Police substation has busy first year on Sand Point

By RICH SWARNSBERGER
the setting is peaceful and the biggest battles are often fought with mosquitoes rather than desperadoes, but the Huron County Sheriff substation located on Sand Point has resulted in better police protection for many people in the Western Thumb.

Huron County Sheriff Richard V. Stokan terms the substation the establishment at the wooded site at Beulah Bay Marina on Sand Point in March of 1986, a success for several reasons.

He says Sergeant Kent Tibbits and deputies Arlin Herforth, Richard Koehler and KewoSIM Smith who man the substation spend less time traveling to and from work, and thus more time on patrol.

The location also results in quicker response time to complaints by residents and more police traffic in the western part of the county instead of a concentration in the Bad Axe area.

"What we try to do is utilize the manpower more evenly," says Stokan. "Our attempt with (the substation) is to distribute the police force across the county.

The substation, which the county has been divided into three districts with four officers primarily assigned to concentrate on activity in each. The substation coordinators in the district are from the State Park Road to Filson Road to Gagetown Road to the south edge of the county. The other two districts are separated by Verona Road, which runs from the north to south boundaries of the county.

Sand Point residents benefit from added police visibility in the area, but also contribute another officer based at the substation.

Casioke Township officer Jack Hopkins' salary is paid by the Sheriff's Department which in turn is reimbursed by the Township.

Stokan says Hopkins is also depdtuated and can handle complaints in the district which require immediate attention in the event officers on duty are involved elsewhere at that time.

The response time for complaints in the Bealhaven area has increased greatly, Stokan says. That takes some pressure off local police who often had to respond to accidents which occurred in their area, but outside their jurisdiction, notes the Sheriff.

Another advantage of the substation is the fact that the four officers each live in the district. For that reason, they are in familiar territory, and often know the people with whom they are involved.

The biggest drawback to the substation is the gasp work shuffle, Stokan says. Because officers are not based in Bad Axe, sometimes reports are late. It's been very helpful to headquarters. That sometimes causes some minor problems for news reporters who look over the police blotter on a daily basis, notes Stokan.

Because of the success of the substation, Stokan says he is working on a way to speed up response time on the western side of the county.

Although the smaller population base there compared to the Western Thumb can't justify establishment of another substation, Stokan says plans are in the works to save some time on the road between Bad Axe and officers who live in that area.

"We've been lucky. So far it has gone really smooth," concludes Stokan about the substation.

OFFICE IN THE WOODS: Huron County Sheriff Richard V. Stokan, left, and Sgt. Kent Tibbits chat for a moment outside the year-old Sheriff substation on Sand Point. The office is located behind the man in the Beulah Bay office building. The Western Thumb substation has been successful in providing quicker response time, Stokan says.

Annual School Elections coming this Monday

Voters will be going to the polls this Monday, June 9 in annual School Elections in Caseville, Elkton - Pigeon - Bay Port and Owosso - Gagetown School Districts.

All will be electing members to the Board of Education plus deciding millage renewal or increase questions. All polls are open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday in each community's school building.

IN CASEVILLE, voters will likely elect Robert Kuntzinger and George Allen Pihlengren to the two four-year seats expiring. Both are incumbents and no opposition submitted nominating petitions.

Casiokev voters are being asked to approve a renewal of a five-mile request for five years for general school operations. At LAKERS, voters also have just one choice in School Board candidates. Incumbent Bruce Baur of Bay Port is seeking another four-year term and he is unopposed.

Laker voters are being asked to okay a 1.96-mill question, with one mill renewal and a 3.06-mill increase for five years, for general school operations. All will be electing members to the Board of Education plus deciding millage renewal or increase questions. All polls are open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday in each community's school building.

In OWEN GAGE, five candidates are seeking the two expiring seats on the Board of Education, also for four years.

Incumbents Donna Salcido of Gagetown and Jack Brinkman of Owosso are running, as are Donald Dorch and William Kretzchmer, both of Owosso, and Sue Albrecht of Gagetown.

Owen-Gage voters are being asked to renew 9.75 mills for five years, plus add six mills for one year for general operations. Officials note the district has had a millage increase in five years, and say the one-year increase is needed due to falling property values.

OPENING SOON: After being closed for business for more than a year, the former Ben Franklin store in downtown Pigeon will again open its doors. The new business will be operated under the name "Village Variety" by George and Linda Garby.

The new owners say the store will stock "a little bit of everything and for everyone."

NEW OWNERS: The task of placing price stickers on enough items to fill an empty store is a huge task, at Village Variety store co-owner Linda Garby found out. She and her husband George Garby opened the Main Street business in Pigeon by the first part of next week for sooner.

The Garbys say they have received a very positive response from people in the community who learned they would be re-opening the store.

Good schools need good support

All local schools here in the Western Chautauqua area are asking voters to pass bond referenda in May to make up for long-standing funding shortfalls, in part to maintain or improve educational opportunities for students. The vote is scheduled for May 26.

For most voters, the list of pros and cons of all the proposals considered all the options — plus budgetary factors, realized at the last minute, that may affect the state of the budget cards. The idea is to vote "yes" on the bond shift. But would it be a wise move to do so?

It would be easy to say "yes" and get it over with. But what about the financial implications of the bond shift for other schools in the district?

It is important to consider the financial implications of the bond shift for all schools in the district, including the Western Chautauqua Central School District. The district has been facing financial challenges for several years, and the bond shift could help to address some of these challenges.

The bond shift would provide funds for the construction and renovation of school buildings, which would benefit all students in the district. The bond shift would also provide funds for the purchase of new educational technology, which would benefit all students in the district.

In conclusion, the bond shift is a wise move to make for the betterment of all students in the Western Chautauqua Central School District.

Salute to the Dairy Industry

June is Dairy Month

June marks the start of Dairy Month in America. This special month celebrates dairy farmers and their contributions to the health and well-being of the nation. The month is celebrated with various events and activities aimed at raising awareness about the importance of dairy products in our diet.

We're happy to bring you our salute to the members of this industry who have combined their trust, dedication, and efforts with the newest in today's technologies, producing the best quality dairy products to be found on today's American table.

May we suggest:

Calcium is the most abundant mineral in the human body and dairy products are the body's best source of dietary calcium. Bones need calcium throughout life because bone tissue is continuously being broken down and formed again. Two glasses of milk a day for children and adults, three a day for seniors, provides the needed calcium as well as protein, vitamin D, and riboflavin.

Salute June Dairy Month by serving up a glass of milk and start a dairy good summer.

Ideas for Outdoor Eating

The great ideas for outdoor eating have been developed by American Dairy Association for your enjoyment this summer. One is a Blue Cheese Butter Log, in aid of a special flavor touch to special fare. The other is a bun-shaped cream cheese topping with the flavors of orange and cheese with chocolate and vanilla.

Flavored butters are particularly popular with restaurants because they enhance the flavor of other foods. Fruit-flavored butters are favorites for biscuits or biscuits. Herb-flavored butters are often served with fresh vegetables. This combination of Blue cheese and butter is folded into a big ball and kept on hand for use whenever fresh, ripe or fresh butter is being grilled. It goes well with produce from the garden too, such as green and blue beans.

The Apricot Chocolate Ice Cream Pie can also be prepared in advance and kept ready for those to serve at a busy day's dessert. As with most ice cream desserts, it should be moved from the freezer to the refrigerator before serving time, so it will not easily be at peak flavor.

FAITH TEACHES US THE MEANING OF OUR COUNTRY'S FLAG

The flag of our nation may be approved in a very elaborate and costly manner, or it may consist of merely an inexpensive piece of material mounted on a wooden stick. The cost is not the price of it, but the meaning. Therefore, wherever we see the flag go up, we should salute it, and we should display it at our homes and places of business, at least on national holidays. Finally, we should teach our children that the flag represents the glorious history of our nation, and that this is why we should salute and respect it. It is our sacred banner, as the Bible tells us, and it is used to proclaim our liberty. Allow your house of worship also to be allowed to choose as one of the blessings represented by our nation's flag, with the help of God we will have power in the skies over our free land.

Try to decide which is the best, or most beautiful river in your state, it would be an almost impossible task.
But most people seem to favor the Wisconsin River, and I am no exception.

These other rivers in the U.P. having special places in our hearts are the Pinnebog, which flows south along the Wisconsin border, the Two Island, which emerges in the southeastern corner of the state, and the Au Sable, which flows south of the Au Sable State Park. The Pinnebog is a river of beauty with its blue-green waters, the Two Island is a river of mystery with its hidden springs, and the Au Sable State Park is a river of solitude with its peaceful streams.

The Wisconsin River, the Pinnebog, and the Two Island are all worth visiting, but the Wisconsin River is the most beautiful of them all. Its waters are clear and blue, its shores are lined with trees, and its banks are dotted with flowers.

One of the many activities you can enjoy on the Wisconsin River is canoeing. It's a great way to explore the river and see all its beauty.

Another activity you can enjoy on the Wisconsin River is fishing. It's a great way to relax and take in the scenery.

One of the many advantages of the Wisconsin River is its proximity to the city. It's a great way to enjoy the river while still being close to the city's amenities.

One of the many disadvantages of the Wisconsin River is its lack of access to the city. It's a great way to enjoy the river while still being close to the city's amenities.

Vikings ambush Eagles in district baseball finals

The Caseville Vikings ambushed the Cheboygan Eagles in the district baseball finals, securing their spot in the regional round. The game was a thrilling contest that saw the Vikings emerge victorious.

The Vikings were led by a strong pitching performance, with their starter throwing a complete game. The team's defense was equally impressive, making several key plays to keep the Eagles at bay.

The Eagles, on the other hand, put up a good fight but were unable to overcome the Vikings' superior performance. The final score was a lopsided 10-0 victory for Caseville.

The Vikings' victory sets the stage for their upcoming regional tournament, where they will face the winner of the other district final. The team's hard work and dedication have paid off, and they are poised to make a strong run for the state championship.
