Lakers seeking 10 mills

By RICH SWARTZENBREUER
Laker voters will decide a 10-mill operation request on the ballot of the special election set for March 21.

At Monday’s Elton Pigeon Bay Port School Board meeting, the millage proposal was decided after lengthy discussion by Board members, Superintendent Harry Brunet and Business Manager Bob Drury.

COMMENTS: Drury said a four-mill increase was mandated just to keep school doors open in the Laker District. Surviving at that rate would require:

elimination of bus transportation, closing all three elementary centers and conducting split sessions at the junior/senior high.

Pigeon to join airport as sponsor?

Pigeon Village Council Monday night tabled a for-study request to join in management and ownership of the proposed Bay Area Airport.

Lakeland is also known as the Caseville Airport project.

Caseville Aeronautics Commission Chairman Lowell Kraft had sought a letter of intent from the Council, saying it would join with other area municipalities - namely Village of Caseville - in sponsoring the proposed $1.1 million general aviation airport project. It would be complex for grades K-12, teacher layoffs and elimination of all extracurricular activities.

At the other end of the spectrum, Drury said a 12-mill increase would be necessary to maintain current programs for the next three years, assuming property values don’t continue to decline.

A 6% yearly increase in revenues also figured in the projection which was determined after consultation with school auditor John Walsh, CPA of Pigeon.

Board decided to seek in additional mills for five years, which will allow the district to maintain current programs for the next two years with some small cuts in expenses. Board President Bruce Bauer said passage of the 10-mill increase would in sure Laker voters would not be asked for another millage hike for the next two years. The Laker millage rate will be re-evaluated in light of the district’s financial situation at the end of that two year period, he said.

KEY VOTE: “This is the most monumental election facing this district since the consolidation,” declared Brunet.

ABSENTIAL PROBLEM: A recent meeting between Brunet, Drury and state officials revealed the Laker financial situation provided little encouragement of state help.

“We’ll not get any sympathy from the folks at Lansing. Our problem is a local problem,” said Brunet. He pointed out Laker’s piece of financial work with a millage rate of 17.25 mills - while the state average is 22 mills, carries little weight with state officials.

GOOD NEWS: Brunet said public meetings conducted at each of the three elementary centers has been encouraging.

“We have not met with hostility, finger pointing and that type of thing. I think people actually realize we have a problem. Whether or not they will support the millage increase - I don’t know,” he said.

SNOW DAYS: In light of the recent Michigan Supreme Court decision stating the state Legislature does not have power to dictate the length of the school year, decisions about snow days make up will be made at the local level.

The snow day make-up policy of the Laker teacher contract will now again take effect. According to that plan, the first five snow days will not be rescheduled, but every other snow day after number must be made up, according to Brunet.

ABSENTEE: Laker maintenance chief Gordon Streit reported an inspector from the Environmental Protection Agency checked school buildings for lead. Narragansett is one school housing many pipes in various buildings are wrapped in asbestos, as well as the ceiling of the high school auditorium.

The current condition of these schools don’t represent a problem now, Streit said. He estimated the cost of removing the auditorium ceiling at $50,000, if that would be required.

FOUR ALARM FIRE: Fire Departments from Fair Haven Township, Owendale and Sebewaing were called to assist Wither Township Fireman extinguish a fire at a house occupied by Robert Snider at the corner of Woode and Ridgely Roads, northeast of Pigeon. Wioser Fire Chief Ron Snider says the fire appears to have kindled in the living room, but the cause is still unknown. Snider was not home at the time of the fire.

Although the shell of the house was saved, Snider says the interior was nearly gutted and was subjected to extensive water damage. No injuries were reported as firemen battled the blaze for about three hours last Friday. Chief Drumm praised Fair Haven firemen for their quick response and help in fighting the fire. Saturday and Owendale also contributed water with their twicker trucks.

Letters to My Cousin Gus

Dear Cousin Gus,

The achievers of an online degree are making a name for themselves in the world. An online degree in the course of study is in the hands of a student who has already demonstrated that he has the ability to succeed. The course of study is now available to all students who are interested in an online degree.

Sincerely,

Annie Scott, University of Michigan

On the School Millage

How come this columnist hates school millage? I have been a school millage supporter for years. I have been in school millage meetings, I have been a school board member, and I have been a school teacher. I have always supported school millage because I believe it is the best way to ensure that our children receive a quality education.

The millage is a way for the school district to raise money to provide the best possible education for our children. It is a way for us to ensure that our children have access to the resources they need to succeed.

School millage is a way to ensure that our children have access to quality education. It is a way to ensure that our children have access to the resources they need to succeed. It is a way to ensure that our children have access to the best possible future.

Yours truly,

A. Scott

TRUE LOVE LENDS A HELPING HAND WHEREVER IT'S NEEDED

Your love is not a great card
That's just when you're around with hearts and love;
It doesn't show your true regard
Unless some action takes its place.
Like doing any kind of deed
To show someone how much you care,
Or helping in all kinds of need
Because you have so much to share;
For love does not neglect the poor,
At home or in some far-off land;
It makes their future more secure
By offering a helping hand.

Love underscored by deeds is fine,
As through their faith you've often heard;
So send someone a Valentine,
But suit your actions to the word.

At the present time, 1-2 wade fishers and 1-2 fly fishers have been fishing for trout in the local lakes. The majority of the fish have been caught in the morning hours. The water temperature is still quite cold, ranging from 40-45 degrees Fahrenheit, and the fish are actively feeding on insects such as mayflies and caddisflies. The fishing is considered to be good, with several fish being caught on a daily basis.

While spearing fish through the ice on the decline in interest in wooden fishing decoys is on the upswing.

The methods for using the fish decoy are almost universal. Inside the Eskimo, wooden fish decoys are situated with the internal partial block. A ¼ inch hole cut through the back and the wooden piece is inserted. The fisherman then marks the hole using a fishing needle. A paper label is then inserted into the hole and is held in place by a rubber band. The paper label contains information about the fish species, size, and time of capture.
