Immanuel Lutheran) to us that they have been practicing since they were in third grade."

FHA SETS INITIATION

Planning an informal and formal initiation has been taking up much of FHA's meeting time. At a recent meeting, they set definite dates of Oct. 26 for informal (at Vice President Michelle Stahl's home) and Oct. 29 for formal, in the school gym.

Dear Mr. Ross: I work in the only convalescent hospital in Yucca Valley. We have 99 patients whose average age is 84.

Their heads are tough and our electric shavers are so old they break down constantly. They need sharpening so frequently that we end up with one shaver to shave all of our patients, many of whom are wards of the state. Most have no living or close relatives and we do love them.

We employes would really appreciate it if you could furnish the hospital with a couple of good sturdy electric razors. Mrs. E.L.S., Calif.

in turn, trust them. Thanks for your thoughtful offer.

Dear Mr. Ross:

In many cases, your advice is more valuable than money and you are generous with both. Maybe you think, "Now she will ask for both." Not really. I'm 69 and my husband is 81. He has Alzheimer's disease, so we're pretty confined to home.

Since we don't have a car and couldn't use it if we did, we enjoy walking. I have arthritis in my knee which makes it difficult to walk, so from time to time I use a very old cane (my husband won it at a weight-guessing booth at the Chicago World's Fair in 1933. We will never part with it).

I bought my husband a new cane for Christmas. It's the kind with a "C" top handle, and it's very comfortable for walking, especially in the winter when it snows and is icy. You know, Mr. Ross, it would be nice if I could have one of those canes for myself. — Mrs. A.B., Ill.

Dear Mrs. B.: You should have a comfortable cane, the same as your husband's. After you select your new cane at one of the Marshall Fields stores, they will hike the bill to me.

Dear Mr. J.: As a rule, I don't investigate readers who write me. When they trust me with their personal problems, I

CASEVILLE LIBRARY CLUB

The Caseville Library Club held its meeting on Tuesday, Oct. 9 at noon in the Community Room of the Caseville Village-Township Hall.

Margaret Wilhelm gave the invocation. Dessert and coffee hostesses were Grace Rapson, Leona McAllister, Lucile Ward and Marie Radtke. Forty-eight members were present.

Jennie DeBoer introduced guest speaker Teresa A. Sharland-Shinedling, director and chief psychiatric social worker in Bay City, who spoke on self-awareness, aging, commitment, etc. President June Duprey announced that the club would make a contribution to the Caseville School Library in the speaker's name.

Donations were made to the Caseville Fire Department to the "Jaws of Life" and to the Village of Caseville for Christmas decorations. A memorial was sent to Scheurer Hospital for Victor Boyer.

Final arrangements are being made for the Luncheon/Fashion Show at Sherwood-on-the-Hill, Gagatown on Oct. 23, with fashions by Murray of Bad Axe.

Progress reports were given by committees for the 16th annual Holly Berry Fair on Nov. 3 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Caseville gym.

The club also plans to sponsor a Dinner/Theater Bus Trip to Midland on Dec. 9.

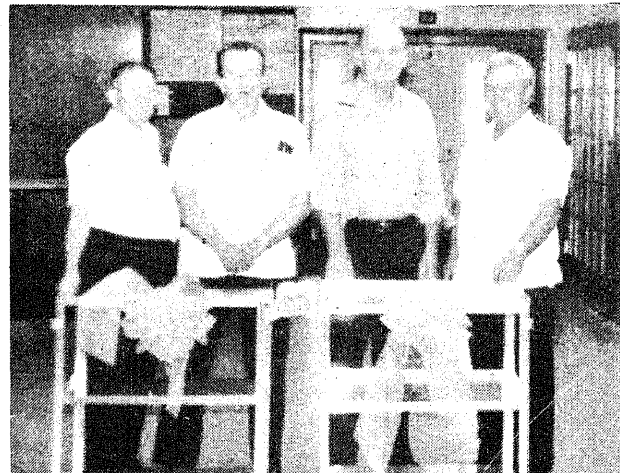

The next meeting will be Nov. 13 when Mari Anne Dast of "Flowers by Mari Anne" of Pigeon will give a flower arranging demo.

Caseville Eagles honor Fish Fry workers with special party

A successful party was given by the "Fish Fry Gang" of the Caseville Eagles Aerie #3690 on Sept. 9, and area residents will appreciate the two gifts presented to Aerie trustees Lamar Moncus and Earl Tardiff — two food service carts.

The party was given as a "thank you" to all those who worked on the popular Friday Night Fish Fries, which were open to the public. The service carts will be used by the Aerie at future events to help in serving large crowds.

Workers who were unable to attend the party were Harvey and Gert Henchmen, Evelyn and Lloyd Florence, Dorothy and Eddie Kirsten, Liz and Eddie Symons and Leo Donnellon.

"SERVICE TO OTHERS" — Posing with the new service carts are, from left, Lamar Moncus, Al Zielinski, John Guster and Earl Tardiff.

Surplus food give-away set

The Human Development Commission will conduct a Surplus Commodity Distribution on Thursday, Nov. 8 from 10 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. (or until the supply is exhausted) at Sebewaung Middle School, Bad Axe Fairgrounds and the American Veterans Hall, Port Hope.

HDC anticipates that cheese, butter, honey and flour will be available, with double quantities given to eligible households. Individuals should bring cardboard boxes to carry their commodities, says Executive Director Mary Ann Vandemark.

Individuals must report to the distribution site in person and present their Surplus Commodity Registration Card. Persons unable to physically go to the site may have someone pick up their surplus food items only if that card is shown. Due to the volume of commodities being provided, senior citizens and handicapped individuals are encouraged to have someone pick up the food on their behalf.

Persons who need to register for their card may do so at the Human Development Commission office prior to the distribution date. Phone number is 269-6361.

All households receiving a form of public assistance, such as AFDC, General Assistance, food stamps or SSI, may be eligible to receive the commodities. Households who have received services through the Human Development Commission, persons living on fixed incomes or unemployment benefits may also be eligible to receive the commodities, in accordance with Federal Poverty Income Guidelines.

State CPAs recommend:
Financial plan needed by all ages

Prepared by the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants

Many older Americans, living on fixed incomes, face the problem of balancing a budget with increasing living costs. The Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants has this money management advice to help ease that imbalance. Because of your financial needs change upon retirement, when you draw up a budget, rethink your priorities. Perhaps you won't need as much life insurance, but more medical insurance coverage. If your house is paid for, you are freed from monthly mortgage payments, but this may be the time when you want to spend more on travel and leisure activities.

Project your fixed expenses for a period of time, then compare that against your income for the same period. The difference is your discretionary income. With this money you can decide what your budget priorities are.

Older Americans are sometimes unaware of all the special discounts and services available. These programs could reduce your expenses considerably, CPAs say. Check with your local senior citizens center, office for the aging and other municipal organizations. Many localities offer special discounts on transportation, heating oil, property taxes and provide such free services as household help or maintenance.

If part of your income is interest on savings, be sure to get the best return possible no matter how modest the principal. Out of long habit, some people keep their savings in low interest accounts, because they prefer the security of bank accounts and the easy access to cash. Ask your banker about other types of accounts to increase your earnings. A certificate of deposit or money market account could increase your earnings without tying up your money for long periods.

For the first time, taxes are being withheld from pension payments. If you don't want those taxes withheld, notify your pension plan administrator. You'll still have to make quarterly estimated payments to the government, but by avoiding the withholding you could hold onto your pension money longer.

Raccoonuck is seen
 The unusual raccoonuck creature has been spotted again, this time running along Crown Road near Sturm Road north of Pigeon. A passerby saw the animal, believed to be part raccoon and part deer, leaving a ditch about 7:15 p.m. Friday night. The animal, which has been seen for five years in this area, is apparently a freak of nature, since such cross-creatures were not thought possible. A $2000 reward for an authentic photo of the animal has been posted, and nature experts ask fall hunters to be extra-alert to not hurt the raccoonuck.

Choosing a pet requires thought
 Thoughtful pet selection is the best means of insuring a successful owner-pet relationship advises the Michigan Veterinary Medical Association, and choosing the right pet should not be taken lightly. Many factors should be considered, including the frequency and duration of absences from home. Pets need constant care and supervision. Consider the costs of boarding a pet during your absence or the availability of a friend or relative to care for the pet while you're away. An alternative would be to select a pet that can travel with you. Who will be taking care of the pet's daily needs? Make sure this person really wants a pet and give more weight to this person's opinion as to the type of pet to obtain. An unwanted pet is usually poorly cared for, vets say. What about costs? Pet foods can be expensive depending on the size of the pet and the type of food required. Other costs include equipment, housing, kenneling, grooming supplies and/or services, and medical care. If one of the adults in the family is opposed to getting a pet, work out a solution before getting the pet. Pet ownership should be a happy experience, not a devious one, vets remind. Don't limit your considerations to dogs and cats. Other fine pets include birds, gerbils, hamsters, guinea pigs, fish, rabbits, and small reptiles. Often, just having a pet to love and care for is more important than owning a specific pet.

Fogle clarification
 Write-in candidate for the Caseville Township Supervisor's post Dorothy Fogle wishes to clarify an election leaflet circulated by her supporters. She should be listed as a member of the Caseville Seniors Commission, not as the group's head as stated in the leaflet.

QUILTERS, REJOICE

Maggie Malone has done it again! The author of the best selling 1001 Patchwork Designs has put together one of the most comprehensive pattern books ever.

120 Patterns for Traditional Patchwork Quilts is extra special because each of the 120 designs is shown at the front of the book in full and dazzling color. You can select the designs you like in the colors you like. Then turn to the pages indicated to learn the degree of expertise required. Each design has been labelled Easy, Difficult or Moderate - so there's something for everyone, including beginners.

All pattern pieces are full-sized. Instructions are in clear and simple language. And tables are given for each pattern, listing the number of pieces per block and per quilt, for each fabric, and the amount of yardage you need.

Some of these traditional designs may be familiar to you. But most will be new - having been selected from the author's own collection of patterns numbering in the thousands! And wherever possible, Maggie Malone has provided lore on the origin of the various quilts.

This is one quilting book you won't want to miss. So don't wait. Order 120 Patterns for Traditional Patchwork Quilts today!

TO ORDER: Send your name, address, zip code and $9.95 plus $1.25 postage and handling to American Melody, 123 South Street, Oyster Bay, NY 11771. NY residents add appropriate sales tax. Please print clearly.

SAVE! Order two for $19.00 plus $1.90 postage and handling.

THIS WEEK'S CRAFT PATTERN

Old-Fashioned Horseplay!

This old-fashioned rocking horse will create special memories for you and your special child. Your memories will be of how enjoyable and easy it was to build the toy yourself. And your child's, those of exciting jaunts on a cherished steed.

There are only nine different parts to be traced onto standard 1½-inch thick lumber and cut out. Craft Pattern TH3196 makes assembly simple with common wood screws, so special clamps and tools aren't necessary.

A complete material list specifies the necessary amount of pine lumber for construction, plus exact hardware and yarn requirements for the mane and tail. Rocker design is safe and sturdy for even the most vigorous rides.

Overall dimensions are 14 inches wide, 46½ inches long and 44 inches tall. Get started now and build this special gift in time for a birthday, or the coming holiday season.

Order Craft Pattern TH3196 for $3.95, which includes first-class postage and handling.

TOY & PLAYHOUSE PATTERN PACKETS

Building toys yourself is the solution to giving children unique presents they'll love, at a price to keep YOU happy!

Our money-saving Toy Packets provide a variety of patterns using simple plywood, fine hardwood and other materials to help you handcraft children's furniture, toy chests, puppets and push toys.

These are some of the projects featured in Toy Packet TH9011, available with 11 full-sized plans. It's just $9.75, and is a $30 value.

Or, how about our Playhouse Packet TH9012, with 10 patterns for outdoor playhouses, swings and large rocking toys? It's also just $9.75 each, including first-class postage.

Remember, Rocking Horse Pattern TH3196 is NOT included in either group packet.

Dean Smith is farmer of week

Bay Port area farmer J. Dean Smith has been named Farmer of the Week for the week of Oct. 22.

The weekly award, which honors farmers in Michigan, is sponsored by the Michigan Farm Radio Network and Farm Bureau Insurance Group.

Smith, 25, is a cash crop, dairy and beef farmer. He currently farms 1300 acres in partnership with his father and brother. They milk 40 cows and grow sugar beets, navy beans, corn, wheat and oats.

Involvement in community and agricultural affairs by Smith includes: member of Council at Large, lay reader, usher and past youth group vice president at Hayes United Methodist Church; member of Future Farmers of America Alumni, chaired the Laker FFA Farm Forum team, earned the State Gold Award for Soil Management and was named outstanding senior; Member of the Huron County Farm Bureau executive board and earned several awards as the winner of various Farm Bureau discussion meets; appointed to the County Farm Bureau policy development committee; chairman of the County Michigan Agricultural Cooperative Marketing Association Committee; appointed assistant legislative leader for the Farm Bureau trip to Washington, D.C.; served on State and National Affairs Committee for Farm Bureau and chaired several other Farm Bureau committees.

Recipients of the Farmer of the Week Award are selected for their contributions to the community and agriculture, according to Farm Bureau Insurance Agent Ed Oeschger.

The award recipient for each week is announced Monday mornings over the statewide Michigan Farm Radio Network. Award winners are presented a personalized certificate and a custom-designed Farmer of the Week belt buckle by the local Farm Bureau Insurance Agent.
