Water groundbreaking

About 30 persons participated in groundbreaking ceremonies Tuesday morning for the Village of Pigeon's $870,000 water tower and systems improvement project.

The bonded building program will include a 150,000-gallon above-ground tank, a 250,000-gallon below-ground reservoir and iron removal system, to replace the 57-year-old, 60,000-gallon Pigeon village water tower on N. Main Street. The new project is being built on village land at the western village limits, behind Gettel Implement and Kraft, Inc., locations on Caseville Road.

Local elected and appointed officials participated in the 10 a.m. ceremonies Tuesday. Village officials say they will serve as general contractors for the project, while K. Don Williamson and Associates, Harbor Beach, are architects and project managers.

The elevated tank will be built by Hydrostorage, Inc., Wexford, P.A., following recent awarding of bids.

Huron Excavation, Inc., of Pigeon, will do site preparation work, and Robert Hogan Construction, Inc., of Bad Axe, will build the water building to house pumps. Saginaw Foundation Co., of Birch Run, will handle reservoir concrete, and Inprecon Structures, Inc., of Zilwaukee, will handle the precast concrete roofing.

The reservoir roof will be covered by H & H Insulation

Co., Elkton, and mechanical work will be performed by Ecker Mechanical Contractors, Inc., of Flint. Dietzel Electric, Inc., of Pigeon, will do electrical installations.

Some water main work will be done on Berne Street, to improve water pressures in the eastern village area. That work on collector and distribution water mains will be performed by Clancy Brothers Excavating, Port Austin.

Rev. Mark Karls, pastor of Salem United Methodist Church, Pigeon, gave the groundbreaking invocation. Village President Norris Diebel also spoke. Completion of the project is expected by spring, 1986.

Caseville dedication Friday

Dedication and open house ceremonies are planned this Friday, Oct. 11 at 1 p.m. for the Oakwood Senior Citizens Housing Center in Caseville, according to project manager John DiVincenzo.

A model residence will be open for display and tours are planned, in addition to dedication ceremonies. The public is invited to attend.

That's the second time in two weeks that sisters were crowned Homecoming Queens locally. Vicki Goslee followed sister Mindy as Caseville High's Homecoming Queen this year. Mindy was 1984 Caseville Queen.

Guess who's coming to dinner?

You're invited to a unique dinner party on Sunday, Nov. 3 - but you won't know who your hostess is or who the other guests are until you arrive!

Scheurer Hospital of Pigeon is presenting "Adventure in Dining" at 5:30 p.m. that Sunday, which features 16 small, special dinner parties in 16 area homes. For a tax-deductible donation to Scheurer Hospital, you can choose from more than a dozen different dining entrees - but you won't learn exactly where you'll be dining until a few days before the fund-raiser.

"Adventure in Dining" has 16 hosts and hostesses opening their homes for dinner parties of about 10 people each, according to Hospital Administrator George Desmarais. Each hostess has put together a special menu, often complete with cocktails and hors' d'oeuvres, and participants can choose the menu which sounds most interesting to them.

Each person will receive instructions of their dinner assignment by Oct. 30 - but won't know who will be joining them in dining until they arrive.

"It's a great opportunity to support our local hospital, enjoy a very good meal and have some fun at the same time," says organizer Mary Gettel of Pigeon. "After all participants have dined, everyone is invited to meet at the Hospital dining room about 7:30 p.m. for special desserts, if they wish, and a chance to share dining adventure stories all around," she adds.

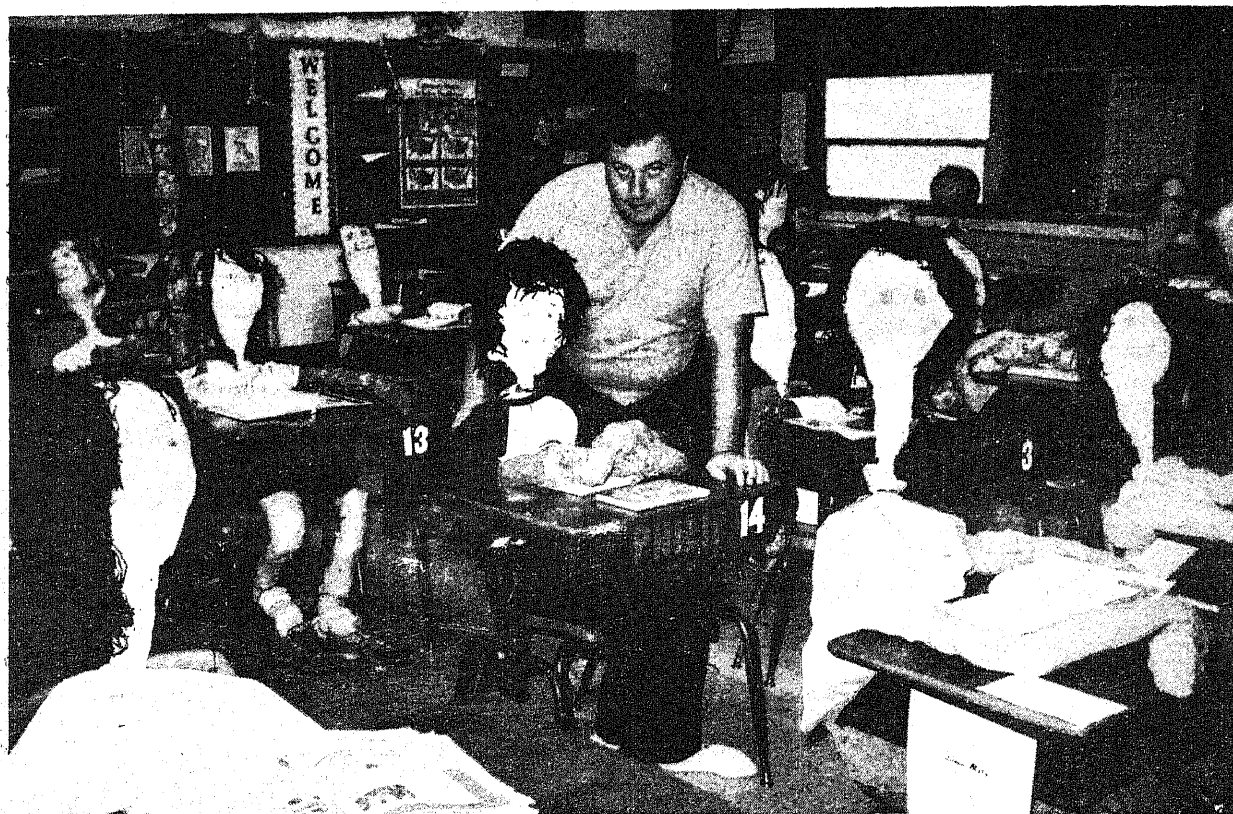

Here are the "Adventure in Dining" entrees (some are offered more than once):

- A. Chicken Monte Carlo;
- B. Superb Seafood Selection;
- C. Crown Roast Pork With Dressing;
- D. "Old Country" German Dinner;
- E. Grilled Sirloin Steak with Wine & Mushroom Sauce;
- F. "South of the Border" Mexican Dinner;
- G. Oriental Stir Fry Supreme;
- H. Pennsylvania Dutch Dinner;
- I. Prime Rib Perfection;
- J. Rouladen/German Potato Salad;
- K. Fresh Saginaw Bay Perch;
- L. Family Favorite Sugar Baked Ham;
- M. Aged Steak & Baked Potatoes;
- N. Shrimp Curry with Condiments & Rice, and
- O. Surprise me - place me anywhere!

Hosts and hostesses will open their homes from Sebawaing to Pigeon to Caseville to Port Austin during "Adventure in Dining." They include (not in any particular order) Mrs. Paul Baur, Mr. & Mrs. Elmer Bussema, Mrs. E.J. Clabuesch, Mr. & Mrs. George Desmarais, Mr. & Mrs. Eldon Dietzel, Mr. & Mrs. Clarence Gettel, Mr. & Mrs. Herb Gettel, Mr. & Mrs. Loren Gettel, Mr. & Mrs. Bruce Leipprandt, Mr. & Mrs. Edgar Maust, Mr. & Mrs. Raymond Mayes, Mr. & Mrs. Charles Parks, Dr. & Mrs. P.A. Ruiz de Castilla, Mrs. Kenneth Voelker, Mr. & Mrs. Edwin Webber and Mr. & Mrs. Robert Webber.

Interested persons should pick up "Adventure in Dining" information sheets available in local stores or should call Scheurer Hospital at 453-3223 for details. Reservations should be made as soon as possible and no later than Oct. 20, according to Mrs. Gettel. Couples and foursomes are welcomed.

Bigger's students create fellow classmates

Visitors to Pigeon Elementary School's open house last Thursday evening were surprised to discover a classroom full of students. On closer inspection, they saw the desks were filled with stuffed figures topped by paper mache heads. Several of the lifeless students seemed to have questions, with arms raised in the air.

The figures were the product of Todd Bigger's fifth grade students during one of their "Saturday School" sessions. One Saturday each month Bigger plans special "fun" activities and games for students on a voluntary basis.

Bigger says the extra time devoted to his students is enjoyable for him.

"It's more of a hobby than a job," he says about his attitude toward teaching.

Caseville Eagles donate $1,000 to quake victims

Caseville Fraternal Order of Eagles Mexican Earthquake Relief Chairman George Waitowitz, left, Secretary-Treasurer Ed Konecny and Aerie No. 3690 President Bill Calabrese show the $1000 check donated by the group to help Mexico City recover from the recent earthquake which killed an estimated 10,000 persons. Aerie members earned the money through the on-going bingo program, and Waitowitz invites any local residents, clubs and businesses to make donations to Mexico. Caseville area stores have collection drums to receive donations, which will be sent immediately to Mexico, he says.

Pigeon native anchors northern TV newscasts

If you travel in northern Michigan and turn on the television to Channel WPBN-TV, Traverse City, you may just see the face of a Pigeon native, Debbie Dorenkamp, anchoring the morning and noon news program for the NBC affiliate. Dorenkamp, daughter of Frances and Ralph Richmond and wife of Michael Dorenkamp, an Ann Arbor native, has been "on the air" since Sept. 9. Prior to her new position, her masters degrees in Special Education and Telecommunications from Michigan State University led her to work as a teacher for the Ingham Intermediate School District and at WKAR-TV in East Lansing as a research writer and producer. Dorenkamp is a 1971 graduate of Laker High School. Holiday plans set Thirteen members of the Elkton Chamber of Commerce met recently at Dunn's Restaurant to discuss plans and promotions for the 1985 Christmas holiday season. President Phyllis Podloskowski reported that the Elkton Lions Club voted to help on the $100 raffle tickets. Barb Willis, Bev Lackie and Shirley Cunningham will serve on her committee. Open House will be Dec. 1 with free bean soup, coffee and hot chocolate to be given away at the Civic Center. Merchants will be responsible for their own "give-aways." A Midland weekend for two will be donated by merchants who don't have an item to give away. A second annual "Home Decorating Contest" will be held with a $100 first prize, $50 second prize and $25 third prize to be awarded.

Lillian Leipprandt celebrates 90 years!

Sunday is the day family members and friends may gather to celebrate the 90th birthday of Pigeon native Lillian Leipprandt at the Pigeon District Library from 2 to 4 p.m. The only gifts sought are best wishes from friends, the family asks. No other gifts, please.

Mrs. Leipprandt was born to her parents, Martin and Christina Sturm, on Oct. 9, 1895 and is the wife of the late E.T. Leipprandt, whom she married in 1923. Her children are Mrs. Clarence (Phyllis) Gettel, Charles, Bruce and Ted Leipprandt.

FURTHER THOUGHTS -- Last week's mention about helping the non-profit "Friends of Shawn Moore" brought another comment and idea from a very nice reader. The state Children's Trust Fund has given more than $600,000 in grants to 77 agencies throughout Michigan, showing young children how to protect themselves from sexual abuse or threatening situations. About $2.1 million has been raised in all, mostly from state income tax checkoffs. An extra two bucks, or five or even $1000 may help keep some other child safe from harm. As our nice reader adds, "it's a great idea for service clubs, too!" Here's the address donations can be made payable to (be sure to write "Shawn Moore Memorial" on the check):

MORE THOUGHTS -- And, Pigeon's Ron Snider showed us some statistics from the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration. It shows 250,000 Americans have been killed in alcohol-related crashes in the last decade -- costing society an estimated $6 billion annually.

The Defense Department is cracking down on drunk drivers. Those convicted of a first offense could be thrown out of the service, fined and jailed. And, Ron notes, if you think that's too tough, here's what happens in some other countries:

Drunk drivers in San Salvador are executed by firing squads. In Bulgaria, you're not executed until you've been convicted of driving "under the influence" TWO times!

I love this story. USA Today reports "Classic Coke" is beating "new" Coke soundly. Advertising Age magazine has done an informal survey, which says Classic Coke outsells the new Coke 2-to-1 in New York and Washington, 4-to-1 in North Carolina, 6-to-1 in Dallas and 9-to-1 in some Texas areas!

The former taste of Coke was re-introduced as "Classic Coke" this summer, after consumers protested a change in the 99-year-old formula which the company said people preferred in taste tests. The Coke folks say those numbers will even up in time (don't count on it...)

Here's our favorite story of the week. Soviet Premier Gorbachev's wife Raisa has been a popular news subject while her husband's been "meeting the press" in Paris this past week. Some media folks say she's going to give Nancy Reagan a run for her money in the beauty, fashion and hairstyle business when their world leader husbands meet next month for arms negotiations.

But did you see how Mrs. Gorbachev bought her new fashions in Paris? With a (very capitalistic) American Express card, of course! I'll bet she doesn't get to use it much in Moscow!

BLUE CROSS BACKGROUND -- Both George Desmarais of Scheurer Hospital and last Thursday's editorial in Detroit's Free Press have provided us with more information about Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Michigan's attempts to become a mutual insurance company. As George points out (from his brochure), BC-BS "is regulated under a special law. Our competitors are regulated under the Michigan Insurance Code. To compete, we must sell health coverage in all the forms, combinations and varieties that customers want and other carriers can furnish. Otherwise, we're like a car company forbidden by law to sell anything, for example, except blue, two-door sedans, while other makers produce a full range of models and options."

The Free Press editorial says the Blues were created unequal for good reason. More than 4.3 million Blues subscribers are already recipients of "equal" treatment by BC-Bs. They're seeking relief from having to provide individual subscriber service to 250,000 people, 80% of whom are "Medigap" purchasers. The FP says mutualization is all right, if those quarter-million elderly and individual subscribers are somehow taken care of.

We'll keep watching, reading and listening...

Laker group issued SADD charter

A group of Laker High students and faculty advisors have joined forces with a national organization in an effort to cut down on the problem of driving under the influence of alcohol.

The Laker group recently received a charter from the Students Against Drunk Driving (SADD) national organization.

The local organization was promoted by a presentation by Huron County Sheriff Richard V. Stokan to Laker students during World History class sessions. A follow-up discussion in Lisa DiCamillo's class resulted in the formation of the local SADD in an effort to do something about the problem of young people drinking and driving.

The goals of the national organization are to help eliminate the drunk driver and save lives, alert high school students to the dangers of drinking and driving, to conduct community alcohol awareness programs, and to organize peer counseling programs to help students who may have concerns about alcohol.

In a letter to Laker SADD Coordinator DiCamillo, Sheriff Stokan noted, "It gives me a good feeling to know that we have teachers like yourself in our school districts and proud that the students at Lakers are taking a mature and positive attitude toward the SADD program as they are our leaders of tomorrow."

Parents and students are invited to a SADD informational meeting on Monday, Oct. 21 at 7 p.m. in the Laker auditorium. Larry Rotta, Director of the SADD chapter in Michigan, is scheduled to explain the SADD program and answer questions about the organization at that time.

OOPS! NO WRECKS FOUND!

The recent two-week search of the shallow waters in Huron County's new underwater park has failed to uncover any shipwrecks. Hydro Graphic Survey Co., of Chicago, Ill., conducted the survey with the 67-foot research vessel Neptune, but the sonar scan of the 40-square-mile section of Lake Huron between Port Austin and Harbor Beach found no wrecks.

Those waters included from 25- to 80-foot depths. Nine shipwrecks have previously been located in the 276-square-mile state underwater park designated this summer, but some researchers say as many as 64 vessels may be in the overall area.

Neptune Captain Richard Race says he was disappointed no wrecks were found thus far. His firm is earning a $27,000 fee for the first sonar search.

More such research attempts which help map the designated area will be tried next year. Some small boats -- averaging 30-foot lengths -- were located, and Race believes some cave areas may exist northeast of the Port Austin light. State geologists will be looking at those findings, he says.

TOURISM MEETING OCT. 13-14

Tourism boosters from the 27-county East Michigan Tourist Association area will meet at the Houghton Lake Holiday Inn this Sunday and Monday for the group's annual convention. Nearly 200 members of the 61-year-old tourist promotion group are expected, and EMTA President Vic Lutz of Au Gres will preside.

Workshops will discuss "Local Tourist Promotion Programs," "Golfing Promotions," and "Programming for State Grants" are planned, as are organizational meetings. Election of new board members is also on the agenda. The EMTA's office is at 1 Wenonah Park, Bay City, 48706.

MOVE TUSCOLA MCF PATIENTS?

Several Tuscola County Commissioners are considering a plan to transfer some patients from the county's Medical Care Facility at Caro to Caro Community Hospital plus Hills and Dales Hospital at Cass City, according to reports.

Such a move would reduce operating costs of the county-run facility, while providing the two hospitals with additional revenues. Both hospitals are experiencing financial hardships due to low usage and rising costs, so all parties are seriously considering the proposal.

Hills and Dales Hospital laid off 20 employees this summer, including nurses and a lab technician, while Caro Community Hospital considered closing its obstetrics ward earlier this year, to help ease financial problems. The Medical Care Facility has 123 patient beds, and all are presently filled as a waiting list grows.

WINS WILDLIFE AWARD

A 36-year-old Port Huron painter has won the Michigan United Conservation Club's Michigan Wildlife Artist of the Year Award for 1985. David Conklin was picked for his oil painting of two moose in a swamp, the MUCC has announced. Conklin also won the title in 1983.

Copies of the painting, signed by the artist, are available through the MUCC in Lansing.

POLICE BLOTTER NEWS

Gerald Eimers of Caseville told police about $250 in tools were taken from a garage on Limerick Road, Chandler Township, sometime last week. Included were a chain hoist, four tires, tools and wrenches. Entry was gained by breaking open the garage door window, according to Michigan State Police from the Bad Axe Post.

Last week's fatal shooting of 12-year-old Michael Booth has been ruled accidental, according to State Police from the 12-year-old about 2:15 p.m. Sept. 29 at the Booth summer home east of Port Austin, as the boys were leaving the house to go outside. The gun involved was a .22-caliber, semi-automatic rifle.

COURT PROCEEDINGS

William Day, 33 of Lansing, was arraigned last week on kidnapping charges after he escaped from Camp Tuscola near Caro Sept. 29. He abducted an elderly Caro area woman at a nearby grocery store during the escape and was arrested last Monday in Ohio. Arraignment before Tuscola County District Judge Richard Kern was on assault with intent to rob, plus prison escape.

He walked away from the state minimum-security prison camp, the ninth such person to do so since Jan. 1. Day forced the 80-year-old woman to drive him to Lansing then tied her to a tree and stole $54 from her. She was unharmed, and later freed herself.

Recent determinations and pleadings before Huron County District Judge John Schubel include:

William Kleiss, 27 of Elkton, pled guilty to receiving and concealing stolen property, less than $100, in connection with theft of a radar detector Jan. 29 in Pigeon. Sentencing will be set.

Richard Werschky, 19 of Sebawaing, pled guilty to illegal entry of a building, sentenced to 21 days in Huron County Jail, following a May 18 incident in Sebawaing.

Sami Khoury, 18 of Cass City, pled guilty to furnishing alcohol to minors; ordered to pay $75 fines and costs following a Sept. 27 incident at a Sebawaing market.

Dennis Jewel, 65 of Caseville, pled guilty to cruelty to animals; sentenced to 30 days in jail, following a Sept. 13 dog beating death in Caseville.

David Katchuba, 34 of Sebawaing, was found guilty of drunken driving; sentenced to three days in jail, ordered to pay $650 in fines and loses driving rights for one year.

Dale Binder, 33 of Pigeon, Leroy Fisher, 24 of Caseville, James Deming, 31 of Bay Port, Steven Werner, 19 of Elkton and Lonnie Schulz, 18 of Pigeon, all pled guilty to impaired driving; all ordered to pay $400 fines and costs and lose driving rights for three months.

Donald Hartz, 21 of Elkton, was found guilty of disorderly conduct; ordered to pay $75 fines and costs.

Michael Thede, 32 of Bay Port, pled no contest to negligent homicide charges last week before Huron County Circuit Judge M. Richard Knoblock. He is charged in connection with a Feb. 9 pickup truck-pedestrian accident in Sebawaing which killed a Sebawaing man; sentencing is set for Nov. 22, with maximum jail term two years, a $2000 fine or both.

As we see it editorially

Libraries ARE worth $18 a year!

Imagine taking your family out for dinner at a local restaurant one evening this week. Two parents and one or two children will easily run up a tab of $14 to $20, if full meals and desserts are figured in. Receiving a bill for $17.94 isn't unusual at all.

But if that imaginary family — and every other person in Huron County — would make a $17.94 donation to support their local libraries, more than $233,257 would be raised — providing more local support than ever. Library services could be maintained and perhaps expanded, if possible.

And each family's contribution to that $233,257 total FOR AN ENTIRE YEAR would cost about as much as it costs to go out for dinner ONE TIME!

That's the decision which will be facing county voters when they go to the polls Tuesday, Oct. 22. A special millage election is planned asking three-tenths of a mill (that's ONE-THIRD of a mill, or 30 cents per every $1000 of state equalized value) to benefit all six public libraries in Huron County.

For most residents of the Western Thumb, approval of this measure would only be a tax shift. Local governments in Winsor, Chandler, McKinley and other townships already contribute toward operation of the truly excellent Pigeon District Library. This millage request would take the place of those appropriations, and would cost about $17.94 per family for the entire year.

The figure would raise $71,299 for the Pigeon District Library — money badly needed as federal revenue sharing programs begin drying up. Indeed, the Library of Michigan has notified local libraries that no further federal funds are expected after Sept. 30, 1986. And we're already in that 1985-86 fiscal year!

The $233,257 would be raised from taxing $777.5 million in total county property values. Since Pigeon's library is the longest-supported of the six in the county, and since its service area covers an especially prime land area, the $71,299 figure leads all other libraries. That money would come from earning the three-tenths of a mill on properties in Caseville, Chandler, Lake, McKinley, Oliver, Winsor and the Laker portion of Fair Haven Townships.

Bad Axe Public Library's service area would generate $57,224, from Bloomfield, Colfax, Grant, Lincoln, Meade, Sheridan, Sigel and Verona Townships, plus the City of Bad Axe. Sebawa Township Library's $30,005 would come from Brookfield, Sebawa and the USA portion of Fair Haven Townships.

Port Austin Public Library would earn $29,466 in support, from townships of Dwight, Gore, Hume, Huron, Pte. Aux Barques and Port Austin. Harbor Beach Public Library is in line for $32,946 from townships of Rubicon, Sherman, Sand Beach and part of Sigel, plus the City of Harbor Beach. Uby's Sleeper Public Library would get $12,317 from Bingham and Paris Townships.

Those boundaries are determined by a countywide Library Board from present service areas. Communities now being served by existing libraries may consider using their funds to start their own libraries, but much local match money would be needed — costing local taxpayers even more out of their pockets. Clearly, the best choice involves supporting the present library facilities, as thousands of local citizens now do.

Aren't our libraries worth the cost of one dining evening? Remember, this proposed millage would cost each Huron County family about $18 annually.

We're certainly supporting Huron County libraries. We urge your "Yes" vote on Oct. 22. If you don't now use your library, stop in and see what's inside. You'll be surprised — and we're sure you'll realize you're getting thousands of dollars of value for a few cents a day. This is one millage issue which deserves universal, complete support.

RECOLLECTIONS OF By-Gone Days
 By GEORGE KEIM

DEAR EDITOR: When I went to school back in the early 1920s, there always were a lot of horses in town. When the farmers came to town to do their business, they would bring their beans and grain in with horses. Lots of times their wives would come along to buy groceries or other stuff. People took pride in their horses, and many took very good care of them. Lots of people had cars then, but there were many farmers who didn't have tractors, so they depended on their horses to do their farm work. Many farmers raised their own colts and when their horses got too old to work, they always had a new one to take its place. That's more than you can say for a worn-out tractor!

Naturally, we boys liked to brag about what our horses could do. A lot of times, we'd get so mad at each other that we'd almost have a fight about who had the best team. In the fall, people would haul their sugar beets to the beet stations that were along the railroads. If you hauled out three tons at a time, you were pulling a good load.

Well, right by the school house was a big field of sugar beets. They were pretty good beets, but the man couldn't haul them for some reason. So the sugar company offered $1 per ton to anybody who would haul them to a station.

So farmers came from the whole neighborhood to haul those beets, because if they could haul only two loads, that would have been $5 or $6 per day — and that was pretty good money at that time. Well, one man who came to haul beets had a boy in school who said his Dad's team would pull more than any other team. So while we were watching, here came his Dad pulling out another farmer. And he said, "See, I told you my Dad had the best team. He even had to pull out other people."

Just then my Dad came out of the field, hauling a good load. And of course, I told the other person my Dad's team was the best. He got mad and said he'd beat me up on the way home from school. Just then his Dad came along with a good-sized load, but another team was hooked in front and was pulling him out!

Well, all the rest of the boys ceased him and I didn't get beat up on the way home!

One thing we used to play when I went to school was "horse." We'd take a stick and tie a rope or wire in the middle. Two boys would get hold and pull. Some of the smaller boys would take hold and try to hold us back — and of course we had runaways. Sometimes, boys played they were jews and would trade horses.

Well, those days are past. We used to have horses runaway, and some had to have special bits to hold them. I had several runaways, and it's no fun. It's just like trying to go down a hill in a car with no brakes!

In James 3:3, we read "Behold, we put bits into the horses' mouths that they may obey us and we turn around the whole body." That's true, but if you ask some of us older people who drove horses, we know that once in awhile the horses took the bit in their teeth and would pull a buggy — if you were strong enough to hold on to the lines.

SINCERELY YOURS,
 GEORGE KEIM

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

Thanks for CF help

DEAR EDITOR: It has been a time for caring, loving, helping and giving in our village during these past few weeks of the Cystic Fibrosis campaign.

A big thank you to each of the 34 marchers, The Progress-Advance, Pioneer Cablevision and the people of Pigeon for your part in making the Cystic Fibrosis campaign a success in Pigeon. A total of $1575 has been sent to the CF Foundation from you, the caring people of Pigeon, to help the foundation continue their work in research, patient services and professional and public education.

A reader writes... Scheurer Hospital expansion shapes up

CCC Chairman responds

DEAR EDITOR:

This is an open letter to Herbert Scolnick, D.O. in answer to his recent letter published in The Progress-Advance.

As chairperson of the CCC, a group currently opposed to the Caseville airport, I can truly relate to your frustrations and concerns as stated in your letter. Our group feels there is no need for an airport in Caseville. I am sure you would be welcome to land your plane at the private airstrip now in Caseville. Everyone else does. This would make it closer yet to your office and to the hospital in Pigeon. All you would need is a car waiting that would whisk you off immediately upon landing. Therefore, you have no great problem — as we see it.

Your comment as to the competency of Huron County doctors not trained well enough to handle emergency obstetric problems is ludicrous, just as ludicrous as your statement of being on call for your patients when you are 150 miles away. By the time you left your home or office, got to the airport, readied your airplane for take-off, took off, got here, landed, did whatever a person does when landing, got to the office or hospital, it would surely be more than the 12 minutes you would have to believe till you reached your patient. The 12 minutes you speak of and should have stated is 12 minutes actual air flight time PLUS all I have stated above.

Now should the weather be adverse to flying and you can't get here, what happens to your patient, obstetric or otherwise? Are the poorly trained doctors that you say we have supposed to step in and do your work? How could they? You are the only well-trained doctor around here, you say. We have doctors with letters of their profession after their names up here, too. Maybe you didn't bother to check. Don't tell the Huron County people our doctors are not competent. We don't approve of your degradation of fine men, caring men, men who are on call just like you. They come when we need them, they practice their profession and they do it WELL, and they don't need an airplane to do it!

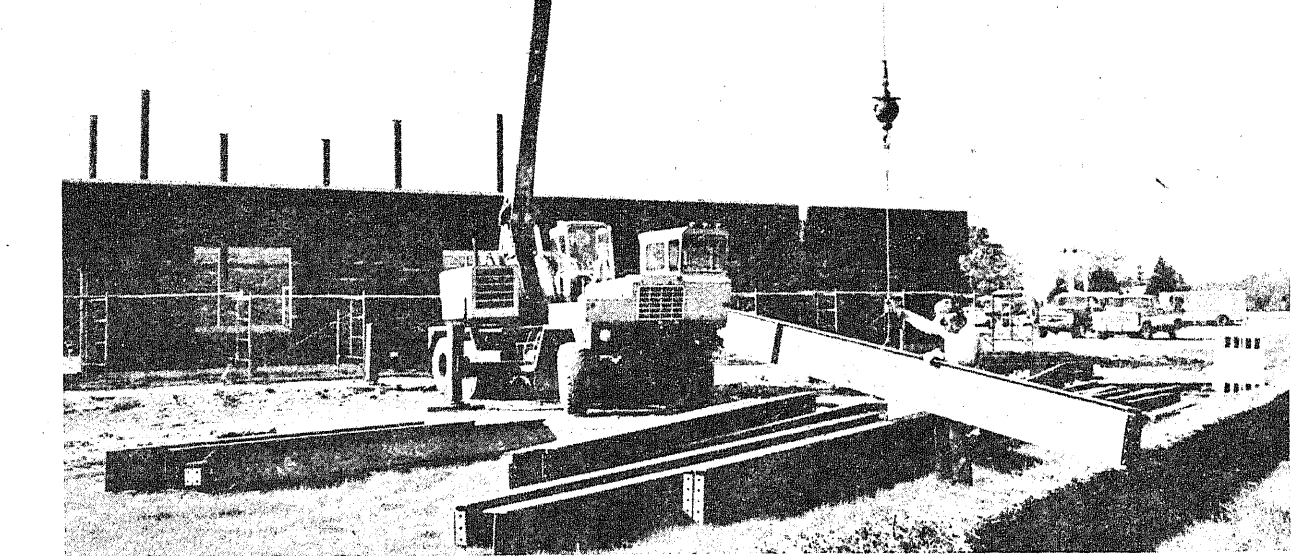

If you are going to live up here, these are some facts you should know: 1) There was opposition to this airport as far back as 1980, still is and will be, until the people get a vote that was denied them by a previous township board, 2) The Caseville Township government must sign a written guarantee that the township government will insure the maintenance and operation of such an airport for 20 years before the people that want this airport can spend a million and a half dollars of state and federal funds, 3) Both state and federal aviation authorities require the building of a cross-wind runway, and when they require the building of a cross-wind runway, condemnation of private property could then become a reality, 4) According to officials present at the recent hearing in Caseville, of the 125 general aviation airports in Michigan, only three are self-supporting, and these are in highly industrialized areas with hundreds of take-offs and landings per week.

All the rest require tax money to keep operating. In your letter to Mr. Raymond Rought you stated you were assured by several individuals at a township meeting including the members of Mr. Rought's commission that an airport would become a reality by 1985. I suggest, Dr. Scolnick, you contact these same people, and your question to them NOW should be "Just what's happening, boys?" Maybe they will bring you up-to-date.

The Bad Axe Swinging Hatchets will host a Country Western Square Dance at Bad Axe Junior High School from 8 to 11 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 11. Caller will be Clyde Cullings. Everyone is welcome.

GOING UP: This steel beam is lifted into place by a 94-foot crane as construction on the $2.4 million expansion project continues at Scheurer Hospital in Pigeon. The beams are lifted over the completed exterior walls to provide support for the interior of the addition.

'College Night' hosted by Bad Axe HS

Bad Axe High School will host "College Night" on Monday, Oct. 21, with 40 representatives of Michigan colleges, universities and various branches of the armed services on hand to present information. The program will begin at 7:30 p.m., followed by three one-half hour sessions so that participants may get information from at least three schools/agencies. Students in any grade considering college and their parents are welcome to attend.

Roses AND Thorns
 It Figures (Part II) By MARK KARLS

A million dollars is no big deal anymore. I mean, people would rather have one week's vacation than a million bucks! Many would rather have a videotape machine and camera than a million bucks. Others would rather have a new car this year instead of next year and are willing to give up one million dollars to do so.

Who are these people? Would you believe they are you and me? We saw last week how simply putting aside $1,000 into an account that averages 12% interest per year would yield over one million dollars in less than 61 years. And I would say that most people do not realize this. So what we have are parents who do not understand that if they gave up one vacation to Disney World (air fare, lodging, meals, etc.) and put that thousand dollars into an account for a child's birth, that account would be worth over one million dollars on that child's 61st birthday (12% interest).

There are an awful lot of places to free up $1,000 to set aside for children to ensure that an extra million bucks for their retirement. Waiting an extra year or two to buy a new car, or postponing that videocamera and tape machine, etc. are simply a few of many ways to lay aside one million dollars for a child's retirement.

I guess we need to pause here to answer the question, "Where in the world do you find a 12% account these days?" There are plenty around. One such account appeared in the daily paper two weeks ago as an insert — guaranteed 12½% government bonds. Your banker, your insurance agent or your investment counselor can find such accounts for you. But you have to ask.

The fact that you are not going to touch the account for 61 years brings a better interest rate. I happen to be involved in a money market account because I am required to be as a pastor in the United Methodist Church. All pastors in our denomination across the nation put a certain percentage of our salary into a pension that is handled by an investment firm out of Chicago. That firm has averaged better than an annual 12% yield for us over the years. If we wish to invest more than what we are required to, then we have an option of plans. Each option is based on risk. The higher the risk, the greater the possible yield (gain or loss).

The record for these option accounts has been far better than 12%. One account has averaged around a 20% annual yield over the past few years and is on track for a 36% yield this year. These accounts are not open to the general public, but similar ones are. But for the conservative, no risk person, a 12% yield is there.

I was amazed to discover that many of our conservative friends in the Thumb area do not trust anyone with their hard-earned money and hide cash in various places throughout the house. Their biggest fear is theft. But someone is stealing their money anyway and that someone is themselves. For inflation is eating away at a three to five percent clip each year. How sad that these people are essentially destroying five percent of their cash each year. If they saved $10,000 and hid that in the mattress, then that would be equivalent to taking out $500 each year and burning it with the trash in the year!

I had an uncle who saved $250,000 during his life. He was handicapped and saved this by washing dishes all his life. The money, if hidden in his house, would be losing $12,500 each year to inflation. This would be the same as going down to the local car dealer and buying a brand new car each year (with accessories and the works) just to take that care and drive it off a cliff — each and every year!

So hiding money at home and not trusting others is a killer! Passbook savings are good and important. They allow us to keep money for emergency and every day use. The money is not tied up like the higher yield accounts. The passbook account does what it is supposed to do — gives us ready cash and pays us some interest in the process.

But to use a passbook account for things it was not designed to do is almost as bad as hiding the money at home. Almost as bad in the fact that you lose money in a passbook account due to inflation and taxation. If your passbook account generates six percent interest, this is a step ahead of inflation. But if you are in a 25% tax bracket (many people are in a higher tax bracket) then one-quarter of that six percent interest goes to the IRS, leaving 4½ percent for you, so that you are losing money in a five percent inflation year. If your tax bracket is higher, you are losing more money to inflation through such an account.

Passbooks are not designed for saving. They merely give you something for putting your every day and emergency money someplace. Most investment books recommend three PLEASE TURN TO PAGE 27

Rural ROUND-UP

A weekly briefing of news and information of interest to Thumb Farmers

Top 'o the week...

Market prices for dry beans fell a dramatic $1.50 per hundredweight (cwt.) Friday to $13, but prices should stabilize in that $13 range -- soon, experts say.

Several local elevators saw prices rising to $14.50, mostly to encourage growers to bring in early crops to keep markets moving. But, experts say the price drop is a significant mid-harvest market adjustment, and should be bottoming out.

A few seasons back, navy beans were selling in the $10 per cwt. range -- but soared to $30 per cwt. in the Mexican bean contract times of 1981. A year ago this week, navies sold for $23 per cwt., as the market oversupply started mounting.

BEAN GRADES, by the way, show 25% fewer beans have been inspected during September, 1985 than the previous year. A total of 177,992 hundredweight (cwt.) of beans were inspected last month, compared with 236,331 cwt. in September, 1984, says the Michigan Bean Shippers Association.

Navy beans by grade were 2000 cwt. Choice Handpicked, 45,975 Prime Handpicked, 712,635 cwt. Michigan No. 1, 800 cwt. No. 2 and No. 2 off-color last month, MBSA says.

Those numbers compare with 1984's figures of 500 cwt. Choice Handpicked, 100,795 cwt. Prime Handpicked, 84,440 cwt. No. 1, 6510 cwt. No. 2 and 1600 No. 2 off-color. This generally shows slightly lower quality, but excellent quality overall, following the first inspection period.

In all, 120,410 cwt. of Navies were inspected this year, compared with 84,000 cwt. in 1984, 63,000 cwt. in 1983 and 457,000 cwt. in 1982 Septembers.

rollton under the Pioneer label. Michigan is the fifth leading producer of sugar in the U.S., and the industry contributes nearly a billion dollars to the state's economy.

MICHIGAN Agriculture Commission's monthly meeting is set Wednesday (today) at 10 a.m., in the state Department of Agriculture's fourth floor hearing room in Lansing. State Ag Director Paul Kindinger will discuss governor's appointments to several commissions and the department's budget will be discussed.

Reports will be heard on the '85 corn referendum and the 1985 Cherry Bowl football contest. Luncheon guests include the three Farm Credit Services presidents.

REMEMBER October is Co-op Month in the United States. Former USDA Secretary Bob Bergland is chairing this year's activities, honoring the more than 60 million co-op members nationwide. They've banded together in areas of health services, credit, insurance, electrical, telephone services -- plus farm marketing and farm supply fields. This year's theme is "Building a better America and a better world."

THE STATE'S farm financial crisis will be even worse next year than it is now, State Ag Director Paul Kindinger told a recent audience. He said he is considering the need for additional measures to help state farmers.

"The crisis is deepening everywhere. There is simply not enough farm income to pay debts and make a decent living," he said in a Mackinac Island speech during a recent Midwest Governors' Conference.

In a survey this year, 25% of state farmers said they are in financial trouble and 17% said they plan to discontinue farming in the near future. Farmers elsewhere are in even deeper trouble, they noted.

Great start for duck season

The old well-known remark that "the weather is great for ducks" was true Saturday -- it was great for ducks and geese, but especially for hunters of ducks and geese. There was plenty of moisture and there were strong winds that kept waterfowl on the move, and at times gave them problems to get moving when they were trying to escape hunters as they flew into the strong wind.

So, waterfowl hunters did well, very well, on the opening day of the 1985 waterfowl season.

No hunter is happy to reveal secrets, and most of them would rather become targets than to give away their secrets. Saturday was one of the greatest days for success that many hunters could recall.

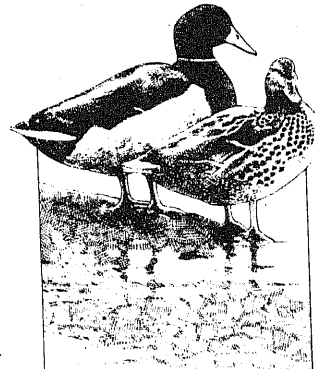

One group of seven hunters said they had bagged their 14 legal geese by 10 a.m., and, they are frank to tell, that if they had wanted to violate they could have filled up again -- maybe twice. When they were picking up their decoys to leave, no fewer than 50 honkers came into their decoys, at tree-height, directly above them. "We have enough fire power to bag all 50 of them, if we had wanted to," one of them said, but he emphasized, "we did not violate."

A pair of hunters had their four Canadas within two hours of the start of shooting, and they, too, said that so many were flying that they could have filled up "many times." One of the hunters said, "Our only problem was to keep from spooking the Canadas by shooting at the Mallards that continued to tempt us by flying over us and decoying into our goose spread." Once they had their four legal geese, they got 100 points worth of Mallard drakes.

Another group of five hunters had 10 geese within "a few hours" and they too "had trouble" with trespassing Mallards that insisted on getting into fields where they were hunting. "It's an awful temptation to keep from banging at big drakes when they're offering themselves to your gun, and to await the next batch of geese," they admitted.

Of course, hunters do not want to be named, and they certainly don't want to tell where they have been hunting. Nevertheless, they admitted freely that they can't recall more success in their hunting than they enjoyed Saturday, and, as one of them added, "In this world, I don't ever expect to see it this way again. This was one in a thousand -- no, in in 10,000. It was the best ever."

While the field-hunters had their fabulous opener, Saginaw Bay and Fish Point Game Area did well, too. Don Schafer, manager of the Fish Point Area, reported that Saturday was "the best ever" hunting day he can recall checking. He said he didn't have the figures fully tabulated on Sunday evening, but he was certain that when they were matched against any past years on record that the 1985 opener was a record-breaker.

Duck-shooting, which has been down-played by the Department of Natural Resources because of dwindling numbers of ducks, proved top-notch on opening day, too, as well as for goose-shooting.

Mallards accounted for at least 95% of the shooting success, and Schafer added that there were also a few Pintails, several Teal, one Scapu and one Wood Duck registered by hunters.

Schafer added that he knew that the season would be a good one, because his pre-season counts had shown greater goose and duck populations than in past pre-season tabulations.

The waterfowl hunting season will continue here until Nov. 13.

BEET HARVEST is in full swing in the Thumb, as the Sebawing Plant of Michigan Sugar Company has moved into operation. Growers dealing with Michigan Sugar are expected to harvest more than 75,000 acres in the next six weeks, depending on weather conditions.

"Early indications are that the sugar beet tonnage will either equal or surpass last year's record," says Davis Sunderland, Michigan Sugar's vice president of agriculture. The company contracted 78,000 acres this year, surpassing the previous record by more than 5000 acres.

"The increase in acreage and above-normal rainfall in September are the main reasons for the anticipated record tonnage," he says. Sugar content is expected to be slightly below average, because of the very dry spring and summer months, he adds. Early tests show 14% sugar content.

Last year, Michigan Sugar produced a record 370 million pounds of sugar at processing plants in Sebawing, Caro, Croswell and Car-

WE RECOMMEND STABILIZED NITROGEN THIS FALL TO RELIEVE YOUR SPRING WORKLOAD.

Here's a different kind of nitrogen you can apply in the fall along with your P and K. Yes, now you can take care of your total N-P-K fertility program right after corn or soybean harvest when application conditions are ideal and time is not so critical.

So, you'll have less work to do in the spring and a better chance of getting corn planted on time!

Unlike regular nitrogen, you won't have to worry about losing Stabilized Nitrogen this fall or during the rains next May, June or July.

Stabilized Nitrogen stays available long into the growing season for a better kind of nitrogen. A good fertilizer program including Stabilized Nitrogen means healthier plants showing less firing, stalk rot or disease. And at harvest the corn usually dries down faster, has a higher protein content and yields better.

There are a lot of good reasons we recommend a fall fertilizer program including Stabilized Nitrogen. Let's talk about it.

Pigeon District LIBRARY CORNER

SENIOR CITIZENS FILMS

Senior Citizens are invited to a Movie Festival at the Pigeon District Library on Thursday, Oct. 17 at 1:30 p.m.

Films will be scheduled every third Thursday of the month until April, 1986.

The October Movie Festival will feature the films: "Garage," Buster Keaton and Fatty Arbuckle comically attempt to run a service station; "Kremlin," an NBC new film production tours the Kremlin and discusses Russian history and "Cannonball," a small dog abandoned near a trash dump and captured by a dog catcher, finds a place herself when she is befriended by a circus clown whose act needs improving.

Movies are free of charge and refreshments will be served. All senior citizens are invited to attend each month.

SATURDAY STORY HOUR
Kindergarten through third graders are invited to a Saturday Story Hour on Oct. 12 from 1 to 2 p.m. Games and tongue twisters are among the activities planned, along with "The Pinkish, Purplish, Bluish Egg," "Bufoed the Little Bighorn" and "The Ant and the Elephant" stories will be read. Keeping with the theme of "Unusual," a sheet of puzzle fun will be given for each child to take home.

Saturday Story Hour will be conducted twice a month during the school year. The schedule for the first quarter includes Oct. 12 and 26, Nov. 9 and 23 and Dec. 7 and 21. Registration is required and a small charge per family is requested to help defray craft expenses. If a student has a preschool sibling in the Tuesday Story Hour program, no additional fee is required.

PARENTS' COFFEE HOUR
The first Parents Coffee Hour during the school year will be conducted on Tuesday morning, Oct. 15 in the library community room.

Mrs. Clare Dast of Flowers by MariAnn will give the program at 9:20 and 10 a.m. Both sessions will include house plant care, tips on making fall arrangements and how to work with dried fall items for use in arrangements.

All parents, grandparents or babysitters of preschool children are invited to attend while the youngsters attend Story Hour. Parents' Coffee Hour is conducted once a month and refreshments are served.

PRESCHOOL STORY HOUR
Story Hour for preschool children on Oct. 15 will be based on the theme, "Fall Harvest," with stories "Happy Harry" and "The Scarecrow," "Once Upon a Time in the Meadow" and "Deep in the Forest."

Activities will include "Leaves Are Floating Down" fingerplays, Old MacDonald song, Simon Says game and Animals in the Fall-Winter Preparation filmstrip. Each child will be given a scarecrow on a stick to take home.

All area three to five year olds are invited to attend Story Hour each Tuesday morning at 9 or 10:30 a.m. Annual registration is required.

CIRCULATION REPORT
Circulation statistics show that 5,632 pieces of library materials were borrowed during September, an increase of 1,119 over September, 1984. Patrons read 1,682 adult books, 502 junior adult, 1,226 children's, borrowed 163 toys, two cameras and viewed 2,041 videocassette tapes. Two 16mm films and 14 pieces of audiovisual equipment were loaned.

The copy machine brought in $187.50 and $99.65 was paid in overdue fines.

Eight sessions of Preschool Story Hour were conducted with 281 children attending. Brandon Fritz, Sara Hazard, Peter Vollmer and Scott Herford celebrated their birthdays during September and received a birthday crown.

Twenty additional patrons completed library cards, including seven from Caseville, six from Winsor, five from Oliver and two from Fairhaven Townships.

Any members who have not paid their October, November and December dues are asked to pay their dues this week or as soon as they can visit the library.

VIDEOTAPE SELECTION RESULTS
Results from Pick-A-Movie Week last week show that 39% VHS and 44% Beta members voted for their choices of video-cassette tapes. A selection of tapes will be ordered in the near future based on these ballots.

Homemakers plan upcoming fall tour

A one-day trip is planned by the Townliners Extension group on Oct. 29 to Kingsville, Ont. to visit Jack Miner's Bird Sanctuary and Colasantis Cactus and Tropical Garden.

Each person attending is asked to bring a sack lunch, with the beverage being provided. An evening meal will be taken at the Sweden House in Utica, with the cost included in the price of the tour.

Interested persons can inquire about registration to Mrs. Ruth Hamilton, 69 N. Brown Road, Bay Port. The bus will leave Pigeon Municipal Building parking lot at 8:15 a.m. and the Bad Axe K-Mart lot at 8:30 a.m. Deadline for registration is Monday, Oct. 21.

Ostomy support group organizes

A chapter of the United Ostomy Association is being organized in the Thumb area.

Interested persons should contact Marjorie Wessels, R.N., Enterostomal Therapist, Bad Axe, at 269-8012 or Connie Butts, R.N., Enterostomal Therapist, Fairgrove, at 693-6295.

Retired educators met in September

Members of the Huron County chapter of Michigan Association of Retired School Personnel met Sept. 25 at 11 a.m. at the Sebewaing VFW Hall.

The meeting was opened with the pledge to the flag led by President Raymond Mauch and the singing of God Bless America.

Minutes of the July meeting were read by Secretary Della Ruedgen. Alexandria MacRae gave the treasurer's report.

Members who attended the MARSP workshop on Sept. 19 at Shepherd gave reports: Dolores Mauch explained state goals for the year. Betty Zulauf reported on Health and Insurance and informed members they could obtain Medicare books from the Social Security office and also a directory of physicians who will accept assignments agreeable with Medicare. George Greene gave the membership report, noting that the MARSP has not reached its membership goals chiefly

Gaeth-House unite lives at Kilmanagh

Camilla Sue House, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver SchAAF of Pigeon and Scott Arnold Gaeth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gaeth of Owendale, united their lives in marriage on Saturday, Sept. 21 at St. John's Lutheran Church, Kilmanagh.

Pastor Robert Pfaff officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The altar was decorated with the unity candle graced with pink roses, white and pink carnations and baby's breath, and a vase of white gladiolus and pink carnations.

Given in marriage by her grandfather, the bride wore a gown of silk organza and chantilly lace trim, featuring a high neckline, long fitted sleeves and ruffles at the shoulders. The hemline on the bouffant skirt and surrounding the chapel train was accented with lace. To complete her attire she wore a bridal hat of spousebella lace with a fingertip veil.

She carried a cascading bouquet of pink roses, white miniature carnations, pink filler flowers, camillia foliage and plumosisis.

Stephanie Gunden, Bay Port, a friend of the bride, was maid of honor, wearing a light pink gown of taffeta with cap sleeves, ruffled neckline and a hooped bouffant skirt with layered ruffles extending to the back. She carried a white lace fan adorned with pink roses and deep pink miniature carnations and plumosis.

The bridesmaids were Carol Graf of Pigeon, Julie Gettel of Elkton and Heather Pudney of Caseville, all friends of the bride wearing identical gowns and carrying similar fans to the maid of honor.

Best man for his friend was Craig Gettel of Elkton. Serving as groomsmen and wearing gray tuxedos were Fred McIntyre of Bad Axe and Brian Wichert of Pigeon, both friends of the groom and Brian Gaeth of Gageton, a brother.

Ushers were Donald Arnold of Caseville, a friend and groomsmen Brian Gaeth. Dennis Arnold of Flint was unable to perform his duties due to a recent injury.

Organist Mrs. Faye Effer of Owendale accompanied soloist Mrs. Kathy Eichler of Pigeon, who sang "Whither Thou Goest," "My Peace" and "There is Love" during the 4 p.m. ceremony.

The mother of the groom wore a street-length dusty blue gown with sheer chiffon sleeves and a softly pleated skirt. She wore a corsage of pink roses and white miniature carnations.

A reception followed at the Pigeon VFW Hall for 200 guests, who were greeted by the groom's godmother, Mrs. Elwood McDonald of Owendale. Guests attended from Pigeon, Owendale, Gageton, Bay Port, Sebewaing, Decatur, Ind., Warren, Snover, Caseville, Caro, Sandusky, Bad Axe, Flint and Gladwin.

The bride is employed in Pigeon. The groom is a 1981 graduate of Owen-Gage High School and is employed at Huron Casting, Inc., Pigeon.

After their honeymoon trip to Florida, the couple will reside in Caseville.

Laker Homecoming includes 2 crownings, parade

HOMECOMING WINNERS: Queen Patti Thiel and King Chris Eby reigned over the Homecoming Dance at Laker High. The two seniors led the celebration of the Laker football victory which preceded the dance.

TOP NERDS: Seniors Terry Kauffman and Amber Moore were crowned King and Queen Nerd during halftime activities at the Laker-Bad Axe girls' basketball game last Thursday night. The pair were selected by audience response over junior and sophomore representatives.

Although the skies were threatening, the Laker homecoming parade through downtown Bay Port on Friday night was viewed by about 100 people in dry weather, unlike the football game later.

The Laker High School and junior high bands both led hours-drawn carriages with the homecoming queen candidates and last year's King Buck LePage and Queen Mary Thiel. The Laker cheerleaders also preceded the class floats.

THE IMPORTANCE OF CHIROPRACTIC PREVENTATIVE CARE

The healthy person revels in the great feeling of well being brought about by a smooth functioning body. Chiropractic preventative-maintenance care at regular intervals will help retain good health and often discover and correct minor problems before they become identifiable major conditions.

Vertebral subluxations are the basic, fundamental cause of most pain, sickness and disease. Subluxations usually result from obvious traumas of accidents and falls and even subtle changes of faulty posture, poor dietary habits, or emotional stress. These incidents, as minor as they may be, cause the spinal bones to misalign from their normal position and place pressure on vital nerves which carry nerve impulses to all tissues of the body. Thus, nerve pressure results in a short circuit of the organ or tissue at the end of the nerve.

Remember, as chiropractors, we are specialists of the spine and nervous system and know the meaning of sound structural health which in turn enables the body to function normally as it was intended to do. Even as you see your dentist or optometrist at regular intervals, make plans to see us for regular checkups and maintenance care.

Something To Think About

JOHN A. CHAMPAGNE DIRECTOR

BE HONEST WITH CHILDREN

Common wisdom says to deflate their self-image that it is best to be truthful and permanently interfere with children about the subject of death. It is considered a mistake to tell a child, for instance, that a dead relative or friend has gone on a long vacation. In time, they will only learn to mistrust you, to fear having anyone go on vacation, because their loved one never returned from "vacation." The same is true for sending the child away for a few days when someone dies, only to have him return and find the person mysteriously missing.

Children deserve and need our trust in their ability to cope with the problems of life. Deceiving them about something so important, however good the intentions, can serious

NATIONAL 4-H WEEK

Oct. 6-12

October 6-12, 1985

A SALUTE

'85 Huron County 4-H Program statistics:

	MALE	FEMALE	TOTAL
Members in 4-H Clubs	371	529	900
Number of 4-H Clubs	51		51
Number of Adult Leaders	55	124	179
Number of Teen Leaders	25	85	110

The 4-H Emblem seen so often here in the Thumb is a green Four-Leaf Clover with a white "H" on each leaf. The Four H's stand for HEAD, HEART, HANDS and HEALTH.

WHAT IS 4-H?

During National 4-H Week, Oct. 6-12, nearly five million 4-H members throughout the U.S. will be observing this week with activities centering on this year's theme "4-H for Youth, for America." This national theme is to challenge 4-H members to develop their fullest potential for the betterment of club, community, nation and world.

National 4-H Week provides a chance to congratulate all Huron County 4-H leaders, teen leaders and members on jobs well done. Through their dedicated efforts, successful programs blending skill and knowledge in many interesting fields are conducted each year.

In Huron County, 900 4-H members in 48 4-H Clubs meet regularly. They're led by 179 volunteer adult leaders and 110 teen leaders — plus 352 young people are enrolled in special 4-H programs, such as conservation and bike safety.

More than 100 projects are offered to 4-H members, such as foods and nutrition, arts, woodworking, field crops, livestock, personal appearance, horticulture, safety, weather, conservation, passport to understanding and teen leadership. 4-H offers young people the chance to acquire "real life" skills, while developing leadership and citizenship abilities.

Fifty years ago, 4-H was strictly involved with agriculture and home economic projects in rural areas. Today, 4-H is still very active there, but has also expanded to provide "learn by doing" projects for youth living in towns and cities. Michigan has more than 200,000 4-Hers in projects this year. There are 4-H programs in 3150 counties of the U.S. — and 82 nations around the world have more than 5 million youth in educational programs similar to 4-H.

In Huron County, County Extension Director Robert Johnson oversees the organization of local clubs for youths 9 to 19. But teen and adult leaders are ALWAYS needed — call the County Extension Office at 269-9949 to volunteer!

HURON PLANS HANDICAPPERS PROGRAM
Horseback Riding for Handicappers builds confidence in handicappers, staff and volunteers. The state HRH program has involved nearly 9000 riders and 9000 volunteers since 1974, with funds provided by United Cerebral Palsy, the C.S. Mott and William Kellogg Foundations.

The Huron County 4-H Youth Program is establishing a Horseback Riding program, to help with physical, mental, social and emotional growth through strong doses of self-confidence, independence and fun. Teen and adult leaders are needed — and you know who to contact (see above).

NEW 4-H PROGRAMS POSSIBLE
Arts and crafts projects are the most popular 4-H projects going now in Michigan. About 46,000 members use them to express creativity, imagination, skills and talents. The arts program includes clowning, performing arts, drama, voice, dance and visual arts. Crafts programs include wood science, leathercraft, ceramics, fiber arts, basketry and more.

STUDY 4-H PROGRAM "WANTS"
A Michigan State University survey two years ago was performed to learn what quality, relevant programs are wanted by 10- to 14-year-olds for 4-H. Most 4-H members have positive self-esteem, the study showed, and half the youth carry out moderate levels of family responsibilities. Boys and girls surveyed were interested in career study — with boys preferring topics such as electronics, wildlife management, law, computer programming and architecture, while girls sought similar traditional roles such as nursing, teaching, child care work and secretarial. More and more job alternatives are being considered by young people today, meaning the sky is the limit as far as 4-H programs are concerned. As the study showed, all types of future projects are possible — and 4-H leaders will continue studying the development and direction of 4-H programs statewide and locally.

4-H Clubs are open to all youth between the ages of 9 and 19, regardless of their sex, race, national origin, handicap or religion. To join 4-H or learn more about it, contact a 4-H Leader in your community or the Cooperative Extension Service at 104 County Building, Bad Axe, 48413, or call 269-9949.

4-H in Pigeon needs HELPERS!

It's National 4-H Week — but will there be a Pigeon 4-H Club in 1986? Two weeks ago, local Leader Peggy Roestel of the Pigeon 4-H Achievers Club ran an announcement in The Progress-Advance inviting leaders to her home. Two ladies showed up — one gentleman called — that's all!
"There is a real need for four people to teach 40 kids in 20 or more classes and do justice to the class or children," Mrs. Roestel says.
"So I am interested in MONDAY, Oct. 14 at 8 p.m., at the home of (Mrs. Robert Roestel, Pigeon Road, Pigeon). If there is more interest from possible leaders, the local 4-H program will be DROPPED. It's up to you as parents of 4-H kids to attend this meeting," Mrs. Roestel says. "It's not just our kids, but your children we're trying to teach," she adds. Plus, the group is looking for a regular place to meet. "Please help her and the 40 local youth inking the local club going ask."

LOTS of local kids active

ATTEND THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE

THIS SUNDAY AND EVERY SUNDAY

WHEN OUR DESTINATION IS HAPPINESS,
FAITH HAS THE MAP

In the days when explorers embarked on the seas
And our half of the world was unknown,
We admired the courage of men such as these;
Yet they knew they were never alone.
Not a map or a chart that they ever possessed
Had included the lands they explored,
But religion insured that the voyage progressed
With the guidance and help of the Lord.
So embark on your mission, and faith will allow
You to learn what this lesson is worth;
When it helps you discover the secret right now
Of a happier life on this earth.

— Gloria Nowak

"I am the Lord
...which maketh a way in the seas and a path in the mighty waters."
— Isaiah 43:15, 16

Every one of us has in him a continent of undiscovered
character.

WOODS and WATERS

By DUANE GUENTHER

Layout for mallards

Near the turn of the century, a new style of duck hunting evolved on Lake St. Clair and the Detroit River. It was called layout shooting, and the main ingredient was a large, low slung craft called a layout boat. The layout boat took its roots from the old, east coast sink boxes. Designed to ride so low in the water that they afforded the incoming ducks little visual contact, they soon became very popular and very efficient hunting platforms.

The boat, usually 16 to 18 feet in length, had a broad beam to stabilize it against the swells that were common in large bodies of water. It accommodated two hunters, lying side by side, and was always towed to the hunting spot by a larger, more seaworthy tend boat.

Upon reaching the hunting site, as many as 200 decoys would be set in a series of straight lines with an open avenue, or pipe, as it was sometimes called, down the middle. The layout boat would be anchored at the windward end of the pipe with the hunters facing directly into it.

When the flocks of ducks coursed back and forth across the water would spot the decoys spread, they would follow along a lead line and eventually stream straight up the pipe. The hunters would rise and meet the incoming ducks with some fast, and not too easy shooting.

Any ducks that were knocked down would be dispatched and picked up by the tend boat. After a couple of hours in the cramped cockpit, the hunters would be more than ready to change places with their buddies in the other boat, and so the day passed.

Most marsh hunters looked with disdain upon the layout boat. "The only reason they're effective," they would say, "is because they're hunting dumb ducks."

This general reference was directed towards the scaup, or bluebill, which were the main fare of layout hunters. While there was some truth to the matter, bluebills are not in the magna cum laude range when it comes to duck intelligence -- and I found out later that not enough due was given this slick little duck boat.

My first true encounter with a new style of layout boat was when my brother's friend towed one to our duck shack the morning before opening day.

I was rather amused when I looked it over, for it was only about 11 feet in length and looked much too narrow to weather the rough water that open areas of Saginaw Bay had to offer. I was even more surprised the next morning when the rig was loaded with mallard and black duck decoys and was pointed out the end of our cut.

He's never going to fool a puddle duck with that rig, I remember telling myself as I watched the friend leave. They're much too smart for that type of set up.

Wet waterfowl opening

MICHIGAN'S WATER-FOWL SEASON started off with a bang this past weekend and Thumb area hunters viewed the weather conditions with mixed emotions.

Those duck hunters who had made plans to hunt the big waters of Saginaw Bay found gale warnings in effect when the 7:05 a.m. starting time rolled around. All but the most fool-hardy began to make other arrangements, and those who decided to tackle the high winds and waves, found swamped and overturned boats commonplace. Fortunately, no one lost their lives, but some valuable equipment was left at the Bay's bottom. A few marsh hunters found solace in the high cattails at Fish Point and Maisou Island and were rewarded with some super mallard shooting.

If the first day on the water turned out to be a bust, the field shooting for ducks and geese had to be one of the best on record. A perfect day met the army of camouflage hunters that trudged into most every cornfield in Huron County, and with the heavy cloud cover, strong gusty winds and horizontal rains to assist them, a near record success rate prevailed.

A larger than normal goose population caused the skies to become black with the bodies of these giant birds, and the confusion of the first day saw hunters filling their limits at will. While many ducks streaked across the fields, the hunters mainly set their sights on the Canadas.

EVEN THOUGH MOST OF OCTOBER'S ATTENTION has been placed on hunting, many anglers still realize that fall fishing has been living up to its reputation. Big boats are still pulling in Chinooks and Cohos, while stream fishermen are finding great action along both sides of Michigan's shores. High on the list of hot spots are the western streams including: the Manistee, Little Manistee, Pere Marquette, Muskegon, Betsie and Platte.

Here, both spin fishermen and fly fishermen are finding excellent numbers of salmon and steelheads. This time of the year finds the large fish feeding on spawn, and its imitation, as well as

Caseville Scouts tame Rifle River

Eleven members of Boy Scout Troop #540 from Caseville with three adult leaders, last week completed a five-day, 96-mile canoe trip down the Rifle River.

The 11 Scouts, all novice canoeists, successfully completed requirements for the received merit badge. They received training and preliminary practice runs offshore at Caseville, but had never canoed on a river.

Following several collisions with both banks of the river, many large rocks and logs, and one sinking on the first day, their skills sharpened. The scouts were instrumental in rescuing a canoe that had sunk with two young women aboard, twice in the same day.

During the trip they also qualified for an additional award after picking up lost articles of clothing and equipment along the banks. The "50-miler" award requires a conservation or clean-up project to be conducted during the course of a 50-mile or more canoe trip.

Although new to canoeing, the boys distinguished themselves with an infrequency of problems, experiencing only three tip-overs during the entire 96-mile trip, in spite of several rapids and two sections completely blocked by tree trunks.

Participating in the trip were Ken Briesmeister, Bill Farver, Jan Hermanson, Francis Barevich, Chris McLean, Todd Smith, Don Bixman, Chris Bixman, Mike McCrary, Jeff Briesmeister and Shay Hubbard. Adult leaders present were Scoutmaster Buck Service and Assistant Scoutmasters Harry Hermanson and Dan Briesmeister.

SOUND-OFF!

Call 453-2323 Anytime to SOUND-OFF. Selected statements will appear in the next issue of The Progress-Advance. Or, send your written thoughts to P.O. Box 589, Pigeon, MI 48755. Deadline: 7 p.m. Mondays.

Our government's balanced budget needs smarter lawmakers than we've got. Let's start on the state level, in cutting big government spending. I think this parttime legislature is the right idea. And then, how about a six- or 12-year limit in the U.S. House and Senate? Our founding fathers didn't mean lawmaking would be a lifetime, full-time job.

Remember the teen dance Friday, Oct. 25, 9 to 1 at the Pigeon VFW Hall, featuring Ricky D the DJ. Join in our Halloween masquerade dance.

I just wanted to remind you of your meeting on Wednesday night, Sis. And be sure to stay for the whole meeting...

So some teens think Pigeon is boring, huh? I'll bet you've got two or more senior citizens in your neighborhood, who haven't got enough money to have their houses properly cared for. Rake a few leaves, put up storm windows and maybe paint here and there. Instead of moaning, why aren't you out working?

We agree about the Elkton train tracks being too rough. When will this be fixed? Just because the railroad was here first doesn't mean it can get away with taking bad care of its properties.

I wish the parties on Nitz Street would stop. There are annoying cars going by all hours of the night, blowing the horn. I just wish it would come to a stop, or we will do something about it. Thank you.

Last chance for the fifth annual Covenant Women's Retreat this Saturday in Elkton. Call 375-4113 for details.

Hey kids, stop your Halloween pranks now. We've been watching all the throwing of squash here in Elkton this past week. The police are watching for you, too.

If there is a liquor license now available in Pigeon, why doesn't someone upgrade their restaurant or start a new one to serve cocktails and good food? Annabelle's in Sebawaing proves it can be done properly, and not just have a bar where people sit around and drink. Pigeon would support this, I am sure.

If you have gripes about the Laker School Board, why don't you come to a meeting and voice your questions? It's your school district. Many times, only one or two people ever attend, and it's your right to do so as taxpayers. Or, maybe you find it easier to sit back and complain, instead of constructively helping make it better. / How about Mark K's suggestion about what the drawing of the pigeon for the new water tower should look like. We'd like to see some ideas. /

Lots of 'delicious' eating!

ANYONE EATING "an apple a day" from one of Orville Reed's apple trees might have to GO TO a doctor, rather than be keeping the doctor away!
These red delicious beauties dwarf a normal-sized apple, weighing in at 600 grams and 693 grams each.
Reed harvested the giants at his home orchard in Bay Port.

"Why should I advertise in your paper? Others have bigger circulations..."

There's no better bargain available to stores and businesses which want to reach the rich Western Thumb Area from Elkton to Bay Port, Owendale to Pigeon to Caseville and beyond than the paper you're holding right here, your Progress-Advance.

Yes, other newspapers will claim bigger circulations, but they also cover bigger areas! No other newspaper reaches as many homes in this rich area as The Progress-Advance! Even the biggest newspapers barely reach half the homes here. That's a fact.

Seven short years ago, 1800 copies of The Progress-Advance were being read in area homes. Today, nearly 3100 issues are distributed -- and purchased -- each week, bringing nothing but local news and information to more than 10,000 people right here...near your business.

No, we don't carry all the news from Europe, or Washington, D.C., or Moscow. We could, but we don't really think that's what people want to spend their money to read about. After all, you get that news every night on TV.

Our primary news source is you -- what your town, schools, clubs, churches, neighborhoods and friends are doing. And, with that news to help keep folks reading our pages, they spend longer time with their Progress-Advance issues each week than with other, non-local papers.

Dollar for dollar, your advertising money is spent for quality coverage of folks in homes within 20 miles of your business. You don't have to pay for circulation in Harbor Beach or Port Hope, or other towns far away. You get what you pay for here.

We're working our way toward being the biggest weekly paper in Huron County. We'll do it by serving even more folks close by -- not by adding far-away circulation that sounds nice but doesn't really do your business any good.

Your Progress-Advance. Filled with nothing but news for, about and by local people. Coming to you freshly summarized and ready to read every Wednesday morning.

Thanks for reading us. We're here working for you!

It's magic!

DOUG IRISH, a magician, comedian and illusionist will bring "magic" into the lives of area children when he performs on Sunday, Oct. 20 at 2 p.m. at the Caseville F.O.E. Aerie Hall.

The magic show, sponsored by the Caseville Eagles, is free for area underprivileged and handicapped children, but will also be open to the general public for a ticket price.

ELKTON WOMANS' CIVIC CLUB

A nostalgic evening provided the program mood for members of the Womens' Civic Club when they met at the home of Mrs. Keith Carr on Thursday evening.

In her presentation on the history of Elkton, Louise Krohn gave historical data through the use of pictures, commentary and music. It was noted that the first house built in Elkton was located where the Elkton Post Office now stands. In early years, Elkton was noted for its fairs, race tracks, homecomings and baseball games. In reminiscing, Mrs. Leonard Seley sang "The Old Lamp Lighter," as Mrs. Krohn recalled the days of the old lamp lighter, the late Mr. Kosanke. Mrs. Seley also gave a musical reading, "Little Old Lady," in reference to the appearance of Gov. Ferris in 1912 when he stopped at the Elkton Depot to speak and was greeted by a group of ladies in their finery.

Roll call response was "My First Memory of Elkton." During the business session the group voted to assist in the purchase of a village clock.

"Guest Night" in the Civic Center will feature the Nov. 7 meeting, which will be highlighted with an old-fashioned Thanksgiving Dinner.

Election of officers was conducted with Chief Peter Ney of Bad Axe elected as president, Chief Dave Mousseau of Kinde as vice president and Chief Raymond Mayes of Port Austin as secretary.

Bill Reimann of Bad Axe reported on some new fire training program to be offered this fall if enough interest is shown. An arson school will be conducted at the Colony House on Oct. 26 from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., with no charge for registration.

It was decided that the sheriff, state police commander, emergency services director and fire training officers participate in all meetings to improve communications between the groups.

The Chiefs Association will meet bi-monthly with the next meeting scheduled for Wednesday, Oct. 9 at the Bad Axe Fire Hall beginning at 7 p.m.

Improved communication and pre-planning were the main topics of discussion at the recently formed Fire Chiefs Association which represents all Huron County fire departments as well as Deleware Township Fire Department in Sanilac County and Elkland Township Fire Department in Tuscola County.

Vegetables, fruit and flowers were given away. Next week members are asked to bring pennies for Bingo.

The ham and turkey supper at the Elkton RLDS Church was announced for Oct. 11 from 5 to 7 p.m.

Edna Wakefield led in some sitdown exercises. Ardis Gemmill introduced Mary Leippardt and Chuck Pudney from the Caseville area, who presented a program on the piano and drums. Mrs. Leippardt also read some poems she has composed.

Elkton church hosts Tyndale Singers

The Tyndale Singers from William Tyndale College in Farmington Hills will present two sacred music concerts at the Elkton Missionary Church on Sunday, Oct. 13.

The collegiate group will be featured during the Sunday School hour at 10 a.m. and the worship service at 11 a.m.

The group is comprised of three men and three women who use their musical talents to share God's love with others. The public is invited to attend. A free-will offering will be received.

Native attends science workshop

Gary Mohr of Caro, a teacher at Caro Community High School, was among the 25 outstanding high school biology teachers selected to participate in a National Science Foundation Honors Workshop in Field Biology this summer at the University of Michigan Biological Station located at Douglas Lake near Pellston.

Mohr is the son of Pigeon residents Mr. and Mrs. George (Ruth) Mohr.

Teachers were selected for the honors workshop on the basis of their competency and dedication to improved teaching and curriculum development, awards received for teaching, presentations made at professional conferences, academic background and interest in field biology.

All the teachers received a stipend, free tuition for 10 credit hours at U of M, free lodging and meals and travel expenses to Douglas Lake. The workshop was sponsored by the National Science Foundation and was directed by Prof. Burton Voss, a science educator at the U-M School of Education.

During the workshop the teachers took a graduate biology class and also learned special field biology techniques. Topics included computer modeling of biological phenomena, biological colonization and competition, plant succession and plant population dynamics, productivity in aquatic ecosystems, biology of streams and rivers, watershed management and groundwater flow.

The teachers developed a field biology investigation suitable for high school students. These will be tested with their students this fall and published and disseminated to secondary school biology teachers by the National Science Foundation. The purpose of the program is to involve outstanding teachers in updating the science curriculum in schools nationwide.

Sunday hours???

Retailers cater to needs of shoppers

How do businesses fare when they expand their service hours to include Sundays? Very well, according to information gathered by Huron County Extension Home Economist Barbara Neuman.

A study reported in the July, 1984 issue of Journal of Small Business Management indicates that different shopper types exist. Data gathered during 592 interviews suggest that all retailers can compete more effectively by catering to the special needs of each shopper type.

Serious Sunday shoppers represented 55% of all Sunday shoppers. They tend to be young, female and well educated. Eighty-eight percent indicated that if all the stores they normally frequent were open, they would make Sunday their regular shopping day. Eighty-four percent are under 50 years of age and half are under 30. These shoppers consider time a premium and are willing to pay for convenience and drive some distance to shop on Sunday.

Recreational shoppers -- 40% of all Sunday shoppers -- go to shopping malls for something to do and usually take their spouses and children. The typical recreational Sunday shopper tends to be female, young to middle-aged and married. Less than three-quarters are employed. They tend to browse, gather information and buy small items on impulse.

Anti-Sunday shoppers represent five percent of the Huron County Historical group meets Thursday

The fourth quarterly meeting of the Huron County Historical Society is scheduled for Thursday, Oct. 10 at 7:30 p.m. at the White Rock School Museum on White Rock Road.

Election and installation of new officers is planned. A dinner at Klump's Restaurant at 6 p.m. is optional.

All chapters of the Historical Society are urged to attend the meeting.

Taco Salad is Easy to Toss

Taco salad, appearing now on many restaurant menus and fast becoming a favorite meal, is easily made at home. Typical taco ingredients -- ground beef browned with onions and seasoned, kidney beans, tomatoes and Cheddar cheese -- are served on salad greens with avocado slices and ripe olives. Tortilla chips add the crispness of a taco; it can also be served in a large tortilla bowl.

The dressing is typically Mexican: dairy sour cream mixed with chili sauce, jalapeno chilies and grated onion. The light color of the dressing accents the bright red, green, brown and orange colors in the salad.

On a warm fall day, serve this satisfying salad with fresh fruit. Mexican chocolate flavored with cinnamon would be an appropriate beverage.

Because corn is the basic grain in Mexican cuisine, Golden Corn Soup would be a good meal-starter when the days turn cool. In this American Dairy Association recipe, frozen corn is combined with condensed cream of potato soup, milk and seasonings. Shredded Cheddar cheese is added at the last minute; no need to cook it, because hot soup melts cheese quickly.

Golden Corn Soup

Yield: 5 1/2 cups

1/4 cup (1/2 stick) butter
1/4 cup chopped onion
1 package (10 ounces) frozen corn
2 tablespoons flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon thyme
1/8 teaspoon dill weed
Dash pepper
3 cups milk
1 can (10 3/4 ounces) condensed cream of potato soup
1 cup (4 ounces) shredded Cheddar cheese

Melt butter in heavy saucepan. Add onion and corn; saute until tender, about 5 minutes. Combine flour, salt, thyme, dill weed, pepper and 1/2 cup milk; stir until smooth. Pour into corn mixture. Cook and stir 1 minute. Add remaining milk and condensed soup. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened and desired serving temperature. Stir in cheese until melted. Do not boil.

'Poor' dinner coming

In observance of World Food Day 1985, the Caseville chapter of Bread for the World will host its third annual Poor Folks Dinner on Sunday, Oct. 13 at St. Roch Catholic Church, Caseville at 2 p.m.

The traditional simple fare is bean soup and sandwich with the proceeds from a voluntary offering going to Bread for the World and the community food pantry.

Guest speaker will be Jerome J. Roy of Detroit, who has been helping to serve the old, the poor and the hungry in Detroit soup kitchens since his retirement.

World Food Day recognizes the establishment five years ago of the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations. It is a day set aside to recall to our minds and to our hearts the sobering fact that over 800 million human beings around the world, including 200 million Americans, are suffering from hunger, according to Chairman Margaret Wilhelm.

LWML plans Oct. 15 rally

The Thumb Zone of the Lutheran Womens' Missionary League will convene for their annual Fall Rally on Tuesday, Oct. 15 at Grace Lutheran Church, Fairgrove.

Registration will begin at 9:30 a.m. and coffee and doughnuts will be served. Keynote speaker will be Louann Bernthal with the topic "God Answers Prayer." Mrs. Bernthal recently co-authored the "Losing Yet Gaining" Bible Study program.

Ladies are asked to bring a bar of soap to be collected for world relief.

Secret and source of spiritual life

READ JOHN 8:31-47

The words that I speak unto you, they are Spirit, and they are life. John 8:33

When the Empress Helena with her retinue went to the Holy Land to find the cross of Jesus, it is said that three crosses were found.

How were they to know which was Jesus' cross?

A corpse was placed on each cross. As soon as the corpse touched the Savior's cross, it came alive. This is a legend.

But it is true; as soon as a person who is spiritually dead lays hold on the cross of Christ by faith, he begins to live.

All spiritual life issues from the Savior who conquered death and brought life and immortality to light. It is impossible for a person who is joined to Christ by faith to die.

It is true: "Sin...bringeth forth death," but where there is forgiveness of sin there is also life and salvation. This forgiveness, this life, this salvation is bound up with God's Word because the life-giving Spirit of God is there.

If we are in earnest about reaching heaven, we must stay with God's Word. The Holy Spirit working through the Word will keep us in union with Christ. If we pull away from the Word, we shall soon have no more spiritual life than a block of granite.

God's Word is Spirit and it is life.

Dear Lord Jesus, keep me healthy, active and alive by Your grace and power in the Word. Amen.

Hatchets blanked by Laker Green Machine

By RICH SWARTZENDRUBER
Big offensive plays and solid defense by the Laker Green Machine enabled the home team to celebrate homecoming with a 21-0 shutout of the Bad Axe Hatchets.

A 51-yard pass from quarterback Mike McArdle to Chris Eby set up a one-yard scoring run by Ken Ziel to put Lakers on the board with less than a minute before the end of the opening period.
Big plays also resulted in the other two touchdowns in the game. McArdle tossed scoring aeriels of 20 and 57 yards to Todd Schember. The shorter pass provided a crucial turning point in the game, because it occurred with Lakers leading just 6-0 while facing a fourth down and 14 play at 10:22 of the second quarter.
The remainder of the Laker scoring resulted from a McArdle-Schember two-point conversion pass and a Randy Heckman PAT kick.
A driving rain during the first quarter resulted in extremely slippery conditions for the gridirers. Bad Axe gave up a pair of fumbles and two interceptions, while Lakers also lost two fumbles and Laker reserve quarterback Jay Anthes had a pass picked off with just 36 seconds remaining in the game.
"I can't say we got outmanned or anything. I just think they did what they did," Bad Axe coach Kevin Byrnes said after the game. "They came up with the big plays offensively and defensively," he added.
The Green Machine defense allowed Bad Axe to drive to 12 yards from paydirt late in the second quarter, but kept the visitors out of the endzone.
"Their defense would bend but it wouldn't break. We just couldn't take it all the way. We got our fastest people in the open field and they played their positions and just stayed home and they really made a difference," Byrnes said.
The Hatchet's first-year mentor said he looks for a close contest between North Branch and Lakers next week.

"Lakers is a real good ball club. They're going to give North Branch a dogfight. I'd really like to see that game," Byrnes said.
The showdown between the two teams on the Laker field next week, will have an important impact on the Thumb B Association grid championship. North Branch enters the game as the only team unbeaten in league play. Lakers and Vassar each have one Thumb B loss this season.
Laker Coach Bill McLellan says he also expects a hard-fought game with North Branch.
"They're a real tough defensive team. They'll be the best defensive team we've played so far this year. Hopefully, we'll be the best defensive team they play this year," McLellan said about the Broncos.
"We're getting better defensively all the time," he added about his squad which yielded only eight points in their last two games.
Lakers allowed Bad Axe only 166 yards in total of 20-6 margin on the Hatchet field.

Lakers got on the board first with a 21-yard scoring pass from Dean Roestel to Jeff Sturm. Sean Parrish ran in the two point conversion to give Lakers an 8-0 lead.
The Hatchets closed the gap with a 50-yard touchdown run. The PAT was unsuccessful.
Dean Roestel retaliated quickly with a 70-yard kickoff return to give Lakers a 14-6 lead in the first quarter.
After a scoreless second quarter, Roestel recorded the final Laker touchdown in the third period with a one-yard quarterback sneak.
Chris Deering was the leading Laker groundgainer with 137 yards in 18 carries. Roestel completed four of 14 passes for 41 yards and one touchdown.
The Laker defense was led by Mark Seley and Neil Nuncio with nine tackles each.
The victory boosts the Laker JV record to 4-1 as they travel to North Branch on Thursday for their next game. Kickoff is slated for 7 p.m., with the two freshmen squads squaring off at 5 p.m.

with running back Jim Troyer personally accounting for 66 yards on 13 carries. Quarterback George Edington completed 8 of 14 passes for 68 yards.
The Green Machine rolled up 317 total yards as McArdle completed 7 of 10 passes for 167 yards. Schember caught four passes from his tight end position for a total of 90 yards, in addition to scoring two touchdowns and one PAT conversion.
Fullback Ken Ziel was the leading Laker groundgainer with 70 yards in 13 carries.
On the defensive side of the line, Laker Bill Voss recorded three solo tackles and assisted on eight more.
STANDINGS: North Branch tops the Thumb B with a 4-0 league record, followed by Lakers and Vassar, both at 3-1; Bad Axe, Caro and Cass City, all at 2-2, and Marlette and Imlay City both winless at 0-4.
THIS WEEK: Kickoff time is 7:30 p.m. at Laker Field on Friday for the showdown between the Green Machine and North Branch.
JVs WIN: Bad Axe also bowed to the Laker junior varsity last Thursday by a

Eagles pound Vikings with big plays

By RICH SWARTZENDRUBER
The Caseville football team stayed just one game behind the North Central D League leaders with a 32-14 victory at Akron-Fairgrove last Friday night.
Spectators at the game certainly weren't bored in the first quarter, as a total of 30 points were put on the board in the first 12 minutes of play. The game then settled down to a more normal pace as the Caseville defense came alive.
"We were a little flat to start the game," admitted Eagle mentor Gerald Winkler.
That situation soon changed, however, as Caseville's linemen began to control the line of scrimmage in the second quarter of the game. The Eagle defense never yielded another point after the first quarter.
The Vikings started the offensive fireworks with an 80-yard kick return by Carl Aldrich, which set up a seven-yard scoring run by Brian Wolverton. Aldrich then ran for the two-point conversion to give Akron-Fairgrove an 8-0 lead.

Caseville bounced right back with a Greg Langley touchdown run of 43 yards. Bruce Langley then knotted the score at eight with a PAT run.
Akron-Fairgrove took the lead again with their final touchdown of the game when Wolverton connected with Aldrich on a 70-yard scoring pass.
Bruce Langley responded for Caseville on a 38-yard touchdown run. Greg Langley then ran in the PAT to give the Eagles a 16-14 lead in the first quarter, which remained unchanged through the second period.
Greg Langley added a Caseville touchdown in each of the final two periods on runs of 42 and 51 yards respectively.

Tony Seagraves and Ray Johnson each ran for PAT conversions to round out Caseville scoring.
Greg Langley rushed for 194 yards in 19 carries on his way to scoring three touchdowns in the game. Ray Johnson netted 95 yards in 13 carries. Bruce Langley piled up 77 yards in just five carries for a 15.4 yard per carry average.
The Eagles rushed for 374 yards and added 39 more through the air.
Akron-Fairgrove runners gained 184 yards while Aldrich passed for 105 yards.
STANDINGS: Deckerville and Peck lead the league with 4-0 records, followed by Caseville at 3-1, Kingston and North Huron at 2-2, Owen-Gage at 1-3 and CPS and Akron-Fairgrove at 0-4.
THIS WEEK: The Eagles travel to Carsonville - Port Sanilac

Lakers still winless in TBA girls' hoops

By RICH SWARTZENDRUBER
The Laker girls' basketball team is still looking for its first Thumb B Association victory as the squad enters action this week.
After upending non-conference rival Unionville-Sebewaing, 54-44, last Tuesday, the Lady Lakers dropped a 45-39 decision to Bad Axe.

With starters Julia Sturm and Deb Ginter and other Laker varsity players Shelly Henne, Patty Thiel and Cathy Wurst in street clothes, Coach Paul Beachy sent an even younger and more inexperienced team on the floor. The five players received a two-game suspension for participating in a girls' powder puff football game against Beachy's wishes.
The replacements for the suspended players gave a determined performance and battled the Hatchets down to the final buzzer, but were unable to overcome the Bad Axe height advantage.
"They were killing us on our defensive boards. If you expect to win, you got to get your own defensive boards," said Beachy after the game.
In discussing the disciplinary action he took, Beachy said, "I don't feel bad about it because these girls that played tonight gave it everything they had, and that's all I can ask of them."

Even with key players benched, Beachy felt his team could have won the game.
Bad Axe coach John Olsen was happy with his team's performance, and also praised the suspended players for their play.
"Overall I felt we played an excellent ball game. We played good defense, rebounded well and got the ball inside," Olsen said. "We had to play well to win. Lakers has a bunch of fine young ladies that played a good ball game. When Lakers gets all their players back, they are going to be tough," he added.
Bad Axe jumped out to a 12-4 lead at the end of the first quarter, then traded baskets lead the home team 24-17 at halftime.
The Laker ladies rebounded in the third quarter to narrow the margin to 26-24 on a three-point play by sophomore guard Lisa Buschlen. The Hatchets, however, showed poise by regrouping to maintain a lead of four to six points for the remainder of the game.
Buschlen netted 15 points for Lakers to lead all scorers in the game.
Bad Axe was paced by Lori Reimann with 12 points and 17 rebounds. Teammate

Greta Leigh added 10 to the Hatchet scoring attack.
USA UPENDED: Lakers defeated USA for the second time this season, as the scrappy young replacements for the suspended players earned the victory in the Patriot gym.
After trailing 24-20 after the first half, Lakers rallied to knot the score at 35 going into the final period. The visitors then pulled away in the fourth quarter to snap a three-game losing streak.
Buschlen again led Laker scoring with 16 points while fellow sophomore Vicki Winter added 10 for Lakers.
Patriot Terri Houthoofd netted 18 points to take scoring honors in the game.
Lakers are now 0-4 in the TBA, with a 3-5 overall mark.
THIS WEEK: Lakers travel to Ubyly on Tuesday, then return home on Thursday for a contest with North Branch.
Jvs WIN TWICE: Bad Axe and USA were both victims of the Laker junior varsity squad last week.
Tammy Peyer scored 11 and Dana Young hit 10 to lead Lakers to a 49-35 victory over Bad Axe.
USA bowed to the junior Lakers by a 26-21 score, as Jenny Bollenbacher tossed in 11 points and Mari Kay Smith scored 10.

DRIVING to the hoop is Lakers' Lisa Buschlen as Hatchet Carolyn Gorney (24) goes for the ball. Laker Angie Herford (52) eyes a position for a possible rebound.

Peck runs and guns down Eagles

By RICH SWARTZENDRUBER
After extending its win streak to three straight games with a 47-38 victory over Port Hope last Tuesday, the Caseville girls' basketball team bowed to Peck 70-60, on Thursday.
Caseville's senior center Michelle Stahl turned in a record-setting performance in a losing cause, as she pulled down 32 rebound to set a new school mark. She also led her team in scoring with 21 points.
"Every time there was a missed shot it seemed like she had her hands on the ball," said Caseville Coach Randy Bingham.
Although his team lost the game, Bingham was upbeat about the overall performance of both teams.

"It was my kind of game because it was fast paced. Anytime 130 points are scored in a game, you know there was some running and gunning," said Bingham.
"We lost because we couldn't handle their press," he added.
Bingham also credited Peck players for their play. "We got beat by a better team that night," he noted.
The Eagles scored early and often to take a 21-15 lead at the end of the first quarter. Peck, however, cut the margin to 32-31 by the hot shooting touch of Colleen Bradley.
The Lady Pirates outscored Caseville 16-10 in the third quarter and 23-18 in the final period to claim the win.

Bradley went on to net 27 points for Peck to lead all scorers in the game. Teammates Debbie Cowley scored 16 and Stephanie Pries added 11 for the Pirates.
Chris Barton tallied 17 points for the Eagles.
PH DEFEATED: The scrappy Caseville defense went to work to hold Port Hope to just four points in the third quarter of last Tuesday's game to break open a close game. The Eagles outpointed the Blue Stars 11-4 during the third period after trailing 21-20 at halftime. Caseville also outscored Port Hope in the final stanza by a 16-13 margin to hang on for the win.
"Any time you win at Port

My sincere thanks... to Dr. Raythatha, Dr. S. Girgis and the whole Schuerer Hospital Staff. The excellent professional care I received during my recent illness and surgery. Also the loving care and support from my family and dear friends. Everyone was so kind and concerned shown with cards, prayers, flowers and gifts of food. A special thank-you to Rev. Gordon Nusz. May God richly bless all of you.

Card of Thanks
 For the many cards and visits and other tokens of kindness to the Doctors and nurses, friends and neighbors many, many thanks. Thank you also to those who helped in the disposing of my livestock, especially Mike Bigelow at the Michigan Livestock Exchange at Cass City, while I was in the hospital and convalescing.
 May God Bless You All, months salary be kept in an everyday/emergency account like the passbook. So if you make $12,000 per year, you should have $3,000 in a passbook account at all times (except in emergencies).

 The U.S. Census Bureau in the 1980 Census of Population and Housing reported that the majority of Americans (60%) who are retired are making less than $5,000 per year. And a full 87% retired on less than $10,000 income per year. Most of these people worked hard all their lives only to retire in poverty. What happened? No one told them about the important of saving for the future. Plus, the year 1935 saw one of the greatest injustices (in my opinion) ever done to America — the Social Security system.
 People actually put faith in the Social Security system to provide for their retirement. And it worked great in the beginning. People who put next to nothing into it got all kinds of money out of it. But someone had to pay. To be continued.
